Coop Rebate Not Likely This Year
Text Discount Replaces Rebate
By Daniel G. Stevenson
ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITOR
The Harvard Cooperative Society is offering members a 10 percent discount on full textbook purchases, but does not expect to provide the usual rebate on all purchases for the year, according to General Manager Alan Powell.

Students need to present their coupons at the location of purchase between Oct. 17-31 to receive the rebate.

The Coop announced this change in anticipation of a further drop from the 1.0 percent rebate last year. The 10 percent textbook refund was added last spring to offset the low 1.1 percent surplus of 1992. The rebate reached as high as 10 percent in the early 1980s.

"The most significant thing we could do for students would be something in the area of textbook pricing," Powell said. Hopefully this fiscal year, which began July 1, will be better than last year, he said.

"We have not given up on the concept," Powell said. "We have cash rebates on parts of the list price which students can take advantage of without benefit from the new rebate policy, although it does take advantage of some coupons and member-only sales, Powell said. The Coop will likely develop an additional program for these members, he said.

Economy, competition hurt profits.
The textbook retail industry is labor intensive and has a low profit margin, Powell said. Markups typically range from 20 to 25 percent, he said.

Overall Coop sales have dropped in the past few years, Powell said. Due to poor national and local economies contributed to the downturn, he said.

In addition, "competition is much stronger than it has ever been," Powell said. For example, "The Coop used to be the local music store in town," but now other more specialized stores have opened, he said.

One of these businesses, Text Express, sells textbooks to Boston-area students, typically at a 13 to 15 percent discount off of the list price, according to co-founder Chris Long.

"For example, Text Express sells a $16.95 book for $14.49," Powell said. The discount is announced on Aug. 24, before the

Coop, Page 14

First Couple Attends MIT Rabbi’s Service
By Hyun Soo Kim

President Clinton made history last Monday evening by being the first U.S. president to attend a Jewish high holiday service. The Rabbi Hashana service at Edgartown, Martha’s Vineyard, was conducted by Rabbi Joshua Eli Plaut, who also has a chaplaincy at MIT.

Clinton ushered in the Jewish New Year 5753 by saying the New Year’s wish “Shanah tovah,” which means, "May you be inscribed in the book of Life for good deeds."

The congregation of approximately 650 people attending the Martha’s Vineyard Hebrew Center service at the Old Whaling Church then rose to their feet and applauded the occasion.

"He honored the spirit of diversi- and religious pluralism in this country by his presence," Plaut said.

Rosh Hashana signifies the anniversary of the creation of the world, and God’s sovereignty of the world. It is also a day of remembrance, a time for personal renewal, and a time to seek repentance and forgiveness from one’s fellow human beings and God, Plaut said.

The service started at 7:30 p.m., with President Clinton and his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and the first lady in attendance, Plaut said. President Clinton wore a white yarmulke for the service, in addition to a suit and tie.

Plaut informed the Clintons that the Vineyard was a Reform congregation, quipping, "We like anything the Vineyard was a Reform congre- vice, in addition to a suit and tie."

Plaut added a white yarmulke for the ser- dance, Plaut said. President Clinton talked about the meaning of Rosh Hashana, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life.

"It is also a day of remem- brance, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life," Plaut said.

In addition, "competition is much stronger than it has ever been," Powell said. For example, "The Coop used to be the local music store in town," but now other more specialized stores have opened, he said.

One of these businesses, Text Express, sells textbooks to Boston-area students, typically at a 13 to 15 percent discount off of the list price, according to co-founder Chris Long.

"For example, Text Express sells a $16.95 book for $14.49," Powell said. The discount is announced on Aug. 24, before the

Coop, Page 14

First Couple Attends MIT Rabbi’s Service
By Hyun Soo Kim

President Clinton made history last Monday evening by being the first U.S. president to attend a Jewish high holiday service. The Rabbi Hashana service at Edgartown, Martha’s Vineyard, was conducted by Rabbi Joshua Eli Plaut, who also has a chaplaincy at MIT.

Clinton ushered in the Jewish New Year 5753 by saying the New Year’s wish “Shanah tovah,” which means, "May you be inscribed in the book of Life for good deeds."

The congregation of approximately 650 people attending the Martha’s Vineyard Hebrew Center service at the Old Whaling Church then rose to their feet and applauded the occasion.

"He honored the spirit of diversi- and religious pluralism in this country by his presence," Plaut said.

Rosh Hashana signifies the anniversary of the creation of the world, and God’s sovereignty of the world. It is also a day of remembrance, a time for personal renewal, and a time to seek repentance and forgiveness from one’s fellow human beings and God, Plaut said.

The service started at 7:30 p.m., with President Clinton and his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and the first lady in attendance, Plaut said. President Clinton wore a white yarmulke for the service, in addition to a suit and tie.

Plaut informed the Clintons that the Vineyard was a Reform congregation, quipping, "We like anything the Vineyard was a Reform congre- vice, in addition to a suit and tie."

Plaut added a white yarmulke for the ser- dance, Plaut said. President Clinton talked about the meaning of Rosh Hashana, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life.

"It is also a day of remem- brance, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life," Plaut said.

In addition, "competition is much stronger than it has ever been," Powell said. For example, "The Coop used to be the local music store in town," but now other more specialized stores have opened, he said.

One of these businesses, Text Express, sells textbooks to Boston-area students, typically at a 13 to 15 percent discount off of the list price, according to co-founder Chris Long.

"For example, Text Express sells a $16.95 book for $14.49," Powell said. The discount is announced on Aug. 24, before the

Coop, Page 14

First Couple Attends MIT Rabbi’s Service
By Hyun Soo Kim

President Clinton made history last Monday evening by being the first U.S. president to attend a Jewish high holiday service. The Rabbi Hashana service at Edgartown, Martha’s Vineyard, was conducted by Rabbi Joshua Eli Plaut, who also has a chaplaincy at MIT.

Clinton ushered in the Jewish New Year 5753 by saying the New Year’s wish “Shanah tovah,” which means, "May you be inscribed in the book of Life for good deeds."

The congregation of approximately 650 people attending the Martha’s Vineyard Hebrew Center service at the Old Whaling Church then rose to their feet and applauded the occasion.

"He honored the spirit of diversi- and religious pluralism in this country by his presence," Plaut said.

Rosh Hashana signifies the anniversary of the creation of the world, and God’s sovereignty of the world. It is also a day of remembrance, a time for personal renewal, and a time to seek repentance and forgiveness from one’s fellow human beings and God, Plaut said.

The service started at 7:30 p.m., with President Clinton and his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and the first lady in attendance, Plaut said. President Clinton wore a white yarmulke for the service, in addition to a suit and tie.

Plaut informed the Clintons that the Vineyard was a Reform congregation, quipping, "We like anything the Vineyard was a Reform congre- vice, in addition to a suit and tie."

Plaut added a white yarmulke for the ser- dance, Plaut said. President Clinton talked about the meaning of Rosh Hashana, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life.

"It is also a day of remem- brance, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life," Plaut said.

In addition, "competition is much stronger than it has ever been," Powell said. For example, "The Coop used to be the local music store in town," but now other more specialized stores have opened, he said.

One of these businesses, Text Express, sells textbooks to Boston-area students, typically at a 13 to 15 percent discount off of the list price, according to co-founder Chris Long.

"For example, Text Express sells a $16.95 book for $14.49," Powell said. The discount is announced on Aug. 24, before the

Coop, Page 14

First Couple Attends MIT Rabbi’s Service
By Hyun Soo Kim

President Clinton made history last Monday evening by being the first U.S. president to attend a Jewish high holiday service. The Rabbi Hashana service at Edgartown, Martha’s Vineyard, was conducted by Rabbi Joshua Eli Plaut, who also has a chaplaincy at MIT.

