

Students Have Bank Options

ATM Accessibility and Account Types Matter When Choosing a Bank

By Rima Arnaout
NEWS AND FEATURES DIRECTOR

Ah, the wonderful world of student finance. The guarantee that at some point during your four years here you'll be forced to pay back a friend with a check for three bucks because you didn't have food truck money on you.

The hope that, after tuition and housing are paid for, you'll get a job that will earn you some money. And for that you will need a bank account. Fleet Bank and Cambridge Trust are two nearby banking options, each of which has pros and cons.

Both banks have branches and ATMs close by. Cambridge Trust's closest branch is on Main Street across from the MIT Coop, while Fleet's is on the first floor of the Student Center, with another ATM in the Infinite Corridor. Locally, Cambridge Trust is pretty convenient, with branches and ATMs not only in Kendall Square but in Harvard Square and in University Park.

But Fleet is by far the bigger bank, with branches and ATMs throughout Massachusetts and New England. If you decide to bank with Fleet, chances are that you will find plenty of participating ATMs.

Cambridge Trust participates in the SUM ATM program, which includes hundreds of other local banks. The good news is that if you use an ATM with the SUM symbol on it, you won't have to pay a fee. The bad news is that Fleet bank will charge you a surcharge, and Fleet ATMs are among the most common.

The problem with both banks is that they keep banker's hours; Cambridge Trust does a little better than Fleet Bank in the Student Center, with hours from 8:30am to 5:00pm during the week. The University Park branch even has Saturday morning hours, but chances are you'll be asleep.

Perhaps, for this reason, both banks offer personal accounting services (pretty much everything except actually withdrawing or depositing cash) over the Internet.

Cambridge Trust and Fleet offer a few different checking and savings accounts, some with a minimum balance and some without; some with interest, some with

Banking, Page 11

Prior to the freshman photo, Ankur M. Mehta '03 leads a funeral procession through Killian Court as other Jack Floreys carry a headstone that marks the death of rush.

Killian Marks End of Rush Era

Freshmen Express Mixed Views on Taking Part in Last Rush

By Dana Levine
EDITOR IN CHIEF

The words "Let the rush begin" rang out for the final time as the last rush ever under the current residence system began yesterday in Killian Court.

This year's Killian Kickoff, which preceded next year's implementation of President Vest's freshmen-on-campus mandate, marked the beginning of the last opportunity that fraternities will have to recruit during orientation and house freshmen.

Before the opening ceremonies began, several students dragged a Tombstone which read "RIP Rush 1968-2001" across Killian Court while Ankur M. Mehta '03 played a funeral song on his trumpet.

Freshmen have mixed sentiments

Even yesterday morning, freshmen were still unsure what to expect. Some were excited to be able to take part in rush, while others did not plan to participate.

Although Jonathan Choi '05 was not sure whether he wanted to join a fraternity, he planned to participate in rush and check out the various fraternities, sororities, and independent living groups, known as FSILGs.

"I'm really happy they are doing all this stuff," he said. "I feel sorry for the freshmen next year. They are missing out on a lot."

Juan C. Alicea '05 did not plan to rush. "I'm not going to check out the frats. I'm going to stay in the dorms," he said, although he did mention that he might participate in some of the rush activities.

Alison Baker '05 said that she does not plan to

Killian Kickoff, Page 12

John M. McBean '01 drives the East Campus sectional snake as it carries a group of captives back to East Campus. This contraption was created by attaching the segments of a sectional couch to a small tractor.

Conference Welcomes Freshmen

Sororities, ILGs Take Part in Convocation

By Shankar Mukherji
ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITOR

The rush season officially began for 429 of the MIT community's newest members at the Women's Convocation held in 10-250.

"The purpose of this gathering is to introduce you to [various] living options and give you basic information," said Margaret H. Shyr '03, president of the Women's Conference.

Shyr explained how rush has enhanced her experience at the Institute, and advised the freshmen women to, above all else, "be comfortable and happy."

The theme that resonated most with the audience, however, was that of choice. Speaker after speaker stressed the importance of keeping one's housing options open.

"Over the next four or five days you will explore ... many living options," said Kate Baxter, program coordinator for the fraternities, sororities, and independent living groups.

"Don't be afraid to ask questions to help you choose where to live ... Remember that your living group will provide you with the foundation and framework [for your college experience]," said Baxter.

Panhel, LGC Leaders Speak

Following the introductory remarks by Shyr and Baxter, representatives of the Panhellenic Association (Panhel) and Living Group Council (LGC) were allowed to speak about their respective organizations.

"One of your most important decisions," said Annie K. Wang '02, president of Panhel, "is whether or not a sorority is for you."

"Your sorority will be a supportive network of sisters and alumnae," Wang said.

"Panhel [as a whole] represents a strong bond between women," said Wang. In keeping with the theme of inter-chapter "sisterhood", the presidents of MIT's five Panhellenic sororities were introduced as a group.

Following Panhel's address to the freshman women, LGC Speaker Robin M. Thompson '03 introduced the audience to the Institute's unique system of independent living groups.

ILGs "are very different from the traditional fraternity/sorority system," Thompson said, "in that they are mostly coed, but not all, and not affiliated with national orga-

Convocation, Page 11

Look inside for The Tech's guide to MIT's dormitories.

Comics

Page 6

OPINION

Akshay Patil encourages freshmen to appreciate their rush, the last one ever.

Page 10

World & Nation ..... 2
Opinion ..... 4
Killian Kickoff 2001 ..... 8

Page 5

WORLD & NATION

Democrat Leads in VA Gubernatorial Race

THE WASHINGTON POST

VIRGINIA

Mark R. Warner, the Democratic candidate for Virginia governor, holds a sizable lead over Republican rival Mark L. Earley across a spectrum of voters in every region of the state, according to a new Washington Post survey.

With 10 weeks to go before the Nov. 6 election, Warner leads Earley 51 percent to 37 percent among registered voters and by 11 percentage points among those most likely to vote. The Democrat enjoys wide margins of support among men and women, in every age group, among Northern Virginians and small-town voters, and among blacks, the survey found.

The race has already received widespread national attention, in part because it is the only gubernatorial contest besides New Jersey this year, but mostly for what it might reveal about the power of GOP themes a year into the Bush administration.

Berlin Candidate Faces Racial Allegations

THE WASHINGTON POST

BERLIN

His image-masters have relentlessly cast him as Berlin's answer to Jack Kennedy — youthful with a nice head of hair and a high-profile Jackie-like wife.

But Frank Steffel, 35, the conservative candidate for mayor of Berlin, is now battling allegations that he was an old-fashioned racial bigot.

The glossy magazine Max alleged this week that as a teen-ager, Steffel referred to Turks as "Kanaken," disabled people as "Mongols" and blacks as "Bimbos" — all words that in German resonate with as much hatred as the worst English-language terms of racial abuse.

The report in Max was based on interviews with unidentified school friends who said that Steffel was known on the schoolyard as "Franco," after Gen. Francisco Franco, the former Spanish dictator.

Steffel, the Christian Democratic Union candidate, said "the Max story is simply false" and part of a "dirty campaign aimed at my character."

Max, which had confronted Steffel with the allegations, released a tape of its one-hour interview and posted the audio transcript on the Internet. Without telling Steffel it had interviewed his former classmates, Max asked him if he had routinely used racist language to describe minorities, citing specific words.

Taliban to Allow Visits To Relief Workers

THE WASHINGTON POST

ISLAMABAD

Eight Western relief workers, including two American women, held incommunicado for the past three weeks by Afghanistan's ruling Taliban militia, will be allowed to receive visits from diplomats, the Red Cross and their families, Afghan officials said Saturday.

Delegates from the International Committee of the Red Cross will be allowed to see the prisoners Sunday, the Afghan Islamic Press reported. It also said the Taliban's embassy here in Pakistan's capital will issue visas Monday for diplomats from the United States, Germany and Australia to visit the detainees in Kabul, the Afghan capital.

"We are pleased to hear reports that the Taliban have decided to issue visas to consular officials and the families," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy in Islamabad — for most countries, the closest diplomatic post to Kabul. "We don't have visas yet, and we're not exactly sure when we'll get them. But once we do, we will head for Kabul as expeditiously as possible."

Wakil Ahmad Muttawakil, the Taliban's foreign minister, told the Associated Press in a telephone interview that he had met with Red Cross officials Saturday in Kandahar, the southern Afghan city that is the headquarters for the Islamic clerics who head the Taliban movement. Muttawakil said he told the officials, "You can visit them any time."

WEATHER

Sunny Today, But Rain on Horizon

By Dana Levine
EDITOR IN CHIEF

Right now my magic eight ball is looking pretty gloomy. For all of you who were wishing for a rain-free rush, that doesn't seem to be in the cards. And as Miss Cleo teaches: the cards never lie.

Some time tonight, the skies will fill with clouds and thunder heads will appear. Then, things will get worse as all of Monday's rush events are rained out. Unfortunately, the temperatures won't really go down much, so you will be both wet and hot. It is fortunate that the sweat won't soak through your clothes before it is washed away, but that doesn't sound like all that much fun to me. Hopefully Tuesday will be better, although that isn't certain yet.

So I hope that you have been having a good time with rush so far, because this is your last opportunity. Next year there may be something else, but it won't be called rush. So enjoy it while it lasts, and take the opportunity to pack your houses (this is good for you dorm people, too, because fewer people will be crowded next year).

Rain, rain, go away. Come again some other day. Little frat boys (and sorority girls, and ILG people) want to play.

Today: Mostly sunny. High in the upper 70s.

Tonight: Partly cloudy. Low in the lower 70s.

Monday: Chance of thunderstorms. High in the lower 80s.

Tuesday: Sunny. High in the lower 80s.

Five Killed in Gaza Territory As Ethnic Conflict Escalates

By Lee Hockstader

THE WASHINGTON POST

GAZA

Nestled among greenhouses and sand dunes, this sunbaked speck of a Jewish settlement near the Egyptian border has escaped most of the recent fighting between Israelis and Palestinians. So when a pair of Palestinian commandos slipped in before dawn Saturday, the small contingent of Israeli soldiers assigned to guard the place was caught sleeping and unaware.

In the firefight that ensued, three Israeli soldiers died and seven were injured before troops managed to kill the two Palestinians. It was the most daring and deadly attack by armed Palestinian militants against Israeli soldiers in 11 months of fighting in the Middle East, and Israeli army officials called the attack a grave incident. They announced they would launch a full investigation to determine how the Palestinians were able to infiltrate a well-fortified outpost surrounded by electronic fencing and equipped with night vision technology.

Israeli tanks and armored vehicles launched a reprisal raid around midnight Saturday night, roaring into the Palestinian town of Rafah on the Gaza-Egyptian border, hometown of both the militants who staged Saturday's attack. Initial Palestinian reports said the Israeli operation involved 16 tanks entering a half-mile or more into the Palestinian-controlled territory from four directions. Even before the reprisal, Palestinian security officers in Gaza had fled their offices and outposts.

It was unclear how long the Israeli forces would stay in Rafah, but in several recent incursions into other Palestinian-controlled areas, troops and armored vehicles leveled a handful of security structures and left within a few hours.

Maj. Gen. Doron Almog, the Israeli army's commander for Gaza and southern Israel, called the Palestinians' raid on Bedolah "a daring operation of a sort we have not seen until now. The results are not what we would have expected from a face-to-face battle."

Palestinians praised the attack as an act of valor.

"These guys were very brave to get into a Jewish settlement," said Ali Ekki, 26, a mechanic in Gaza City. "It shows that whatever security measures Israel puts in place, there are Palestinians who can defy them."

In a separate incident later Saturday, gunmen attacked a car full of Israelis on a road in central Israel, killing two men and a woman and wounding two children — apparently members of the same family, Israeli television reported. The al-Qqsa Brigades, linked to Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat's Fatah faction, claimed responsibility, according to the news services.

The tactical success of the raid on Bedolah bore much in common with the attacks launched by Lebanese guerrillas of Hezbollah, the Islamic Party of God.

Energy Plan Boosts Industries, Reflects Clout of Power Lobby

By Judy Pasternak

LOS ANGELES TIMES

WASHINGTON

Throughout February and March, executives representing electricity, coal, natural gas and nuclear interests paraded quietly in small groups to a building in the White House compound, where the new administration's energy policy was being written.

Some companies sent emissaries more than once. Enron Corp., which trades electricity and natural gas, once got three top officials into a private session with Dick Cheney, who headed the energy task force. Cheney did "a lot of listening," according to a company spokesman.

Many of the executives at the White House meetings were generous donors to the Republican Party, and some of their key lobbyists were freshly hired from the Bush presidential campaign. They found a receptive task force. Among its ranks were three former energy industry executives and consultants.

The task force also included a Bush agency head who was involved in the sensitive discussions while his wife took in thousands of dollars in fees from three electricity producers.

The final report, issued May 16, boosted the nation's energy industries. It called for additional coal production, and five days later the world's largest coal company, Peabody Energy, issued a public stock offering, raising about $60 million more than expected. While Peabody was preparing to go public, its chief executive and vice president participated in a March 1 meeting with Cheney.

The report also touted new gas extraction technologies. An early draft noted controversy over a gas recovery technique offered by Halliburton Co., the company Cheney ran from 1995 to 2000, before becoming vice president. The plan released to the public deleted the negative language.

Cheney continues to resist demands by Congress to disclose who met with administration officials during the 106 days this year when the energy plan was fashioned. The private nature of the work fostered candid and creative discussions "from new and unused quarters," said Cheney press secretary Juleanna Glover Weiss.

But interviews and a review of documents show how the administration relied on familiar faces who could gain from the study.

Just once, the task force departed from its pledge to keep secret the names of people invited to pitch their opinions face to face. After producers of power from the sun, wind and geothermal heat met with Cheney, officials led the group to the front of the White House and waiting reporters.

Others whose views might conflict with industry — the Union of Concerned Scientists, the Sierra Club, even federal agency staff — found themselves shut out or overruled.

U.S. Threatens Action Against E.U. Over Genetically Engineered Food

By Alan Sipress and Marc Kaufman

THE WASHINGTON POST

WASHINGTON

Senior Bush administration officials are pressuring the European Union to abandon new restrictions on genetically modified foods that they say could cost U.S. companies $4 billion a year and disrupt efforts to launch a new round of global trade talks.

U.S. officials have repeatedly told their European counterparts that the regulations, which received preliminary approval last month, discriminate against U.S. products in violation of World Trade Organization requirements, raising the prospect of a major and emotionally charged trade dispute.

The European Commission's decision to require the labeling of genetically engineered products reflects a European anxiety about food safety that is far more profound than in the United States, the world leader in agricultural biotechnology. This is a divide that threatens to further aggravate U.S. relations with Europe, already roiled by differences over global warming, arms control and other trade issues.

Undersecretary of State Alan Larson, the State Department's senior diplomat assigned to economic issues, called the new restrictions "trade disruptive and discriminatory." He said, "It's obviously a very serious problem that affects a very important trade and one that's of vital interest to a very important constituency in the United States, which supports free trade."

Though U.S. officials have declined to detail what type of punitive action the Bush administration might take, U.S. officials say the regulations are inconsistent with the terms of the WTO because they treat U.S. products less favorably than European ones.

For instance, Larson said the European regulations would require that American crushed soybean oil bear a label, while European cheeses and wine made with biotech enzymes would not be covered. "There are potential WTO concerns about how it is structured now," Larson said.

U.S. officials have left open the possibility of bringing a legal case before the WTO, which, after lengthy litigation, could eventually impose a politically embarrassing judgment and stiff economic penalties on Europe.

The dispute could also harden public opinion about biotechnology and its ability to transfer beneficial genes from one species into another.

The European Commission's new standards, among the most far-reaching in the world, call for all products made from engineered material to bear a label saying they contain "genetically modified organisms." They also require producers to document the source of all their ingredients.

