AERO CLUB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL DINNER

H. F. Lehman, President; F. W. Caldwell, Secretary-Treasurer for Coming Year

Mr. Lehman was the first speaker, at the first dinner of the club this year, held at Mineola.

He described the machines and flights at Mineola, L. I., the principal ground for the club. There are several Curtiss machines, an Annette and a Monocle balloon. It was also told that the members of the M. I. T. Aero Club had a better grasp of the principles of aviation than most of the members at Mineola.

Mr. Lehman also told of some of the difficulties of the invasion of cholera from the infected areas of St. Anthony, Minnesota. An earnest appeal to the new men was made to swerve around toward the west current of air.

Mr. Caldwell described the balloon program of the club. The Corresponding Secretaries will be chosen by the club at the time of the next meeting.

Mr. Lehman said that the balloon is usually lifted by the whirlwinds sometimes encountered on the 500 feet altitude. The balloons are started by use of the lighter element.

THE TECH

Published daily, except Sunday, during the college year by students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Entered as second-class matter, Sept. 29, 1910, at the post office at Boston, Mass., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

R. H. Ranger 1911, General Manager.

 preciosities, and the student has been quick to utilize the fact that admission to all other events during the year in this way amounts to only two dollars.

The season tickets cost three dollars as in former years, although last year they entitled the holder to admission only, and not to a grand seat on Field Day. Hence for this one extra feature the tickets are the same as last year, admitting the bearer to all Inter-Class meets; to all home track meets except the N. E. I. A. meet; to all basketball games at the Tech Gym; and to all other athletic contests at Tech Gym under the direct auspices of the athletic association, including gym meets, indoor track meets, etc.

Competition for the position of Assistant Track Manager opens today. Those interested should communicate with Manager N. H. Benson 1912, or Assistant Manager M. L. Waterman 1913, as soon as possible. The duties consist of helping the manager in arranging meets and dates with managers of other college track teams, figuring costs of trips and allied work, together with assisting the manager at the Field. The man who makes the best showing in the competition will be confirmed in his position by the Athletic Association in January. This office is the first step leading to the managership of the Institute Track Team. The manager goes with the track team on all its trips and is awarded a 7 A at the end of the season.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

With flags and representatives from nations scattered all over the world, the Cosmopolitan Club opened its second year last Saturday evening. The Union was filled with groups of men exchanging ideas of all sorts exclusively interspersed with another tongue that was easier for the speaker and at least very interesting to the listeners.

President L. M. Sandstein, who comes from New Zealand, opened the meeting with a short account of the purposes of the club. He then introduced Dr. MacLucar, who made the first talk of the year.

Dr. MacLucar emphasized the importance of social life. It is necessary to be able to know your fellow workers and to understand human nature in order to accomplish more than the mere machine work of a man only filled with scientific facts. He thought that in this club would be found the greatest opportunity to acquire this appreciation of human nature, particularly as it was here possible to get in touch with the real scientific spirit that pervades all countries, even with the differences of local customs.

Dean Burton showed how, for one, had appreciated the work of the club to date, and gave in detail the story of the Chinese night held last year. Many of them had been seen last year, but they could never lose their interest, even without the new ones he had inserted.

GROSS COUNTRY

The Harvard course. Seventeen men covered the distance, starting from Highland Station, West Roxbury. The first squad to report. The features of these runs were the groups of long-distance runners and pedestrians from other colleges—most Westsiders—on the roads, at sight of whom the trailers hit up their legging steps and dashed by in true precisionnaire as far as the next turn.

The squad will run from the Gym tomorrow, and another practice run over the Harvard course will be held tomorrow. An effort is being made to have the Harvard race come a week earlier this year instead of on Father's Day, as usual, but it has not been adopted to TECH STUDENTS.
