Columbia Wins Basket Ball Championship

Defeated Yale 20 to 10

Fast Game at New Haven Characterized by Clean Playing and Few Fouls.

By defeating Yale by the decisive score of 20 to 10, Columbia won the intercollegiate championship in basket ball last Tuesday night. This game is the seventh straight victory for the Morning-side team, having defeated Cornell, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and Wesleyan, of which the first four teams are in the intercollegiate League.

This intercollegiate League was formed in 1892, and the Big Six colleges: Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Cornell, Princeton, and Pennsylvania have been members of it since 1894.

Last night's intercollegiate social meeting was a very great success. The dinner, after the intercollegiate set last year, was an informal nature and was accompanied by more speech and stunts. The dinner began shortly before seven o'clock and was served without a single delay.

Capt. Bookbinder takes charge of affairs which promise to be of importance.

In the Senate this afternoon the Senate Committee on Ways and Means, through Chinese Homestead of Worcester, reported favorably on the resolve Senate, No. 6, in favor of an annual grant of $100,000 for ten years to the Massachusetts Technical Institute, provided it established forty additional free scholarships. This matter was heard by both the House and Senate committees sitting jointly, in order, if possible, to avoid the necessity of separate and lengthy hearings. The matter now goes to House Ways and Means for final action.

SOCIETY OF ARTS
MEETING ON FRIDAY

At eight o'clock on Friday night, March 3, the Society of Arts will hold a meeting in Huntington Hall. The lecturer of the evening will be Professor Edmund H. Wilson of Columbia University. The subject of the address will be "The Physical Basis of Heredity." The talk promises to be of great interest and the fact that the public is invited makes it seem certain that there will be a good attendance.

COMMUNICATION

The following letter has been received by The Tech for publication.

Dear Sir:

At the meeting of this Society held Monday evening it was voted to join with the Electrical Engineering Society in celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Institute. If you believe the proposed joint dinner to be an excellent method of further celebrating the occasion and we hope that the various professional Societies will enthusiastically assist the Electrical Eng. Society in the preparations for the affair.

We would suggest that a committee composed of one representative from each Society be chosen at once to co-operate with the E. E. Society in completing the arrangements.

Yours very truly
Olive P. Powell, Secretary.

A SUGGESTION

Some few days ago a slight agitation was noticeable in the immediate vicinity of Boston. From it a few obtained a little notoriety, others cash, and the majority of us a little amusement.

It seems quite an opportune time just now to say a word or two concerning yellis. At the present time we haven’t a very varied collection and when we are “up against” another college our odds in the cheering line are not very great.

Once every year we get together and if it doesn’t rain so very hard we have some cheering. Would it not be a good plan for each class to have on that day a cheer of its own which it could keep repeating the four years to come.

Many of these yells could be probably easily worked into a school cheer and in a few years we would have quite a collection. The pride of obtaining these yells would be left to the different classes by committee, competition with or without a prize, which are details for the proper officials to work out. The idea is however very a suggestion by Tech.

TECH GRADUATE OFFERS

$2,000,000 BOULEVARD

T. Coleman Du Pont 1883 Offers

Long Highway to the State Of Delaware

The proposition of General T. Coleman Du Pont, president of the Du Pont powder company, to build a great modern highway the full length of the state of Delaware, has assumed concrete form, following a lengthy interview, which the multimillionaire had with the Attorney-General.

General Du Pont said that he had decided to bear the whole expense of constructing the bust road in the U. S. It will be a boulevard wide enough for the installation of all public utilities. This will mean a highway probably 150 feet wide, and 100 miles long.

The proposed incorporation of a $25,000,000 company in Delaware to construct a national highway from New York to Washington D. C., has no connection with the Du Pont project. The governor will send a special message to the legislature to enable the state to accept Mr. Du Pont’s proposition.

TECH SECONDS WIN

Through a typographical error, the score of the basket ball game between our second team and that of Tufts, last Tuesday, was printed wrong. Tech won by a score of 11 to 9.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

The Union dining-room is not doing as booming a business nowadays as it deserves to do. At the Tufts basket ball game there was but one Tech spectator. It was a freshman.

Gea, but those freshmen are getting strong. One of them broke an iron dishb and the Gym’s other dish.

Those men who are delaying the purchase of tickets to the Military Hop should remember that “Procrastination is the thief of time.”

The Armory balcony seems to be very popular with the fairer sex during drill-time. It also seems to be enough to “turn; the heads” of some of the freshmen (toward the balcony).

No language can quite describe them—can quite describe that “distinctly different” taste.

But college men have a language of their own and their appreciation is expressed in the number of Fatimas they smoke.