Clinton ushered in the Jewish New Year 5753 by saying the New Year’s wish “Shanah tovah,” which means, "May you be inscribed in the book of Life for good deeds."

The congregation of approximately 650 people attending the Martha’s Vineyard Hebrew Center service at the Old Whaling Church then rose to their feet and applauded the occasion.

"He honored the spirit of diversi- and religious pluralism in this country by his presence," Plaut said.

Rosh Hashana signifies the anniversary of the creation of the world, and God’s sovereignty of the world. It is also a day of remembrance, a time for personal renewal, and a time to seek repentance and forgiveness from one’s fellow human beings and God, Plaut said.

The service started at 7:30 p.m., with President Clinton and his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and the first lady in attendance, Plaut said. President Clinton wore a white yarmulke for the service, in addition to a suit and tie.

Plaut informed the Clintons that the Vineyard was a Reform congregation, quipping, "We like anything the Vineyard was a Reform congre- vice, in addition to a suit and tie."

Plaut added a white yarmulke for the ser- dance, Plaut said. President Clinton talked about the meaning of Rosh Hashana, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life.

"It is also a day of remem- brance, a time for personal renewal, and a time for God to give new life," Plaut said.

In addition, "competition is much stronger than it has ever been," Powell said. For example, "The Coop used to be the local music store in town," but now other more specialized stores have opened, he said.

One of these businesses, Text Express, sells textbooks to Boston-area students, typically at a 13 to 15 percent discount off of the list price, according to co-founder Chris Long.

"For example, Text Express sells a $16.95 book for $14.49," Powell said. The discount is announced on Aug. 24, before the

Coop, Page 14
Quebec Voters Expected to Elect Separatist Government

Quebec voters Monday were expected to elect a separatist government pledged to seceding from the French-speaking province out of Canada. Most of the last-minute polls for Quebec's Provincial election gave the separatist Parti Quebecois, out of power since 1985, a five- to 10-point edge over the incumbent party, the pro-united Quebec Liberals. The pollsters indicated that separatist candidates would prevail in 80 or more of Quebec's 125 electoral districts — that is, in virtually all but the pre-determined provinces.

If Quebec's nearly 5 million voters poll the separatists, according to the stabilized ratings for the Parti Quebecois, led by Jacques Parizeau and John Diefenbaker, it will be the first time in Quebec's history that a separatist party ran by a provincial premier, with a provincial finance minister, would take power as premier of Quebec within two weeks.

What is being argued is on broad themes of change, good government and economic renewal, Parizeau, 64, has remained unchanged in his belief that Quebec, after 1990, will be an independent country. But several of his supporters have referred to sovereignty next year, and to begin negotiating with the federal government and writing a Quebec constitution.

Parizeau has held the seat of sovereignty in Quebec since 1980 to date on a question that has bedeviled Canadian politics for more than a generation. In 1980, they turned down the Parti Quebecois plan for "sovereignty-association" with Canada by a vote of 60 percent to 40 percent.

Cancer-Causing Gene Mutations Accumulate with Age

UNANSWERED THREAT

A researcher has provided the first direct evidence that cancer-causing mutations of genes accumulate with age, thereby raising the risk of cancer.

It is an article of faith for many researchers that these mutations are caused by breakdown of body's normal repair mechanisms, are responsible for the high incidence of cancer among the elderly. But, after all, there has been little experimental support for the idea. Using human cells, French molecular biologist Stanley Brenner, however, molecular pharmacologist Gino Cappelli of the University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles, respectively, have found a gene called BCL2, which plays a major role in the development of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, a cancer of the lymph nodes that strikes 45,000 Americans each year. However, molecular pharmacologist Giuseppe Politi of the University of Southern California and Gino Cappelli of the University of California at Los Angeles, respectively, have found a gene called BCL2, which plays a major role in the development of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, a cancer of the lymph nodes that strikes 45,000 Americans each year.

Cappelli and his colleagues have shown in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences that the incidence of mutations in 40 times as high in spleen tissue from people over 60 as it is in people under 20.

A study of the risk of developing lymphoma is also 40 times as high in people over age 60 as it is in people under 20.

In a separate study, Cappelli has also found a two- to three-fold increase in the incidence of BCL2 mutations among smokers and a corresponding increase in the risk of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma.

Japan's Ruling Coalition Suffers Unexpectedly Severe Defeat

LOUISIANA TIMES

Prime Minister Tomiichi Murayama's ruling coalition suffered an unexpected and severe defeat in local elections on Sunday as an opposition candidate won by a landslide in a by-election for a seat in the upper house.

Yuzuru Tsuzuki, 43, a former Labor Ministry section chief who was backed by six opposition parties, won 45 percent of the ballots cast at the special election.

Ruling coalition candidate Jiro Mizuno, 48, a former U.N. staff member who was supported by the ruling Liberal Democratic Party, was defeated by a 35 percent margin.

Cappelli and his colleagues report in The New England Journal of Medicine that the incidence of mutations in people under 20.

In a separate study, Cappelli has also found a two- to three-fold increase in the incidence of BCL2 mutations among smokers and a corresponding increase in the risk of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma.

Toppled with Age

WEATHER

Warm and Wet

By Gerard Roe

The low pressure trough to our northeast will move off slightly today allowing more westly flow. This will produce higher than normal temperatures, with afternoon highs reaching the upper 80s, possibly even 90°. The winds will turn to be from the north again by Wednesday afternoon producing drier, but colder weather.

Tonight: Scattered showers and a chance of a thunderstorm. Low 62° F (17 °C).

Clintons May Have to Call Reservists for Haiti Invasion

WASHINGTON

By Ann Devroy and Mary M. Gashko

WASHINGTON — President Clinton is expected to order up to 8,000 National Guard reservists for a mission to Haiti to assist in the return of deposed President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

The "D-day plus or minus" exercise covered both goals set for the invasion force and evacuation tasks as maintaining public order and safety, delivering food, medical supplies, and weapons to the people, and preparing the way for the return of deposed civilian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Christopher's announcement of contributions of troops by other countries was intended to demonstrate that Clinton's determination to maintain control over Haiti had reached broad international support. The identification of a deadline of mid-1995 for the invasion, which had pledged to help were known before

The "D-day plus or minus" exercise covered both goals set for the invasion force and evacuation tasks as maintaining public order and safety, delivering food, medical supplies, and weapons to the people, and preparing the way for the return of deposed civilian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Christopher's announcement of contributions of troops by other countries was intended to demonstrate that Clinton's determination to maintain control over Haiti had reached broad international support. The identification of a deadline of mid-1995 for the invasion, which had pledged to help were known before the return of deposed civilian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Christopher's announcement of contributions of troops by other countries was intended to demonstrate that Clinton's determination to maintain control over Haiti had reached broad international support. The identification of a deadline of mid-1995 for the invasion, which had pledged to help were known before the return of deposed civilian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.
Israel, Syria Move Towards Reviving Stalled Peace Talks

By Caryle Murphy

Israel Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin is playing his cards close to the vest. He said, "I don't want to give away details," said Burg, who heads the drafting committee after an exhaust- ing three-year drafting committee after an exhaust- ing three-year period of negotiations.

At the same time, these developments set off protests from Islamic nations, especially from the Gulf of the Oman, which wants Iran to be a part of any peace agreement, and also sparked a brief revolt within Syria's ruling Labor Party.

Rabin started the round of public signals last week when he said Iran would like to see a "three-year" peace process while the Iranian withdrawal from the Gulf of Oman, which could cap- ture Iran in the 1967 Middle East war and annexed in 1981. Although Syria had already received this idea privately from Israel, Rabin apparently wanted to show his seriousness by making it public. The three-year period was a small retreat from Israel's original desire for a five-year "testing period" before making a fuller withdrawal.

Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk Charrar, on a visit last week to Europe, denounced the idea. For the first time, be answered questions from Islamic journalists at a press confer- ence, spoke of an eventual "wars peace" with Israel and said a future meeting between Rabin and Syrian President Hafez Assad is "inevitable."

On Saturday, Assad addressed his parliament and said, "Syria real- izes the importance of a peace which ensures full (Israeli) with- drawal from the Gulf of Oman. He added that Syria "also realizes that peace has objective requirements and will meet the objective require- ments that are agreed on."

The diplomacy over the past three years has centered on the idea that a three-year peace process is not encouraged as a family planning tool and leaves that contentious issue up to each nation's own legislation. U.N. officials said the action was based on a three-year comprehensive drafting committee after an exhaust- ing three-years of meetings represents the world's first attempt to deal openly with the root causes of soaring fer- tility rates, and to develop programs that emphasize not government coercion but individual choice.

"The number of completely new notions compared to what has come out of (repertoires) health, reproductive rights, the notion of sexual freedom as being a major health problem which governments have have to do something about — all these things are there," said Nicolaas Bregman of the Netherlands delega- tion, who chaired the drafting committee.

"Sex, something that we only whispered about before, is a normal item in conversation in the Western world," he said. "It's become a nor- mal item of conversation in the rest of the world," he said. "You have to talk about sex — you have to talk about it just like real estate prices."

The diplomacy over the past three years has centered on the idea that a three-year peace process is not encouraged as a family planning tool and leaves that contentious issue up to each nation's own legislation. U.N. officials said the action was based on a three-year comprehensive drafting committee after an exhaust- ing three-years of meetings represents the world's first attempt to deal openly with the root causes of soaring fer- tility rates, and to develop programs that emphasize not government coercion but individual choice.

"The number of completely new notions compared to what has come out of (repertoires) health, reproductive rights, the notion of sexual freedom as being a major health problem which governments have have to do something about — all these things are there," said Nicolaas Bregman of the Netherlands delega- tion, who chaired the drafting committee.

"Sex, something that we only whispered about before, is a normal item in conversation in the Western world," he said. "It's become a nor- mal item of conversation in the rest of the world," he said. "You have to talk about sex — you have to talk about it just like real estate prices."

The diplomacy over the past three years has centered on the idea that a three-year peace process is not encouraged as a family planning tool and leaves that contentious issue up to each nation's own legislation. U.N. officials said the action was based on a three-year comprehensive drafting committee after an exhaust- ing three-years of meetings represents the world's first attempt to deal openly with the root causes of soaring fer- tility rates, and to develop programs that emphasize not government coercion but individual choice.

"The number of completely new notions compared to what has come out of (repertoires) health, reproductive rights, the notion of sexual freedom as being a major health problem which governments have have to do something about — all these things are there," said Nicolaas Bregman of the Netherlands delega- tion, who chaired the drafting committee.
Student-Run Dining Shows Great Effort

The Baker House Dining Committee should be congratulated for taking the initiative to provide quality on-campus food service. Many students have languaged for a way to prove they can do something better than ARA. At Editorial, they have come forward with this proof, demonstrating that students can provide a workable alternative, at least on a small scale.

Under ARA, Baker was losing $10,000 a month last year which was covered by MIT. Because the Institute refused to accept the fact that some people just want to be left alone and respect their right to live their way. The mere idea of eliminating our choice is where we please, as Chitaley proposes, is frightening. One of the reasons I chose to live at East Campus was because there are adequate kitchens there. I ate ARA food only once last year. I took every meal myself and, in the process, eat better, healthier food and save myself a bundle. Many residents here share this sentiment. Others might have special dietary needs that ARA is incapable of properly handling. Still others just want a choice about what they want to eat on any given day. Why force them into a limited selection of foods when you can provide plenty to choose from around Cambridge and Boston? Our right to choose the foods we eat should be respected.

Mandatory Dining Would Not Solve Problems

In a recent letter (“Dining Halls Should Be Mandatory for All,” Sept. 9), Rajashish A. Chitaley '95, proposes mandatory attendance at dining halls. However, in doing so, he fails to consider the perspectives and needs of many students.

By forcing people to eat meals together and share the collective experiences of consuming “halves on strawberry shortcake and warm soda,” Chitaley believes that unity and character will magically appear in living groups. Eating together, while certainly a way of making people spend “quality time” with others, is hardly the only social activity that exists in living groups. Whatever happens to just hanging out with friends in a more affordable environment, like rooms, hallways, and lounges? Whatever happened to events within the living group, not MIT or ARA? For other matters, like roommates and meal plans, students are already being accused of being “unsociable and narrow-minded.” People who are currently anti-social or narrow-minded will hardly jump for joy at the prospect of eating with others. This proposal offers only the illusion of unity. An easy alternative is to go to people’s rooms and talk to them, rather than forcing them to eat with you. If, at that point, they tell you to go away, then they certainly won’t be any more friendly when forced to be with you. Accept the fact that some people just want to be left alone and respect their right to live their way.

The SEVENTH-INNING STRETCH

The Tech.

Letters To The Editor

Mandatory for All,” Sept. 9], Raajnish A. Chitaley '95, proposes mandatory attendance at dining halls. However, in doing so, he fails to consider the perspectives and needs of many students.

By forcing people to eat meals together and share the collective experiences of consuming “halves on strawberry shortcake and warm soda,” Chitaley believes that unity and character will magically appear in living groups. Eating together, while certainly a way of making people spend “quality time” with others, is hardly the only social activity that exists in living groups. Whatever happens to just hanging out with friends in a more affordable environment, like rooms, hallways, and lounges? Whatever happened to events within the living group, not MIT or ARA? For other matters, like roommates and meal plans, students are already being accused of being “unsociable and narrow-minded.” People who are currently anti-social or narrow-minded will hardly jump for joy at the prospect of eating with others. This proposal offers only the illusion of unity. An easy alternative is to go to people’s rooms and talk to them, rather than forcing them to eat with you. If, at that point, they tell you to go away, then they certainly won’t be any more friendly when forced to be with you. Accept the fact that some people just want to be left alone and respect their right to live their way.

The mere idea of eliminating our choice is where we please, as Chitaley proposes, is frightening. One of the reasons I chose to live at East Campus was because there are adequate kitchens there. I ate ARA food only once last year. I took every meal myself and, in the process, eat better, healthier food and save myself a bundle. Many residents here share this sentiment. Others might have special dietary needs that ARA is incapable of properly handling. Still others just want a choice about what they want to eat on any given day. Why force them into a limited selection of foods when you can provide plenty to choose from around Cambridge and Boston? Our right to choose the foods we eat should be respected.

Chitaley naively believes that ARA can make students feel better about their lives. The heart of the matter is that there is no reason to implement mandatory meals. Ensuring unity within a living group is the responsibility of the living group, not MIT or ARA. After all, would you want MIT to tell you how to socialize? Plan ball events, meet the ghosts, anything other than putting down an iron flat. Forefearing people to do something that you want them to do is what the solution. Victor Y. Tsou '93

Opinion Policy

Editorials, printed in a distinctive format, are the official opinion of The Tech. They are written by the editorial board, which consists of the chairman, editor in chief, managing editor, executive director, news editors, and opinion editors.

Disputes, marked as such and printed in a distinctive format, are the opinions of the signed members of the editorial board choosing to publish their disagreement with the editorial. Columns and editorial cartoons are written by individuals and represent the opinion of the author, not necessarily that of the newspaper.

