

TUG-OF-WAR VICTORY AGAIN GOES TO 1915

Only Two Short Pulls Necessary to Give Victory to Sophomores.

At exactly 2.39, the Freshman tug-of-war team trotted out on the Field amid cheers of the rooters. They immediately went to their places opposite the grandstand and stood ready for the gun that would start the twelfth Field Day. The entire team was clad in light grey jerseys and dark trousers, and the counter had a class pennant slung over his shoulders. The Sophomores went quietly to their positions with the air split with the cheers of their classmates. They were also clad in grey jerseys. After a few moments of manoeuvring on the part of the official in charge to get the yellow ribbon in the exact center of the thirty-foot space, the gun was fired. At the gun the experienced Sophs easily got the all-important drop on the Freshmen and the team began to gather momentum. The new men were soon pulled off their feet and began to slide toward the post marker. Immediately after a desperate exertion of strength on their part, which was in vain, the signal was fired and the teams ran into the house to rest. The Sophomores in the stands went wild. The time was the fastest in the history of Field Day by many seconds, being 23.45 seconds.

After the first half of the football game and the relay race the teams again came on the Field for the second pull. This time the Sophomores occupied the position opposite the grandstand. At 3.47 the fifty men were lined up against the rope and fifteen seconds later the gun was fired. The Sophomores, ready then and there to establish the result of Field Day, put their exertions into the first drop, but the Freshman team were there with an equal reaction, and the position scarcely changed. Then the superior weight of the Sophomores gave them the advantage, and the Freshmen once more slid toward the marker. The Freshmen realizing that here lay the chance to win Field Day, counted well and pulled strong together. The movement stopped and they actually had the Sophs on the move. The Sophomores were pulling excellently and with almost perfect form. The result was inevitable. The Freshmen soon lost their stroke and began to slide slowly. The rain of the night before 1916 NOMINATIONS.

Papers Signed by Ten Men Are Due Saturday, November 16.

On Saturday, November 9, the nominations for the officers of the class of 1916 will be opened. All nominations must be signed by at least ten men, otherwise the nomination is invalid. The papers must be addressed to the Ballot Committee of the Class of 1916. Names will not be accepted after 4 o'clock on Saturday, November 16, and must be handed in at the Cage. Late nominations will positively not be accepted.

The officers to be elected are President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and two men each for the Executive and Institute Committees, and two to the Athletic Association.

THREE GOALS MADE IN FOOTBALL GAME

Sophomores Win Game With Score of Twenty to Nothing—Murphy Hurt.

The football game was probably contested with more vigor than any other event of the day. When the two teams appeared on the Field it was difficult to choose a winner, from the manner in which the two elevens went through their preliminary practice. If anything, the Sophomores ruled a slight favorite. Their playing seemed snappier than that of the Freshmen, and their backfield showed more to advantage than that of their opponents. The two lines, however, seemed about equally matched, and subsequently during the course of the game the showing made by them bore out this fact.

When the two teams lined up for the kickoff all the men were in the pink of condition with the exception of Scully, the Sophomore captain, who got out of a sick bed to play in the game. He started but soon had to withdraw; however, he went in in the second half and played a star game. During the first half of the game the Sophs seemed to feel the loss of their star leader, but with his return they took a brace and it was during this half that all the scoring was made. Morse and O'Brien were easily the stars of the game; the latter made consistent gains through the line, while the former circled the ends for long gains and played the whole game in the last quarter. The Freshmen played a strong defensive game, but their offensive play was weak with but few exceptions, when they threatened to march down the field for a touchdown. Murphy, Leeper and Maier excelled for the Freshmen, and the plucky quarterback kept in the game until he was injured too badly to play further.

