ALL-TECHNOLOGY DINNER IN UNION

New Form of Entertainment to Be Given By Institute Committee.

There will be an All-Technology dinner in the Union Thursday evening, March 14. Plenty of entertainment will be provided by some of the societies and the committee in charge and a good time is promised everyone who attends. The tickets can be obtained in a few days from Carpenter '12, Peck '13, Russell '13, Guething '14, and several others, to be announced later.

An All-Technology dinner is something new in the Institute and will surpass any similar entertainment formerly provided for the faculty and students as a whole. It is for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm among the undergraduates and a spirit of loyalty for the Institute and the student activities. The Faculty and all the classes and societies will be represented and a large attendance is expected. A cordial invitation to come and make the most of the opportunity is extended to all.

CATHOLICS TO MEET

Speaker Will Be Judge Murray of the Municipal Court.

The next meeting of the Catholic Club is to be held in the Union on March 6. The meeting will commence at 6 P. M. Judge Murray, who is of the Municipal Court Circuit, will address the members. A report of the dance committee is also expected.

Judge Murray has been a prominent figure in state politics as well as an able member of the bench. He has also been a popular speaker at such social affairs as this. The Club was unable to obtain his services last year and for that reason considers itself especially fortunate in having him for a speaker now. In view of this it is hoped that the meeting will be well attended and that Judge Murray will be shown the interest due a man of such prominence.

DR. ROSE'S LECTURES.

Lowell Institute Speaker On Bonaparte as Warrior.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock Dr. J. Holland Rose will give his third lecture on "The Personality of Napoleon." In his first lectures Dr. Rose has shown the development of Napoleon's character up to the time of his return from Egypt at the age of thirty, to assume the office of First Consul. In the lecture this afternoon the personality of Napoleon as warrior will be considered. The previous lectures have been attended by large audiences, so that it would be well for those who expect to go to secure tickets beforehand.

The above twenty-five men were elected to the Senior Class Day Committee and the class has showed a remarkable foresight in choosing men who have all accomplished a great deal in Institute affairs and who can carry on the responsibilities of Commencement Week with infinite success.

D. F. Benbow, Delta Tau Delta, was a member of the Institute Committee in his Sophomore year, business manager of the 1912 Technique, Junior year. A. W. Eicher, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, captained the football teams in both his first and second years. He was elected president of the Sophomore class and Athletic Editor of the Technique. R. Cremer, Sigma Psi, edited the Faculty notes in the Class Book. P. W. Dalrymple, Phi Beta Epsilon, and V. G. F. J. Shepard, Phi Gamma Delta, held positions on the Junior Prom. Committee and was prominent on the track. Bates Torrey, Jr., was another member of the Electoral Committee and played on the Class foot-

HOCKEY OR FOOTBALL AT THE BOSTON ARENA

Unicorn Defeats Intercolonial in Roughest Game Played This Season.

The first game of the hockey series between the B. A. A. and the Intercolonials, which was played last night at the Boston Arena, was won by the former team by a score of 1 to 0. The contest was by far the roughest played on the local surface this season. It was a game for blood from the first face-off, and many fouls were called. Both teams vied with each other in securing the greater number of fouls but the B. A. A. seemed to have the better success. The Intercolonials were strengthened by three former Sherbrooke players: Molyneux, Wiggett, and Denesha. These men are undoubtedly excellent players but they thought altogether too much of their individual and not of team work and the result was brilliant flashes of playing by some one player with no one to back him up.

The weak point of the Intercolonials was the outer defence. Time after time they missed the man coming down and it was only by the fine work of Bray that the B. A. A. was held to one goal. Hicks, Huntington and Sortwell were the stars for the winners. The only score was made by Hicks on a clever piece of dodging and puck handling. Huntington was the only player on both teams who did not resort to foul play, no matter how much he was "roughed up."

