BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The Biological Society held its first meeting of the year on Monday, October 10, and much important business was transacted. The new constitution as drafted by G. T. Palmer and H. A. Jenkins was adopted. The resignation of F. Schneider as president was received and accepted. Howard P. Ivisard, Oliver D. Powell and Samuel N. Schmidt were elected president, secretary, treasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer respectively.

Mr. Gunn, the latest addition to the Biological Department, was unanimously elected an honorary member of the society. This society, the youngest of the professional societies at the Institute, has become famous for its very entertaining dinners and meetings. This year will prove no exception and an interesting program is being arranged.

The Biological Society was founded for the purpose of promoting social intercourse among students of biological subjects; of providing a social meeting ground for instructors of biological and their students, and of furthering the knowledge of biological subjects by discussion, and especially of addresses of invited guests.

The constitution provides that all registered students in Courses VII (Biology), XI (Sanitary Engineering), and V (Chemistry), are eligible to regular membership in the society. Regular dues of fifty cents a term to secure regular membership in the society.
