1915 HOLDS 1913 TO NO SCORE TIE

The Heroes of Last Field Day
Still Show Some of Their Old Form.

Only a small crowd gathered at the Field Thursday morning to see the opening game between the Freshmen and the Sophomores. The Freshmen扮演 a no-score game. MORRISON OF 1913 started the game with a long kick, but the Sophomore team ran back the ball to Goff for 30 yards. With a slight curve for 1500 feet, opposite Main and Ames streets, it extending from Massachusetts avenue to the Charles River. It is a tract of land very nearly ideal.

The Leather Exposition Building. The Main and Ames streets. It extending from Massachusetts avenue and the fact that these streets are herest, Claflin and Bradford streets, to and far enough from Boston to be left is a very admirable one. The level and capable of being developed greatly increased. The land is all ring to the map on the third page of vol.

SITUATION OF THE NEW SITE.

The selection of the Cambridge site by the committee to which the choice was left is an admirable one. The new site is accessible to all, sufficiently large, and just near enough to enable enough to those from Boston to be very nearly ideal.

It is located just across the Harvard bridge in Cambridge, facing the Charles River. It is a tract of land containing 1,904,706 square feet, extending from Massachusetts avenue along the Charles River Basin for about 1800 feet, reaching back as far as the Boston and Albany Railroad, Main and Ams streets. It extends along Massachusetts avenue in a slight curve for 1500 feet opposite the Riverbank Hotel and the vacant land adjoining it.

The property adjoining the Shoe and Leather Exhibition Building. The station of the new Cambridge Subway is close to the Main street border, and thus the accessibility is greatly increased. The land is all level and capable of being developed with exposure to light everywhere.

An interesting coincidence in connection with the new site is the fact that the property includes Vassar, Radcliffe, Wellesley, Princeton, Amherst, Clifton and Bradford streets.

ARCHITECTS HOLD THEIR FIRST MEETING

CATHOLIC CLUB

The first meeting of the Architectural Society, held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Nothing of a professional nature was discussed as the meeting was called merely for the making of plans for the coming year and the nomination and election of new men. The large list of office- And the Civil Engineering Society has arranged a long list of interesting talks, and with the plans for this year there will be no doubt that the society will have as successful a year as last.

The Fine Weather and Chance For Exercise Enticed Out Twenty-Five Men.

A flyy pack of twenty-five hounds chased the fleet hares yesterdays over the hills—not the Tech course, and wound up with a farewell Lap around the track at the field. With the combination of the excellent weather, the large bunch of runners and Nereus "caving" as a good substitute for the mud, the end result of the running of the hounds, the run was a most successfull Coach Nanny was especially gratified at the appearance of several new men, and hopes that further signs of increasing interest will be shown.

After the hares had been sent off with several minutes' start, soon followed by the slower division of the pack, the fine hound run started in the highland. The course was in excellent condition and no flying machine was needed to get over the brook, although it was possible to get over it.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB MEETING TOMORROW

Saturday evening the Cosmopolitan Club will hold its meeting of the year in the Union. To this meeting are invited all foreign students and such American students as are interested in the purposes and doings of the club. The meeting is informal, and refreshments will be served.

President Marzewski will be present to address the meeting, as also Mr. M. N. Drexel, A. Q. C., Superintendent of Lion, Tare, and Const. J. Beltram of Mexico. These men should provide a very interesting program, and as a string quartet from the orchestra will provide music, the evening will be very pleasant.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1911

We notice in a recent issue of the Worcester Polytechnic Daily Publication an editorial referring to the same decision of the Sophomore class at M. I. T. in refusing from an official class demonstration against the entering class. The paper held up the action at the Institute as a model to be followed by those at that institution, and advised the Sophs there to follow suit. We do away with the rough part and advised the Sophs there to follow suit. We do away with the rough part and advised the Sophs there to follow suit.

The Editorial Board of THE TECH wish to announce that the first election of new men to the News Staff will take place about the first of December, and in order that everyone who desires to be a candidate at that time be given a chance to get enough points to be eligible for the position, it is necessary that all interested centers with those in charge at once. Even the most competent editors will be in the Upper Office between 8:30 and 9:00, between 1 and 2:00, and between 4 and 6:00. Call around and talk the matter over with them at any of these hours.