Bush Creates New Legislation To Shrink Federal Work Force

By Ellen Nakashima

THE WASHINGTON POST

President Bush Saturday rolled out a government plan that could shrink the 1.8 million-strong federal civilian workforce through $25,000 employee buyouts, early retirement incentives and increased competition between the private sector and federal employees to deliver services.

The buyouts and retirement incentives are part of a series of legislative proposals that also include a form of merit pay for federal workers.

And, perhaps most controversial, they would give Bush "fast track" authority to scrap laws that agencies deem a hindrance to their mission if Congress missed a deadline for vetting those laws.

"Americans demand top-quality service from the private sector," said Bush, who campaigned on a pledge to erase multiple layers of federal management, in his radio address Saturday. "They should get the same top-quality service from their government."

The personnel legislation will be introduced after Labor Day, senior administration officials said. The fast-track bill, to be introduced later this fall, is likely to be a hard sell as it can be seen as "stepping into congressional prerogative," said Sean O'Keefe, deputy director of the White House Office of Management and Budget. It would free agencies of laws "that get in the way of work," such as one that bars the Agriculture Department from shutting a state rural development office, he said.

The "Freedom to Manage" legislation is part of a broader 14-point government plan, elements of which were outlined in Bush's April budget. In it, he takes aim at government waste and inefficiency, noting that the government spends $45 billion a year on computers and technology — more than on highways — but "unlike private sector companies, this large investment has not cut the government's costs or improved people's lives in any way that we can measure."

Many of the initiatives are not new — like cutting fraud from the student aid program — or already have been announced by the administration. The initiatives include eliminating barriers to delivery of government services by faith-based programs, expanding e-government and improving financial management. The Clinton administration also tried buyouts and early retirement incentives to downsize government.

But the legislation, which also includes hiring and retention bonuses, would take those tools government-wide. It is the latest, most concrete sign that the Bush administration is serious about reshaping the federal workforce. Reformers say the government is experiencing a "human capital" crisis: Half of its workers will be eligible to retire in the next few years, the average employee age is 46, and many agencies suffer from imbalances of available talent and needed skills.

West Coast Meth Lab Operations Reaching New Levels, DEA Says

By Rene Sanchez

THE WASHINGTON POST

LOS ANGELES

They stormed in after midnight, kicking down doors of homes and businesses around this county's desert fringe. More than 100 federal agents and local detectives took part in the raids, and by the time the sun came up they had nabbed yet another gang of suspected methamphetamine traffickers.

The raids last week culminated an 18-month investigation dubbed "Operation Silent Thunder" that led to the arrest of nearly 300 people on drug or weapons charges. Hundreds of firearms and explosives have been seized.

More than a dozen large makeshift laboratories for manufacturing methamphetamine have been closed and quantities of the drug worth more than $2 million — usually sold on the street in small amounts of powder or rock — have been confiscated.

Law enforcement authorities acknowledge that the results are another sign of just how pervasive and sophisticated the illicit methamphetamine trade has become in many parts of the state. Once casually run, mostly by outlaw biker gangs, methamphetamine production is now a tightly managed big business, concentrated in California's hills and deserts and its vast, rural Central Valley.

So much methamphetamine is produced in California that federal officials now consider the state a "source nation" for the highly addictive drug, which is also known as speed, ice or crystal. Meth labs are flourishing more than ever in other western states such as Arizona, Nevada and Washington.

According to the Drug Enforcement Administration, about 2,700 meth labs were found in California in 1999. The state with the second-highest total, Washington, had about 600. Arizona had nearly 400.

After the raids, authorities said they were confident that they had crushed the remnants of an elaborate criminal enterprise. But they said there would be many more to contend with.

"We think we've put a huge dent in this organization," Lt. Ron Shreeves of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department said after the raids. "But is someone else going to fill its shoes? Absolutely. There's too much money involved."

Federal narcotics officials say national meth use has doubled in the past seven years. Much of the market, they say, is controlled by criminal groups based in Mexico that use California migrant workers to cook and transport the drug from shacks and trailers in the desert or barns in the fields of the state's agricultural midsection.

As the operations have become more organized — some meth labs operate every day, authorities say — production has greatly increased.

Ron Gravit, the clandestine laboratory coordinator for the California Department of Justice, calls the state's methamphetamine problem "an epidemic." Law enforcement agencies in California are shutting down more than 2,000 meth labs each year, he said. And in some parts of the state, the tally has doubled or tripled over the past decade.

"Right now, we're just inundated with meth," Gravit said.

California will spend $30 million this year to crack down on the methamphetamine trade, but just finding meth labs, some of which produce 50 pounds of the drug a week, is often difficult because they are remote.

Jose Martinez, a spokesman for the DEA's office in Los Angeles, said that sparsely populated areas are ideal for drug organizations to set up operations.

Capture of IRA Members Pressures Colombian President to Get Tougher

By Scott Wilson

THE WASHINGTON POST

COLOMBIA

The capture of three Irish Republican Army members accused of schooling Colombian guerrillas in urban bombing skills brings pressure on President Andres Pastrana to end his campaign to bring peace to this war-weary nation through concessions and negotiations.

Pastrana, who staked his presidency on ending a civil war nearly four decades old, has found it increasingly difficult in the face of escalating violence to justify holding peace talks or maintaining the vast safe haven he created for the guerrillas almost three years ago to foster the negotiations. The IRA arrests, on Aug. 11, have brought even more pressure to bear, raising the specter of new violence in Colombian cities that in recent years have escaped the ravages of the largely rural conflict.

Senior military leaders had complained even before the IRA arrests that the demilitarized zone was being used by the country's largest guerrilla group, the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia, or FARC, to prepare for war rather than to negotiate peace. Now they cite the presence of the IRA members here in the rebel-controlled zone, 180 miles south of Bogota, as more evidence that army troops should be sent back into the area.

"It is the president's decision," Gen. Fernando Tapias, head of the Colombian armed forces, said in an interview. "But what is certain is that the zone has been used for criminal acts by the guerrillas since it was created. This (arrest) is just more proof of those practices."

Pastrana must decide in October whether to continue the safe haven or abandon the talks.

As part of a broad policy review, senior U.S. officials are scheduled to arrive in Colombia next week, partly to raise with Pastrana U.S. concerns about the safe haven similar to those cited by Tapias. In Washington, too, the reported links with the IRA have intensified doubts about the zone.

"The so-called FARC are misusing the demilitarized zone to abuse prisoners, hold kidnap victims, engage in narcotics trafficking and, for example, reportedly receive training from the Irish Republican Army," State Department spokesman Philip Reeker said. "Such activities are not consistent with the peace process, that very process that President Pastrana has worked so hard to advance."

Colombian military officials have outlined evidence that the three IRA men taught FARC rebels how to use plastic explosives and make mortars far more accurate and powerful than the primitive artillery FARC combatants traditionally fashion from propane gas cylinders.

Adding weight to that theory, a leader of Colombia's anti-guerrilla paramilitary forces, Carlos Castano, said in a statement that he too was approached by one an IRA suspect.

Portugal Lights Its Own Beacon of Freedom

LOS ANGELES TIMES

LISBON

Oleg Bartkiv gave up his job as a doctor's assistant in Ukraine to come here for a job paving roads. It hasn't been easy, but he feels that he's on the way to a better life.

"I want to see the whole world, not just Ukraine," the 24-year-old said. "I want to see the United States and Canada most of all. It's my dream."

Bartkiv may well make that dream come true: He's one of about 90,000 people who have already benefited from a new Portuguese immigration law that enables workers who entered the country illegally or on tourist visas to legalize their status.

As long as he keeps on working, he can extend his stay indefinitely and eventually obtain permanent residence or Portuguese citizenship. That in turn would open doors to work elsewhere on the continent and travel freely in the world because of European Union rules on free movement of labor and the generally high wages and minimal visa hassles that Western Europeans enjoy.

The law, which took effect in January, is the European Union's most liberal in terms of granting legal status to workers who are in the country without proper documents. Its enactment marks Portugal's transformation from a poor country that for decades was a major exporter of labor to what has become one of Europe's faster-growing economies, with a strong demand for immigrant labor.

Census data released last month showed that in the past decade, immigrants exceeded emigrants by 361,100. That accounted for 80 percent of the growth that brought Portugal's population to 10.3 million.

Glut of Used Vehicles Depresses Prices

LOS ANGELES TIMES

Used car dealer David Cooper figured on an easy sale after rolling a fire engine red, low mileage 1997 Mustang convertible onto his lot in Los Angeles. Yet even after slashing the price three times, from $13,900 to $10,900, he found no takers.

So last week he finally gave up and shipped the Mustang off to a car auction, the equivalent of sending an old nag to the glue factory. "The thing would not move," he lamented.

As Cooper now knows only too well, the values of used cars and light trucks have stumbled lately. A slowing economy and the incentives that auto manufacturers are lavishing on new-car buyers have depressed prices in the used-vehicle market. Industry analysts say the downward pressure on prices is especially intense among used cars and trucks that are three years old or newer, thanks to millions of available late-model vehicles now coming off leases.

For consumers buying cars or trucks, the trend has yielded bargains. But for other sectors of the economy it is costly. Major auto lenders, as well as some sellers — including consumers who are counting on good trade-in prices — are being hurt by falling used car values.

Bank of America this month emerged as one of the latest casualties, announcing that it would exit the auto leasing business after taking write-downs of $683 million. Like a number of financial institutions, it crafted lease deals in the late 1990s based on estimated car resale values that proved far too optimistic.

Climbing Jackpot Brings Out Dreamers

THE WASHINGTON POST

WASHINGTON

The dreamers are back, lining up outside liquor stores and mini-marts, hoping to pick the numbers that would let them pay off debts, give comfort to strangers, lounge in exotic countries.

They came Friday from across the area and from all points of the socioeconomic compass to play Powerball for at least a part of the $280 million jackpot that would give their fantasies form. Players in the District of Columbia joined those in 21 states across the country, from Oregon to Louisiana to New Hampshire. About 200 million Powerball tickets have been sold since Thursday — almost one for every person in the country.

The sales and prize amount are the second biggest in Powerball history. About 210 million tickets were sold in the summer of 1998, when the jackpot was $296 million, a record amount that went to a group of 13 factory workers and their families in the Midwest. The biggest lottery jackpot in the United States was a $363 million prize in the multistate The Big Game won by two families, also from the Midwest, in May 2000.

For the millions who will not be as lucky, the chance to let their fantasies soar until the drawing one minute before 11 Saturday night justified the money they shelled out and their hour-long wait.

Norway Celebrates Prince's Unorthodox Marriage

LOS ANGELES TIMES

OSLO

Crown Prince Haakon of Norway married a former wild child and single mother Saturday, elevating Scandinavia's notoriously liberal lifestyle to the royal palace.

In nationally televised nuptials at Oslo Cathedral that seemed to undermine every mother's warning about the costs of a bad reputation, Haakon and Mette-Marit Tjessem Hoiby held their countrymen spellbound as they exchanged rings and vows, the groom radiant and the bride in tears.

"You have not chosen the easiest path, but love has triumphed," Oslo Bishop Gunnar Staalseth told the couple as 300 guests and millions of TV viewers listened. That brought a glistening to the eyes of the bride, which moments later were gushing as the bishop praised her devotion as a single mother and her courage in "starting a new chapter by turning over a new page."

OPINION

Chairman

Jordan Rubin '02

Editor in Chief

Dana Levine '02

Business Manager

Huanne T. Thomas '02

Managing Editor

Eric J. Cholankeril '02

NEWS/FEATURES STAFF

Director: Rima Arnaout '02; News Editors: Kevin R. Lang '02, Jennifer Krishnan '04; Associate Editors: Melissa S. Cain '04, Nancy L. Keuss '04, Eun J. Lee '04, Brian Loux '04, Shankar Mukherji '04; Staff: Frank Dabek G, Daniel C. Stevenson G, Naveen Sunkavally G, Sanjay Basu '02, Efrén Gutierrez '03, Sonali Mukherjee '03, Alice S. Wang '03, Diana S. Cheng '04, Jeffrey Greenbaum '04, Vicky Hsu '04, Pey-Hua Hwang '04, Pallavi Naresh '04, Rubi Rajbanshi '04, Maria Wang '04, W.S. Wang '04; Meteorologists: Véronique Bugnion G, Rob Korty G, Peter Huybers G, Greg Lawson G, Bill Ramstrom G.

PRODUCTION STAFF

Editors: Gayani Tillekeratne '03, Joel Corbo '04, Joy Forsythe '04; Associate Editors: Andrew Mamo '04, Shefali Oza '04, Tao Yue '04; Staff: Mary Obelnicki '98, Ryan Ochylski '01, Ian Lai '02, Anju Kanumalla '03, Vimal Bhalodia '04, Andy Leiserson '04, Eric Tung '04.

OPINION STAFF

Editors: Kris Schnee '02, Jyoti Tibrewala '04; Associate Editors: Veena Thomas '02; Columnists: Philip Burrowes '04, Roy Esaki '04, Ken Nesmith '04; Staff: Basil Engwegbara G, Michael Borucke '01, Kevin Choi '01, Christopher D. Smith '01, Jason H. Wasfy '01, Matt Craighead '02, Daniel L. Tortorice '02, Philippe C. Laroche '03, Gretchen Aleks '04, Christen M. Gray '04, Akshay Patil '04.

SPORTS STAFF

Editor: Aaron D. Mihalik '02; Staff: L. M. Hughey '01, Robert Aronstam '02.

ARTS STAFF

Editors: Devdoot Majumdar '04, Annie S. Choi; Associate Editor: Fred Choi '02; Staff: Erik Blankinship G, Lance Nathan G, Bence P. Olveczky G, Sonja Sharpe G, Vladimir V. Zelevinsky '95, Bogdan Fedeles '03, Jumaane Jeffries '02, Jacob Beniflah '03, Daniel J. Katz '03, Jane Maduram '03, Amy Meadows '03, Jeremy Baskin '04, Chaitra Chandrasekhar '04, Sandra M. Chung '04, Izzat Jarudi '04, Chad Serrant '04, Joseph Graham.

PHOTOGRAPHY STAFF

Editors: Nathan Collins G, Roshan Baliga '03, Wendy Gu '03; Staff: Erika Brown G, Krzysztof Gajos G, Garry Maskaly G, Karlene R. Maskaly G, Michelle Pavinelli G, Bob Sumner G, Samudra Vijay G, Gregory F. Kuhnen '00, Wan Yusof Wan Morshidi '00, Sephir Hamilton SM '01, Charles Boatman '01, Nii Dodoo '01, Kailas Narendran '01, James Snyder '01, Yi Xie '02, Leonid Drozhinin '03, Ekaterina Ossikine '03, Matt T. Yourst '03, Pedro L. Arrechea '04, Brian Hemond '04, Max Planck '04, Jacqueline T. Yen '04, Sisir Botta '04.

CARTOONISTS

Aaron Isaksen G, Solar Olugebefola G, Jennifer Dimase '01, Xixi D'Moon '01, Bao-Yi Chang '02, David Ngo '02, Lara Kirkham '03, Alison Wong '03.

BUSINESS STAFF

Advertising Manager: Rachel Johnson '02; Operations Manager: Jasmine Richards '02; Staff: Kedra Newsom '02, Dashonn Graves '03, Joey Plum '03.

TECHNOLOGY STAFF

Staff: Kevin Atkinson '02.

EDITORS AT LARGE

Senior Editors: Michael J. Ring G, Eric J. Plosky '99; Contributing Editors: James Camp G, Ming-Tai Huh '02.

ADVISORY BOARD

Paul E. Schindler, Jr. '74, V. Michael Bove '83, Barry Surman '84, Diana ben-Aaron '85, Robert E. Malchman '85, Simson Garfinkel '87, Jonathan Richmond PhD '91, Reuven M. Lerner '92, Josh Hartmann '93, Jeremy Hylton '94, Anders Hove '96, Saul Blumenthal '98, Indranath Neogy '98, Joel Rosenberg '99, B. D. Colen.

