CIVIL ENGINEERS HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET TONIGHT

H. L. Coburn, J. W. Rollins Jr., and Prof. C. F. Allen are the speakers.

LARGE NUMBER EXPECTED

Annual Elections are to be the main feature.

The Annual Banquet of the Civil Engineering Society will be held at the Copley Square Hotel at 6.30 this evening. The speakers will include H. L. Coburn, chief engineer of the Ambursen Hydraulic Construction Company; J. W. Rollins Jr., president of the American Institute of Civil Engineers; and Prof. C. F. Allen, of the Institute Civil Engineering Department. It is expected that several of the Institute Engineers will be present in considerable force. The banquet will probably be preceded by the announcement of the result of the annual election for officers of the society. Ross Rourke, O'Rourke, who we announced as the special guest of the evening, will be present in all probability. The presence of the former having been called unexpected is responsible for the latter having been obliged to cancel all his engagements for the next fortnight in order to attend the banquet. Mr. Coburn is a very well known engineer and is a member of the Finance Commission inaugurated at the Institute.

Mr. Rollins is president of the company which constructed the well known Charles River Dam. He is a member of the American Institute of Civil Engineers and is a member of the Committee on State and Art which is in charge of the Appropriation Bill now before the Legislature. Prof. Allen is too well known to those who will attend the Banquet to need any formal introduction.

The annual elections have proven exceedingly spirited and warm fights have been fought in all the candidates. It is reported that several hot spots have been present in every department and that a good fight will be kept up by all the candidates. The announcement of the results will no doubt be exceedingly spirited and warm fights have been placed at even money in the Drawing Banquet to need any formal introduction.

To the Editor of The Tech:
I have just come across a book of considerable literature sent me by John Luce and Company of Philadelphia, regarding student Apprenticeship Courses offered by them in connection with paint and varnish manufacture. Their courses are given to students at the college, especially on the Student Apprenticeship Course for Salesmen.

We don't have to use Rhetoric to describe them. Plain words are best. Fatima Cigarettes do their own talking. They're embellished all night—on the inside—with good tobacco and on the outside with the appreciation of a host of college men.

We haven't put them in a fancy box, just 20 in an inexpensive package, and you get 10 additional "Fatima."

posessed of large capabilities was amply demonstrated by Mr. Ht's performance. The act was very much liked by the audience, and the player and soloist were encored twice each time giving different selection.

A guitar solo by Mr. L. R. O'Farrel followed the Chinese music. Mr. O'Farrell's happy fingerling and playing of the strings together with his cheerful smile brought him several encores to which he responded with careful selections and a few more charming smiles. Mr. O'Farrell's selection which he abstracted tags guitar and got melody from the instrument, was especially appreciated.

Following the guitar solo, the Technology Orchestra again took possession of the stage, and gave a most enjoyable miniature concert in itself. Several very much appreciated selections were played. The final number of the program of the Musical Night was reaet when the orchestra played the Stein Song. The audience arose and sang instrumental the beloved old song, and then let the hall to the accompaniment of the Roman Marches.
