MASONS ASSEMBLE FOR FIRST TIME

Excellent Dinner Enjoyed in Union and Organization Discussed.

Last evening Steward Colton outshone all his former efforts in the quality of the dinner which he spread before the assembly of Masons at the Institute in the upper dining room of the Union. Professor F. Vogel presided at the dinner and introduced several interesting speakers, who addressed the Masons on their organization here at the Institute.

The various fraternal emblems were skillfully worked into the numerous dishes. After the many coursed dinner had been fully enjoyed and cigars were in order, Professor Vogel introduced the speakers of the evening. Professor C. F. Allen addressed the Masons on their organization at Technology and also their future here. He said that they had attempted to get together a few years ago, but the effort was not very successful and that now seemed to be their chance. A. A. Jenkins, A. A. Schaefer and M. D. Linning of Harvard, all members of the Acacia Fraternity, also spoke to the fellows and discussed their organization.

In the near future it is planned to give the Masons another opportunity to get together. In order that the list may be made as complete as possible it is requested that every Mason in the Institute give his name to Mr. T. H. Haines in Eng. A.

SOPHS PLAY BASEBALL.

Six-Inning Practice Game Held Between Two Full Nines.

A six-inning scrub game constituted the major part of the Sophomore baseball practice yesterday afternoon. Twenty men reported, including three new candidates, and in spite of the wintery air each man showed up well. The new men are Hughes, Mahoney and Ober. They are all out for infield positions and show promising qualities.

The first game that the team will play is a practice one with the M. A. H. S. nine on next Tuesday. It has not yet been decided whether to hold the game at the ball grounds in the Fenway or at the Columbus avenue playground. Practice will be omitted on Saturday on account of the track meet at the Field, and will be continued on Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

TECH SHOW SEATS.

All Tickets Must Be Called For By Five O'clock Saturday.

The management of Tech Show wishes to announce again that positively no tickets, for which students have signed up, will be reserved after 5 o'clock on Saturday. After that time all the seats will be put on public sale at the theatre.

Up to the present time nearly all the tickets have been sold for Thursday's performance. On the other hand, about 175 of the good seats remain for Tuesday's matinee. If any of the fellows desire the management is willing to make any changes for Tuesday tickets up till 5 o'clock Saturday.

INCREASED CROWD TO HEAR DEAN BURTON

The Dean Suggests Opportunities For Social Service Here in Technology.

Yesterday the Dean spoke to the crowd in the Union on the subject "The Position of the Technology Christian Association in Technology."

Dean Burton said that the Association, like other student movements here, had grown entirely because the students wanted it, and not because of any Faculty or other outside pressure. Also, it has not seemed that we were forming organizations or customs because they happened to be in existence in other places. One custom, that has now become so well established here that no class could feel its Commencement complete without it, is the annual Baccalaureate Sermon. But it did not used to be the custom to have one and it was only when Trinity Church services were held in Huntington Hall, after the old church building had been burned and the undergraduates became acquainted with Phillips Brooks, that the Senior class decided to have a Baccalaureate Sermon in connection with the customary graduation exercises, largely because of the influence of Phillips Brooks himself.

The Christian Association likewise, he said, started a long time ago, and has always existed, showing more or less activity, and having various titles and government. It has always been alive and held meetings which, however, have never drawn so many, or done so much as the ones held this year have.

One of the most important things to be done in Social Service, to his mind, is an undertaking to look up the solitary men here in the Institute who, for various reasons, are living practically alone here without any acquaintance outside of class rooms.

He told one story, taken from Russian folklore, to illustrate genuine unselfishness. It related the account of an old skinflint who, when she had an opportunity to get pulled out of the lower regions by virtue of the one kind deed she had done upon earth, was afraid that the support would not hold the weight of all the crowd hanging to her skirts, and so kicked them all off, thereby

PROM PROGRAMS

Will Be Distributed in Union Today at One O'clock.

All those who have signed up for the Prom can obtain programs in the Union today at noon. The committee has arranged to have two men on hand to attend to their distribution. Judging from the number of men who have given their names to the committee it is expected that 275 couples will be present at the dance. Those in charge of the affair have decided to have Hoffman furnish the decorations for the occasion and, with the extra money which they have for this purpose, something out of the ordinary is expected. The next meeting of the committee will be held on Saturday.

CROSS-COUNTRY MEN READY FOR RACE

Prospects Look Much Better For Freshmen Than at Beginning of Season.

Although the weather has been unfavorable, the cross-country men have been training their hardest this week, and if the course is in any kind of condition Saturday, the teams will be fast. The Freshmen have made a lot of improvement, and their chances of winning look much brighter than at the beginning of the season. Although the Sophomores have some star men who will finish in the first places, they have scarcely enough men out to make a team.

The mile event at the Field may go entirely to the Freshmen, unless one or two of the Sophs run at the Field instead of in the cross-country race. In this case the cross-country team will be weakened and the advantage would be with the lower classmen.