PRODUCTION STAFF FOR THIS ISSUE

Night Editors: Eric J. Cholankeril '02, Jordan Rubin '02, Joel Corbo '04.

The Tech (ISSN 0148-9607) is published on Tuesdays and Fridays during the academic year (except during MIT vacations), Wednesdays during January and monthly during the summer for $45.00 per year Third Class by The Tech, Room W20-483, 84 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass. 02139. Third Class postage paid at Boston, Mass. Permit No. 1. POSTMASTER: Please send all address changes to our mailing address: The Tech, P.O. Box 397029, Cambridge, Mass. 02139-7029. Telephone: (617) 253-1541, editorial; (617) 258-8324, business; (617) 258-8226, facsimile. Advertising, subscription, and typesetting rates available. Entire contents © 2001 The Tech. Printed on recycled paper by Charles River Publishing.

"Think of me instead as a consumer doing her best to hold up the economy."

Opinion Policy

Editorials are the official opinion of The Tech. They are written by the editorial board, which consists of the chairman, editor in chief, managing editor, executive editor, news editors, features editor, and opinion editors.

Dissents are the opinions of the signed members of the editorial board choosing to publish their disagreement with the editorial.

Columns and editorial cartoons are written by individuals and represent the opinion of the author, not necessarily that of the newspaper.

Letters to the editor are welcome. Electronic submissions are encouraged and should be sent to letters@the-tech.mit.edu. Hard copy submissions should be addressed to The Tech, P.O. Box 397029, Cambridge, Mass. 02139-7029, or sent by interdepartmental mail to Room W20-483. All submissions are due by 4:30 p.m.

two days before the date of publication.

Letters and cartoons must bear the authors' signatures, addresses, and phone numbers. Unsigned letters will not be accepted. No letter or cartoon will be printed anonymously without the express prior approval of The Tech. The Tech reserves the right to edit or condense letters; shorter letters will be given higher priority. Once submitted, all letters become property of The Tech, and will not be returned. The Tech makes no commitment to publish all the letters received.

To Reach Us

The Tech's telephone number is (617) 253-1541. E-mail is the easiest way to reach any member of our staff. If you are unsure who to contact, send mail to general@the-tech.mit.edu, and it will be directed to the appropriate person. The Tech can be found on the World-Wide Web at <http://the-tech.mit.edu>.

Faith In Reasoning

Guest Column
Travis Poole

In the August 23 edition of The Tech, Matt Craighead's article "The Basis of Knowledge" presented a common but overly idealistic view of scientific knowledge. Statements such as, "Man is capable of knowledge but only through reason, never faith or feeling," and, "either faith is an accurate guide to reality, or it is not. Science and religion are incompatible at their core," are evidence of Craighead's view that any belief based upon faith is invalid, and that only ideas based completely on rational deduction constitute knowledge.

The problem with such a view is that ALL knowledge, at some level, is based upon faith. One can trace everything that one "knows" back to some assumption that cannot be proven. Craighead gives us an example of such an assumption in his own article. In his explanation of knowledge he states, "we must start before anything else with the recognition that 'there is something that I am aware of.' That is, something exists (existence) and you are aware of it (consciousness). It's a something, not a nothing or an anything; so it has a specific nature, or identity," (emphasis mine). This statement is an assumption. It cannot be proven because, as Craighead points out, it is the first axiom. It comes "before anything else," and thus, there is nothing from which its truth can be derived. To take this statement as true is completely an act of faith. This is not to say that it is a poor or false assumption, but rather that its truth or falsehood cannot be shown deductively.

This will be true of any metaphysical model. The axioms upon which the model is based cannot be proven. Because all other knowledge must be derived from the axioms, they must be assumed to be true without proof. Craighead dismisses materialists and idealists by simply saying, "[they] are wrong." He offers no proof of this, because he cannot prove it. As long as their assumptions are self-consistent, their models are every bit as valid as Craighead's. Choosing between these models is an act of faith, not one of deductive logic.

It is attractive to think that one can live logically, making decisions based upon reason alone. As scientists we like to imagine ourselves as purely rational creatures, with no need to ever call upon such an ugly concept as faith. Unfortunately, it is not so simple. As Hume realized in the 18th century, everything we think and do is based upon the assumption that the future will be like the past, and ALL beliefs in "matters of fact" are non-rational. We must assume (without the possibility of proof) many things before we can "know" anything at all.

The outcome of any experiment has an infinite number of possible explanations. We use Ockham's Razor to eliminate all but a very few of the possibilities, but by invoking Ockham's Razor we are making an assumption, and thus acting on faith.

The very idea that nature functions by rules that we are able to understand is, in fact, an assumption. All of science rests upon this concept, and yet we have no hope of proving it! All the evidence we have makes it seem as though it is a good assumption, but we will never prove it deductively. Thus, we take it as true in an act of faith. Furthermore, essentially every scientific finding is based upon inductive, rather than deductive, arguments. We like to believe that when we conduct our tests, we can successfully isolate a variable, and deductively determine the truth value of a hypothesis. This is, however, impossible. The outcome of any experiment has an infinite number of possible explanations. We use Ockham's Razor to eliminate all but a very few of the possibilities, but Ockham's Razor is itself an assumption about nature. The results this assumption give us appear to be good, so we have confidence that our assumption is correct. However, confidence is not certainty. We cannot escape the fact that by invoking Ockham's Razor we are making an assumption, and thus acting on faith.

It is impossible to live by reason alone, so faith cannot be eliminated from thinking. Sometimes this will lead us astray, but that is unavoidable. Pretending faith has no place in our thinking does not prevent us from making false assumptions. It can, however, fill us with unrealistic confidence in our beliefs and it lead one to the view that all assumptions are equal. This author would not put the assumptions required to do science on the same level as the assumptions required by most religions. Craighead, however, does just this when he states that, "either faith is an accurate guide to reality, or it is not."

We cannot escape the fact that our knowledge is inductive, and fundamentally dependent upon assumptions. The way to deal with this is to make only those assumptions that seem most likely to be true, and, most importantly, keep in mind at all times that our knowledge is based upon assumptions which may very well be false.

Craighead's message of using reason instead of emotions or faith is not a bad one. The less assumptions one makes, the less chance there is of being wrong. However, we must not fool ourselves into thinking faith can be avoided totally. We must not think that science does not rely on assumptions. We must not forget that, as much as we might like otherwise, the basis of knowledge is faith!

Travis Poole is a graduate student in the Department of Ocean Engineering.

Will You Shut Up?

Kris Schnee

Sometime between the 1960s and today, the job description for college students has changed from "future leaders" to "future followers." The last generation of college kids grew up so certain of their own moral superiority that, when they took power, whether Rhodes Scholars from Arkansas or Yale men from Maine, they no longer saw other peoples' free speech as important. There has been a recent rash of cases on college campuses where people have reacted adversely to students' unorthodox words. College administrators and sometimes even students are guilty of putting "public relations" ahead of the crucial need for an open debate field on American campuses.

David Horowitz, an outspoken and conservative Harvard professor, wanted to expose political censorship in college newspapers. So he picked a topic that you'd think would interest only the most extreme of Democrats — the proposition that white Americans owe cash reparations to black Americans for what one group's dead ancestors did to the other's dead ancestors — and wrote an inflammatory refutation of it. When he tried to buy advertising space for it in a number of college newspapers, he got the result that he wanted: young journalists nationwide refused to print an advertisement expressing a strong conservative argument. Some of the same newspapers had, several years before, run an ad denying that the Holocaust was real.

Worse, when a few newspapers agreed to run the ad, students at Brown were moved to action. A group of students stole nearly 4,000 copies of the Brown Daily Herald and raided the Herald's offices in an attempt to capture the rest. The thieves demanded free advertising space and the Herald's removal from campus distribution. In response to an opinion they didn't like, college students felt that theft, extortion, and censorship were justified. The opposing viewpoint had no right to be heard.

Voo Doo, MIT's humor magazine, drew fire for a parody. Its issue last spring contained a piece on "Bonsai Kittens," cats which could be kept in boxes and force-grown into artistic shapes. The piece was backed up by a phony web site (which still lives), listing various bottle shapes for sale, but not prices or contact information. The FBI took notice, demanding that MIT release the name of the graduate student who launched the site. PETA and the U.S. Humane Society reportedly said that they wanted the site shut down, applauding the FBI's action and calling the site's legality "unfortunate."

College administrators and students are guilty of putting 'public relations' ahead of the crucial need for an open debating field on American campuses.

Technically, even a joke can be illegal. A 1999 law, passed as HR1887, aims to prohibit the "depiction of animal cruelty." Congress' bill summaries and the law's exact text are ambiguously worded, implying that even a "fake" depiction of violence such as "Itchy & Scratchy" is now illegal (and remember the scene in The Lion, the Witch, & the Wardrobe where Aslan gets sacrificed?). More digging uncovers an exception for a "depiction that has serious religious, political, scientific, educational, journalistic, historical, or artistic value." We have therefore established the principle that the government decides whose opinions have "cultural value," and college students have been threatened for their sense of humor.

Last spring we had another free speech incident at MIT. During Spring Weekend, The Roots (a band whose members happen to be black) came to campus to perform. As they walked along Amherst Alley, some students on the roofdeck of Alpha Tau Omega called down to them, "We love black people!" An exchange followed, and it's not clear what was said, but The Roots say the ATO brothers used an ethnic slur. The Roots responded by entering ATO's house and brawling with them, with the woman known as Jaguar whacking ATO members with a spoon (we at The Tech are still wondering about that). The Roots went unpunished for physically attacking people who had used "words" against them. Meanwhile, MIT and the Cambridge Licensing Commission (a government body which claims the right to control who can live where) decided to smite ATO, pressuring the fraternity into a settlement. ATO expelled the offending members, sponsored a cultural symposium, and agreed to "sensitivity training." The group was punished for the actions of a few members; worse, students were punished for things they said. The fact that the remarks were obnoxious is irrelevant.

Thanks to the 1960s generation of college students, we're learning that "free speech" doesn't include expressing opinions the majority disagrees with, or saying things that offend people. This erosion of the First Amendment is hitting us as college students. It's only the fringes of our self-expression under fire so far, but any of us could be the next target. We need to watch for the next case of someone trying to shut college students up; it probably won't be long.

Almost Paradise

Akshay Patil

Dear Class of 2005,

Well, you should all have relatively big heads by now. Just a few months ago, you were sitting in front of a multitude of parents and well-wishers while an authoritative figure who had dominated your life for the last 4 years told you just how wonderful you were.

You might have been told that you were the most outstanding class your high school ever had. There might have been a lengthy list of accomplishments that you and your peers achieved. Perhaps during that heady final week of school you received special attention for being at the top of your class or for other amazing achievements. Many probably congratulated you on your acceptance to MIT, and some have probably looked at you with a face of utter confusion and said "MIT? Where's that? Detroit?"

Upon arriving here, you never have to pay for your meals... will wonders ever cease?! Everyone vies for your attention and your time. There's probably a corner in your temp closet dedicated to stashing all of the free t-shirts, sports bottles, yo-yos and other assorted items you've collected by now. If you don't know by now, most living groups are spending more on your rush than they have spent on any past rush. Welcome to the best MIT freshman rush that money can buy.

What makes you, you mass of 1,000 clueless freshmen, so worthy of what might be the largest rush bash in MIT history? Well, it's the fact that you may very well be the last.

Starting next year, there will no longer be a rush, at least not the rush we know and love now. Since all freshmen will be required to live on campus, dorm rush will be changed to a dorm "recruitment" (the word "rush" has lots of yucky negative connotations), and FSILG rush will be eliminated all together.

Some of the changes honestly do make sense. Freshmen will have a longer period of time in which to shop and choose where they want to spend their four years. Instead of making a decision in less than 2 weeks, freshmen will have more time to test drive the FSILG housing options.

But in exchange for this extended shopping time, we are sacrificing what is arguably the most enjoyable and memorable experience people have at MIT. New people, no classes, free food, fun games, boring orientation lectures — this is the time when you really feel alive. Most of you probably don't even know what IHTFP means. I'd tell you, but you will find out eventually and this is a school newspaper.

Orientation will still exist, and yes, as I mentioned, there will still be a dorm shopping "recruitment" period, but that isn't the same. Dorms have less money to spend on recruiting freshmen, and you have to pick one eventually, anyways. Instead of 50 choices, freshmen will have 10.

The lack of a rush will also hurt the FSILG community. Fraternities, sororities, and independent living groups are an integral part of your experience at MIT and depend heavily on rush to entice freshmen to come and explore something new beyond the usual campus fare. Whether or not you chose to join one, they will undoubtedly have a major impact on your social life. Fraternities are the ones who spend the most during rush, often providing the most memorable experiences, and they're the ones who throw the parties during the year. Most MIT-related non-academic events are largely organized by FSILGs. On a campus starved for a life outside of academia, the fraternity, sorority, and independent living groups are essential.

I cannot deny that the new system will have many benefits, but it robs the MIT community of a piece of its soul. Despite its intentions to improve non-academic life at MIT, the elimination of rush may have detrimental effects that will hurt the MIT experience as a whole.

Rush is the reason why I came back to MIT early and spend the afternoons on my roommate's computer cranking out stuff for you to read while I contemplate trying to find something to eat outside my newly-moved-into foodless room. It's a worthy cause. So as you rush around these next few days, heads spinning, stomachs filling, egos inflating, hormones raging, and free-stuff grabbing, realize that you're having the time of your life, and join all of us in hoping that it all won't end with you.

Guide to Dormitories

Questions

What facilities do you have in your dorm? (Laundry, roof access, dining hall, kitchen, weight room)

What subgroups exist in your dorm? (Suites, etc.)

What is the breakdown of rooms by size and type?

How is rooming decided?

How many freshmen do you expect to take for the next term?

What makes your house unique?

What is the best thing about living in your dorm?

What are the major house events this year?

Where do parties take place within your dorm? (Rooms, hallways, lounges?)

Tell us something interesting about your basement.

Describe your dorm's participation in intramural sports.

What is your house policy regarding pets?

What is your house policy regarding smoking?

How are bathrooms arranged in your dorm? (single/multi-occupancy, co-ed, etc.)

What is the most popular beverage in your dorm?

What would you change about your dorm?

What type of freshman SHOULDNT live in your dorm?

In your house, which Simpsons character would best fit in?

What do residents do for dinner most evenings?

What stereotype about your house do you wish would go away?

If your dorm could choose a theme song, what would it be?

Baker House

Laundry, roof access, dining hall, kitchen, weight room, hobby shop, game room.

none

Quads, Triples, Back Doubles, Front Doubles, Singles: Coffin/Pie/Couch

Rooming lottery by year, run by rooming chairs who are members of the dorm

85

It's built to be a social dorm. The floors are not segregated (6th floor hangs out with 2nd floor, etc.). Baker's architect Alvar Aalto is world renowned; Baker is any architecture student's Mecca.

The people

Camping Trip, Allen Party, Oktoberfest, Holiday Party, Ski Trip, Spring Formal, New Year's Party, BBQ's Happy Hours

Rooms, lounges, hallways, roof deck, Baker Commons, Backyard BBQ

It flooded this summer

Baker participates in nearly every intramural sport. In particular, we enjoy Ultimate Frisbee, Ice Hockey, Volleyball, Football, Soccer

In writing they are not allowed, but if the neighbors don't mind, it's not a problem

Smoking is not allowed in the dorm

Both single and multiple occupancy, coed

Sam Adams

Inter-dorm Relations

A person who keeps their door shut, can't tolerate loud music, or is unwilling to extend his/her social circle would not be happy at Baker

Karl & Lenny [Homer's co-workers at the Nuclear Plant and frequenters of Moe's bar]
Baker Dining

Your mom

That we're like a high school

"Brick House"

Typical freshman dorm room.

