A. LAWRENCE ROTCH DIED YESTERDAY

Graduate of the Class of 1884
Succumbs to an Attack of Appendicitis.

Professor A. Lawrence Rotch, 1884, died at his home, 231 Commonwealth avenue, Sunday morning, at half-past eleven, at the age of fifty-one, of appendicitis, after only a week's illness.

He was born in Boston in 1861. His mother and father were Quakers and were among the few colonists that founded New Bedford. His grandfather was Abbot Lawrence, whom with others founded the city of Lawrence, a Boston merchant and for a time U. S. Minister to Great Britain. Professor Rotch was educated at the Chauncy Hall School and in Europe before his entrance to the Institute, in 1880, with the class of 1884. He received a B. S. degree in Course II, and in 1871 an A. M. from Harvard.

During his life he received many honors both in America and from Europe. He belonged to the International Jury of Awards at the Paris exposition, and was made a Chevalier in the Legion of Honor. In 1900 he published "The Founding of the Realm of the Air," and in 1902 he was given the Crown of the Third Order by the Emperor of Germany. More recently he published "The Conquest of the Air." In 1905 he received the Order of the Red Eagle in recognition of his exhaustive research concerning the atmosphere. For ten years he was an associate editor of the American Meteorological Journal.

Since 1906 he has been a professor of Meteorology at Harvard, and at the time of his death he was a director of the Blue Hill Meteorological Observatory at Hyde Park. He was also librarian of the American Academy of Arts and Science in Boston, and a trustee of the Boston Society of Natural History. Professor Rotch has been an active member of the Corporation of the Institute for over twenty years.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED.

Medford High Ball Team Wins a One-Sided Contest.

Twenty-one was the score by which the Freshmen were defeated by the crack Medford High School baseball team at Medford on Saturday. From the very beginning the game was one-sided and listless, and the Freshmen could only make one hit during the nine innings, while the home team received twenty-three. The fact that 1915 was able to get only one hit was the remarkable pitching of the two box holders, one of whom allowed one hit in five innings and making twelve strikeouts, and the other allowing no hits and making ten strikeouts in four innings. Scully played well for the Freshmen, and Fahey, Davidson and Early starred for Medford.

LEE SOPH CAPTAIN.

On the way to Highland, Saturday, C. S. Lee was elected captain of the Sophomore cross-country team. Lee ran on his class team in the distance events for the past two years, and last year he ran on the Varsity cross-country.

ATHLETIC MEET AT FIELD SATURDAY

Cross Country Taken by Sophs with 22 points Makes final Score 87 1-3--51 2-3; Wilkins and Guething Stars at Meet.

By winning both the track meet and cross-country race, the Sophomores again asserted their athletic supremacy over the Freshmen. The track meet was close, and it was only the new rule of adding the difference in the scores in the cross-country race to the winners' field tally that made the final record 87 1-3 to 51 2-3. The score of the track meet was 62 1-3 to 51 1-3. The Sophomores received 28 points in the cross-country race while the Freshmen piled up 50, thus giving the 1914 men credit for 22 points in the meet. The Freshmen showed up much better in numbers, the Sophomores being especially lacking in the distance events, all the men being needed to make a full cross-country team.

H. S. Wilkins, '14, had an easy time winning the 100-yard dash, leading J. H. Bolton, '14, by five yards at the tape. H. E. Hadley, '15, A. Crankshaw, '14, and J. Homan, '15, tied for third place. The mile run was easy for the Freshmen, and they took all three places, R. F. Pollard, S. W. Gurney and E. J. Kingsbury finishing in the order named.

The high jump brought out some close competition. L. S. Hall won first place with a leap of five feet, four and one-half inches. The quarter-mile was also close. T. H. Guething, '14, led nearly all the way around, but J. H. Bolton, '14, almost got him at the tape. H. Homan, '15, was a good third.

Guething and Homan starred again in the half-mile, getting first and second places, respectively. Gurney, '15, was the third man. The Freshmen showed up well in the field events, taking first and third in the broad jump, third in the hammer, first in the discus and second and third in the pole vault.

The cross-country race brought out many surprises. A. F. Nye, '14, took the lead at the start and held it all the way, except for about a half-mile, near the middle of the run, when C. S. Lee, '14, led. Both came onto the road at the foot of Larz Anderson's at the same time, and Nye reached the track only ten yards ahead of Lee. Nye kept this distance all the way around the track, and finished in 25 minutes, 41 and 2-5 seconds. L. Best, '15, and E. M. Newlin, '14, raced close together for the whole distance. Best just beat out the upper classman. The race for fifth place was between G. C. Shedd, '14, and A. Cook, '15, Shedd closely winning. D. Sutherland, '14, was another of the surprises, taking the next place after a desperate sprint with H. Washburn, '15, and C. R. Wilkins, '14.

