Although the Sophomores are depending on their good showing in the Interclass meet to win the meet next Saturday, the Freshmen have been putting in some strenuous practice and are sure to spring some surprises on the Sophs. The 1915 men have shown much more interest in track and already have a meet arranged with Lowell High at Lowell.

The Sophomores should win the meet in spite of the efforts of the lower classes. Whether or not are two sure winners in the dash, and the Freshmen will be lucky to get a third place. The first two places for the quarter-mile will also undoubtedly go to the Sophomores. Union and Guesting have shown themselves to be faster than any of the other men in this run.

Nye and Sheld are the fastest half-mile men in the Sophomore class, and Spencer is the only Freshman who can keep in the company. He has a chance to get on the team.

The architets of the Class of 1903 have been given the job of putting in some strenuous practice. By next Saturday, the Frank A. Borne, 1895, Tel of European City Planning.

Mr. Long to Talk Before Joint Meeting of Civils and Electricals.

The joint meeting of the Civil and Electrical Engineering Societies which was postponed last term on account of storms, is to be held Friday evening in the Union. The talk on "The Proposed Belt Line for Boston," which Mr. Henry C. Long is to give as a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar, for he is an originator of the plan. Mr. Long was also an advocate of the Boston Port Bill which secured improvements as important as this plan outlines.

Mr. Long's idea is to have a belt line starting at one side of the harbor, and almost completely encircling the city at a ten-mile radius, at which distance it will pass through many of the surrounding towns. By establishing an extensive system of ferry connections, this line will greatly reduce the time taken to get from one suburb to another. Even if this line is not used for carrying freight, it will be a great factor in aiding the development of the towns surrounding Boston. Within a year a plan similar to this has been put in operation in Cleveland, and has proved very successful. Systems like these have been working successfully for years in Berlin and some other foreign cities, and Mr. Long's plan cannot be said to be an experiment.

DEATH OF GREELEY, '76.

Loss of an Institute Graduate Greatly Felt in Chicago.

The death of Mr. Frederick Greeley, '76, of Chicago, means a great loss to the various civic organizations of Chicago, especially to the City Plan Commission, of which he was secretary, and to the City Club, of which he was an indefatigable member. He was also a member of the Special Parks Commission, the playground organizations, and all other committees. Mr. Greeley demonstrated unusual capacity for sincere devotion and thoughtful constructive work; his whole life was devoted to the heart of those activities by which our ways are made; his ideas and our children's lives more free. He will be missed not only by his friends, and the great city where he made his home, but his loss will be felt the country over.

Amount of Care and Time. In addition to this the business department attends to the drawing up and signing of all contracts, the hiring of the coach, the renting of the theatre, the arranging of trips, and many other items. Work in the business department has been under way now for nearly a month, and has started with a rush. Advertisements are coming in with a rate which already spells trouble for the show in a financial way; negotiations are being made for a trip to Northampton, and indications point to the fact that under the direction of Wash, the business department is going to have a most magnificent, AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION.

Mr. Adolph B. Lunden, scientific officer of the University of California, is also on the trip to Northampton. He has been working with the students on the football game, which will take place this afternoon.

places, and it is remarkable to see what wonderful results have been obtained in the very few number of years that they have been under consideration.

Slides taken from the houses of both London and Paris were shown, with their excellently planned and beautified streets and squares. A sharp contrast was drawn when several pictures from American cities were shown, with no apparent thought for the beauty of the general appearance of a long street, or any means of breaking the monotony of its sameness.

The cities of Belgium and Germany were then considered and the great advantages of using the water-trenches for both pleasure and business purposes by means of raising the parks and driveways to the general level of the streets and keeping the basins and traffic of the wharves on a level much nearer the surface of the water were made clear. With this unique idea neither the use of the water-front as a business place is lost, nor the charm of having parks and drives near the water.

Mr. Borne's talk was of great value in giving the view, as well as an economic, and the men were all able to see in brief what great advances have been made.
