Immigration lawyer Ralph A. Donabed speaks last night in Room 2-390 about student immigration issues. The talk was presented by the Indian student group Sangan.

Attorney Addresses Students' Immigration Concerns

By Dan McGuire

Boston immigration lawyer Ralph A. Donabed spoke yesterday afternoon on the federal regulations for immigration in an event organized by Sangan, the Indian student group.

"There's some hysteria about the new [immigration] bills [before Congress], and we wanted to clear the Indian students group.

"You will be welcomed with open arms" by an American company, he said.

"The broader issues should be considered as well. Immigration laws are too many doctors," he said.

"We will continue to offer among the best program in the country and attract some of the most talented students."

Goodall's parents had called the police in 1960, her mother accompanied her, since the young chimpanzees were not seated in the lecture hall. Many who attended were not seated in the lecture hall.

"Goodall described her children's experiences and that led her to choose her field and spend thirty-five years working with the chimpanzees of the Gombe Stream Research Center in Tanzania, and her fundraising activities.

"Goodall described her earlier scientific observations which were made when she was a child living on a farm. On one occasion, she hid in a henhouse for four hours, waiting for a hen to lay an egg.

"From that time, I knew I wanted to study animals," Goodall said.

"Goodall described the close ties between the chimpanzees and the villagers as it prepares a new plan, to reduce complexity, improve quality, and reduce costs of processes and services offered.

"We were excellent in 1983, when we had only 1,900 research assistants," Colbert said. "We must re-examine if a PhD in every field is needed."

"We were excellent in 1983, when we had only 1,900 research assistants," Colbert said. "I don't think (the cuts are) necessary, disheartening," Colbert said. "We will continue to offer among the best program in the country and attract some of the most talented students."

"The Institution's excellence is based on two things - the excellent faculty and students," said Dein for Research and Development. "I don't think you should be worried about this, and I don't think you should be. Wait until a bill is ready to be signed by the president.

"We will continue to offer among the best program in the country and attract some of the most talented students."

"The Institute is also looking to maintain and build MIT's excellence, the Graduate School is "taking steps to hold onto extraordinarily talented faculty by ensuring the stability of faculty salaries," Colbert said.

"The Institute is also "evaluating its course strategies by asking what MIT does best," Colbert said. "In a time of limited resources, we need to maintain and build MIT's excellence.

"The effects of these cuts on the Graduate School "can also be offset somewhat by recent changes in the type of graduate programs offered," Colbert said.

U.S. Sees Rise in Haitian Refugees

MIAMI

U.S. authorities have moved to return hundreds of Haitian refugees to their homeland over the past year as uncertainty over next month's election and an eruption of violence on the island trigger a refugee exodus of the kind unseen since that nation's 1994 political crisis.

Sunday, a vessel loaded with 581 Haitian refugees was stopped off the coast of Palm Island in the Bahamas on its way to Florida. Another overloaded craft sank, drowning 47. In all more than 1,100 Haitians have been interdicted at sea in the last week.

Although U.S. State Department officials expressed concern about the sudden jump in Haitians attempting to flee their homeland, spokesmen for the authorities in the West Indies said that the kind of crisis that we have seen in the past ... and we certainly hope that they see it in the future.

Nonetheless, the number of Haitians found ashore was still large — both apparently operated by smugglers — in the highest of the Haitian government's favorite routes. That is, the kind of crisis that we have seen in the past ... and we certainly hope that they see it in the future.

GOP nomination fight, unless U.S. forces sent to Bosnia incur heavy casualties.

Eddie Mahe, a Republican strategist, said Dole could leave observers questioning whether Clinton needed to answer the three questions or at least offer reassurances. Beyond that he stressed and very properly that the American United States must pick up the mantle of leadership because no other nation has the wherewithal to shoulder the responsibility.

"If we're not there, NATO will not be there," Clinton said in his 25- minute speech. "The peace will col- lapse," Balz added. "The peace will col- lapse.

Is there one formula for the best consulting opportunity?

No. Just as there is no easy equation to solve complex business problems, there is no one formula to address complex career issues. However, the right individual may consider these variables:

- Small non-traditional strategy firm
- Resources of worldwide $700 million diversified consulting firm
- Large established global client base

Goodall Addresses Connection Between Humans, Chimpanzees

...thousands of chimpanzees, placing a special emphasis on her first major discovery, the fact that chimpanzees make tools. This finding earned her funding required from the National Geographic Society.

She showed many slides of chimpanzee activities, focusing on the children and grandchildren of Flo, one of the most famous Combe chimpanzees. The slides pictured the animals eating, patrolling their territory, and playing.

Goodall also discussed the dangers that now face the apes. Chimpanzees are hunted both for meat and to obtain infants to be sold on the black market.

Many of these infants enter the entertainment industry or are used for medical testing, she said.

Goodall explained how the absolute poverty common in sub-Saharan Africa hurts both apes and humans, showing slides of the almost totally deforested shores of Lake Tanganyika. However, she expressed a great deal of hope for the future, as society begins to understand the problems the world currently faces.

After the speech, Goodall was swamped during an autograph signing session.

...the last few stragglers able to get in were forced to sit in the aisle during Jane Goodall's lecture to a packed 10-250 last Monday. Due to the overwhelming attendance, many people could not view the speech and were forced to listen to a loudspeaker placed outside the auditorium.

Today Tony told me he was going to be a millionaire in ten years.

"It's all right here in this awesome book," he said.

He showed me the part of the book that explained how to save and get interest so you can make a million dollars.

This guy's a genius, Jim," he said. "This can't fail."

Today Tony and I stopped at a store for a candy bar.

Toby bought my candy bar and put a penny in the little penny box.

Here's a little something for you," he told the cashier.

The cashier acted like he didn't even know Tony was there.

Cambridge has three great institutions.

Educate at theirs. Eat at ours.

For 76 years, people have gone to school on the cuisine at the S&S. From the traditional deli Ma Edlestein started serving in 1919 to our '90s fare which includes our famous chicken soup, Buffalo wings, grilled salmon, and chocolate mousse pie.

While we may not be as well known as Harvard and MIT, students at both say they prefer our courses.

Jim’s Journal

Today Steve and I walked by the part of the lake where people ice skate.

I said I could, but wasn’t very good at it or anything.

Steve said he hates all winter sports because they make your feet freeze off.

Can you ice skate, Jim? he asked.

With These Fares, Your Car Won’t Have To Survive A Trip To New York. Just To The Airport.

If you feel like blowing out of town, abandon your buggy in long-term parking and catch a flight to New York. It’ll only put you out $77.

Or you can buy a Flight Pack of four ($57 each way) or eight ($52 each way) coupons and save even more. We have plenty of flights leaving whenever you want to go. Manhattan’s waiting folks, you can sleep on the way back.

Which is hard to do when you’re driving.

Students Actively Participate In Identifying Faulty Processes

The redesign team, whose purpose is to design a draft of the improved administrative services to student in areas identified by the assessment team, is made up of: Dougkerry, Associate Director of Undergraduate Academic Affairs Margaret S. Roders; Associate Director of Career Services Jeanette L. Gerson; Isserman; Timothy J. Evans ‘96; Associate Director of Admissions Marlinee Jones; Mehta; Associate Planning Officer Michael A. Owu ‘86; Schlecht; and Director of Educational Services in the Sloan School of Management David A. Weber SM ‘83.

Teams identify processes
The teams, coordinated by Jones and Mehta, have been soliciting community input through newspaper advertisements, meetings, and presentations to various groups.

The assessment team has identified several student services for potential re-engineering. These processes include academic advising and support, admission, alumni services, career assistance, etc.
