The new student, many miles from his home, often has to ride or walk to the Institute, to whom he has been a friend, almost a father, and who has been a guide and a friend to every student at the Institute for many years. I have always been strongly against such a move, and I am to accommodate any reasonable growth of the Institute for years to come. It is remarkable how much can be accomplished by the New Cambridge Satellite, and it seems hardly possible in view of the possibility of being able to exchange courses with our Cambridge home. However, this is a precautionary measure, and it seems to me that there will be something permanent and satisfactory improvement to come.

AERO CLUB PLANS
First Meeting Meeting Monday, Oct. 16, 4 O’clock at the Union.

After the successful work of last year, the Engineering Gymnastic Club of the Aeronautical Societies has decided to continue its organization this term. The activities of the club will probably be carried on along slightly different lines than those followed up to the present. Three classes directly connected with aeronautical work are new and interesting, and it will be the primary purpose of the club to bring together and unify these classes, as well as to have informal talks prepared on them. The club will also adopt for discussion the entire membership to prepare papers on topics that interest in aeronautical research may be stimulated. All correspondence to the club should be addressed to the Aero Club Engineering Committee, Cage.