Bexley Hall

Roof access

B(A)FL

Tiny, really tiny

Penis Length

2.5

3 active serial killers

The free heroin and clean needles paid for by the house tax

Drop date

They don't

It sees dead people

Squid throwing

They taste good

Only crack, and only for medical purposes

Communal

Rubbing alcohol

Being lame

The ones not already terminally ill

Ralph Wiggum

Your mom

The gonorrhea thing

"Heal the World" by Michael Jackson

Burton-Connor House

Laundry, kitchens, weight room

Floors & Suites

Singles, Doubles and Triples

Seniority, previous year's rooming

102

Suites with kitchens; close-knit communities; Porter Hall; Athena cluster; library

Suites, people, having friends who cook for you

Ski trip, Screw Your Suitemate semiformal, Apple Bake, Patriot's Day party

Suites, Porter

We have a basement!

Every one, all of 'em, woo-hoo!

Nothing but fish

Non-smoking

Mostly coed, some single sex

Anything with caffeine

Walls! Interior renovations

Those who don't share; non-social freshmen

Cook

No stereotype!

East Campus

Laundry, roof access, kitchen, weight room. (Dining hall: Walker's next door)

1 East Campus; 1 Kortyard; 2 Buildings; 2 Roofdecks (recently redone); 10 Halls; 6 Cults; 1 Tunnel

A large number of rooms, all singles and doubles. Freshmen get doubles (or drop-ceiling quads).

A sekrit cabal of monkeys forces the frosh to spend 2 days choosing their hall after dorm rush is over.

10 percent of the incoming class, whether they like it or not. We hope they do.

1E, 2E, 3E, 4E, 5E
1W, 2W, 3W, 4W, 5W

The Krust
Our house is a thermonuclear bomb squad.

Not having to leave your room to go to the bathroom (yay sinks!).

Christmas, Thanksgiving, and your mom.

My pants. Our parties also take place in the Tunnel, Talbot Lounge, on halls, in rooms, on beds, and in sorority houses.

Dude, it's a basement. We keep stuff there. We have "laundry - darkroom - EE lab - music room - trash - bike racks - elevator - silly frosh" facilities, too, but you're too lazy to use them.

Lots and lots, in just about everything. The funny thing is that we don't suck (haha, we have the only interesting varsity jocks on campus. They do our homework for us, too)

We allow petting, just not in public. Our 12 cats, however, are allowed out in public (but not off their halls). Some halls have no pets at all... sob

If you live on 5 East and 41 West, go right ahead. Elsewhere, you may smoke only if you're on fire. Gonj, however, needs to cut back.

We have all kinds, all fully stocked with toilet paper. Color and texture of said paper depends on what hall you live on. The blood of the vanquished

Our fire alarm works too well

Leet SkriPt-kidDies. Quiet, money-grubbing Sloanies. Drunk frat-boy wannabes. Tech op-ed columnists. Frosh whose clothing implies they're on the "Abercrombie & Fitch Soccer Team." The pink car.

Eat, or go hungry. It's not a tough choice. We have kitchens, Walker, and cats. "Food" is plentiful.

We are NOT called East Campus Memorial Alumni Housing Memorial. Call us Fred T. Dorm, dammit.

"We Didn't Start the Fire," sung upside-down and drunk.

Macgregor House

Laundry, kitchens, weight room, darkroom, basketball court, rec. room, music room, convenience store, TV room, video collection

There are entries of 30-40 people. Each entry has 5-6 suites made up of 6-8 people sharing a kitchen, bathroom, and lounge.

The dorm is almost entirely singles. There are 2 permanent double rooms.

It is based on freshman preference sheets, after they have visited each of the entries during in-house rush.

75-100

You can have your own space when you want it, but as soon as you walk out your door, there are great people to hang out with.

The entries form a really close community. Often your best friends are the people in your entry.

Sunday brunches, Winter Weekend (including an entry skit, semi-formal, and lots of food!), hiking, apple-picking, Six Flags, ski trip, spring party
Lounges

We have a basketball court.

Each entry has its own IM teams. There are also joint teams between entries and whole house teams. We are very active at all levels of IM sports.

No pets are allowed.

It is only allowed in one entry. There is no smoking in common areas.

Each suite has a shared bathroom. A few are single sex, most are coed as determined by the suite
Soda

More open spaces

People who don't want to be left alone.

Apu

People either cook in the suite kitchens or go to campus dining. Lots of people pick up snacks from Macgregor Convenience.

That we are all anti-social because we have singles, which really makes no sense because when you think of all the fun you can have without roommates. We have the benefits of fun people and a social atmosphere with your own space when you need it.

New House

Laundry, terrace access, kitchens, weight room

6 numbered houses
Chocolate City, Russian House, German House, French House, House 2, House 3, House 4, House 5
Singles, Doubles and Triples

The cultural Houses conduct their rush similar to frats. For the numbered Houses, there will be an in-house rush once students get into New House
Approximately 75

Air conditioning, most diverse dorm on campus

Diversity and friendly community atmosphere

Cultural Talent Show and Cooking Competition; barbecues; karaoke night; happy hour

Chocolate City, Spanish House

We don't have one.

We participate in ice hockey, football, and many more.

Only small animals.

No smoking.

Co-ed

Snapple, Mistic, water

The fact that we don't have a basement or elevators.

People who don't enjoy diversity or are unsociable.

Moe

Cook or order out; sometimes Macgregor or Next House dining.

None

"Area Codes" (Ludacris); "We Are the World" (Various Artists)

Next House

Laundry, dining hall, kitchens, weight room

Halls (Floor and Wings)

Singles, doubles, triples. Some are solar, meaning one or more wall is composed entirely of windows. These are generally larger than normal rooms.

Internal house lottery

100 (50 of whom will be in the RBA program)

We're good-looking and we bathe regularly.

Forbidden sex in the laundry room

Spring Semiformal (May)
Next Act (May)
Condom & Lingerie Parties (November and April)
The Tastefully Furnished Lounge (TFL) and wing lounges.

No sex in the laundry room.

Football, basketball, ice hockey, unihoc, ultimate, octathlon, roller hockey, soccer, table tennis

No pets, except for fish and fish-like creatures

No smoking inside

14 or 15 co-ed bathrooms. Each bathroom has 2 toilets, 2 showers, 2 sinks, real doors (no stalls).
Duff

Location

Introverted freshmen

Bart

Dining hall, ordering in, some cook, eat on campus

It's too far.

"Let's Talk About Sex, Baby"

Random Hall

Laundry, roofdeck, kitchens, weight room, darkroom, shop, movie theater, game room, EE lab, robotics lab, computer room, Street Fighter 2 arcade game

Each floor has a distinctive personality

6 types of rooms: 1 big double, 4 big singles, 1 little single (no crowding)

Lottery freshman year determines priority, other years based on priority & seniority
Squatting is always permitted
About 23

The people. The nerds. Ozok. Everyone's laid back and chill. We're a bit special and we like it that way

The 24-hour love fest that is Random Hall

Finals dinners, parties, Fall trip, Spring Semi-formal

Main Lounge, roofdeck

The movie theater, darkroom, shop, computer room, EE lab, game room, Streetfighter 2 arcade game, pool table, Alice-in-Wonderland-esque floor

A little bit of everything. No water sports.

We have 4 officially-allowed cats. Sometimes other "fuzzy fish" exist.

It gives you cancer.

Single-occupancy, coed

Coke/Diet Coke

We'd like to convert the shafts into ICBM silos.

YOU! Umm, just kidding. Come visit us.

Lisa Simpson

Restaurants around the dorm are cheaper and better-tasting than campus food. We have a supermarket behind us.

Our location doesn't suck. Look at a map. We're closer to campus than other dorms!

"Damn it Feels Good to be a Gangsta" by the Geto Boys

Senior House

Laundry, Kitchens, Weight Room

Punks, Hoes, Midgets, Social Degenerates, and Loud Obnoxious Bitches

Size: Small, Very Small and subatomic. Type: grande, super grande latte, and bitchy

Monkeys fight to the death in gladiatorial combat. Each monkey fights for one person. The order of death is inverted to decide house lottery ranking. As many as we can fit in giant pot of boiling water

President Vest undresses in front of us every night.

The rats, roaches, millipedes, spiders, and vampire penguins.

Within 3 seconds of asking this question in Senior House, you will smell burlap, be burned by ropes, smell and fell oranges.

Interdimensional pockets.

Death squads use it as a base of operations.

There is no "I" in team, but there is an "I" in quit.

They make lovely winter coats.

Burning Good! Smoking Better!

Using hyperbolic topology.

Liquid Helium.

Change the policy on Tech affiliates; all Tech affiliates are to be shot for trespassing, looking, or thinking about Senior House.

You, BITCH!

O.J.

Yaks' blood.

That we tolerate bitches.

"Fuckin' an animal!"

For statistics and square footage, consult the Residence Guide. This year, The Tech sent out a questionnaire to all dormitories. Here are their replies, along with the thoughts of some individual residents. McCormick chose not to respond.

Compiled by Jennifer Krishnan
Photography by Eric J. Cholankeril
Layout by Joel Corbo

With the words, "Let the rush begin," Interfraternity Council Recruitment Chair Joanne Chang '03 opened season for the final rush of its kind. Upperclassmen charged to the front of the court, attempting to drag freshmen away. Within minutes, all the freshmen had been whisked away to fraternities, independent living groups, and dormitories.

STANLEY HU—THE TECH
In a tribute to the late author Douglas Adams (1952-2001), unidentified individuals placed a hack on the dome which pokes fun at the end of rush.

JASON LAPENTA—THE TECH
At Killian Kickoff, Tau Epsilon Phi dancer Victor W. Brar '04 works his hardest to attract like-minded frosh to his fraternity.

ERIC J. CHOLANKERIL—THE TECH
Senior House residents attempt to hunt down freshmen on Killian Court.

ERIC J. CHOLANKERIL—THE TECH
Brothers of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity talk to prospective members during the Kickoff.

STANLEY HU—THE TECH
Wielding a borrowed hammock, Ankur M. Mehta '03 and Uriel P. Klieger '04 net their first catch of rush by entrapping Dean for Student Life Larry G. Benedict.

JASON LAPENTA—THE TECH
A freshmen runs across the facade in an attempt to appear twice in his class picture.

ERIC J. CHOLANKERIL—THE TECH
Shervin Fatehi '04 holds up a sign advertising Random Hall as Riad S. Wahby '02 looks on.

KILLIAN KICKOFF '01

Fun With Clip Art
Aaron Isaksen

"I thought MIT boys would all be boring, ugly nerds... little did I know it was going to be a non-stop booze-bash orgy of sinful, erotic indulgence!"

Want to see the full picture?

Join The Tech Production staff and read Dilbert® and the rest of the paper before your friends do! Stop by Room 483 of the Student Center or call us at 253-1541 and ask for Eric.

Crossword Puzzle Solution, page 12

- ACROSS
- 1 Black goo
  - 4 Author of "The Godfather"
  - 8 TV role for Borgnine
  - 14 Shade
  - 15 ___ Khayyam
  - 16 "The Mouse That ___"
  - 17 Unimaginable
  - 19 Vents ill will
  - 20 Thickset
  - 21 Fishing float
  - 23 Winter runner
  - 24 Claim on income
  - 25 1990-92 French Open champ
  - 27 E.T.s' vehicles
  - 30 Affirmative comment
  - 31 Man raised from the dead
  - 33 Live on
  - 34 Kin of a quilting bee
  - 36 Wet with perspiration
  - 39 $100 bills
  - 40 Endured hard times
  - 44 Go wrong
  - 45 Graphite removers
  - 46 Man of the house
  - 49 Farm laborer
  - 51 Musial and Mikita
  - 52 Quick meal
  - 53 Dawber or Tillis
  - 55 Assistance
  - 56 December VIP
  - 57 Components
  - 60 Spider or tick
  - 62 Noah's peak
  - 63 Hawaiian port
  - 64 Hospital wing
  - 65 Rationally
  - 66 Narrow opening
  - 67 Sea skate
- DOWN
- 1 Like so
  - 2 "___ Mame"
  - 3 Makes over
  - 4 Versifier
  - 5 Actress Thurman
  - 6 River of Victoria Falls
  - 7 Old World bunting
  - 8 "___ Miniver"
  - 9 Fuzz
  - 10 Japanese verse
  - 11 Ancient tool
  - 12 First Shaker
  - 13 McBain and McMahon
  - 18 Operate
  - 22 Ice float
  - 25 Ruth and Diane
  - 26 Helps in time of need
  - 28 Look long and lustily
  - 29 Understands
  - 31 River of Hades
  - 32 Skull cavity
  - 34 Low spot
  - 35 Balderdash
  - 36 Dance move
  - 37 Sported
  - 38 Old World
  - 41 Facts
  - 42 Rider and Bowman
  - 43 Twining growth
  - 46 "___ at the Homesick Restaurant"
  - 47 Head Hun
  - 48 Lethal
  - 50 Mother-of-pearl
  - 52 Scornful exclamation
  - 54 Repast
  - 56 Aberdonian
  - 57 Faux ___
  - 58 Nest-egg $
  - 59 Farm enclosure
  - 61 Mr. Baba

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14			15				16
17			18				19
20					21	22		23
24				25			26		27		28	29
30				31				32		33
			34							35
36	37	38						39
40					41	42	43
44				45						46	47	48
49			50		51					52
			53		54		55			56
57	58				59		60		61
62							63				64
65								66				67

Members Discuss Groups

Convocation, from Page 1

nizations, but some are.”
 “As you can see, it is hard to describe the ILGs together,” Thompson said.
 Despite the differences between the groups, however, Thompson said that each one houses a close-knit community.
 “It [becomes] their home, not just a place to sleep at night,” Thompson said.

ILGs introduce themselves to frosh
 Following these speeches, each independent living group was allowed to give a short presentation. Particularly well-received was Delta Psi: No. 6 Club’s “Top 6 reasons to live at No. 6,” which featured such enticements as a variety of accents and a “Colombian ‘Ricky Martin.’”
 Epsilon Theta’s wombat also made an appearance in the packed 10-250, not to mention a tag-team speech by Fenway House and the Women’s Independent Living Group.

Members of the Women’s Conference introduce their living groups and sororities to potential new members.

STANLEY HU—THE TECH

Fleet Has Student Accounts

Story, from Page 1

waivable monthly fees that can range from about $3 to $10 a month. Again, Fleet’s size allows it to offer a greater variety of options. For example, Fleet offers a checking account designed for students, where monthly fees are waived during the summer if you go home and leave your account inactive.
 Fleet and Cambridge Trust both provide an account where you can use your bank card as a debit card affiliated with Visa or MasterCard. This will allow you to spend money from your account (or that of your parents) at any store that accepts credit cards.
 As for the type of credit cards you get advertisements for in the mail, I’m sure you’ve heard whatever warnings are necessary either from your parents on reruns of Growing Pains, so you’ll have to use your own judgement.
 For details about the different accounts, stop by the banks or visit their web sites, <<http://www.fleet.com>> and <<http://www.cambridgetrust.com>>.

Alex C. H. Mevay '01 and other East Campus residents push a giant gerbil wheel up the steps of 77 Mass Ave.

KAILAS NAREDRAN—THE TECH

ERIC J. CHOLANKERIL—THE TECH

As East Campus residents cheer him on, John M. McBean '01 slides over a line of giant bouncing balls.

Ode to News

So, you like writing late into the night?

So, you prefer making phone calls to doing p-sets, right?

Then come and join the news staff for food and friends and fun,

And let the world know

how MIT is run!

We promise that our prose is better than our poetry.

email <join@the-tech.mit.edu>

Fabian S. Jones '05 reads up on the living groups at MIT before the Kickoff begins.

JASON LAPENTA—THE TECH

Some Frosh Unexcited By Kickoff

Story, from Page 1

join a sorority because the sorority houses are far away.

Leaders speak before rush begins

Following the traditional photograph of the entire freshman class, the kickoff began with several speeches by leaders of organizations that represent MIT's living groups.

Dormitory Council President Matthew S. Cain '02 encouraged students to check out all of the available residence options. "About 700 of you will end up living in dorms. There is about every style of dorm that you could want," he said.

