Question of Orchestra and Spring Concert referred to a Committee.

Yesterday, at 5 o'clock, an Institute meeting was called to order in Room K, Engineering C. Due to the absence of Chairman Kellogg, M. C., the Point System Committee reported that investigation had found five men who were in disgrace promptly at 2 o'clock. This trip primarily for the purpose of making a study of the steel work in the building, and on returning, with as much interest as to Option 2 men. Mr. Merrill will show them other interesting phases of the construction as well.

The society has also secured seven men actively engaged in the promotion of the profession as speakers for the near future. Among these are Professor George F. Swain, Mr. Angus Millikan and William H. Swayze. Professor Swain is the director of the School of Applied Science of Harvard. Mr. McLellan is the design engineer of the Abbeville Construction Company of Boston and will give an illustrated talk on flat-slab construction in reinforced concrete buildings.

"The Concourse’s Viewpoint of Building. Construction provides the address of Mr. Swayze’s address. He is the secretary of the Master Builders’ Association of Boston. The society expects to secure other speakers whose names will be announced as soon as affairs are definitely arranged.

A new set of rowing machines has been recently installed in Columbus gymnasium. Of the most improved type, the new arrangement provides for a system for which the forces of men on rowing to get them into the boat. The men are instructed to sit on two seats in back of the machine and then to step on the machine and slide the boat out of the water. One man will set a tone at each end, and the men will row as a team. The resistance is varied by means of weights, which are added to the boat as the men gain strength. The men are instructed to use the entire length of the gymnasium in running, as the machine is adjustable to any length.

INSTITUTE COMMITTEE MEETING YESTERDAY

ARCHITECTURAL TRIP.

Option 2 men will visit New Filene Building tomorrow.

Today, nearly all the Architectural Engineering Society will make a trip to the new Filene building as guests of the chief engineer, Mr. Merrill. The party will leave the rooms of the department in Pierce promptly at 2 o'clock. This trip is primarily for the purpose of making a study of the steel work in the building, and on returning, with as much interest as to Option 2 men. Mr. Merrill will show them other interesting phases of the construction as well.

COMMUNICATION.

We invite communications from all men in the Institute on important matters to which we think no responsibility for their result pat its editorial or the removal of which, whether they are signed or not.

Boston, March 18, 1912.

Editor of THE TECH, Technology:

Dear Sir:-

A successful, loyal, and insatiable shumus has recently called upon me for his attention by way of protest to your editorial on General Studies, which was published on Thursday, March 7, 1891. I have not read the whole of the editorial, perhaps for the reason that I was out of town on that and the following day.

Having now read the editorial, it seems to me that the shumus' objection to the point of view of the editorial and also to state that it seems to me that Professor Drayton has not yet the side of General Studies nearly strong enough.

The problems of engineering demand creative minds cultivated to the noblest, in which some things in

They are, and study of the physical sciences, mathematics, and their applications to our minds are not adequate to these requirements. The sooner the young men who come to the engineering courses in Technology lose the idea that the courses which have

The last lecture of the series on "Medulla Oblongata," and we do as well with it entertainises. The next course is to be given this afternoon in "Napoleon in Exile." This course of lectures has proved very popular, and has drawn large audiences.

Choice of Links Discussed But No Definite Decision Reached.

At a meeting of the Golf Club yesterday afternoon, W. T. Roberts was elected secretary-treasurer. It was also suggested that the president should nominate three men to act as a committee in charge of the tournaments and the handicaps to be given to various members of the club. The rest of the time was taken in discussing the possibilities of the members joining some other club until matters are straightened out and a regular team is organized.

The Allston Club made the following offer: The membership for the year will be in better condition than the Harvard men have to pay for the privilege of using the links. This fee includes the use of the house and the bowling alleys. Lockers are rented for $1, and accommodations for two men each. The links would be privileged to play other teams at Allston, except on holidays, and to enter in the Allston Club Tournament. The excellent location and the well-kept grounds were also brought out as arguments in favor of the Allston links.

The other links to be considered are at Waltham, and these are also kept in good condition by excellent green-keepers. As the members could not decide definitely in favor of either club, the rest of the business was put off for the next meeting, which will be held within a week.

Field Work Started.

Track Men Begin Active Training for Several Spring Meets.

An enthusiastic squad of track men came out to celebrate the opening of the Field for the Spring season on Monday. The track is in better condition than it has been for several years at this time, but the ground is still too soft for baseball practices. Now that the outdoor season has begun, the track men will go through their stunts at the Field every day to get in training for the Spring events.

The first will be the inter-course cross-country run to be held on March 30th, followed by the Freshman-Sophomore meet on the sixth of April. After this will come the Freshmen and Sophomore with preparatory schools. Tech will meet Brown in a dual meet on May 4th. One of the last of the Spring events in which Technology men will compete is the New England Intercollegiate meet on the eighteenth of April. The individual work of some of our men should assure us second position at least, although it will probably be a close run between Tech, Brown, Dartmouth and Williams.

Seniors, you can run an Oliver if the freshmen howlers on The Tech can. They all like it--so will you.

It is cheaper to hire an Oliver than a stenographer — and you will get more satisfactory results on your thesis.

You can RENT the No. 3 Model Oliver for twenty consecutive months — then it will belong to you; or you can rent the No. 3 Model Oliver with a stand from month to month for $3.00 per month.

Come down to see us at 146 Congress St.

NOTE ALUMNUS DIES.

News has just been received of the death of Roger P. Stebbins, a noted naval architect, who graduated from the Institute in 1905. Mr. Stebbins was a member of the Class of 1884. He graduated from the West Roxbury High School in 1901, and entered the Institute the same fall, where he completed the course in naval architecture. After graduating he was employed for several years by the Electric Boat Company of Electric Power at his many friends and to hear of his death. His many friends will be grieved to hear of his death.

THE PROPER DRESS.

We want your attention for a moment to regard to your clothes. Don't be a ready-made man. Have your individuality carried out in your clothes. Buy the very best quality of imported cloths for they are the best; take good care of them and they will outwear any two cheap suits. Order from a firm in which you have confidence, take their advice, and stick to them. Don't make your patronage worth while to them.

DETECTIVE BURNS.
early life may become, he cited a case where he had been called to a last resort. In a little town in the Middle West three boys were caught breaking into a candy store. There was no question of their guilt and the justice system of justice sent them to jail. One of these lads was the son of a widow. During his incarceration his mother died, and on his release he was sent into the world alone. He went to another part of the country where he grew up to be an honest and influential man with a healthy, happy family. One day, however, he was visited by a man who had been one of the trio of burglars of his youth, and money was asked of him. This victim wanted to get to Australia for a new start. The result was that he was given five hundred dollars. He returned, however, a month later. A worst conflict took place, with the same result. This was re- peated on the third month. This man who had his early mischief hanging over him appealed to a lawyer but ob- tained no results. His Burns was con- victed and soon settled the affair. When the former companion in jail called again he was told that further business was to be transacted by let- ter, with no further personal inter- view. The first letter was a mere ap- peal for money and the second an appeal for cash. The third letter and the fourth contained statements sufficient to bring the writer of the latter within the jurisdiction of the federal law as a blackmailer.