The Sophomores kicked off to Jewett, the Freshmen's right tackle. The Freshmen immediately resorted to line bucking, which was futile, however, and they were forced to punt. The Sophomores dropped the ball, and during the scramble that followed both Murphy and Scully, the respective quarterbacks of the two teams, received wounds of a similar nature. Scully was kicked over the left eye and Murphy was kicked over his right eye. The wound of the latter proved to be the most serious. The pluck and nerve exhibited by Murphy, with blood streaming down his face and at times almost blinding him, gave rise to a great deal of appreciation from both spectators and players.

During this quarter both the Freshmen and the Sophomores tried straight line plunging, and with the exception of one or two brilliant exhibitions by the former, little ground was gained. Both sides were obliged to punt frequently and both teams worked it to their advantage. Scully went out during the last part of the

BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

There has been some misunderstanding among the members of the Biological Society as to the matter of dues which the Treasurer would like to straighten out. The dues are $1.00 per year, instead of 50 cents per month, as some have understood.

SOPHOMORES CAPTURE RELAY IN HARD FIGHT

Exciting Finish Feature of Day—Winners Make Close to Record Time.

In one of the best relay races ever run on a Field Day, the Sophomores triumphed. The time was 4 minutes, 57.45 seconds, and was only two-fifths of a second behind the record Adams, the last man on the Freshman team, was only beaten by one yard. Up to the very last second, which team would be the winning one, was in doubt. The lead alternated between the two teams during the entire race, making the excitement great.

At the start Barry cut in before Tapley, who had the pole, and by hard running got a lead of five yards. Owing to a slight delay in passing between Barry and Spencer, and the superior running of Loomis, a slight lead went to the Freshmen. Page and Clark ran evenly, neither seeming to get the better of the other. Thomas passed Goldstein during their heat, giving the Sophomores a two-yard lead. Callahan and Alt were evenly matched and could not outdistance each other. Comiskey did not show his usual form and lost six yards to Lawrence. Dean, the Brookline High School runner, came back strong for the Freshmen. At first it seemed as if Kingsbury was going to get the better of him, but towards the end Dean picked up and cut out Kingsbury's lead down to six yards. Baker kept up the lead that Kingsbury gave him, but was not able to gain on Lieber. Homan ran strong against Kittredge and gained two yards during the heat. Smith rather surpassed expectations and gained two yards on Hine, who was one of the fastest men on the Freshman team in the time trials.

The excitement increased as the last lap was run. Reed ran surprisingly well in the first heat of the final lap. Teeson had an eight yard lead given to him by Smith, but was unable to hold it. Reed decreased the distance between himself and Teeson to about two yards. The real fight of the race came between Adams and Curtis, the two captains. Curtis, with the three-yard lead which was given him, took the pole. Adams followed just behind him, gradually decreasing Curtis's lead. On the turn, just before the straightaway, Adams made an effort to pass around Curtis, but was unable to do so. Curtis holding the pole. In the final dash up the straightaway the men ran almost even. Curtis gained almost imperceptibly during the last few yards, finishing about a yard ahead of Adams.

INTERESTING TALK ON PASTEURIZATION

Biologicals Hear Prof. Rosenau Describe the Methods Used By Large Concerns.

Thirty members of the Biological Society listened to an interesting talk on "The Pasteurization of Milk in Large Quantities" by M. J. Rosenau, Thursday afternoon, in 11 Eng. B. He described in detail the methods now adopted by large concerns to rid their milk of contagious germs.

He said typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria and septic sore throat can be killed off by heat. This can be accomplished by heating the milk to sixty degrees for twenty minutes, which is not so easy as it may sound. There are three methods used to accomplish this: the flash method, the holding method, and by heating in the "final container." In the first case the milk is heated by allowing it to flow over steam heated pipes. In the container method the milk is heated as above, and then allowed to remain in the bottom of a container with a steam coil. In the third method the milk is heated in the bottle just as it is ready for final distribution, which is considered by far the best. The cream has to be treated in a different manner because it is rich in bacteria.