The contest was under way less than a minute before it was evident that both teams were out to win and would resort to any means to accomplish that end, and they did. The game was more of a football match than hockey, for within a minute after the first face-off, Davenport was sent to the side for tripping and was followed by Hicks and Small. The B. A. A. won the game in the first half but the Intercolonials outplayed them in the second, but their failure to use combination play spoiled many chances to score.

The second game of the series of five to be played for a $100 cup will be played next Tuesday and it is hoped that the men will be working better together then.

Let's hear more from the wrestling team.

The progress of second term work has been stopped by a convocation. Oh, horrors.

If this cold weather keeps up the hockey team will continue work and the track team can get back into bed.

The Arena management did not raise the price of tickets at the last game as they did at the one before that, therefore they had a crowd there.

The Intercolonials and the B. A. A. hockey teams are not going to be stopped by a few rules if they want to win that $100 cup.

OUTDOOR TRACK PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Few Men Have Been Lost and Promising Candidates Have Appeared.

Although it seems to be a little early to talk about outdoor track, the field will be open in about a week, and the runners and jumpers will start to put themselves in condition for the outdoor season. Prospects for a stronger team than that of last year are very good. Few of the best men have been lost by graduation last year, but the places of these few will be hard to fill, as they were among the best all-round athletes that the Institute has ever produced. "Bill" Salisbury and "Pete" White will be especially missed.

The chief deficiency in the team is the lack of pole vaulters and weight men. There are a lot of good men in the Institute who have experience in these events and could make the team the best ever if they would come out. It is hoped that a few of them will wake up and do something for their school.

The Freshman team has several good men who will give the older members of the squad a hard time to retain their places. O'Brien has shown himself to be a star and will probably make good in the dashes. With O'Brien, Wilson and Wilkins, the Tech team should be able to take care of itself in the 100 yard.

The 440 squad has received a valuable addition in Barry and Bolton. Bolton has made the relay this year and promises to be as good as Guething, Thomson and Munch. Huff is a star man in the high hurdles. The high jump will be taken care of by Dalrymple, with Hall, Eberhardt and Teeson to back him up.

The weights are not very promising, but O'Brien and Crowell of the Freshman class should make good. Men are needed also for the broad jump, as few fellows have practiced this event.

At Queen's College, Kingston, Ont., boxing and wrestling take the form of intercollegiate contests.

Wrestling has obtained a solid footing. It's a good thing, and we want to see it continue.

Why are there not more men on the rowing machines? Come on, you huskies, and train up for that place in the shell.

The track men will now have a chance to rest up before the spring season starts in, for we fear that after they get to work trying to form up a team to bring home the championships little leisure will be theirs.

CONVOCATION.

The unveiling of the portrait of Mrs. Emma Savage Rogers, wife of William Barton Rogers, founder and first President of the Institute, is an affair which every Institute man should attend. For the benefit of the Freshmen we shall endeavor to give a short biographical sketch of Mrs. Rogers' life. Mrs. Rogers was born in Hayward Place on March 4, 1824, and afterwards moved to Temple Place, where the family lived for many years. Her father was the Honorable James Savage, LL. D., and her only brother was the James Savage, Jr., whose name stands first in the list of those in memory of whom Soldiers' Field was decorated. Scientific work was the cause of Professor Rogers, then of the University of Virginia, visiting New England in 1845. While on this excursion he met a young lady, Emma Savage, who eventually brought him to Boston and thus through him gave us the splendid Institution of which we are proud members today. It is evident then what a great debt we owe to Mrs. Rogers and her name will always be emblazoned on the shrines of memory of men who love Technology. Although the Institute is composed mainly of men, two of the best friends we have ever had have been women, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Richards. Mrs. Rogers' interest in the Institute was never passive, her ideas and thoughtfulness aided us in many a hard struggle where a true friend was most necessary. Her gracious presence, generous hospitality and splendid personality can never be forgotten by those of us who knew her. Her thoughts were ever for Technology and a last instance of her love for the school and its men is shown in this bequest of her portrait to us. It was her earnest wish to be ever with us. It is our duty then to carry on the new Technology and make it a school where her ideas and ideals will be carried out as she would have wished. The convocation is to be held this afternoon in Huntington Hall at two o'clock and exercises will be suspended until two thirty to enable every Institute man to attend. Let us all go then and pay your silent respect and homage to one whom Technology owes a boundless debt.