Letters to the editor are welcome. They must be typed, double-spaced and addressed to The Tech, P.O. Box 393029, Cambridge, Mass. 02139-7029, or by interdepartmental mail to Room W26-463. Electronic submissions in plain text format may be mailed to letters@the-tech.mit.edu. All submissions are due by 4 p.m. two days before the date of publication.
Did you enjoy the CityDays Festival? Did you miss out on it? Do you like to work with children?

Continue to
EMBRACE YOUR COMMUNITY!
Join LINKS!

Informational meeting Wednesday
8PM in 54-100

If you can NOT make the meeting but wish to participate, please come by 3-123 or call 253-0742.

Welcome Back!!!

Freshmen!!! Run for Office and Lead Your Class. Packets available in the UA Office (Room 401 of the Student Center).

Seniors!! Mark the date Oct. 14 on your calendar. The Class of 1995 Career Fair is coming...

If you want to represent, your living group in the UA Council, talk to your Dorm/ILG President.

Undergraduate Association Room 401, Student Center Tel: x3-2696 or x3-7971

If you want to join a UA committee or are interested in finding out about the UA, contact any of the officers.

Your 1994 UA Officers
Vijay Sankaran, UA President, veef@athena.mit.edu
Carrie Muh, UA Vice-President, cmuh@athena.mit.edu
Edward Drozd, UA Treasurer, emdrozd@athena.mit.edu

How should we make student government better??
What are the major issues that need to be addressed??
What complaints do you have about MIT??
What do you think?? We represent your opinion. Email one of the officers to let us know what you think.

Coming soon... Battle of the Classes
Column by Anders Hove

For those readers who have just arrived at MIT, I would like to extend a two-part welcome: First, welcome to Hell. Those who modestly refer to themselves as "Members of the Prestigious MIT Community" know you will love it here. The rest of us can only hope for the best. Second, please feel free to propagate your opinions by sending them to these pages for publication. MIT really does resemble a small, diverse town, and like any other community, its members need a voice. These pages serve as one of many options students have for speaking their minds. Use them.

I have been occupying my time over the summer attempting to bring order to the piles of presidential doomsday theories. It seems every pundit has come up with a pet explanation for President Bill Clinton's slump in stature. On the other hand, it is hardly difficult to understand the thirst for explanation. In the last quarter century we have witnessed several slumps of a similar nature. Compared to Jimmy Carter, who seemed to age two decades during his first half-term, Clinton still looks downright vibrant. Lyndon Johnson's angst over the deepening quagmire in Vietnam began its first growth spurt in 1966. Richard Nixon managed to survive one term, but then just into his second stretch he was handed a presidential pardon and exiled to San Clemente. At this time four years ago George Bush was just building up to his victory in the Gulf War. But the passage of another year would see Bush's popularity evaporate with the onset of the multiple-dipped recession of 1991.

With so much experience tracking floundering presidencies, one might think pundits would understand the process by now. What leads to a presidential downfall? Do economic quarantines mean more than foreign policy disasters, or vice versa? Or does lack of support in Congress make the public despair of a president's ability to lead? Perhaps public distrust first fostered by scandal in top government. Or maybe after two years of seeing a president in action, people better know and hate his motivations, personality, and failings. None of these explanations fully square with America's Clinton experience. Let's look at how closely they fit with the explanations given by other political commentators.

The "sleaze-overload" theory: Clinton's character has been hyper-analyzed. In the history of press muckraking, perhaps only Charles and Di have faced as much press scrutiny as the current president. We have heard about the marijuana, the trip to Moscow, his Vietnam dodge, the tabloid-generated philandering stories, Hillary's inquiries, the "cash cows," and the President's preference between bowers and briefs. We have seen this man visiting McDonald's in a sweat-soaked jogging uniform, ordering up a truckload of fries and burgers. We have been told of his early-morning temper tantrums, his day-long bull sessions, and his simple inability to make even tiny decisions and stick by them. Even though some of these revelations could never convince a majority of Americans to like a man they have never been given a chance to like. In the history of press muckraking, perhaps only Charles and Di have faced as much press scrutiny as the current president.

In the history of press muckraking, perhaps only Charles and Di have faced as much press scrutiny as the current president.
Several Theories Could Explain Clinton's Poor Ratings

The second theory fit not just Clinton, but his predecessors as well: Clinton is suffering the same fate as all other post-Vietnam, post-Watergate presidents. The public and press have lost all respect for public figures, political or otherwise. By the very virtue of their presence before the public eye, movie stars, Wall Street financiers, corporate CEOs, well-known members of the press, and U.S. presidents all have fallen from grace. Betrayed by the people they expected (and a quarter century ago, the baby-boomers and us) now play it safe by not trusting anyone. It no longer matters whether the public believes Clinton guilty of unethical acts in the White- house affairs; what matters more is that the charges have been made. So long as there is a hint of betrayal, no leader can be worthy of respect.

The "turn-to-the-left" theory: According to the moderate and conservative crowd, Clinton squandered the ideological edge he gave himself during the 1992 campaign. Throughout the campaign, Clinton argued that traditional liberals in his party had been wrong in their programmatic prescriptions. The way to fix the country was through a combination of conservative free-marketeering and good old teary-eyed compassion. Welfare could be reformed by turning recipients out into the work force. If price competition were introduced into the insurance market, the cost of providing health care could drop for all Americans. If the government cut its deficit, lower interest rates would spur investment and lead to a higher standard of living for all Americans. These were the policy prescriptions of the "New Democrats"—centrist Americans, whom Clinton promised to lead to a better world.

According to this theory, Clinton dropped his New Democrat pledges to run with the liberals. For instance, while he did slash the budget battle of 1993, Clinton specified clearly that Republicans to propose more budget cuts than he had. On health care, Clinton envisioned the big government wing of his own party, which wanted a Canadian-style, single-payer system. Instead he proposed the centrist "managed competition" approach initially favored by big business. The Republicans chose to ignore the conservative nature of the health care package, even using the new liberal opposition to help sink it.

The fact that Republicans seem to detest Clinton more than they detest most liberals led to the creation of the third theory: Republicans have no choice but to hate Clinton. Unless they destroy him, Clinton's New Democrat party will repel their own party to the duodenal of history. In 1896 the Democrats destroyed the Populist party by adopting the latter's issues as its own. Similarly, Jefferson's Republicans destroyed the Know-Nothings by accepting the legitimacy of the federal government. Now the Republicans face a president who, according to The Economist, "draws from the same intellectual wellspring as many 1980s Republicans." So the Republicans think that letting Clinton adopt their issues would result in the extinction of their own party. Thus their eagerness to paint him as a tax-and-spend liberal, as teary-eyed as Michael Dukakis.

Unsurprisingly, the choice of theory seems to depend mostly upon one's choice of party. A Republican, for instance, could never believe in the "extinction theory," nor could a liberal accept the Gergen argument. Unfortunately for Clinton, the debate over his unpopularity seems to be drowning out the debate over his policies.

"IT'S A GREAT &quot;PENN JILLETTE THING!"
-Penn Jillette on the Ig Nobel Prizes

The Annals of Improbable Research and the MIT Museum Shop present:

The 1994 Ig Nobel Prize Ceremony
Thursday, October 6, 1994
7:30pm, Kresge Auditorium

Tickets $2 each, maximum five per person.
On sale at 10 am, Thursday, September 15 at the MIT Museum Shop in the Student Center

Warning: Ticket scalping is illegal in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
The Source opened officially at 1 p.m. on Aug. 23 and was staffed from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day until Registration Day, except for the weekend of rush, according to Andrew Q. Kraft ’95, manager of The Source.

Though some construction remains before the booth will be completed, students are working regularly at The Source weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. At night, Sowalk puts the space for its disputed.