David N. Rogers, an administrative staffer for the Office of Residential Life and Student Life Programs, encouraged students to consider FSILGs. "FSILGs are a great way to find the necessary skills that you won't find in a classroom or a lab... They will give you the life lessons that you need," he said.

Interfraternity Council President Rory P. Pheiffer '02 also encouraged freshmen to consider FSILGs. "I call rush a phenomenon because once you see it, you will truly understand why. MIT Rush is like no other Rush at any other school," he said.

Pheiffer said that freshmen should make sure that they meet the people who they will live with. "[I]t's not the steak and lobster, the paintballing, the cruises, the parties, or the car bashes that make FSILGs the premier living option here at MIT. It's the people," he said.

IFC Recruitment Chair Joanne Chang '03 echoed this sentiment. "The most striking memories that you will be left with are the people; thus rush is about the people," she said.

And with that, Chang began rush for the final time at 12:44 p.m. Members from all of MIT's FSILGs and many dorms rushed onto Killian, inviting freshmen back to their residences.

Ina Mitskavies, a junior at Mount Holyoke College, served as a rush helper for Theta Delta Chi fraternity. Mitskavies said that she was impressed by the event.

"I really think it's great," she said. "People were telling me different things. Some people were telling me it's the greatest thing there is, and some people didn't like it."

Frosh numbers disappoint frats

Several fraternities were disappointed by the number of freshmen who turned up at Killian yesterday. "There are not many people. There were more in previous years," said Baris Yuksel '02, a member of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity.

Sebastian Ortiz '04, a member of Student House, also complained about the low turnout. "I think there was an eight-to-one ratio of IFC and dorm people to freshmen," he said. "Everyone here was a rush girl or a fraternity guy. There were virtually no frosh here at all."

Josh S. Peters '03, a brother of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, said that freshmen disappeared more quickly than in previous years. "It seemed to go faster than normal. The first wave hit and ate through the freshmen quickly," he said.

Ortiz attributes the low freshman turnout to a lack of interest in rush. "It seems overall like an apathetic year," he said.

Baker residents lay in front of the East Campus Winnebago, blocking its progress.

KAILAS NARENDRA—THE TECH

Crossword Solution

T	A	R	P	U	Z	O	M	C	H	A	L	E
H	U	E	O	M	A	R	R	O	A	R	E	D
U	N	D	R	E	A	M	T	S	P	I	T	E
S	T	O	U	T	B	O	B	S	K	I
L	I	E	N	S	E	L	S	U	F	O	S
Y	E	S	L	A	Z	A	R	U	S	A	G	E
S	E	W	I	N	G	C	I	R	C	L	E
S	W	E	A	T		G	N	O	T	E	S
T	O	U	G	H	E	D	I	T	O	U	T
E	R	R	E	R	A	S	E	R	S	D	A	D
P	E	O	N	S	T	A	N	S	B	I	T	E
P	A	M	A	I	D	S	A	N	T	A
P	I	E	C	E	S	A	R	A	C	H	N	I
A	R	A	R	A	T	H	I	L	O	E	L	L
S	A	N	E	L		S	L	I	T		R	A

from page 10

Daily Confusion, from Page 16

construire des cerf-volants et des fusees avec LMF (rendezvous au 4eme etage New House 6).

1:00 p.m. – French House – Are your afternoon plans up in the air? So are ours! Come build kites and rockets with French house! (Meet 5th floor New House 6)

1:00 p.m. – Student House – The theme for this meal will be mmmm...mediterranean food. Yeah that sounds good. Falafel, Cous Cous and the rest. (V)

1:00 p.m. – Phi Kappa Sigma – Paintball!!! Need I say any more. You and Brothers of Skullhouse will be playing this intense game on a private state-of-the-art paintball facility with the latest in paintballing technology. Fun guaranteed!

1:00 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Come build model rockets for our big launch tomorrow. See if you're cut out for Course XVI.

1:00 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Missed the cruise? That's alright baby. Phi Sig still luvvs you. Stop by and check out some of the local spots to eat - its on us.

1:00 p.m. – Kappa Sigma – Barbecue Lunch at House

1:05 p.m. – WILG – Come to the Boston Museum of Science. It could be the last time you have fun with science.

1:07 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Epsilon Theta Poetry : Part II Which do I prefer?/Chocolatiers or bookstores?/Ooh, dried fruit and Twain. Sample some of the best chocolate in Boston and enjoy some of the better bookstores. Call x3-8888 to get a ride and go on our chocolate tour.

1:11 p.m. – pika – traditionally scholars place 'tie-dye' firmly in the pop-driven early post-modernist gestalt. upending that interpretation, riddled as it is with an echo of depth, nicole continues our 'future of fashion' onslaught with not 'tie-dye' but tie die or die die die!!!!

1:15 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Do you know what T tokens, knives, bandannas, and squeegees have in common? Neither do I! Come to the Museum of Fine Arts! (bring your ID). Call x3-8888 for a ride. (We're a co-ed house.)

1:17 p.m. – Random Hall – Ask Sherv! Name: Shervin Fatehi Age:19 Height:5'7.5" Weight:115 lbs. Eyes:brown Hair:blue Body fat:Tessure:118/60 Pulse:60 Glasses:yes Contacts:no Major:chemistry Single:yes Latex:shirt Don't ask some innocuous dork about Random. Ask a man dressed all sexy.

1:22 p.m. – Top Force 22 – So there was this guy named Thoreau, and he wrote a book, and the book said that nature is good, and he wrote it at Walden, so that's why people go there. We're going too! Call 617-262-5090 to commune with Nature.

1:23 p.m. – pika – Future of Fashion Step 2: Music. Shakespeare once wrote "If music be the fruit of fashion, play on." come with us to MoJo's for The Music Of The Fashion Of The Future. pika, 617-492-6983

1:28 p.m. – Fenway House – Really Lame? Just got up? Come on over and tie-dye something with us! Call 437-1043 for a ride.

1:29 p.m. – Phi Kappa Theta – Come enjoy some of the best Chinese food in Boston, brought over from Chinatown. A wide variety to suit various tastes.

1:30 p.m. – Zeta Psi – Canoeing - Sunday Afternoon Canoeing on the Charles. We'll bring some food and stop for lunch and some soccer or ultimate frisbee. Get Psyched. 617-661-4111 x401.

1:30 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Our Canoe Trip is not to be missed. Call 617-576-2792 for a ride.

1:30 p.m. – Phi Beta Epsilon – Ice Cream Sundaes - Ice cream sundaes. 'nuff said.

1:32 p.m. – Student House – Lunch Mediterranean Style. As always, vegan friendly.

1:36 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Henna tattooing, tie-dyeing, hair-dyeing and more at EC. Come join in the festivities.

1:56 p.m. – EAsT campUS – We've got a big 30' parachute to bring back kindergarten memories. Hang out and play with all our toys.

2 p.m. – Bexxley Hall – Free Rush Violations! (Bring latex gloves)

2:00 p.m. – Sigma Phi Epsilon – George's Island Cruise. Come Spend the afternoon Boston Harbor. We'll toss a frisbee, play some soccer, look at an old fort, grill some food...Here is a chance to take a break from the craziness of rush and just...chill. Call for a ride 617-536-1300.

2:00 p.m. – Theta Xi – PAINTBALL PAINTBALL PAINTBALL! Get your adrenaline pumping and sharpen your stealth skills as we go to Randolph's Paintball for an afternoon of intense action.

2:00 p.m. – Phi Kappa Sigma – Come see the Blue Man Group with the Brothers of Skullhouse. Very weird, lots of fun!

2:00 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Sure, you've played hearts. You've played spades. Maybe you've even played bridge. But I bet you've never been Nibbled to Death By Ducks before! Call x3-8888 and get a ride over. Board games, cards, and silliness.

2:00 p.m. – Baker House – Meet in the Baker lobby for Ultimate Frisbee! Play the world's greatest sport! All levels of experience are welcome.

2:00 p.m. – New House – Never had SUSHI before? Never made it yourself? Well, here's your perfect chance! We have all the ingredients you need (don't worry, no raw fish, just yummy california rolls) to make the best-testing SUSHI on the east coast!

2:00 p.m. – Next House – Nextual BBQ: music, food, volleyball, and anything else you can do in a courtyard...rice crispy treats, brownies, fries, burgers, and weiners!

2:00 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Don't miss the opportunity to challenge the mighty Ipswich River in our 17' canoes. Call us for a ride at 617-576-2792

2:02 p.m. – WILG – Join WILG's expert pinata makers in completing this year's creation.

2:02 p.m. – pika – die jobs, and we don't mean german. hair cutting and dying on the porch. pika, 617-492-6983, "yeah ma, I love mit, oh I got a mohawk. and it's pink."

2:04 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Tired of 2-liters? Come to East Campus and enjoy an ice-cold fountain Coke.

2:11 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Listen to some retro 80's tunes or play Nintendo on the giant screen. Aww shucks, y'all were born too late for the 80's weren't you?

2:17 p.m. – Random Hall – 6.270 on Methamphetamine! We have our own Lego robotics laboratory. Come join a team to design an autonomous robot and compete in a mini-contest. Are you a builder? Coder? Neither? Come have fun anyway. Maybe you'll win the day!

2:29 p.m. – Theta Xi – The Paintball trip is about to leave! Call us to be picked up for an action packed afternoon.

2:30 p.m. – Next House – Come play with our balls! We've got all shapes and sizes, so join us for some hot games of volleyball, dodgeball, whiffleball and whatever else comes to mind!

2:30 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – We'll be back from the cruise soon. Prepare yourself for dinner!

2:45 p.m. – EAsT campUS – We've constructed a ridiculous collection of human sized tunnels to crawl around in—you too can pretend to be a hamster!

2:47 p.m. – French House – Puzzles & Cookies at French House! Come hang out with us, New House 6, 5th floor.

2:47 p.m. – Random Hall – The Family Guy Marathon! We've got buttocks of old and new episodes, many more than we could possibly show. Come pick the ones you want to see. Click, click, bloody click Random Hall!

2:59 p.m. – WILG – Boston's fountains are some of the finest examples of art and architecture in the country...join your WILG tour guides for this very untraditional romp THROUGH the fountains of Boston.

2:59 p.m. – Phi Kappa Theta – Basketball. Meet over at PKT and we'll go to the gym and shoot some hoops.

3 p.m. – MacGregor House – Still want that giant flaming eagle on your chest or a small ring of flowers around your belly button? We've got tons of temporary tattoos still down here at M450.

3:00 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Overheated from rush? Stop by EC for some popsicles to cool off. Mmmm.

3:00 p.m. – ZBT – DRIVING RANGE/MINI GOLF. Whack some balls at ZBT. Whether you are Tiger Woods or just want to putt around, come enjoy the afternoon. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE NON-PLEDGING FRATERNITY

3:00 p.m. – Zeta Psi – Cook Out! Barbecue! Sunshine! Swimming! Food! Ladies! Fun! Barbecue at Mystic Valley Lake! Bring a swimsuit. Call for ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

3:00 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Notice as the ominous sounds of spaceage bachelorpad music morph the deck into a couch potato's paradise. Come chill with ICE CREAM sundaes.

3:00 p.m. – Phi Beta Epsilon – Bowling - Knock over pins and shiznit.

3:00 p.m. – Next House – Stop by the BBQ! We'll give you meat the way you like it!

3:00 p.m. – New House – Tired of eating yet? Ready for some action? Join us for OUTDOOR SPORTS! We have everything you could possibly want: volleyball, dodgeball, kickball, and frisbee! Meet other freshmen and show off your playin' skills.

3:00 p.m. – Phi Delta Theta – Come play basketball, volleyball, ultimate and whiffle ball.

3:00 p.m. – New House – Ever have SUSHI? Ever want to try some? Come on, be adventurous and join us in making some california rolls! We'll be here eatin' until 4pm!

3:11 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Yes, Dave, eating the pieces does count as cheating. No, Dave, you can't use the chainsaw either. We'll finish this jigsaw eventually! We might need a hammer, though. Call x3-8888 for a ride. Our house is co-ed.

3:17 p.m. – Random Hall – We've got 200 liters of pure 77K liquid nitrogen. Stay cool in this heat. Come feast on our fresh home-made nitrogen ICE CREAM. At Random we bring Kelvin to new lows!

3:22 p.m. – Top Force 22 – Cafe Liberty once provided a haven for the counterculture elements in our society. Help us bring the Cafe Culture to Boston. We've got the swingin' blues and coffee any way you like it. Triple espresso with a dab of cinnamon please. 617-262-5090.

3:30 p.m. – Kappa Sigma – F1 Go Kart Racing

3:30 p.m. – pika – sail w/ chris and corrina in the muddy charles. long hair on the sides please. pika, 617-492-6983, blowing in the breeze.

3:30 p.m. – ZBT – ADVENTUROUS, try ROCK CLIMBING with ZBT. Challenge your skills, no experience needed and easy training on site. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE POWERHOUSE OF EXCELLENCE

3:30 p.m. – Next House – Come play with our balls! 24-hour foosball, ping-pong and pool ALL RUSH LONG.

3:37 p.m. – Russian House – Ever wonder how Borscht is made? Join us for an exquisite lesson in traditional Russian cooking

3:37 p.m. – Fenway House – Games! and Toys! Play Twister, Illuminati, Scrabble, or just mess around in our Boy Tox. Call 437-1043 for a ride.

3:41 p.m. – pika – The Future of Fashion For Real. time to get busy fashioning punk and glam fashion. safety pins and glitter provided. pika, 617-492-6983.

3:47 p.m. – Random Hall – You think your little puny Jenga game was fun? Then check out our hardcore super-sized 2x4 Jenga. Here at Random, we take Jenga to the extreme. You'd better hope you don't knock it down.

3:49 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Ok. It's that time again. Time to once again play Cthulhu, the Mercifully Uncollectible Card Game (TM). Call x3-8888 for a ride and turn your sanity into knowledge...before it's too late.

4 p.m. – Next House – Stop by Next for the Ultimate Challenge-a Nextually exhilarating game of Ultimate Frisbee on Briggs Field. Going on til 6, so join us whenever you feel the urge, and grab some burgers, fries and smoothies while you're at it!

4:00 p.m. – French House – Saviez-vous que les francais etaient les troisiemes dans l'espace? Cette fois, les americains et les russes ne sont guere de competition. Venez voir notre lancement des fusees au Brigg's Field, ou on va rendre Napoleon fier.

4:00 p.m. – French House – Rocket Launch - Did you know the French were third in space? Well, this year the Americans and Russians have nothing on us. Come see the rocket launch on Briggs field, where we'll make Napoleon proud!

4:00 p.m. – New House – SUSHI not for you? Well, it's probably gone by now anyway. But come chill with us anyway and we'll give you a tour!

4:00 p.m. – New House – On a diet? Or just need some exercise? Well then join Bailey's. Oh, you don't have any money? Yeah, I hear that. Well, you might as well come over to New House for some outdoor sports in our beautiful courtyard overlooking the river. You can eat too, of course.

4:01 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Today in Rush History, 79 AD — Mt. Vesuvius erupts, devastating all of Pompeii. East Campus residents investigated by Campus Police in the explosion.

4:04 p.m. – WILG – Your body is a temple. Decorate yourself! Test your tattoo artistry talents with an afternoon of henna at WILG.

4:06 p.m. – Senior House – These rockets are the only weapons phallic enough to defeat both the fearsome Horsendroids and Dave Morales. Long-sleeved shirt recommended.

4:06 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Try some fresh Indian samosas and learn mehndi. Roll some sushi and have your fortune told. Sample some Korean bulgoki or some Texas chili. In each room at No.6, you'll find a taste of one of our homes. You are invited to experience our world.

4:09 p.m. – Senior House – Well you can't be Morgoth than Kevin Pipe. Basketball in the courtyard with Kevin and the Senior Haus "Death Sport" crew. Senior Haus bucks if you end up in the med center.

