WORK ON TECHNIQUE

Opportunity For Men Who Can Draw Well To Make Full Page Cuts.

The work on Technique, 1912, is progress¬
ing rapidly and all departments are busy.
There are twelve departments and an editor at the head of each. In the most of this work each editor takes care entirely of his special depart¬ ment, but there are several branches where extra work is necessary, and in each case assistants are chosen by the board. This has taken the form of a full time department arrangement, but there still remain two positions on the board to be filled by men who are members of the class of 1913. These positions are on the business side and this is one of the most important departments on the Technique board. In fact the work done on this department is one of the most important causes of the success of the whole paper. For instance, during the past year there have been many contributions to this department by men of the staff, and the board wishes to ask men in all the classes to the Art Editor, B. H. North, and arrange to do something in this line.

GRINDS!!! Have YOU turned in any? If you have not, you should be busy at once and do your share in making the Grind Department flourish. These are the original and amusing. This is one branch of the work which cannot help but increase in interest. This depart¬ ment must be contributed by outside men. There have only been a few Grinds received, and everyone should get busy and use his imagina¬ tion in good advantage. These are placed in all the main buildings to receive contributions, and it is easy to cut them out, and it will not take very little trouble on your part. All efforts will be highly appreciated.

Some class to the way that the Harvard football team has come up in the last few weeks.

There is a great difference between the way one man can draw and some others. Some work and some labor.

PROF. C. M. SPOFFORD
HEAD OF DEPARTMENT

Graduate of Eighteen Years Ago
Becomes Officer in the Faculty.

President Maclean announced this morning the action of the Executive Committee in the appointment of Pro¬ fessor C. M. Spofford to be head of the Chemistry Department. This was unanimously accepted by the board.

The president also announced the appointment of Professor C. M. Spofford
as head of the department in this year.

The department has been very successful this year, and the board feels that the proper person has been appointed to head it.

The department is now in a very successful position, and the board

CHEMICAL SOCIETY

HOLDS FIRST DINNER

Professors Talbot and Fay Principal Speakers—Nine Members Present.

The Chemical Society held its first dinner and meeting last evening. The atmosphere was filled with the results of the recent college
elections, and there was a large attendance.

The President opened the meeting
with a statement concerning the organization and aims of the society.

He introduced Dr. Henry Talbot,
professor of chemistry, and A. M.
Chemistry, as the first speaker. To Dr. Talbot the members owe the real formation and development of the society; indeed he is well known in the Chemical Engineering Society.

Dr. Talbot mentioned the common place statistic that this society has succeeded in raising the standards of education in the field of chemistry and that the members are now more actively engaged in the work of the society.

The President then introduced the members of the society.

The meeting adjourned.

TECH CLUB SMOKER.

Professor Morse of Salem Speaks On Mars.

The first smoke talk of the year was given at the Technology Club last evening by Professor Edward S. Morse, Director of the Peabody Museum at Salem, and was greatly enjoyed by the thirty men present. Professor Morse's subject was Mars, and proved to be most interesting. He recalled principally his observations made while in Arizona with Professor Lowell, and outlined the methods employed for making observations and recording what has been seen.

He said that at first when one begins to look through the telescope it is impossible to see anything but a round ball, in appearance somewhat like the moon, but of the color of milk-white. That after several evenings of concentrated study one can detect long lines where there is a tendency to take shape and then disappear. These lines are recorded in circles placed in sheets of paper and each evening of observation has revealed the same lines, the existence of a channel or a canal, which these lines are supposed to represent, becomes a fairly well established fact.

He stated that he was assured that the canals or channels were artificial, not necessarily the work of man as we know him, but of some unknown creature who very probably was of a higher type physically than the inhabitants of the earth.

Professor Morse spent practically all of his time in Arizona, and his return to the Institute was due to a lack of a sufficient number of students.

Professor Morse of Salem Speaks On Mars.

The Entertainment Committee have been obliged to call off the Hook Night which was to have been held Friday evening of this week. This man, returning to Tech as assistant in the Civil Department in 1896, was preceded by six years as instructor in sanitary engineering; established 17 years ago.

THE T. C. A. NEEDS MEN FOR ITS WORK

A large majority of the men who filled the census cards of the T. C. A. at the beginning of the term were "Yes" in answer to the last question, "Do you want to form some new organization in the T. C. A. work?"

The Association is taking it for granted that every member will attend the meeting in the aft-mid winter in Boston, because it appears that about half the members are already registered for it. There is no reason to believe that any of the members will fail to attend the meeting.

The Association takes this method of appealing to the largest number.

The Technology Christian Association is starting a campaign for new members. That is one definite change for each man to redeem his pledge.

It may fairly be asked: just what membership in the Association means. It means primarily that a man believes in the Christian life here at Technology and wants to help strengthen the organization that stands for the best things in the Institution. Every man who was conscientiously able to pledge card should do so and thus become a member of the Association.

The Association is not seeking merely an increase in numbers, but a short list of men who are in earnest, who are willing to do more than a long list of nominal members. Various opportunities are offered to make membership count. There are more opportunities for social service than there are men to take advantage of these. Everyone who agrees should be remembered that in doing such work a man often helps himself as much as the man with whom he works. Bible study is being carried on by the Association. There are places to be filled on the regular committees and special committees from time to time which will call for intelligent men. These are taught changes to help.

If a man finds it impossible to take part in any of the above-mentioned forms of work, there are still the Thursday night meetings, and nearly every man can arrange to attend at least some of these. By doing so he is helping to make these meetings a joy to the Institute and at the same time is deriving practical benefit himself.

But then is the man wise, for some reason finds it impossible to attend these Thursday meetings, to be deferred from membership in the Christian Association? Not if he is sincerely striving to live the Christian life here in the Institute. He is needful in the Association and he in turn needs the help that will come from fellowship with other men who have similar ideals.

It should be remembered that the Association makes absolutely no distinction as to church membership, sect or creed. It is broad enough to include all who sincerely believe in right living. A careful reading of the pledge will convince all of that fact. To all such the Association appears to join, and help make it a powerful factor in the life at the Institute.

The total membership last year was forty-five. Of these only twenty-seven returned to form the nucleus of this year's membership. Up to date forty-seven new members have been added, making a total of seventy-four. In a total enrollment of fifteen hundred men the T. C. A. list should be many times larger.

The secretary is in the office, Room 6, Eng. B, regularly from 10 to 12,50 o'clock. Membership cards can be signed there during these hours or at any other hour.