“We may expand our hours if there seems to be a need,” but the need is not apparent yet, Kraft said.

Source sells tickets

Organizers are very excited about the new ticket sales window. “There really is no natural place on campus to go for tickets. We’re hoping to be a hub for buying tickets,” Johnson said.

“We’re hoping to get things like [Student Center Committee] events. That’s when the service is really going to be useful,” Kraft said.

The booth sold tickets for the recent Musical Theater Guild performance and sells super-tickets for the Lecture Series Committee. “We’re trying to complement the student groups’ sales,” said Peter D. Cummings, head of operations.

Cummings expects that groups will continue to use booths in Lobby 10 to sell tickets and provide publicity for their events.

The amount of information available at The Source includes a much broader range than entertainment options. To date, Kraft said the most common question has been, “Where’s the bathroom?”

Organizers hope to provide academic forms, keep a television set on hand for spot news events, and — in its most recent endeavor — provide a car pool service called Ridelink that will help commuters find rides. The booth is also a drop-off location for the SCC pestering service.

With Ridelink, commuters who need a ride or can offer a lift can register and get a list of other commuters in their area. Kraft set up a program that matches people by zip code and along major travel routes. Cummings said.

The Ridelink program is being sponsored jointly by The Source, the Planning Office, and the Office of the Senior Vice President.

In the near future, The Source will install a television that will show the MIT Cable information channel. The television will also broadcast important news events.

The Source has a full-time staff that works the booth as a way to “help us tell the campus story,” Cummings said.

Kraft was hired as the manager of The Source in May. Cummings said. He was responsible for much of the planning, the construction process, the schedules, the training session for the workers, and setting up the computer system.

“It’s been a full time job because it’s a startup,” Cummings said.

Kraft was enthusiastic about the seven students that will work at The Source. Each worker is in charge of a different service, so they consider it more than just a part time job.

“IT’s a good staff,” Kraft said.

“They are people who really know the Tute.”

The operating costs for the booth will be about $25,000 a year, Johnson said. The vendor who uses the first floor of the Student Center long ago suggested The Source as a possibility for the senior class gift last year, Johnson said.

In addition to providing student services, Johnson said the CAC saw a need to have a different service, so they considered it more than just a part time job.

“It’s a good staff,” Kraft said.

“We are people who really know the Tute.”

The operating costs for the booth will be about $25,000 a year, Johnson said. The vendor who uses the first floor of the Student Center long ago suggested The Source as a possibility for the senior class gift last year, Johnson said.

In addition to providing student services, Johnson said the CAC saw a need to have a different service, so they considered it more than just a part time job.

“It’s a good staff,” Kraft said.

“They are people who really know the Tute.”

The operating costs for the booth will be about $25,000 a year, Johnson said. The vendor who uses the first floor of the Student Center long ago suggested The Source as a possibility for the senior class gift last year, Johnson said.

In addition to providing student services, Johnson said the CAC saw a need to have a different service, so they considered it more than just a part time job.

“It’s a good staff,” Kraft said.

“They are people who really know the Tute.”

The operating costs for the booth will be about $25,000 a year, Johnson said. The vendor who uses the first floor of the Student Center long ago suggested The Source as a possibility for the senior class gift last year, Johnson said.

In addition to providing student services, Johnson said the CAC saw a need to have a different service, so they considered it more than just a part time job.
Jim's Journal

Today Ruth and I went over to Steve's place.

She saw his new plant and said, "Oh, look, you got a plant."

Then she went off about how to water it, take care of it and everything.

Steve said, "Knowing me, it'll probably just die."

by Jim

Great Savings on AutoCAD!

Special! – Back-To-School Pricing at the MIT Computer Connection!

If you are a full-time MIT student or staff member interested in a personal purchase, then you qualify for this special offer on AutoCAD, a leading design software package. For a limited time only, the MIT Computer Connection is offering special prices on the following AutoCAD packages:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Package</th>
<th>Regularly</th>
<th>NOW</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AutoCAD R12/Designer Bundle</td>
<td>$1370</td>
<td>$475</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3DStudio &amp; IPAS 3 Toolkit</td>
<td>$1058</td>
<td>$395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AutoCAD/Designer/3DBundle</td>
<td>$2428</td>
<td>$759</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Add $15 per unit for shipping and handling.

To purchase AutoCAD at these special discount prices, be sure to sign up at the AutoCAD table in the lobby of the student center on Wednesday, September 21. If you are unable to sign up on the lobby day, please send your name, address, and the software package that you are interested in to <acad@mit.edu>.

Don't miss your opportunity to save BIG!
Call x8-9519 or send e-mail to <acad@mit.edu> today!

MIT Computer Connection
Stratton Student Center
253-7486, mcc@mit.edu
Hours: Monday Noon-4:30pm
Tuesday-Friday 10am-4:30pm

This space donated by The Tech
POLICE LOG

The following incidents were reported to the MIT Campus Police between Aug. 20 and Sept. 1.

Aug. 20: Bidg. 1, 38, suspicious activity.
Aug. 21: Bidg. 7, computer stolen, $1,500; PBE, bicycle stolen, $350; DK, suspicious activity.
Aug. 22: Bidg. 35, wallet stolen, $80; Pacific Street lot, man arrested for breaking and entering a motor vehicle and other related charges; ADP, bicycle stolen, $200; Walker, speakers stolen, $500; Bidg. 14, bicycle rack, suspicious activity; Student Center, bicycle stolen, $150.
Aug. 24: Fastgate, domestic disturbance.
Aug. 25: West garage, car lock vandalized.
Aug. 26: Bidg. 22, radio stolen, $100.
Aug. 27: Fastgate, domestic disturbance; Bidg. 13, bicycle stolen, $120.
Aug. 28: Bidg. E25, 1) compact disc player stolen, $140; 2) a Robie the Robot stolen, $15; Student Center, assault and battery between persons known to each other.
Aug. 29: Bidg. E25, 1) desk broken into, 2) compact disc player stolen, $200; The Hall Court, food stolen, $5; Bidg. N52, cardboard stolen, $50; Bidg. E17, suspicious letter; Student Center, bicycle stolen, $125; Next House, mattress stolen, $125; Westgate, male arrested for larceny of a bicycle.
Aug. 30: New House, student ID stolen; Bidg. N52, two-way radios stolen, $500; Student Center, eyeglass frames stolen, $150.
Aug. 31: Herman Garage, bicycle stolen, $300; Tang Hall, bicycle tire stolen, $25; Bidg. 4, copper stolen, $500; Bidg. 31, scale stolen, $500; Bidg. E31, suspicious activity.
Sept. 1: Student Center, three males arrested for attempted larceny of bicycle and other related charges; Hayden Library, bicycle stolen, $45; Bidg. 5, cash stolen, $55.
Sept. 2: Bidg. E17, tape recorder stolen, $460; Baker House, bicycle stolen, $150; Student Center, eyeglass frames stolen, $250; Tang Hall, box of household items stolen, $300; MacGregor House, bicycle stolen from garage, $200; Du Pont men’s locker-room, 1) wallet stolen, $45; 2) wallet, $95.
Sept. 4: Infinite Corridor, GAMIT bulletin board vandalized; Kemeny lot, attempted larceny of a 1987 Dodge Corsair.
Sept. 5: Westgate, suspicious activity; Random Hall, bicycle stolen, $250; Tang Hall, various household items stolen, $100; Hayden Library, backpack stolen, $280; Bidg. 16, stereo stolen, $100.
Sept. 6: Student Center, two bicycles stolen, $150 and $200; MacGregor basement, bicycle stolen, $150; Herman Garage, VW broken into and radio stolen, $500; MacGregor, wallet stolen, $50.
Sept. 7: Bidg. E25, camera stolen, $1,163; Bidg. N52, sunglasses stolen, $237; Infinite Corridor, wallet stolen, unknown value; Bidg. 13, bicycle stolen, $300; Bidg. E25, pocketbook stolen, later recovered minus $300 foreign cash $40 U.S. currency.