The men finished in the following order: A. F. Nye, '14; C. S. Lee, '14; L. Best, '15; E. M. Newlin, '14; G. C. Shedd, '14; A. Cook, '15; D. Sutherland, '14; H. Washburn, '15; C. R. Wilkins, '14; F. J. Hall, '15; C. W. Love'I, '15; W. B. Spencer, '15; E. L. Magee, '15; M. E. Hill, '15; H. R. Bassett, '15; Currier, '14; D. G. Norton, '15; E. M.

Love'I, '15; W. Jennings, '15; P. C. Atwood, '14; C. T. Dunn, '15; J. A. Kelleher, '15; A. Brown, '15; W. H. Gabeler, '15.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by H. S. Wilkins, '14; J. H. Bolton, '14, second; A. Crankshaw, '14, H. E. Hadley, '15, and J. Homan, '15, tied for third place. Time: 10 3-5 sec.

CIVILS MAKING TIME OF IT IN NEW YORK

Letter from One of the Party
Contains News of Their Doings.

Evidently the members of the Civil Engineering Society, now in New York, are taking advantage of every opportunity to make their stay there a profitable one. A record of events is embodied in the letter received from one of the men, as follows:
To the Editor of THE TECH:

Dear Sir:—
I meant to keep you informed of the movements of the sight-seeing Civils, but my good intentions lagged after that first note. We have been literally on one continuous jump since our arrival, and everybody, from Professor Moore down to our genial little red-headed manager, Dave McGrath, has been so completely fagged out when we had completed the round each day that we have forgotten of the existence of Boston, Massachusetts, and wouldn't be able to tell whether THE TECH was a continuous girder or a blow-out valve.

Thursday noon we came from a morning's inspection of the Queensboro and Brooklyn Bridges to Technology Club on Grammercy Park, where Guy Shaffer, '10, chairman of the entertainment committee, had arranged a lunch for us at a nominal sum per. After lunch Mr. Shaffer piloted us to the new Woolworth Building, of which he is a member of the architectural force, and we looked it over from the foundations to the 26th floor, to which point the steel work is now completed. We thought we were up "some high" when we gazed over Manhattan from river to river, but the blame thing is to be 30 stories higher. Some building to grow out of 5c and 10c savings, eh? I forgot to mention that Butsey Bryant has at this point recovered his hat and pocketbook which he so carelessly left on the boat.

Cary refused to sit on a jutting girder on the 26th floor to have his picture taken. From the Woolworth Building we hiked to the recently completed (or rather not quite complete) Manhattan Bridge. This is a star and was adjudged by the inspecting party to be the handsomest of the four over the East River. Gustin and Hoyt had to wait for a special elevator to get down from the Woolworth Building, as the one we used had not been designed to carry the New England Pat Men's Club. As a consequence they were several laps behind at the bridge, and an obliging member of New York's Finest sent them over the bridge in a taxi. The party had

ATHLETICS.

The Freshman-Sophomore meet, held at the Field Saturday afternoon last, was successful from one point of view as a goodly number of men came to try their respective merits against those of their fellow schoolmates. The times and distances were very mediocre, which was only to be expected at this early period of the Spring season.

One fact was more than ever clear, however, and that was there must be much more talent lying hidden at the Institute. Now, why don't these men come out and help the school? We seem to be continually bringing this idea up before the men, and it ought not to be necessary. With a field and track like ours there can be no excuse for men not helping the Athletic Association more than they do.

You may question how we know that there is much athletic talent at the Institute, discovered and hidden. Well, we will tell you, that we know of instances where men have come out for athletics and on three or four weeks' training have entered for the New England Intercollegiate, and not only made good, but actually won events. Certain of these men are now around the school and claim they can't find time to go out to the Field and start in training. Now we don't advocate these men taking up sport at the expense of their work, but we have seen them loafing around the school in times when they might easily have been at the Field.

Then there is another side of the question: When men are training they should do it with their whole heart. It certainly means self-sacrifice for a while, but the fact that a man is helping his school should be sufficient to cause him to undergo this without demurring.

On Saturday, at the Field, we noticed a man in running costume practicing jumping, and at the same time smoking a cigarette. At any other school this man would have received a very unpleasant time of it; but here at Technology the scarcity of material ties our hands and we cannot afford to find fault or have unpleasant scenes with the men who do come out. The above-mentioned act, however, was a disgrace to the school, and the man's innate decency and refinement, which we will give him the credit of possessing, should have dictated to him the enormity of his action.

SPIKES

Harvard, Yale and Penn have started Squash Tennis Clubs, and there is a chance for an intercollegiate tournament. This should be a form of winter exercise that Tech men could take up with advantage.