4:17 p.m. – Random Hall – It's D&D all Rush long, courtesy of our very own Black Hole floor. Come play! Carpe DM.

4:20 p.m. – Next House – Hi. Need some Nextual stimulation? Stop by now or anytime for a special guided tour of our dorm!

4:20 p.m. – pika – it's such a perfect day. I'm glad I spent it with you. velevet underground tribute moment. 492-6983, linger on.

4:20 p.m. – MacGregor House – We've got funions. Enough said. M450 4:22 p.m. – Top Force 22 – If you like hearing, "Welcome to the World of Toys" over and over until your spleen ruptures, call us. See the toys that cost more than your average motorcycle! 617-262-5090

4:30 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Stop eating entirely in preparations for the STEAK AND LOBSTER DINNER

4:31 p.m. – EAsT campUS – It's the next big step in the evolution of the ice cream truck. Find the East Campus commemorative motorhome somewhere on campus, and stop inside for the frozen treat of your choice!

4:33 p.m. – WILG – Ever seen a cubic feet of cheese or a 10 lb. box of chocolate chips? Call now and you can see these and the many other wonders of WILG on a house tour. (617) 253-6799

4:36 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Come let Fahad cook you up some Korean bulgoki (he only pretends to be Pakistani), let Tomo roll you a fresh maki with the ingredients of your choice, have your hands mehndized by Geeta, or try some Texas chili (Clay's been seasoning it with shaved Martin - so haul!).

5 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Boston's best Karting location - join us for a 40mph racing series on a bi-level track. Ride there in style while you munch on a 5ft Italian sub in the back of our 30' Winnabago.

5:00 p.m. – Pi Lambda Phi – Asparagus, Chair, Vagina. If you can't think of something funny about these three things, the cast at the Improv Asylum will. Come with us to the North End to see them. 617.267.4935

5:00 p.m. – Baker House – Live music on the Baker roofdeck. Come join us for smoothies and free food.

5:00 p.m. – New House – Come take advantage of this beautiful weather before it disappears (probably next week). We're still out here playing sports until 6pm. Find us in our courtyard or in the athletic field across from New House.

5:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – Just got back from paintball? Come on over and get cleaned up, because dinner is served promptly at 6. Nothing works up a hearty appetite like paintball. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu.

5:00 p.m. – Next House – Stop by Briggs Field and join in the Ultimate game! Play hard and work up an appetite! For Chinese food!

5:00 p.m. – Theta Xi – You've not had pasta before until you've tried Patrick's Pasta. This CIA trained cook shall impress your palate in ways you not thought possible. (CIA being the Culinary Institute of America, of course.)

5:05 p.m. – Senior House – cooking FOOD, tasty food. at senior haus, because we have kitchens. southern food, hungarian food, vegetarian food, things with garlic, things with sugah, whatever we feel like making. like martha stewart but without the bunny rabbits stencilled on the vegetables.

5:05 p.m. – EAsT campUS – Tours is a place in France. It's also what you should be getting at East Campus. Get over here to see what the East Side is really like.

5:06 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Chin Yee thinks he can cook. You be the judge. If you don't like his Chinese food, you can always grab some of Carlos' Mexican fajitas or a fresh Indian samosa. Not hungry? Ask Paul how he feels about Ayn Rand over a cup of coffee (only if you have a few hours to spare).

5:10 p.m. – WILG – Call us now for a ride! (617) 253-6799. You can get here in plenty of time to take a house tour and join in our luau.

5:11 p.m. – pika – ratty-tat-tat. tattoo time. hearts, snakes, mom, fluffy bunnies, whatever you fancy affixed to your skin. (relatively) pain free. pika, 617-492-6983, impermanent forever.

5:16 p.m. – Theta Xi – After sixteen minutes of straight eating and there's still as much pasta as ever. Give us a call and we'll arrange for pickup.

5:17 p.m. – Random Hall – Come show off your nerd skillz at our NERD PAGEANT! Watch Roger reduce a rubics cube to child's play. If you're really nerdy, you could win a Random Hall T-Shirt!

5:22 p.m. – Top Force 22 – Have an Indian/Thai Dinner at Tep! Call 617-262-5090 and we'll release one of our wacky drivers to come get you, complete with chopsticks and samosas.

5:30 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Boston's best Karting location - join us for a 40mph racing series on a bi-level track. Cruise there in style while you munch on a 5ft Italian sub in the back of our 30' Winnabago.

5:30 p.m. – Phi Beta Epsilon – Blue Man Group - Join us as we head over to the Theater District to watch three bald blue guys put on an amazing show.

5:31 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – We're about three-quarters of the way to Thanksgiving! This must be celebrated! Come enjoy a traditional Thanksgiving dinner, with many vegetarian items, too. Call x3-8888 for a ride to our co-ed house.

5:34 p.m. – Senior House – Just remember kids, Bexley loves you. It died for your sins.

5:42 p.m. – Fenway House – Iron Chef Fenway. Competitive cooking in our world-class kitchen. Come sit on our celebrity panel of food judges. Whose cuisine reigns supreme? Find out when you call 437-1043.

5:47 p.m. – Senior House – Senior Haus Courtyard-Jesus tells you exactly which of your sins he died for.

5:55 p.m. – WILG – Stop by WILG for a luau style dinner with ADP prepared by our hawaiian natives!

5:59 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Thanksgiving isn't for a couple months, but that doesn't mean you can't have a thanksgiving dinner with us tonight! Come on over. There are plenty of things for the vegetarians to eat, too. Call x3-8888 for a ride.

6 p.m. – Bexxley Hall – Hoo boy! Look at us! We have steak. And lobster! OURS is the original lobster dinner! We live the High Life, m'boy. For 2 days. No way are we losers.

6:00 p.m. – Beta – holy beef. lobsters got you down? thank god for beef, ribs and cornbread; makes you wonder if you were born in the wrong part of the country, y'all. and for the veggies, we got your grub right here too. i said, checkitout.

6:00 p.m. – Theta Chi – Hungry for Italian food? Join our brothers for a feast at Vinny Testa's. Call 888-692-8648 for a ride.

6:00 p.m. – Chi Phi – Board the 125 feet Liberty Clipper with us for a relaxing tour of the Boston's neighboring islands. Meet the brothers of Chi Phi admist good food and good company (over 100 expected). With the Boston skyline setting the scene, we promise you an unforgettable experience.

6:00 p.m. – Next House – Yeah we're hot and spicy-just like our exotic Asian cuisine! Join us for a sizzling dinner complete with stir-fry, rice, chicken and noodles.

6:00 p.m. – Theta Xi – The biggest RUSH event of the year, our BOSTON HARBOR BOAT CRUISE. Come gaze at the beautiful boston skyline at night while enjoying the cool harbor breeze.

6:00 p.m. – Alpha Epsilon Pi – Chez Fred's Annual Famous Steak and Salmon Fiesta. "A Rush can't miss!" says the Boston Globe.

6:00 p.m. – Gamma Alpha Gamma – Spend a night on the town — Las Vegas, that is! Take a ride in our private jet for a fabulous evening of gambling, show-girls, and drunken debauchery.

6:00 p.m. – French House – Picnic Dinner - What could be more lovely than a Picnic on the banks of the Seine? I don't know, but since we can't go there today we'll settle for the Charles River. Meet at the student center steps, and we'll head to the esplanade for sandwiches and pasta salad.

6:00 p.m. – French House – Pique-nique: Quoi de meilleur qu'un pique-nique au bord de la Seine? On ne sait pas, mais puisque nous ne pouvons pas y aller, aujourd'hui le Charles va nous suffir. Rendezvous a l'escalier du Student Center, puis on ira au Esplanade pour des sandwiches, du pasta salad, etc.

6:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – Dinner is served promptly at 6, and again at 7. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu or to make dinner reservations (not required but recommended). 6:00 p.m. – Alpha Tau Omega – Meet some of the very successful alumni of ATO and enjoy dinner with them in Harvard Square.

Daily Confusion, from Page 15

6:00 p.m. – Phi Delta Theta – A classy feast of mouth-watering steak and the best lobster Boston has to offer. Fine dining at its best!

6:00 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Start tasting the town tonight - we're going out to dinner. Come by the house and we'll take you somewhere good... Whether its Italian in the North End, crepes in the South End, or somewhere in between.

6:00 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Everything you've heard is true about our Luau. Lots of food. Lots of people, including the women who live next door at WILG. Call us for a ride. 617-576-2792

6:15 p.m. – Theta Xi – Last call for the Boat Cruise! Don't miss out on the most scenic event of RUSH!

6:17 p.m. – Random Hall – Make your own Pizza! We've got all the ingredients: chocolate chips, pineapple, blueberries. There's some cheese and sausage and stuff, too, but that's boring.

6:17 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – It's not too late for Thanksgiving dinner! There's still plenty left! Call x3-8888 for a ride and we'll have plenty of food to fortify you for the bad puns ahead.

6:22 p.m. – Tep Force 22 – Oh my goodness! Only one hour to go before the renowned Crock Opera! Are you excited? I know I am. Come to Tep and live the legend. You can call our Arse Retrieval Squad at 617-262-5090.

6:30 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – "Welcome to New Hampshire?" Maybe you should check those directions again... The world-famous Epsilon Theta Road Rallye leaves in just half an hour! Call x3-8888 for a ride! We're a co-ed house.

6:30 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – SURF 'N' TURF DINNER --> All the [quality] steak and lobster you can eat (none of that cheap stuff)! What could be better?!

6:30 p.m. – Student House – You're reading up for term beforehand? That's pathetic! Get in the game. Italian feast at STUDENT HOUSE.

6:30 p.m. – MacGregor House – Hawaii: Grass skirts, coconuts, and pineapple - you'll find all this and more at our BBQ. We've got a juicy pineapple burger with your name on it, so come and eat with the hula dancers at M450.

6:30 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Delicious food. Authentic recipes. Home-made island goodness. Come meet the big kahunas at Alpha Delta Phi. Call us for a ride: 617-576-2792

6:35 p.m. – MacGregor House – M450 is gearing up for the BIG KAHUNA LUAU at 7:30 - so come grab some of our BBQ fare, chill in the courtyard, bounce in the moonbounce, and stick around to see if you've got what it takes to become a BIG KAHUNA.

6:41 p.m. – pika – eat dinner. then you will be very fashionable, the alternative is to be hungry and not cool. pika, 617-492-6983, peer pressure at meals.

6:43 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – Confusing directions! Bad puns! Andy's extensive Abba collection in the tape player! Well, two out of three isn't bad. Call x3-8888 for a ride to Ye Olde Roade Rallye, a scavenger hunt through Boston replete with bad puns.

6:45 p.m. – Phi Kappa Theta – ITALIAN FOOD. Sample a variety of the best dishes from Boston's favorite Italian eatery, Vinny Testa's. Spaghetti, Lasagna, and everything in between.

6:55 p.m. – WILG – There's still plenty of authentic Hawaiian cuisine. Call us now and come over for some food and our big pinata bash! (617) 253-6799

6:56 p.m. – Senior House – eat the FOOD. homecooked by talented and beautiful senior haus denizens for your hungry belly. get your free food while you can.

6:59 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – "It's 106 miles to Boston, we have a full tank of gas, half a packet of m&ms, it's dark and we're wearing sunglasses... HIT IT!" Call x3-8888 soon to go on Road Rally. Just watch out for the Evil Bridge (TM).

7 p.m. – Phi Kappa Theta – GO-KART RACING!! PKT is taking a jaunt to the Seekonk Grand Prix raceway, where you can race veteran Boston drivers on a fast course. Also has a slippery course and an arcade. Hurry and get over to PKT right now!
7:00 p.m. – ZBT – PIZZA, PASTA, HOT

LASAGNA! Come on over for our gigantic Italian buffet, and hang around after dinner for LASER TAG AND BILLIARDS. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE POWERHOUSE OF EXCELLENCE

7:00 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – get over to Phi Sig and get psyched for ICE SKATING and HOCKEY as we rent out the BU Ice Rink for the night.....GET YOUR STEAK AND LOBSTER STILL!!!

7:00 p.m. – Zeta Psi – Fire & Ice Best Mongolian Barbecue in town. Take a trip with the brothers to Harvard Square for some great food! Call for a ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

7:00 p.m. – Zeta Psi – Casa de Mexico One of the best Mexican Restaurants in town. Tiny place in a little known of Harvard Sq. If you like Mexican, this place is the best. Call for ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

7:00 p.m. – Sigma Chi – Join us for a formal dinner prepared by our gourmet chef.

7:00 p.m. – Next House – Mmm Chinese for dinner! It tastes like chicken, and it probably is!

7:00 p.m. – Alpha Epsilon Pi – Our Annual Boston Harbor Cruise: You, onboard a gorgeous yacht, scoping the Harbor, talking to two hotties you met at lunchtime, bouncing to tunes by our resident DJ, Funkmaster Chief. World-famous Mike's Pastries, too, as if you weren't going already.

7:00 p.m. – Student House – We can't promise you kisses from pretty italian girls but we can give you the food they eat. Wanna come but are lost or lazy? We'll pick you up. Oh yeah, vegan options.

7:00 p.m. – Sigma Phi Epsilon – Tired of Lobster, try Crab. It's the original SigEp Surf and Turf - authentic New England cooking, prepared by our own Townie! Don't miss out 'cause you only get one chance to eat this well - unless you're a SigEp.

7:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – Get here by 7 to ensure that you're done with dinner in time to head to Good Times at 8. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu.

7:01 p.m. – Fenway House – If memory serves me, Fenway House is the site of MIT's fiercest cooking battle. Will Iron Chef Andy recover from his injuries and emerge victorious? Or will a new challenger rise to the occasion and take the title? Sit on our panel of judges and help us decide. 617-437-1043.

7:09 p.m. – Phi Kappa Theta – GO-KART RACING!! There is still time! Hurry over to PKT right now. Call us for a ride 437-7795. Don't miss out!

7:17 p.m. – Random Hall – Pool Tournament! Think you can beat us at pool? You're probably right. Show off your English on our sleek pool table. Win a T-shirt! 8-ball or 9-ball? Come help us decide.

7:22 p.m. – Tep Force 22 – You'll laugh, you'll cry, you'll throw rotten vegetables at the actors (vegetables provided). It's Tep's 22nd Annual Crock Opera! Critically Acclaimed! "I couldn't believe it!" exclaims Ripley. "This isn't art... it's a crock!" proclaims the New York Times. Ref: 617-262-5090

7:30 p.m. – MacGregor House – M450: Throwing the biggest luau this side of Hawaii. We've got limbo, hula, grass skirts, sno cones, FOOD, games, contests and tons of huge prizes! Just show up and get raffle tickets for some of our many prizes. M450's own DJ will be spinning the hawaii tunes all night.

7:30 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Grass skirts. Hula. Add the men of Alpha Delta Phi and the women of WILG and you've got a phat party.

7:30 p.m. – La Casa (Spanish House) – This is your first chance to come by and get all the details about living in the house and everything else you might want to know. Salsa and dessert bar will be provided. Don't forget you must attend one of the three meetings.

7:36 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – For dinner, we have fantastic food from the six corners of the world.

7:37 p.m. – Russian House – The famous Russian House Dinner offers you a fine delicate selection of Russian and international foods. Also, enjoy the company of our veterans (called the dynos) as well as the rookies! Lots of fun guaranteed!!!

7:40 p.m. – MacGregor House – It's not a luau until EVERYBODY GETS LEI'D down at M450!!!!

7:45 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Skating and Hockey at the BU Ice Rink --> learn how to skate or show off your stick handling; we've got the whole rink!

7:45 p.m. – Kappa Sigma – Dinner on Roof with Band

7:46 p.m. – Senior House – Smoke it up Bitches!!! Free Cigarettes in Senior Haus Courtyard!!!!