The race for first place will probably be between A. P. Nye and G. C. Shedd of the '14 class. Shedd has won from Nye in most of the races, but Nye seems to be in better condition. C. S. Lee, '14, is the best choice for the third place. The next man to score will be E. M. Hill, '15, or C. R. Wilkins, '14. These men have been running close together this year, but Hill has proved to be just a little better in most of the contests.

The Freshmen will take all of the next three or four places. L. Best, C. Lovell and H. Bassett may fit in here. P. M. Currier and F. Atwood will strive to get these places for the Sophomores. A. F. Peaslee will not run for 1914, as he is in New York with the C. E. Society.

SPRING CONCERT PLANS.

Many Reservations Made and Several Seats Sold.

The seat sale for the Spring concert has been unusually successful. At the present writing more than half the house has been sold, and a quarter more reserved.

Practically all plans are completed and the clubs are working hard on their new selections. A special meeting was held yesterday in order to arrange rehearsal hours which would not conflict with the Show. The management is making special endeavors to have the dance bigger and better than ever before. The programs and dance orders will be at the Union Friday, April 12, and may be obtained in exchange for the cards given out with the tickets.

WRESTLING MEET OFF.

The wrestling match, which was scheduled for tonight with Harvard, had to be called off. Owing to the illness of several members of the Tech team they were only able to enter four men in the meet, and as this did not suit the Harvard management, the match was cancelled completely.

Unless we have some very fine weather before Saturday the cross-country course will be worse than ever, and the times made will be slow.

E. E. SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING AND DINNER

Mr. M. C. Brush, '01, Gives Talk On Relation of Young Men to Business World.

The Electrical Engineers' dinner last night in the Union was a very successful function. There were about fifty members present, J. L. Barry, '3rd, presiding. As soon as the cigars were burning the following names were proposed for the Election Committee and accepted: N. A. Hall, '13, L. Gallagher, P. E. Goldson, '12, and C. J. McCarthy and F. C. Weiss, '13.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. "Matt" Brush, '01. He began by saying that it was not his policy to inflict any electrical discourse upon the members. Instead of this he proceeded to give a lot of sound advice and interesting philosophy which he has formulated in his brief but very successful career. These personal experiences gave no evidence of personal conceit—in fact he said the affliction of "big head" is the one disease which only death can cure.

Another idea which Mr. Brush brought out strikingly is the fact that many of the world's greatest successes in all the different fields have been young men—men who have done the most wonderful part of their work between the ages of thirty and forty. A cheerful estimate of his was that the demand for the right young man nowadays is fully a thousand per cent. greater than the supply. He thoroughly believes in engineers, but says that the great demand for engineers is not so much on account of the theories, the engineering knowledge, as on account of the excellent training given in an engineering course. Young men should capitalize all their resources—time, abilities, and especially their youth. Two of the greatest assets at the present day are a knowledge of human nature and the ability to pick men. Mr. Brush agrees with many people that "it takes a pull to get ahead," but answers this very cleverly by saying that "it takes a head to get a pull." Make friends; they are not only pleasant, but valuable. His stenographer, after being told to "hug big men," asked him to spell it. Young men, as well as stenographers, will do well to follow this advice. Every man is susceptible—he has a weak spot. Pick your man, study him like a book; study your problem, arrange it so as to appeal most strongly to your man, and then present it to him with your own best opinion as to the proper course to pursue. Although it must never be allowed to degenerate into conceit, and in spite of the fact that it will oftentimes be mistaken for this undesirable quantity, one must always preserve and cultivate self-confidence. If you don't believe in yourself you

THE SINGLE TAX.

The adoption of the "single tax" at certain of the leading colleges in the country has brought up the consideration of the advisability of trying the system out at the Institute. For the benefit of the students who may not know what this plan is we will explain it.

At the beginning of the school year, when fees are being paid, an extra charge of a certain number of dollars in addition to tuition is required. This pays for all the activities and makes the student a member of all the open college clubs.

Washington University, St. Louis, sent out postal cards to most of the leading colleges in the country asking their opinions as to the value of the scheme. Twenty-nine answers were received, and in each case the system was working successfully. In twenty-six cases the money was collected by the treasurer of the institution and was a compulsory fee paid along with the tuition.

You may ask what the Faculty have to do with student activities. We answer that they have a great deal to do with them, besides the support they lend by their advice and financial contributions. It is their duty to look after the general health of the school and see that men are benefitting bodily as well as mentally from their college course. We will not deny that the latter duty is often neglected, but it does not alter the fact of its existence.

The question has been asked whether it would not be a great burden on the treasurer to collect this fee? We do not think it would be a difficult matter for the Bursar to settle. The money is paid in along with the tuition and the record that shows who has paid his tuition will show who has paid the "Single Tax."

Another question is: "How would you tell who had paid up and who had not?" That is easy to answer. The treasurer would keep a complete record, and the student manager would check off the names of the people to whom he issued the season tickets.

Such a subject as this may seem irrelevant, especially considering the late period of the school year. But it seemed to us that by discussing the subject at this time we would bring the matter before the students and allow them to judge for themselves the wisdom and advisability of starting a movement at Technology in favor of its adoption.

SOCIAL SERVICE DINNER TONIGHT

In Union Upstairs at 6.30 P. M.
—President Maclaurin Will Be a Speaker.

