Besides, the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and the States which have already taken the necessary action are Maine, New Hampshire, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, and Georgia.

The states are known to exist. They will not be maintained as game reservations, but will be managed for the production of wood, and for hunting and fishing in accordance with efficient protection from fire and prosecution of the game laws of the state in which they may be established. WEDNESDAY MARCH 29, 1911

THE TECH takes pleasure in announcing the election of Mr. W. E. Mann, 1914, to the News Staff.

"A college that thrives make perfection and perfection its sole object." With Junior Week less than a month away, and the glad subject of conversation at the Institute, one would naturally think that enthusiasm should be at its highest pitch among the organization most directly responsible. The lack of enthusiasm on the part of certain of the members of the Musical Club comes as a surprise to the rest of us, who are looking forward to the Spring Concert in April. Another important concert is coming before that date, the dance at Symphony Hall. This is the exhibition at which the students will get their impression of the musical ability at Tech at the present time. These two concerts must be given the full support of the student body. The lack of enthusiasm on the part of members of the Musical Club seems to be the only objection to the pleasure of the dance at the symphony hall. It means that the puacity of the Spring concert at rehearsals is not sufficient, so the exclusion of all students from the coming concerts of the Club is the only alternative to larger regular and consistent attendance at rehearsals.

TECH MEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC
Two technologists, men, Charles M. Barber, 1911, and Edward Crawford, 1912, were technically successful in the unusual production of the Lily of Killarney, in the Scenic Theatre, Marlboro, last evening. Barber personally staged the production, while Crawford was heard to advantage in the leading tenor role.

The Tech's Theatrical Guide

Boston—"Naughty Marietta." Last week of Victor Herbert's tuneful opera, with a clever book by Rida Johnson Young, and portrayed by a clever cast including Mlle. Emma Trentini and Ovivel Harraid.

Boston Opera House—"Aida." Opening bill of a seven-weeks' engagement by the Abbina Opera Company. Excellent production of an ever-popular grand opera by a splendid cast, excellently staged and capably performed.

Clift—\"The End of the Bridge.\" Fourth capacity week of the Harvard play, written by Miss Florence Littels of Radcliffe and given a notable stage production by John Craig and his capable associates.

Colonial—"The Girl in the Train." First time in this city of Leo Fall's latest Viennese opera, featuring that incalculably intriguing comic Harold Laski, with an excellent surrounding company, including Vera Michtania and Sallie Fisher. Tuneful music, pretty girls and good clean comedy judiciously combined.

Globe—"The Girl from Rostov.\" Return engagement of Paul M. Potter's \"episode\" American farce with a Parisian flavor, which last year packed the large Boston Theater at eighteen performances in two weeks.

Grand Opera House—"The Beaux' Stratagem.\" Recently Thomas E. Shre is here seen in a revival of a powerful drama founded upon the power of the conscience, his surrounding company being adequately competent.

CRITICISM OF AMERICAN TECHNICAL SCHOOLS
A controversy over an article by Mr. Sidney Gunn, which appeared a short time ago in "Science" was recently closed. The article was on "American Educational Defects" and in it Mr. Gunn charged American colleges and technical schools with commercialism and lack of intent to teach truth in pure science. Prof. Woodworth of Columbia took exception to the article but a later article by him acknowledged Mr. Gunn's main points.