7:55 p.m. – Gardman House – Sick of BBQ after BBQ? Come enjoy a home cooked meal with us German House is really diverse and our dinners reflect our multi-cultural personality. Veggie options always present :)

8 p.m. – MacGregor House – Come on dude - shouldn't you be down at M450's BIG KAHUNA LUAU? Don't you wanna be a BIG KAHUNA? Don't you wanna know how to become a BIG KAHUNA? Hey, if not for the BIG KAHUNA props we've at least got lots of opportunities to win t-shirts and other cool stuff.

8:00 p.m. – EAsT camPUS – Stop by EC to experience the Roaring Twenties. Live jazz, scrumptious homebaked desserts and a cool atmosphere. Formal attire encouraged.

8:00 p.m. – Burton-Conner House – It's not over yet, stay for a while and sample our extensive video and DVD collection by watching some of the hottest films just released all night long.

8:00 p.m. – French House – Comedie francaise - apprenez a rire en francais! HON HON HON! Ce soir a l'ecran: Les Visiteurs et des autres. Mangez des desserts et du popcorn! 5th floor, House 6, New House.

8:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – We're going to Good Times to play lasertag. All are welcome, even you fresh-women that other houses turned away from their jaunts. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu.

8:00 p.m. – Next House – Good with your fingers?? Prove it! Playstation on the big screen!

8:00 p.m. – La Casa (Spanish House) – Games, games, and more games!!! We'll be playing dominos, poker, blackjack, Mexican Loteria, and Balderdash tournaments all night while we listen to some Latin tunes. Don't worry about the food; we'll be having nachos and other snacks to ease your palate.

8:00 p.m. – French House – French comedy - learn to laugh in French! HON HON HON! Tonight's feature: Les Visiteurs and others. Desserts and popcorn available! 5th floor House 6, New House.

8:03 p.m. – WILG – Have you ever seen a gecko bigger than you? Have you ever beat a gecko bigger than you with a wiffle bat? Our hawaiian festivities are continuing with our tropical pinata bash. Come by WILG to take a swing at our giant gecko pinata.

8:06 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Msa'ah, Saag Paneer, Hummus, Enchiladas, Suki-Yaki, Chipotles, Samosas, Baklava, Risotto, Cous-Cous, Feta, Bratwurst, Confit, and Apple Pie. And that's just the half of it! Come eat with us. No utensils required (see Premraj for a demo).

8:15 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Learn how to skate or impress your classmates on the ice... either way, the pictures will live on for years

8:17 p.m. – Random Hall – It's Open Mic Night! Come be poetic and stuff. bring your favorite poem, story, song or performance piece and express yourself. Or just come along and watch us make fools of ourselves. Dramatic readings of just about anything are encouraged. Yes, anything.

8:26 p.m. – Senior House – Cory explains the Mysteries of Hoy, and that fucking scar on his forehead.

8:30 p.m. – Student House – Kegging is the antiquated practice from the turn of the century of hurling midgets at beer kegs. Live kegging's legacy with us as we go bowling in our hood. Posse-ly around 8:30.

8:30 p.m. – Theta Chi – Theta Chi President Greg Mahowald will light you up like a Christmas tree at Boston Billiards. Join us for great food and pool. Call 888-692-8648 for a ride.

8:30 p.m. – Phi Beta Epsilon – Late Nite BBQ - Good food, music and a terrific view await you at our late nite BBQ.

8:30 p.m. – ZBT – SHOOT YOUR FRIENDS when ZBT takes you out for ARENA LASER TAG. Blow of some steam with billiards, video games and batting cages. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE NON-PLEDGING FRATERNITY

8:36 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Crepe's made to order and ohhh so good. Jon and Delphine spent 4 years at the Culinary Academy of Paris learning how to make the perfect skinny pancake, and they'll be making them all night.

8:45 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Join the hockey game @ the BU Ice Rink (we'll drive you there)

8:58 p.m. – WILG – Looking for a calm alternative? Hang out at WILG for an evening of cookies, cocoa, and fun board games.

8:59 p.m. – Student House – Sprint over to Studhouse. We'll go bowling in one minute. Learn what Kenmore is all about.

9 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – PARTY! PARTY! PARTY! Dance the night away. Call 617-576-2792 and we'll come pick you up.

9:00 p.m. – Sigma Phi Epsilon – The cards might be flyin' your way at Mr. Evil's Casino and Cabaret Party, but beware of the seductive henchwomen as they press you for money! You'll want every last penny to buy the GRAND PRIZE* [which is not publishable here]

9:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – You're running late, but don't worry. We're sending a late car over to Good Times so you can still get in on the lasertag. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu.

9:00 p.m. – New House – Sit back, relax, and join us in our weekly Sunday night tradition: THE SIMPSON'S MARATHON! Watch as many episodes as you can handle (we have all the important ones) and try not to get sick from all the candy we have waiting for you...mmm, chocolate...

9:00 p.m. – Sigma Chi – Come relax in our library and listen to our hilarious comedian make fun of everyone in the audience.

9:00 p.m. – MacGregor House – This is your CALL TO LUAU down at M450! The party is still raging and we've still got tons of free stuff to give away. Come for the pineapple, the grass skirts, the moonbounce, or come just to become a BIG KAHUNA ! ! ! ! !

9:00 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Join the OUTDOOR LOUNGE SCENE on the second roof deck. Musically inclined brothers and members of Ten Degree Chill will be jazzing it up with groove tunes, standards and more. Feel free to bring your axe/horn/vocal chords, or just chill and sip refreshing drinks.

9:06 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – You thought our food was good?!?!? Wait till you see our party!

9:09 p.m. – pika – eat fire. rosa the intrepid and francisco the easily persuaded demonstrate a timeless art. and burn stuff. pika, 617-492-6983, blaze of genius.

9:13 p.m. – Fenway House – Like Video games? Strange games? Silly Japanese games with funky peripherals? We might not have that one Japanese spanking game, but we have Dance Dance Revolution and Samba de Amigo, among others. Come and play, or watch us look silly. Call 437-1043 for a ride.

9:17 p.m. – Random Hall – Hey, we're still artsy goddammit. Why aren't you at our Open Mic Night? Come quickly! There's still time our hovercraft is still full of eels.

9:17 p.m. – Random Hall – The Muppet Movie and some random short stuff. Our pal Charles is Doc Hopper in this, one of the best movies of all time. Kermit and Fozzie explore America. Hilarity ensues. As we all know, the Muppets were never really for kids...come and remember.

9:22 p.m. – Tep Force 22 – Come on over and consume metric butts of ice cream in the company of more BMW's than anywhere else in Boston. Call 617-262-5090 for some J.P.Lickin'!

9:30 p.m. – Zeta Psi – SWING DANCE Know how to swing? Want to learn? Lesson at 9:30. Dancing all night! 617-661-4111 x401

9:30 p.m. – ZBT – BUMMER. You missed GOOD TIMES. Wrong! You can still come and enjoy a night of billiards, laser tag and more! Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE POWERHOUSE OF EXCELLENCE

9:31 p.m. – Senior House – Wanna watch a movie? Come to room 224 to watch a movie with some haus residents. The Crow, Braveheart, or Fight Club. Take your pick.

9:36 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – The crepes are still being made, and there might even be some Nutella left. You'll have to shout your orders to Jon and Delphine if you want to be heard over the party in the next room!

9:37 p.m. – Russian House – Get ready for some major blood! As the night tears apart the last rays of sunlight, the Russian house lounge becomes an arena for the most horrifying crimes. Join us for the game of Mafia - where everyone is a suspect, and nobody is safe...

9:41 p.m. – pika – The Future of Fashion: A Job Well Done. show off your new duds on an ice cream jaunt. pika, 617-492-6983.

9:45 p.m. – Kappa Sigma – Jillians 9:48 p.m. – Senior House – The devious, crafty Dr. Michael Wong Chang will convince you to ditch Team Jesus (or Allah, Buddha, etc.) in favor of Team Bonsai Kitten.

9:59 p.m. – Epsilon Theta – This croquet mallet is not a flamingo. The Queen will be sad. However, this one will become a flamingo at midnight.

Perhaps it's time for croquet in the park in the dark! Long live the Queen! *whack* oops. Call x3-8888 for a ride to our coed house. Don't pick the black ball!

10 p.m. – Pi Lambda Phi – It's a little late for dinner, but it only 9:00 in Texas. That's why we're grillin' some tasty meat. Or vegetables, whatever floats your boat.

10:00 p.m. – EAsT camPUS – More jazz and the rare opportunity to see EC students dressed up.

10:00 p.m. – Bexxley Hall – Shorter, yet much easier to jump out of than McGregor.

10:00 p.m. – Beta – get schooled. you could dish some cash to see them in concert, but why not check out Actual Proof at beta? hot on the scene, they sell out shows in Boston and NYC. want to know what's up? come chill and figure it out for yourself.

10:00 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Catch some talent from local Boston music schools and our own Ten Degree Chill. Sit, sip, dance, bring your horn. All night long.

10:00 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – Come get your groove on at Alpha Delta Phi. Also featuring our next door neighbors, the women of WILG.

10:00 p.m. – Sigma Nu – You haven't been to Sigma Nu yet? Get over here and grab a house tour and meet some brothers. We're just hanging out while most of the group is off at Good Times. Call 617-536-9925 for a ride over to Sigma Nu.

10:00 p.m. – New House – We're still here trying to figure out how to model our lives after Homer Simpson...so come join us! Or if you don't like The Simpson's, come eat our candy and we'll let you chill with us anyway.

10:00 p.m. – Alpha Tau Omega – ATO is known around the Boston college scene to have some of the largest parties every year. Come party with one of MIT's largest and most diverse fraternities. Resident DJs will be spinning hip hop, house, old school, and dance.

10:00 p.m. – Chi Phi – Join us for some delectable deserts in Boston's North End, home to the city's Italian flavor.

10:00 p.m. – French House – Si vous pouvez lire ca, vous devriez visiter La Maison Francaise, 4e etage, New House 6.

10:00 p.m. – Next House – Don't have a cow man! Escape rush madness with hours and hours of Simpsons mania-join us in the courtyard for a Simpsons marathon on the 30ft bigscreen.

10:00 p.m. – Delta Kappa Epsilon – Let us take you for a laugh, and a world renowned pastry to end the night!

10:00 p.m. – Phi Beta Epsilon – Chocolate Fondue - Our handmade chocolate fondue was made for dip-pin'.

10:01 p.m. – WILG – Crank it UP! It's time for some dancin' and partyin' with WILG and ADP.

10:06 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Come get down at the hottest party on campus. You may want to challenge Saad to a game of pool if Jon manages to get control of the music, though...

10:30 p.m. – Phi Kappa Sigma – Do you believe in hypnotism? Come see for yourself the hypnotist, "The Amazing Vincent" at Phi Kappa Sigma, and discover for yourself if hypnotism is for real.

10:30 p.m. – Alpha Delta Phi – PARTY! PARTY! PARTY! Meet the brothers and our neighbors, the women of WILG. Call 617-576-2792 for a ride.

10:34 p.m. – Fenway House – Creative desserts at Fenway. It's like build-your-own-sundae, but more inclusive. We will have many sweet, sticky, creamy delights for your eating pleasure. Less than 4371043 grams of fat.

10:36 p.m. – Delta Psi/No. 6 – Dance. Talk. Darts. Pool. Crepes. Dog!

11 p.m. – Bexxley Hall – Come hang out with us while we show flaccid movies, give you Raisin Bran, kiss your ass and pretend to like you! FREE FOOD FREE FOOD FREE FOOD THAT'S RIGHT FREE FOOD!!!

11:00 p.m. – Theta Delta Chi – Yes, the music, the furniture, the ambiance. Groovy. Relax to some good jazz by the Crak 5.

11:00 p.m. – EAsT camPUS – Swing by EC to witness the surprise ending to our jazz formal. It'll be worth it.

11:00 p.m. – Phi Sigma Kappa – Late Nite @ Phi Sig presents ... BUFFALO WING MADNESS!! Are you the mild type, just hot, or absolutely suicidal?!? 11:00 p.m. – Student House – Late Night Chill. You're always welcome 11:00 p.m. – New House – The SIMPSON'S MARATHON lives on! We're probably going to be here watching The # daily Confusion

August 26

View the Daily Confusion online at <http://confusion.mit.edu>

9 a.m.

9:00 a.m. - Epsilon Theta - Are the Blue Hills really blue? Come hiking with us and find out. Call x3-8888 for a ride to our co-ed house. We still have plenty of breakfast, too.

9:00 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - BELGIAN WAFFLE FEST for the early riser -> enjoy home-made waffles piled high with strawberries, blueberries and more!

9:00 a.m. - La Casa (Spanish House) - Want some free food in the morning? Come join us in our own kitchen filled with every thing you need to make some grub. Come by and help us out as we dish out pancakes, huevos con chorizo, Spanish Omelets, etc. You'll get a feel for what members do 5 times a week.

9:00 a.m. - Theta Delta Chi - Come by early if you still need to sign up or pick out some old clothes from our snatch closet, cause we're going PAINTBALLING at 10am.

9:00 a.m. - Zeta Psi - Pancakes, Bacon, Sausage, Eggs, French Toast, Milk, OJ, Fruit, Milkshakes, and of course, the world reknowned Rho Alpha. 617-661-4111 x401.

9:00 a.m. - French House - Le Petit-Dejeuner - Le cafe au lait, les crepes, et beaucoup de confiture. Venez a LMF et apprenez ce que c'est qu'un vrai petit-dejeuner continental. Il y aura en plus quelques morceaux du nouveau monde (La Cuisine, LMF, 4eme Etage, New House 6).

9:00 a.m. - French House - Breakfast - Cafe au lait. Crepes. Confitures. Come to La Maison Francaise and learn what a continental breakfast really is. We'll have a few New World treats too. (French House Kitchen, 5th floor New House 6)

9:00 a.m. - Alpha Delta Phi - Chef Bobby Mac's Famous Breakfast. Call for a ride at 617-576-2792.

9:00 a.m. - ZBT - SEX is only slightly better than BREAKFAST AT ZBT. House specialty - McZBT, pancakes, eggs, omelettes, toast, fresh fruit, O.J., we've got it all! After breakfast, go PAINTBALL and play MINI-GOLF. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE NON-PLEDGING FRATERNITY

9:00 a.m. - WILG - Need to center yourself before another chaotic day of rush? Come to WILG for a yoga lesson.

9:00 a.m. - Alpha Epsilon Pi - Breakfast with Micah, featuring omelettes-to-order, eggs, potatoes, pancakes, waffles, and the list goes on...

9:00 a.m. - Theta Chi - Nothing says good morning like a big piece of steak. You can also have eggs and hash browns at our 37th Annual Steak and Eggs Breakfast. Call 888-692-8648 for a ride.

9:07 a.m. - EASt campUS - int main () { while (1) { printf("Be cool. Live at East Campus.\n"); } }

9:09 a.m. - pika - Then I noticed that he was wearing sneakers, sneakers for sneaking.

9:12 a.m. - Senior House - Biblical Debate - Josiah Seale vs. Cory Lorenz Why were all the disciples men? Was Jesus really carpenter or an interior decorator? Freshman Girls STAY AWAY!!!!

9:17 a.m. - Random Hall - Saturday Morning Cartoons, Cereal, Games, Pajamas! Not to be consumed simultaneously. Come play with us! Thunder-Cats are on the loose!

9:17 a.m. - Theta Xi - Breakfast still going strong. Second batch out by now and we wouldn't want it to go to waste!

9:19 a.m. - Phi Kappa Theta - PAINTBALL! It's not too late for PAINTBALL! Give PKT a call right now at 437-7795 and you can still go! Hurry before the vans leave!

9:22 a.m. - Tep Force 22 - All the healthy foods a growing boy or girl needs to start the day right. Plus a bunch that just taste good! Call 617-262-5090 and we'll arrange for breakfast in bed, as long as you don't mind us bringing your bed to the table.

9:30 a.m. - Phi Beta Epsilon - Paintball - Hone your military strategisms on the battlefield. Overwhelm your enemy with precisely coordinated tactical maneuvers, feints and offensive strikes. Or run around yelling and shooting things.