Tonight the Christian Association will have a dinner in the Union to give an opportunity to every one in the Institute interested in Social Service to come and hear what is being done in this work here in Boston, partly by men in Tech who are giving a few hours a week to some kind of social work.

Dinner will be served in the Union at half-past six, but the speaking will not start until about half-past seven, and anyone who can not come in to the dinner itself, but is interested, or thinks he might be interested in the work, will be welcome if he comes in then. There are to be quite a number of short talks, not only from men whose work is outside the Institute, but also five undergraduates will tell about their work. President Maclaurin will be the principal speaker of the evening, and the Association thinks that there should be a large number of fellows there to hear him. When President Murlin of Boston University spoke there were four hundred Tech men in the Union to hear him, and though this is at a less convenient time the subject is one that is demanding more attention every day, and that every man interested in his city and country must help in.

COMMUNICATION.

(We invite communications from all men in the Institute on important subjects. We take no responsibility for their sentiments and do not agree to print any that may come in, whether they are signed or not.)

To the Editor of THE TECH:

In response to the communication of the Senior Civils, and to one, "Bugs" Raymond, in particular, who has seen fit to take the position of managing a bunch, whose only claim to the elements of baseball is their questionable record of past performances, and a bunch that has been led to believe that such kiddish chatter can frighten a game crowd of baseball enthusiasts, whose modesty alone prevents them from refraining to mention their well-known abilities, and whose confidence in themselves is so well founded that, unlike their boastful opponents, who vainly hope that by playing three games Dame Fortune will be so kind as to grant them one victory, they do hereby specifically challenge the Civil Rodmen of the Senior class to one contest to be played at the Tech Field on the morning of April 17; the stakes to be not an empty keg, but one labeled P. B., direct from the brewery.

Any further details in regard to the game can be made by consulting V. W. Allen, who has been honored by being given the position of managing so worthy a crowd of baseball players as are found in the Mechanical Stokers' baseball squad.

Yours truly,
Senior Mechanicals.

E. E. DINNER.

may be sure nobody else will. Some may be considerably disheartened to hear it, but more will be willing to believe, with Mr. Brush, that, taking things as a whole, a man generally gets just about what he deserves.

Although he admitted that he was open to the charge of prejudice, the speaker protested against a certain class of "philosophical anarchists" who are intolerant of the methods of public service corporations in general. He said that he would be satisfied if he left only the one idea that whatever happens, one should always hear all the evidence before forming an opinion. An important thing to remember is that the administration of big industrial corporations is now attended to by com-

RIFLE CLUB TRYING FOR HIGH HONORS

G. G. Haslam and H. J. G. Rudolf Qualify as Sharpshooters in Trials.

Although, from an outsider's point of view, comparatively inactive, the Rifle Club has been busy during the past week in an effort to gain laurels for itself and the Institute. The shooting this week consisted of trials for qualifications as marksmen and sharpshooters under the specifications set down by the National Rifle Association.

J. E. Williams, '15, qualified as marksman with scores of 93 prone and 89 standing, out of a possible 100. Stewart, '15, also qualified for this honor, shooting standing with a score of 83. H. J. G. Rudolf and G. G. Haslam each met the requirements for sharpshooters, prone, with high scores of 96 out of 100. No men have qualified as sharpshooters in both standing and lying positions, but in the next few days further trials will be held at the range in the Armory on Columbus avenue. The Rifle Club hopes that all men wishing to try for either of these ratings will show up next Monday at four o'clock. As well as earning these honors, bronze and silver medals are given by the National Rifle Association to those who qualify.

Saturday afternoon the team will go out to Waltham to shoot at the Company F outdoor range. A match at long ranges has been arranged with M. A. C. on Saturday, May 4th. The Massachusetts Aggies' team was last year's intercollegiate champions and a good match is expected. Each team will be composed of six men, who will shoot at 200, 300 and 500 yard ranges.

breaking the only support she had herself.

He reminded the crowd of the importance of kind and unselfish acts, and closed, saying that the Christian Association by the weekly meetings help to enliven the periodical impulses that one has to do something for some one else, and make a man more likely to do what he feels he ought to do.

mittees, instead of being managed by a single individual, as was the case a few years ago.

Still more good advice—plan all your campaigns carefully; always be courteous; don't get angry—if you can't help it, at least cool off before you begin to talk. At the close of his talk Mr. Brush read a little poem that he particularly admires. You can get a pretty good idea of what it is like from the last two lines:

"It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts,—
The question is, 'How did you die?'"

This concluded the "harmless Brush discharge" predicted in the preliminary report. This interesting report—on the Gastronomic Motor—unfortunately can not be accommodated here. When Mr. Brush had finished it was found that he had been talking quite a long time, and a rising vote of thanks was given him for the speech, the length of which was not at all regretted.

The Chemical Society of the University of Illinois is planning to hold a dance which promises to be unique. The hall will be lighted by two large retorts covered with electric lights. The frappé, just before being served, will be treated with a few drops of liquid air, and so frozen in the cup which it is served.
