FRESHMEN DEFEATED.

Medford High Ball Team Wins a One-Sided Contest.

Twenty-one was the score by which the Freshmen were defeated by the crack Medford High School baseball team at Medford on Saturday. From the very beginning the game was one-sided and listless, and the Freshmen could only make one hit during the nine innings, while the home team counted nine. The Freshmen, however, were among the few colonists that were not overgrown with the stitches of the medusa's tentacles.

Harvard, Yale and Penn have started Squash Tennis Clubs, and there is a chance for an Intercollegiate tournament. This should be a form of winter exercise that Tech men could take up with advantage.

Harvard always gets more men out for the Freshman crew than for the Varsity, though there were more than fifty out for the latter this year. At the end of last week this squad was cut to four boats, and will finally be cut to only two before the class races in May.

Baseball at Boston College will be dropped this year at least, because of the lack of a field to play upon. This has caused a lot of disappointment among the undergraduates because the prospects for the team this year were exceptionally bright.

The new Pilgrim Athletic Association which will have its headquarters in the Arena, will be a big success judging from the great number of applications for membership which have already come in. The club will support all branches of sport.

The inter-fraternity baseball teams at Brown have been organized. The games start at six in the morning, and the players are sometimes seen running around the bases in their pajamas.

As an inducement for the larger use of the gymnastic, the students at the Washington University have been given the use of the lockers free for that year. Only a deposit on the key is required.

Johnny Hayes, who won the Marathon in the last Olympics, has entered the International Marathon to be held in London this spring. Dorando, whom he beat out for first place, will also run.

The R. A. A. Marathon promises to be a bigger success this year than ever. It will be a tryout for the Olympic candidates, and for that reason there will be a second entry list. It is stated that Clarence DeMar may not run, as he will not have to order to be picked for the Olympics. He has already been chosen to go to Sweden.