9:30 a.m. - Alpha Delta Phi - Paintball at the best outdoor field in the Boston Area. Unlimited ammunition. The battle awaits... call us for a ride 617-576-2792

9:36 a.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Choose from a variety of fresh ingredients, and we'll whip them into the tastiest breakfast around.

9:55 a.m. - German House - Stop by German House for breakfast. We're great cooks. Come enjoy Tet's delicious breakfast fare!

10 a.m. - Pi Lambda Phi - Come racing in cars that go about 200 miles per hour when dropped out of a plane. Seriously, they can hit about 50 on the track.

10:00 a.m. - ZBT - Not having enough FUN yet. Go all out and join ZBT for a fun afternoon of PAINTBALL. Long sleeves, pants, and shoes definitely recommended. Lunch and snacks provided. Call Rick for rides at 617-232-3257. ZBT, THE POWERHOUSE OF EXCELLENCE

10:00 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - Still cranking out them piping-hot Belgian waffles - plus short order something else if you want! Shake of your sleepiness and get ready for a good day!

10:00 a.m. - Zeta Psi - Brunch at Zeta Psi - Pancakes, Bacon, Sausage, Eggs, French Toast, Milk, OJ, Fruit, Milkshakes, and of course, the world reknowned Rho Alpha. 617-661-4111 x401.

10:00 a.m. - Zeta Psi - Pancakes, Bacon, Sausage, Eggs, French Toast, Milk, OJ, Fruit, Milkshakes, and of course, the world reknowned Rho Alpha. 617-661-4111 x401.

10:00 a.m. - MacGregor House - What's a better way to start the day then bouncing around at MacG's Moon-bounce Beach? We've got sweet music, sno cones, leis, and a huge moonbounce up all day!

10:00 a.m. - Zeta Psi - Dim Sum Brunch in Chinatown - Head out for some Big Trouble in Little China and grab some brunch while you're at it. Call for ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

10:00 a.m. - Sigma Phi Epsilon - FORMULA ONE RACING. Musclebound track cars propel you thru hairpin turns at speeds of up to 30 mph on this closed indoor track. Race against other freshmen. If there's an event that you'll regret missing, THIS IS IT! Reserve your spot at the 'Get ya Heart on Party' Saturday.

10:00 a.m. - Beta - skillz session. Stop by the back lot for some mid-morning jams. DJ Q on the ones and twos, showing you how to spin your own beats. also, homemade skateboarding videos: bring your boards. do you dabble in a little wiffleball? check it out.

10:00 a.m. - Alpha Delta Phi - Paintball - your team of elite commandos has been charged with avenging the excruciating length of orientation activities. Go and fight with honor! Call us for a ride at 617-576-2792

10:00 a.m. - Alpha Tau Omega - Join the brothers of ATO on the annual canoe trip down the Concord River. Meet the brothers and enjoy some of the areas surrounding MIT.

10:00 a.m. - New House - Need to get out of the heat? Looking for a diverse environment and some friendly people to chill with? Stop by anytime all day for a tour of NEW HOUSE, one of the only two air-conditioned dorms on campus.

10:00 a.m. - Phi Delta Theta - Try and get to the top O or heckle others who are trying. Picnic lunch served to both hecklers and climbers.

10:00 a.m. - Theta Chi - Live out your army fantasies and join us for outdoor paintball. Call 888-692-8648 for a ride.

10:00 a.m. - Next House - Waffles, bagels, muffins and more mouth-watering morning delights.

10:00 a.m. - WILG - Buy vintage clothing and clothes sold by the pound! Stop by WILG for a trip to Cambridge's Garment District.

10:00 a.m. - Theta Delta Chi - We're going PAINTBALLING this morning. Vent aggression or develop and nurture a new one. Earth tones and camo are in. Let's shoot some people.

10:00 a.m. - Theta Xi - schedule for today? Rockclimbing at 11am and Paintball at 2. Decisions, decisions, decisions. Come over and we'll help you decide.

10:04 a.m. - Fenway House - Feeling better about the world? We're having a bike tour of Boston. Call 437-1043 to ride. Or if it's raining, there's always random spontaneity.

10:06 a.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Choose from our vast array of fresh fruits and vegetables, and we'll do all the work. Yummy.

10:10 a.m. - pika - everyday we ask ourselves, if we don't invent the Future of Fashion, who will? today we take a stab at that future. tomorrow we stab the past. pika, the present unharmed, 617-492-6983

10:12 a.m. - WILG - Overwhelmed? Escape the chaos of rush with a canoeing trip. Call us now for a ride. (617) 253-6799.

10:15 a.m. - Epsilon Theta - Remember getting up early to watch Saturday morning cartoons? It's not Saturday morning, but we can do it! We have this new time machine to try out...call x3-8888 for a ride. It may be your only chance to watch the scary Star Trek cartoons!

10:22 a.m. - Tep Force 22 - Mmmmm... donuts! We do this every week to take up on Sunday mornings. Come steal the comics and slam Ask Marilyn with us! Call 617-262-5090 for a ride.

10:23 a.m. - Senior House - Senior Haus Courtyard-Betty Bowers teaches you how not to go to Hell. Topics include: "God's views on Masterbation," "Does Jesus Fart," and a debate about weather or not giving Joseph a BJ still made her the "Virgin Mary."

10:29 a.m. - WILG - Escape the wilds of the city with WILG's canoeing trip

10:30 a.m. - Phi Beta Epsilon - Basketball - Hoop it up with the Phi Beta Ballers.

10:30 a.m. - Alpha Epsilon Pi - Join us at SuperSports for some go-kart action, minigolf, video games, lunch, and general horseplay. We've been kicked out three years in a row. Help us make it four.

10:30 a.m. - Chi Phi - Paintball at an abandoned ghost town, featuring multiple two stories buildings, realistic artifacts such as an old piano, and animal remains. A hallway maze lines the perimeter of the buildings. Voted best Paintball field in MA in an online poll on PaintballTimes.com.

10:30 a.m. - Kappa Sigma - Batting Cages / Driving Range

10:36 a.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Sun, soccer, volleyball, frisbee, and a picnic on the beach. Vans leave No.6 every 30min. until 12:36pm. In case of rain, join us at the Boston Science Museum.

10:37 a.m. - Russian House - Enjoy the delicious "bliny s vareniem", "lenivie vareniki", and our famous Russian kasha.

10:41 a.m. - pika - You couldn't fool your mother on the foolingest day of your life if you had an electrified fooling machine. pika, 617-492-6983.

10:44 a.m. - Tep Force 22 - See the colossal Man-Eating Flounder, battle pirates, and feel the sheer propulsive POWER of a sleek seventeen foot canoe. Call 617-262-5090 for a ride, and don't forget your Speedo.

10:55 a.m. - German House - Just getting up? Breakfast is still on at German House. Come meet the people that make it such a great place to live.

11 a.m. - EASt campUS - Come show off your "talents" at EC's "Guess your Bra Size" booth.

11:00 a.m. - Gamma Alpha Gamma - Shotgun Fest! How many beers can you shotgun in a minute? See if you can beat our house champion, Scotty.

11:00 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - BELGIAN WAFFLE FEST for you lazy kids -> piled high with strawberries, blueberries and more!

11:00 a.m. - Sigma Chi - Join the brothers of Sigma Chi for an early brunch in the Back Bay. Don't eat too much cuz we got some F1 racing coming up ...

11:00 a.m. - Theta Delta Chi - Notice as the ominous sounds of spaceage bachelordpad music morph the deck into a couch potato's paradise. Come chill with ICE CREAM sundaes.

11:00 a.m. - Theta Xi - Rock climb with the best at the best gym in Boston. If you've never climbed before, the come experience first hand the thrill of rock climbing.

11:00 a.m. - Next House - Stop by now or anytime and ask for a tour of our incredible dorm!

11:00 a.m. - French House - Vous ne vous etes toujours pas reveille? Le petit-dej continue LMF! (consultez 0900 ci-dessus).

11:00 a.m. - Zeta Psi - More Eggs, Bacon, Sausage, Pancakes, Milkshakes, Fruit, Juice, and Rho Alphas than you can shake a fork at. Call for ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

11:00 a.m. - Sigma Nu - We're leaving now to go play paintball. Try to get here early, as space may be limited. Of course, overnights get priority. Call 617-536-9925 so you can come join us.

11:00 a.m. - French House - Aren't you up yet? Breakfast is still going at French House! (See 9:00 entry)

11:00 a.m. - Student House - This seems more like breakfast time to us anyway. If you didn't spend the night you can still come over just give a call. Remember every meal is in some part vegan.

11:03 a.m. - Senior House - Ice Cream for Breakfast? Sure why not? Mommy is not around to watch, so indulge yourself.

11:06 a.m. - WILG - Got an hour to kill before lunch? Stop by WILG for a house tour! Admire our family-style bathroom and fridge devoted entirely to yogurt! Call (617) 253-6799 for a ride.

11:06 a.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - We've been at the beach for half an hour, and we need some more help burying Robert in the sand. Vans leave every 30min. until 12:36pm. In case of rain, join us at the Boston Science Museum.

11:09 a.m. - pika - Future of Fashion Step 1: gather raw materials. Jaunt to the Garment District. 617-492-6983 makes the fabric connection

11:15 a.m. - New House - Looking for a home-cooked meal to start your day off right after a night of partying? Well, we've got pancakes, french toast, sausages, bacon, and our delicious smoothies! Even better, we have the friendliest people on campus waiting just to chill with you!

11:30 a.m. - Theta Xi - Not too late yet! Last chance to go Rock climbing at the best gym in Boston!

11:30 a.m. - Bexxley Hall - "There is a violence that enslaves and a violence that liberates; a violence that is immoral and a violence that is moral." -B. Mussolini

11:30 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - Enjoy ULTIMATE and SOCCER in the park with the guys who rocked the IM leagues in both sports! Or take a tour of Boston with some brothers. If you haven't been over yet, just come to meet the Phi Sigs!

11:36 a.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Victor's a beach-bum, Christina's a beachnut, and Erin's just a beach. Come and have a beach-ball. Vans leave every 30min. until 12:36pm. In case of rain, join us at the Boston Science Museum.

11:37 a.m. - Russian House - Experience the beauty of the Charles River. 2 Hours of wet and wild fun on the water.

11:45 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - George's Island—Wanna go on the cruise? It leaves at 12, so come on over now! Give us a call for a ride - 267-2199

11:50 a.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - Leaving for George's Island in 10 minutes ... 9 minutes 59 seconds ... hurry over!

11:51 a.m. - Senior House - Psyched for the water war with West Campus? Come on down to Senior Haus and get equipped and help make preparations for the war. Senior Haus Bucks for anyone that enlists.

11:58 a.m. - EASt campUS - During term, all the campus dining establishments stop serving breakfast at 10 AM, waaaay before anyone at MIT is awake. Come get some pancakes at EC at a more reasonable hour: noon.

12 p.m. - Zeta Psi - Dick's Last Resort - Head out to this Boston landmark for a late brunch/early lunch. Call for a ride: 617-661-4111 x401.

12:00 p.m. - French House - We still have breakfast food, but if you're hungry for lunch, we can arrange that too! French House, 5th Floor, New House 6.

12:00 p.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - GEORGE'S ISLAND CRUISE -> enjoy soccer, ultimate, rush women, football, volleyball, BBQ and sun on one of the nicest Islands in Boston Harbor ... complete with an old military fortress! DON'T MISS THIS!

12:00 p.m. - Burton-Conner House - Come knock out your future roommate on our inflatable joust and win tons of prizes. Also we'll still be grilling away and given tours all day.

12:00 p.m. - Beta - wellesley, what? experience the perks of living 15 minutes away from an all girls college. beautiful fields, beautiful trees, some folks playing croquet? this isn't your daddy's picnic. be there when the ish goes down.

12:00 p.m. - Alpha Delta Phi - Listen to your stomach - come to our house for a BBQ lunch. Meet our cook and famed cyclist Bobby Mac. Call 617-576-2792 for a ride.

12:00 p.m. - MacGregor House - Who wakes up before lunchtime around here anyway? What's better to start your day with than some BBQ? Wheaties suck.

12:00 p.m. - New House - You just woke up didn't you? Well, so did we. You must be starving! So come to our HUGE BREAKFAST where we'll have pancakes (oh boy)...french toast (yum)...sausages and bacon (oh god)...and our world (or at least campus)-famous smoothies (can it get any better?)...

12:00 p.m. - WILG - Don't settle for another sub-par lunch. Allow WILG's sandwich artists to create you a masterpiece.

12:00 p.m. - Phi Beta Epsilon - Mexican Lunch Mexican Lunch - Yo quiero taco bell! or the next best thing, which would be tacos, burritos and other assorted goodies at PBE.

12:00 p.m. - Next House - Just woke up? Treat yourself to a hearty breakfast and get psyched for a day full of Nextual stimulation!

12:01 p.m. - Fenway House - Had fun outdoors? Did we get rained in? Missed the bike tour or lamed out of it? We're going to the art museum. Call 617-437-1043 for a ride.

12:06 p.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Come and grab some food at No.6, then hop in the van for a ride to the beach. Jon won't mind the food (just don't comment on his music). Vans leave every 30min. until 12:36pm. In case of rain, join us at the Boston Science Museum.

12:10 p.m. - Phi Sigma Kappa - on the way out the door for George's Island ... if you hurry you can still get a ride!

12:12 p.m. - pika - Future of Fashion Soundtrack: Hardcore and Glam Rock. Fugazi, The Damned, David Bowie, Circle Jerks, Ramones, Iggy Pop, Suede, etc., all day. 617-492-6983, take you round the world.

12:22 p.m. - Tep Force 22 - Boston outlawed charcoal grills, but the Fire Department okayed our Electric Grills! Come hang out and enjoy a variety of meaty and veggie foods. Is that a bathtub in the closet? Call 617-262-5090.

12:30 p.m. - Epsilon Theta - like mexican food? Eat fajitas and tacos/mexican haiku? quiero tacos/me gustan las fajitas/poema raro. Call x3-8888 for a ride to our fajita lunch. Plenty of vegetarian options. Our house is co-ed and we like haikus.

12:30 p.m. - MacGregor House - We've got a huge moonbounce that's sitting in the M450 courtyard just waiting for you to bounce in it. We won't even yell at you to stop doing flips or that your time is up.

12:30 p.m. - Sigma Chi - Like driving in Boston? Check out F1 Boston where you'll get your own souped up race car to try to drive everyone else off the road.

12:36 p.m. - Delta Psi/No. 6 - Come and hitch a ride in the last van to the beach. The water's cold, but not as cold as the look you'll be getting from Michael if you make fun of Denmark. Vans leave every 30min. until 12:36pm. In case of rain, join us at the Boston Science Museum.

12:37 p.m. - pika - nicole told me we're having vegan and hardcore for lunch. i'm not sure what that means, but i'm putting it down anyway. pika, 617-492-6983, endless mystery.

12:45 p.m. - Epsilon Theta - Be vevy vevy quiet. I'm hunting chcowate. We'll show you lots of great places to find chocolate in this city - and some cool book stores, too! Call x3-8888 for a ride to our co-ed house.

12:57 p.m. - Senior House - Water Fight 1pm Kresge Oval. Senior Haus is gonna go over to the West Side, check them into the smackdown hotel(on the corner of jabroni drive and know-your-role boulevard) and stick a water balloon right up their roody-poo-candy ass! If you smell what Senior Haus is cookin'

12:58 p.m. - WILG - Don't get caught in the dark! Come make your own light in WILG's candle making fest!

1 p.m. - Gamma Alpha Gamma - Water Balloon Fight! Throw a water balloon at a frat brother - they can't throw back!

1:00 p.m. - Next House - We wanna Next you up-yes you! Stop by Next House anytime to get a special guided tour.

1:00 p.m. - La Casa (Spanish House) - We're going BOWLING!! Meet us in New House, House 4 Second Floor.

1:00 p.m. - French House - Venez