COMMUNICATION.

(We invite communications from all men in the Institute on important subjects. We take no responsibility for their sentiments and do not agree to print any that may come in, whether they are signed or not.)

To the Editor of THE TECH:

Through your columns please permit me to give what I hope will be the closing remarks of the recent discussion on the conduct of Union.

Many very regrettable incidents have marked this discussion, none more so than the doubt that seemed to be cast on the motives of Bursar Rand. No one regrets this phase of the matter more than the present writer.

The communications of A. K. Icker have been poorly expressed, and were evidently the results of an over-hasty judgement in many instances. While the writer had in mind certain evils, his method of bringing these most forcibly to the reader was crude. A delay of twenty-four hours before sending them in for publication might have been very beneficial to all concerned. There seem to have been two main lines of attack; one against the management of the Dining Room and the Union Committee and the following points seem to have been brought out.

The dining room is having the most prosperous year in its history. The profits, whatever they may amount to, are being set aside for a sinking fund, a necessary adjunct to any well conducted business venture. The students pay less for their meals in the Union than in the restaurants adjacent to the Institute. The question is raised as to whether the quality of the food can not be bettered or the cost still further decreased without appreciably affecting the accumulation of the necessary sinking fund. This is a matter for the Dining Room Committee to decide.

The second line of attack was directed more against the conduct of the meetings of the Union Committee than against its inactivity, although both came in for censure. It seems to be apparent that the members are not doing their best work, and that the committee does not stand for what it did two years ago. It is a fact that when the management of the Union was entirely in the hands of the students it was a bad failure financially. With a capable man like Bursar Rand in charge of the funds, and with the benefit of his knowledge of business management coupled with the proper expression of student sentiment through the Union Committee, that experience should not be repeated.

The new Victrola seems to have been a storm centre since it arrived. It is unfortunate that such a gift from one of our generous alumni should be the cause of any disturbance. The House Committee has arranged to have it played every Tuesday and Friday noon, two concerts a week being considered frequent enough. Bursar Rand told the writer when the Victrola came that if at any time any society or responsible parties wanted to have it for an entertainment he would be glad to give them permission, and he wanted it generally so understood. Whether he has changed his mind or not, I can not say. If the House Committee could arrange to have it played occasionally in the early part of the evening, I believe it would be much appreciated.

The students patronizing the Union often register their kicks with one another, but very few of these ever become known to the committee responsible. The latter should always welcome sincere criticism and many faults might be remedied if brought to the attention of the proper committee.

Very truly yours,
 Oliver D. Powell.

TO BE UNVEILED TODAY

Prof. Sedgwick Will Speak at the Convocation in Huntington
Hall.

Professor Sedgwick will deliver the address at the Convocation to be held today at 2 P. M., in Huntington Hall, for the unveiling of Mrs. Rogers' portrait.

At the last Convocation the President did not especially ask for a full attendance, and the result was that only a few fellows were present. This year, however, exercises will be suspended from 2 to 2.30 P. M. for the purpose of giving every fellow in the Institute a chance to attend.

The portrait to be unveiled was painted by the celebrated Ipsen, and was bequeathed by Mrs. Rogers to the Institute before her decease last spring, together with an estate valued at $500,000. Mrs. Rogers has always proven herself a friend to the Institute by her devotion to and interest in it. Professor Sedgwick was chosen to speak because of intimate friendship with Mrs. Rogers. It is hoped that the entire student body will show their appreciation of her kindness by attending the Convocation.

By the way, talking about wrestling, isn't it a good thing for the crew men to limber up by going out for the