ATTENTION! MIT students, staff & faculty: Are you ... Driven to Drum?
Devoted to Dance?
Smitten with Song?
... but need assistance in making your concert, performance, or recital a reality?

If your answer is YES, or if your arts interests lie elsewhere, the Grants Program of the Council for the Arts at MIT wants to help!

Next deadline: Wednesday, September 14.
The Grants Program of the Council for the Arts was established to support extracurricular arts projects at MIT. All currently registered students, staff and faculty of MIT are eligible to apply for funding. Projects should be geared primarily toward the involvement of the MIT community.

Call 253-2372 for information, or drop by the Office of the Arts (E15-205) to pick up Grants Guidelines and application forms.

Let your opinions be heard!
Send your letters to letters@the-tech.mit.edu or interdepartmental to: W20-483

TICKETS $15 - $60 GOOD SEATS AVAILABLE NOW!
FINAL PERFORMANCE SEPTEMBER 24

The PHANTOM of the OPERA

The Wang Center for the Performing Arts, 270 Tremont St.

Call (617) 931-2222

Merrill Lynch

Interested in working in Tokyo or Hong Kong with

Asian Language Speaking Students

Please send or fax a copy of your resume with the following marked on the back:

ML/Asia '94
Language spoken - Japanese, Chinese (Cantonese or Mandarin), Malay, Thai, Indonesian, Hindi
Level of fluency
City of preference - Tokyo or Hong Kong
Area of interest - Investment Banking, Sales, Trading

To:
Crimson & Brown Associates, Inc.
1770 Massachusetts Avenue, Suite 312
Cambridge, MA 02140
Tel. (617) 868-0181 Fax (617) 868-0187

Students may opt to submit a letter stating their interest if resume is not completed by October 7.

Resume deadline: October 7, 1994
Salomon Brothers

Quantitative Research Analyst

Salomon Brothers is an international investment banking firm that makes markets in securities and provides a broad range of underwriting, financial advisory and research services to governments, corporations, and institutional investors.

The BOND PORTFOLIO and EQUITY PORTFOLIO ANALYSIS GROUPS work with Sales, Trading and Investment Banking to help Salomon Brothers' clients quantify and implement investment, capital raising, hedging, and asset allocation strategies. This work includes the development of new theoretical models for securities valuation, statistical analysis of data, and the development of customized client presentations.

Quantitative Analysts often act as generalists for up to two years, after which they specialize in one or more of the following areas:

- Modeling financial products such as mortgage-backed securities and options
- Portfolio structuring and/or asset allocation
- Analysis integrated with Sales, Trading, or Investment Banking activities
- Analysis of stock and bond market returns and yields
- Analytical systems development.

Qualified candidates will have a B.S. in a quantitative field such as Computer Science, Engineering, Finance, Mathematics, Operations Research, or Statistics. Good analytical and computer skills (C/Unix preferable) are required. Because so much of the analyst's work involves direct interaction with the Firm's clients, strong interpersonal, writing and speaking skills are also important. While a background in finance or economics is helpful, we believe that an analyst with exceptionally strong quantitative skills can come to a deep understanding of the financial markets.

Training for quantitative analysts includes:

- An introduction to securities analytics
- A period of internship in different quantitative groups
- Immediate hands-on training with professionals working on various projects
- Licensing with the securities industry regulators
- Additional technical training as needed to handle newly assigned tasks.

The Quantitative Research Department will be interviewing on Campus November 1, 1994

Resumes should be submitted to:
Joan Dolph
Salomon Brothers
Research Department
Seven World Trade Center, 37th Floor
New York, NY 10048
Fax # (212) 783-4615/4616

DOING TAXES CAN MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT. ESPECIALLY WHEN THEY'RE SOMEONE ELSE'S.

If you have a basic aptitude for math and the desire to help others, you can get a lot of satisfaction by volunteering your time and skills to people who need help doing their taxes. 80,000 people already have. Join them.

To find out about the free IRS training program, call 1-800-424-1040 now.
MORE FREE FOOD?

Join

MIT's Oldest and Largest Pizza Stand.

But seriously, we not only eat pizza on Sunday nights, but we also run a newspaper. Interested?
Stop by Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, or Thursday night.

• Student Center, Room 483 • 253-1541 •
Finally, a Saturday night you won't regret Sunday morning.

HBO is just the beginning. For just $10 a month you can bring into your apartment or dorm room the most extensive news coverage, round-the-clock music videos and the best that you expect to see on television with cable. Cable is what makes TV exciting and you can watch exciting TV by ordering cable today.

A sales representative will be at a table in the Student Center every day from September 12-23, noon to 5 pm. Order cable by September 23 and pay only $5 for installation, a $21.87 savings. Start saving today.

For more information call

Continental Cablevision
876-3939

Welcome Back Students!!

Call us for the best student travel deals!

- Low student/youth airfares
- Early bird fares issued on the spot!
- International student/youth ID
- Budget hotels
- Traveling
- Language courses
- Adventure tours
- Let's Go Books
- Youth hostel memberships
- Work abroad permits
- Study abroad programs

Free "Student Travels" magazine!

Council Travel
Stratton Student Ctr, MIT W30-004
Cambridge, MA 02139
(617) 225-2555

Top Ten Most Clueless People on Earth

10. Rainforest chainsaw operator
9. Millionaires in prison
8. Drivers with turn signal permanently on
7. Las Vegas lounge acts
6. Unregistered voters
5. Frozen dinner enthusiasts
4. Javelin catcher
3. Someone in express checkout line with eleven items
2. Chain-smoking gas station attendant
1. Drug users

This space donated by The Tech
Clintons’ Presence Pleases Congregation

Rabbi, from Page 1

spoke from the heart. ... I was moved by the moment myself,” Plaut said. “[Clinton] was moved to near tears twice in the evening.”

Plaut said that he was not nervous. “I have met famous people such as Goldie Meir and Moshe Dayan before.”

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

 spoke from the heart. ... I was moved by the moment myself,” Plaut said. “[Clinton] was moved to near tears twice in the evening.”

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.

Students Reschedule Duty for Convenience

Jury, from Page 1

who were being paid for the jury duty full-time,” he said.

Plaut invited the Clintons at the suggestion of his mother who lives near Jerusalem. “I was completely surprised by his accepting the invitation,” Plaut said.

“He probably accepted to express solidarity with a constituent group of the American people and maybe for political reasons,” Plaut said.
23-766, mecc@mit.edu

MIT Computer Connection, Student Center, W20-02

Apple

Two of the Most Popular Bundles

On Campus This Year

By Jim

Jim's Journal
Women's Soccer Team Dominates Season Opener

Soccer, from Page 20

from the side.

After the few scares by MHC, the Engineers managed to regain control of the ball and of the offense. In the late stages of the game they were still able to do so, even after losing Wright, who took a kick to the knees with about nine minutes left to play.

At game's end, the statistics told the tale of near-domination. In the entire game, the Engineers took 40 shots on the goal, while their adversary took only 14. The Engineers' scoring chances included nine corner kicks, as opposed to Mt. Holyoke's one. Furthermore, Mt. Holyoke goalie Lindsay Knoll had to make 10 saves, while MacKay needed to stop the ball only five times.

Rowe said that she was pleased with the way her team played, particularly with the passing and the defense. Rowe also said that the game "was a good team effort - we used everyone as a team."