Harvard always gets more men out for the Freshman crew than for the Varsity, though there were more than fifty out for the latter this year. At the end of last week this squad was cut to four boats, and will finally be cut to only two before the class races in May.

Baseball at Boston College will be dropped this year at least, because of the lack of a field to play upon. This has caused a lot of disappointment among the undergraduates because the prospects for the team for this year were exceptionally bright.

The new Pilgrim Athletic Association which will have its headquarters in the Arena, will be a big success, judging from the great number of applications for membership which have already come in. The club will support all branches of sport.

The inter-fraternity baseball teams at Brown have been organized. The games start at six in the morning, and the players are sometimes seen running around the bases in their pajamas.

As an inducement for the larger use of the gymnasium, the students at the Washington University have been given the use of the lockers free for this year. Only a deposit on the key is required.

Johnny Hayes, who won the Marathon in the last Olympics, has entered the International Marathon to be held in London this spring. Dorando, whom he beat out for first place, will also run.

The B. A. A. Marathon promises to be a bigger success this year than ever. It will be a tryout for the Olympic candidates, and for that reason there will be a record entry list. It is stated that Clarence DeMar may not run, as he will not have to in order to be picked for the Olympics. He has already been chosen to go to Sweden.

CATHOLIC CLUB TEA.

To Be Held in the Brunswick, April 18, After the Show.

The Technology Catholic Club has planned to give a tea in the Brunswick Hotel on April 18. It will be held immediately after the Thursday performance of "Castles in Spain," and will furnish an opportunity for the members to spend a very enjoyable afternoon and evening together. The officers have put forth every effort to make this affair a success. Mrs. James M. Morrison has consented to act as matron.

During the last few days representatives of the Westinghouse Company have been interviewing the Seniors of Course VI. about employment after graduation.

The Glee Club of Oberlin College, Ohio, last Wednesday night had to sleep in a trolley car on the road from Sandusky to Oberlin. Two of the men sprinted eight miles to the railroad, and just missed the only train that could get them to the college on time.

DR. TUFTS SECURED TO SPEAK THURSDAY

T. C. A. Plans For a Most Interesting Speaker and Subject in Union.

The T. C. A. has secured for Thursday's speaker in the Union Dr. Tufts, a very energetic and forceful man, who will speak on an equally energetic and forceful subject, "The Man Behind the Gun." Dr. Tufts is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church on Columbus avenue, a man of wide renown and experience. His work commenced in the West, where he was active in dealing with men and their problems. His activity there brought him an enviable reputation, and he was invited to come to Boston to take charge of the First Presbyterian Church. From a weakling in theological circles, Dr. Tufts has developed his church until now it is a power and a stronghold in both social and religious activities.

CIVILS' TRIP.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4.) dwindled to ten from the thirty that dined at the club. Salibi succumbed at noon and went to bed, and even Professor Moore was not dancing the jigs he did earlier in the day at the Queensboro. Tomlinson tried to figure the height above water by dropping a penny over and timing its descent. He got 480 feet. It turned out later he had used $f=My$ instead of $S=gt^2$ or whatever it is.

Yesterday we took a 7.40 train out of the Grand Central for Croton-on-Hudson. It proved too early for sixteen of the bunch and they lost the train. Dropped off at Bryn Mawr Park to view the siphon on the lowest point of the Aqueduct line, and the train in which we resumed our journey contained the missing sixteen. At Elmsford, where a long stretch of cut-and-cover work and an interesting tunnel section are in progress we were taken in tow by six engineers of the New York Board of Water Supply, A. L. Sherman, '06, and Pickersgill, '05. After chiding us over the section on a little time schedule that they had planned, they entertained us royally with a grand grub layout at the engineer's office. Then to Croton and the six-mile hike to the Dam and back. What a tired bunch. Everyone now off to the theatre, so good-night!

Yours respectfully,
H. I. Pearl.

LACROSSE AT HARVARD.

Prospects For a Championship Team Are Promising.

With nine men back from last year's championship team, Harvard's chances for leading the Northern division of the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse League of America seem promising. There were about sixty candidates on the squad during Fall practice, and about one hundred men have responded to the first call for men this Spring.

The interest in this game among other colleges is not very great, but this year it has been taken up by Dartmouth and Amherst, and Harvard will probably play them if they develop teams of any merit. Besides its regular home games the Varsity squad takes a trip to the South during the Easter vacation, spending almost a week in Baltimore. The management also has under consideration a trip to New York later in the season.

The Chemical Society intends to hold a meeting about the middle of April. It expects to secure several men to speak on chemical topics but no definite plans have as yet been made. The society will hold a business meeting early next week, at which detailed plans will be considered.