DEVELOPMENTS IN TURKO-ITALIAN WAR.

Since time out of mind the terrible Turk has had a reputation for being a naked savage. Since Scherersade and the thunders and one he has maintained his reputation, steadily and unerringly, and when the opportunity has arisen he has improved it. He is like the little Japanese toy with whom the children play; he always stands on one end, and that end is optimism. Yes, he will hold the toy down but you cannot make it stay down; it will bob up again into its previous position as soon as you let go. The phenomenon of the toy is due to the low position of its center of gravity, and due to it is with the Turk. His head ground fantastic notions at times incostantly assume the proportions of determination. We of the West find it difficult to recognize connections between this satisfaction in what fate may be determining — so we call it ambivalence.

There is a little seaport in Arabia called Hodeida, which is fortunate enough to have a fort. Last Friday an Italian cruiser was browsing about near-by, protecting the Italian commerce in the Red Sea, and the fort opened fire upon it. Their guns were not modern and they did not succeed in shooting even as far as the cruiser. The cruiser returned the shots "with good effect." Now we can hardly believe that the shore fortresses must have recognized its inability to do any serious harm to the Italian man-of-war; we therefore give it credit for exhibiting admirable sportsmanlike conduct. "It is a peculiar thing," says the moralist, "that the under dog is the one which gets the sympathy."

The Italians have finally captured Tripoli, and this is the first time in its history that the city has ever been besieged. The Turkish soldiers have buried the Turkish dead and revered the bodies of their fallen. They preferred death to surrender. Twenty wounded Turks have been placed in hospital wards of the Italian hospitals. This is very creditable. It is a triumph of our modern civilization that the victor treats so well his defeated enemy. The Italians are to be praised for it.

Like as not, next summer or the winter after, some English tourist, wandering listlessly about Tripoli and sightily dragging at his trusty bull-dogpite, will happen upon these graves and murmur to himself: "I sometimes think that never bloomed the rose as where some buried Cesar died." Such is life.

ENTERTAINMENT OF THE YEAR.

HOOK NIGHT PLANNED FOR OCTOBER 27

Entries Now Open for the First Entertainment of the Year
By Student Talent

The Entertainment Committee is already at work this year, and plans are now being formulated for the first entertainment. The committee, consisting of the customary inaugurated and tried list of the committee does not plan to have weekly entertainments and will run only a few first class Friday evening meetings. The first of these will be a Hook night for amateur talent. For this event the committee has the support of the successful night three years ago, and the doubly successful event of last year.

To date, only rough plans have been made, but the committee desires to appeal to the students now to prepare skits for Friday, October 17, two weeks from today. The time is long enough to set the Institute on its winter books to participate in giving ambitious and outstanding opportunity to arrange their ideas for a turn. P. H. Ackerman, 1918, is chairman of the committee, and, being on last year's committee, he is well qualified to run a Hook Night. Since this is the first entertainment of the year, it will be a successful one, and if the men will only turn out as they did last year there is no reason why this wish should not be gratified. All men should save this evening to attend, whether they intend to do a stunt or not, and, by planning ahead and proper arrangement of work, all men should be able to come out.

The only bar to the financial success of the Union last week were a few broken butter plates.

BIG SENIOR DINNER
THIS EVENING

This evening, at 6:30, a festive crowd of merry-making Seniors will assemble at the Union to celebrate the first dinner of the year. All sorts of good things in the eating line are hinted at, and they also say that some of the members of the class are running around with a terrible wise look on their faces, and with no more adequate explanation than that they are bound for that Senior dinner at the Union. Unfortunately the boxes in which the cigarettes come are not furnished free, and to cover the expense of these and several other such trifles a tax of fifty cents will have to be levied on the Seniors attending.

The committee in charge announce an all-star list of speakers, consisting of Dean Furman, Professor Blockstein and others. The occasion will surely be overflowing with mirth, and it is the firm expectation that the Union will likewise be overflowing with Seniors.

The largest number of students thus far reported in America is enrolled at Columbia. Exact figures have not been given as yet, but the total of those who have matriculated will reach over eight thousand. Yale, Harvard and Michigan have an increase in numbers this year.