Partly uplifted by the game, Rowe showed an enthusiastic outlook to the season, calling her current team the most talented team she has coached in five years. "We will have a very exciting season," she said.

The team will play its next game this afternoon, in a home match against Regis College. A three-game road trip will follow.

Water Polo Team Falls To B.C. in Close Game

Water Polo, from Page 20

Pearson was the Engineers' main scorer, making eight of the team's 11 goals.

Despite completing the day with an 0-3 record, the Engineers have much to look forward to in the season ahead. Thursday, Sept. 22, against Boston College.

WHAT HAPPENS OCT. 5?

The start of the 1994-95 recruiting season at the Careers Office in 12-170.

Once again a multitude of interesting employers are looking for MIT talent.

It's time to start scanning the field and choosing which employers to interview.

Come and pick up a complete roster of who's coming when, with easy-to-read instructions on how to get an interview.

Organizations coming in the first few weeks include the following: AT&T, Allied Signal, Cessna, Eason, MCI, Naval Undesea Warfare Center, Sengate Technology, Sandia, General Re Financial Products, Cambridge Technology Group, TASC, T.E. Shaw, Mossarca, Oracle, Texas Instruments, BBN, Bankers Trust, BancWare Inc., Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board, Hoschel Calamos, Martin Marietta Inc. (Knolls Atomic Power Lab), Lockheed Sanders, Motorola, Freddie & Gamble, Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Lab, Sybase, Westinghouse.

Don't wait till they have come and gone!

Maximize Your Scores

THE PRINCETON REVIEW

Call today: 617/558-2828
Courses in Cambridge Starting Soon!

Minimize Your Errors

THE TECH Page 17

LSAT

MCAT

GRE

2ND ANNUAL MINORITY MBA CAREER FORUM

Saturday, November 12, 1994
The Charles Hotel,
Cambridge, Massachusetts
9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Minority MBA 1st and 2nd-year students! Meet and interview with the nation's leading employers - FREE!

A Partial List of Employers:

- AT&T
- The Capital Group Co.
- CSC Index
- Dayton Hudson Corp.
- Goldman, Sachs & Co.
- Joseph E. Seagram & Sons
- J.P. Morgan & Co., Inc.
- Kilday, Peabody & Co.
- Merrill Lynch
- Morgan Stanley
- National, Inc.
- Putnam, Hayes, Bartlett,
- Ind. Inc.
- Salomon Brothers
- Smith Barney Shearson
- Strategos
- TIAA-CREF
- Towers Perrin

To register, send your resume by October 12, 1994 to:

Crimson & Brown Associates
1770 Massachusetts Avenue
Suite 332
Cambridge, MA 02140

Tel. (617) 868-0181
Fax (617) 868-0187

Indicate your top 3 industry preferences on the back of your resume. Be as specific as possible (e.g., investment banking/corporate finance).

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: OCTOBER 12!
CLASSIFIEDS

Help Wanted

Travel Abroad and Work Make up to $2000-$4000/mo. learning basic conversational English in Japan, Taiwan, or S. Korea. No teaching background or Asian languages required. For more information call (206) 632-0150 ext. R50331.

Help Wanted

Established biotech entrepreneur seeks part-time assistant. You are smart, likeable and practical, communicate well, have an intense interest in biotechnology and health care, are highly motivated to succeed. Technical background and business experience are desirable but not absolutely essential. Responsibilities include liaison, administration. Send resumes to Biotech Assistant, 531 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

WANTED! America’s fastest growing travel company now seeking individuals to promote spring break to Jamaica, Cancun, Bahamas, Florida, Padre, Barbados. Fantastic free travel and great commissions! Call SunSpash Tours 1-800-426-7730.

For Sale

Sony NEWS-LENS UKI network monitor; B&W portrait monitor; 286 meg hard drive; internal 800 meg SCSI tape backup (includes UNIX license). Asking $1,956. Contact Richard Wumans at Boston Camera Rental Company (617) 277-2200.

Books for Sale (Excellent Condition) All-natural INSTANT ENERGY Tea as sperm station; B&W portrait monitor; 28b. Make up to $36.3.6. Sell 72 funny college T-shirts but not absolutely essential. Fantastic free travel and great commissions! Call SunSpash Tours 1-800-426-7730.

Norton FAROS-310 UNIX network monitor; B&W portrait monitor; 286 meg hard drive; internal 800 meg SCSI tape backup (includes UNIX license). Asking $1,956. Contact Richard Wumans at Boston Camera Rental Company (617) 277-2200.

For Sale

Established biotech entrepreneur seeks part-time assistant. You are smart, likeable and practical, communicate well, have an intense interest in biotechnology and health care, are highly motivated to succeed. Technical background and business experience are desirable but not absolutely essential. Responsibilities include liaison, administration. Send resumes to Biotech Assistant, 531 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

WANTED! America’s fastest growing travel company now seeking individuals to promote spring break to Jamaica, Cancun, Bahamas, Florida, Padre, Barbados. Fantastic free travel and great commissions! Call SunSpash Tours 1-800-426-7730.

Help Wanted

Travel Abroad and Work Make up to $2000-$4000/mo. learning basic conversational English in Japan, Taiwan, or S. Korea. No teaching background or Asian languages required. For more information call (206) 632-0150 ext. R50331.

Help Wanted

Established biotech entrepreneur seeks part-time assistant. You are smart, likeable and practical, communicate well, have an intense interest in biotechnology and health care, are highly motivated to succeed. Technical background and business experience are desirable but not absolutely essential. Responsibilities include liaison, administration. Send resumes to Biotech Assistant, 531 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

WANTED! America’s fastest growing travel company now seeking individuals to promote spring break to Jamaica, Cancun, Bahamas, Florida, Padre, Barbados. Fantastic free travel and great commissions! Call SunSpash Tours 1-800-426-7730.

For Sale

Sony NEWS-LENS UKI network monitor; B&W portrait monitor; 286 meg hard drive; internal 800 meg SCSI tape backup (includes UNIX license). Asking $1,956. Contact Richard Wumans at Boston Camera Rental Company (617) 277-2200.

Books for Sale (Excellent Condition) All-natural INSTANT ENERGY Tea as sperm station; B&W portrait monitor; 28b. Make up to $36.3.6. Sell 72 funny college T-shirts but not absolutely essential. Fantastic free travel and great commissions! Call SunSpash Tours 1-800-426-7730.

Patriots Lose Once again, Even after Scoring 35 Points

Light, from page 20

Now on Fox League

Let's try this again.

Ladies and gentlemen, your New England Patriots!

(Insufferable)

As appropriate reaction. The Patriots, true to my prediction, are well on their way to becoming the first team in history to score 35 points a game and have a losing record. They went to 0-2 by dropping a 38-35 decision to the Bills in an upsie-down fashion. New England came back from a two touchdown deficit, only to see their hopes dashed when Buffalo kicked a field goal with 52 seconds left.

Drew Bledsoe attempted his best interception of Tad Lewis, but killed the Patsies' chances when, on third down and 40 seconds left, he threw a incompleteness — over the middle — for less than first-down yardage, then (4) ran the ball up through the middle for the first down. Apparently Bledsoe forgot that the pros don’t stop the clock to move the chains. The clock ran out and the Bills won their first game of the season.

Maybe the Redkins aren’t the league’s second-worst team after all. They pulled off one of the larger upsets (if there is such a thing in the NFL) of the week by beating the heavily favored Saints 38-24. The losses were helped by veteran quarter- back John Friesz’s four touchdown passes and a punt return for a touchdown by Brian Mitchell.

In the Game of the Week, Joe Montana finally played against his old team, and completely outplayed counterpart Steve Young, as the Chiefs beat the Forty-Niners 24-17 in a showdown between two of the league’s best quarterbacks.

Montana hooked up 203 yards for the Chiefs on 19-09-31 passing, and three touchdown passes, one on the opening drive of the game. Young did not have such a good day; he completed 24 of 34 passes for 285 yards and a touchdown, but was intercepted twice, lost a fumble, and was sacked four times, once for a safety.

The Jets won their second game of the season in overtime, 22-25 over the Denver Broncos. Receivers Rob Moore had a spectacular game for the Jets with 147 yards receiving, including a fourth-quarter touchdown and two-point conversion which gave New York a 22-19 lead.

The Giants, determined not to be the first New York team to lose, scored all 20 of their points in the first half, then held on to beat the Arizona Cardinals 20-17. Two interceptions by Phillip Sparks and key pass interference calls against the Cardinals helped the Giants keep Buddy Ryan where he belongs — in the basement.

Vinny Testaverde was intercepted four times and the Browns had an apparent game-tying touchdown called back by a penalty in a 17-10 loss to the Pittsburgh. In a matchup of two AFC teams who try to play like NFC teams, the Steelers overcame a poor performance in the first quarter to win their first game in Cleveland in the last five years. The hero of the game was Dan Marvelli, who claimed three of Pittsburgh’s four interceptions.

Remember last week when I said the Lions never lose indoors? Well, they do now. Detroit was beaten 10-3 by Minnesota in one of the ugliest games of the week. Ugly for the Lions, but in. The Vikings got a brilliant game from Warren Moon, who passed for 221 yards and hit Qadry Ismail for a touchdown in the second quarter. The Minnesota defense was the real key, though, as they recorded six sacks and held super back Barry Sanders to a pathetic 16 yards on 12 carries. At least Wayne Fosses isn’t looking to change quarterbacks yet.

Trivia questions

We’re moving up in difficulty this week. What is Michigan running back Tim Biakabutukka’s real first name? Send answers to sports@tech-mit.edu.

A few times a week question: Walter Payton, with 125 career touchdowns, is third on the all-time list behind Jim Brown and Jerry Rice. Correct answers were given by Joshua Allen G, Hening Cohn-man-Freyberger ’96, Mark Hytros G, and Nick Boltow ’95, who don’t win anything but do get to see their names in print, and have my thanks for letting me know that people actually read this column.

The New York Times

VOL. CXLIII . No. 49,786 Copyright © 1994 The New York Times

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1994

MIT FACULTY AND STUDENTS
GET HOME AND CAMPUS DELIVERY FOR $.35 A COPY!

More than 50% Off the Newsstand Price

All daily papers will be delivered by 7:00 a.m. to dorms, faculty offices and residences. Missed deliveries carried in before 10:00 a.m. will be replaced. Just call our toll free number, 1-800-631-2500.

No delivery during Winter recess.

Fall

| Monday - Friday | $26.25 |
| Monday-Saturday | $31.15 |
| Monday - Sunday | $66.15 |

Spring

| Monday - Friday | $26.25 |
| Monday-Saturday | $31.15 |
| Monday - Sunday | $66.15 |

Full Year

| Monday - Friday | $52.50 |
| Monday-Saturday | $62.30 |
| Monday - Sunday | $184.20 |

⇒ Make checks payable to the New York Times

Account # ____________________________
Expiration ____________________________
Signature ____________________________

Name ____________________________
Street/Dorm/Apt # ____________________________
City ____________________________
Zip Code ____________________________
Mail to: The New York Times
School and College Department
P.O. Box 520
Palos Park, Illinois 60460-0520
Field Hockey Team Shuts Out Clark U. In Stunnign Victory

By Catherine Mangion

The women’s field hockey team defeated Clark University this past weekend with a score of 2-0. The win was a stunning achievement given the team’s history of losses in New England field hockey. In each of the previous three meetings between the two teams, the Engineers were shut out.

Tommy’s first goal was scored on a penalty corner shot about 20 minutes into the game. Mangan hit the ball out to Straus, who later scored the goal. The ball for Carla Osbrin ‘08. Osbrin then drove the ball past the Clark defenders and into the goal. The left corner of the cage. The second goal came 10 minutes later, on a shot by Michael, assisted by Mangine.

In the second half, MIT dominated the game again but was unable to convert on a number of scoring opportunities. The Engineer defense continued to stymie the Clark offense and prevented the Clark players from taking any shots at the goal.

The strong play and determination of the entire team contributed to the win. The field hockey team hopes to repeat Saturday’s performance when it faces Anna Maria College Thursday evening and Western New England College Saturday afternoon.

Water Polo Finishes 0-3 in Invitational

By Gara Mendoza

Early last morning, the water polo team members prepared for a full day of games at the Cambridge Science Center. The tournament began at MIT’s Alumni Pool, so Harvard University was the afternoon. By the end, each team played three or four games against top teams.

The other schools participating in the tournament were Harvard, Brown University, Johns Hopkins University, and the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

The day started off with the Division III MIT team versus the Division II Harvard team. The MIT team proved to be a very challenging game for the Engineers. Nonetheless, MIT was able to hold its own, making four Harvard turnovers, and MIT challenged the opponent with good ball handling skills. Zachary Lee ‘98, Nazaro-Larriue ‘95, and Robert Mchtery ‘98 whipped the ball past the Harvard goalie in some amazing offensive plays. Still, the game ended a 1-4 Harvard win.

The Engineers went back into the pool a few hours later to play against MIT. The MIT players were tired and did not seem up to par in this game. The Harvard players were much faster, and despite a strong Engineer defense, JHU prevailed, 16-9.

Later in the afternoon, the MIT team traveled across the river to the Harvard pool, where they played against Boston College. The Engineers started off well, scoring the first two goals of the first quarter, but by the end of the second quarter, the score was tied, 5-5. At this point, MIT focused on defense, resulting in a 3-3 tie.

The score was 11-11 with two minutes left in the fourth quarter. MIT scored off of a free-throw on, showing that the game had been a hard-fought battle. Many quick counters and fast passes, but BC managed to score on the last shot, ending the game, 12-11.

Michigan Stuns Notre Dame This Week in Football

Columns by Bob Light

Welcome to the first Tuesday edition of "The Week in Football." This week’s edition may be a bit short, as your truly is wanted by the Boston Police for starting the "Vicious Truck." I can only stop to write a few words at a time as I move through the steam tunnels. Anyway, with the baseball season all but officially canceled (and it’s about time), it’s time for the national attention to turn completely to football. Let’s move on to the games!

Column football

The second week of college football had its share of big games, but there were also a few surprises. The biggest surprise may have been the upset of the Sooners over the Big Eight.

In the biggest game of the week, MIT started its season on a down note, losing 26-7 to Salve Regina in an obviously fixed game. The Newporters (can that really be their team name?) held MIT to minus eight yards rushing while rolling up 270 yards themselves. The Engineers did, however, put up 49-16 to lose to Duke, went into halftime leading Florida State 20-17. Unfortunately, it turned out that the Seminoles had allowed the band to play the first half and when the football team came out for the second half, things turned ugly as the Seminoles eventually won 52-20.

Boston University extended its regular-season winning streak to 14 games with an easy 45-7 victory over Colgate. The Terriers, who are currently ranked tenth in Division I-AA, picked up 494 yards of offense, including 121 passing yards by Robert Dougherty, to completely dominate the only team in the country named after a toothpaste.

In perhaps the most surprising Saturday blowout, Penn State jumped out to a 28-0 lead in the first quarter and never looked back, as they beat No. 14 USC 38-14. Happy Valley was a bad place to play the Trojans, as their only scores came on an interception return in the third quarter and a drive in the first quarter led up by the State’s backs late in the game.