Professor Sedgwick closed the meeting by giving a resumé of Professor Rosenau's career as a director of the government bureau of public health. He also touched on the advantages of Boston's having so great a man who is doing such good work.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Brett Elected Undergraduate Secretary to Fill Vacancy.

The Finance Committee held the second monthly meeting last night from 6.30 till 10 in the Union. All but nine of the members were present. After a dinner the members listened to the reading of last month's report. This was corrected and accepted, and then Peck read a letter of resignation from Weeks, the student secretary. This was accepted, and Brett was elected undergraduate secretary of the Committee for the coming year.

Then Dunn read the report of the Committee on Printing. After considerable discussion it was decided to take no definite action at the present time.

Then followed a long and very thorough discussion of the financial standing of the Athletic Association. This was found to be much worse than had previously been expected, and it was decided to take up the matter with the student body in the near future.

Babcock reported for the committee on standard vouchers, and this report, after considerable discussion, was laid on the table until next meeting, which comes December 5.

Measures are being taken at the University of North Carolina to stamp out hazing. The action results from the death of a student who fell and cut an artery while being hazed.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1912

With the close of the twelfth Field Day, which gives supremacy to the Sophomores, and at the same time a victory for two succeeding years to the fourth class, we have witnessed a sweeping victory, but none the less hard fought.

We sincerely congratulate the men of all six teams for their good work in the three events, to those who were among the winning teams for their greater skill, as a result, perhaps, of their longer experience, and to the losing teams for their good spirit and lasting energy, which never wavered through any of the losing struggles.

Let the men of 1915 now enjoy to the fullest extent their well earned laurels, remembering always that circumstances might have given them not so great success. Let the men of 1916 look well to the future and resolve to win next year's Field Day with a will and desire that can only result in victory.

FOOTBALL GAME.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2.) first period and the team showed the effects of his absence by rather different play. The Freshmen had a slight advantage over the Sophomores in the first quarter, which ended with the ball on the Sophomores' 50-yard line.

The second quarter was even, but it marked a change of tactics for the Freshmen. They tried the first forward pass of the game, which was, however, unsuccessful. Repeated line punting towards the end of the quarter enabled them to make first down three times in quick succession. The period ended with a series of punts by both sides, and when the whistle blew the ball was the Sophomores' ball on their own 45-yard line.

The third quarter started with Scully back at quarter, and after the first kickoff the Freshmen failed to make the distance and were forced to punt. The play of the Sophomores reverted to open style and they started after the Freshmen like a flash. Morse, on an attempted punting formation, threw the ball to Scully, who had broken through the center of the Freshman line, and the latter started down the field like a shot. There were only two men who stood between him and the goal line. He dodged the first rather cleverly, and the second made a diving tackle on the five-yard line, but Scully continued on for a few seconds more and was finally downed on the one-yard line. Two line plungers were necessary to make the distance, and Whiting was the man to carry the ball over for the first down of the game. O'Brien easily kicked the goal. This seemed

On receiving it he will rise, give his name, class and home town, and then it is passed along to the next one, the cup not touching the table at all. The badges for physical improvement will also be presented to the Sophomores winning them last year. It is a great privilege to be able to attend this dinner, and therefore exclusive to contestants and officials of Field Day, and winners of the prizes for physical

SIR RAMSAY'S DOUBLE.

Peculiar Situation Caused By Like Names of Noted Men.

Sir William Ramsay, the great scientist, who gave a very interesting lecture at the Convocation on his latest hobby, a universal language, has a grievance all his own. The fact is, there are two Sir Williams. Both are the same age; both were born in Glasgow; both belong to the Athenaeum Club, and the wives of both are "Lady Margaret." Luckily the other Sir William is not a physicist, but a noted authority on eastern antiquities.

Soon after the discovery of the new element helium, Sir William, the chemist, was asked to deliver a lecture before a club in England. Noticing that the audience was cold and unresponsive, he asked the chairman of the receiving committee whether he had said anything they disliked.

"There's been a bit of a mistake," the chairman admitted, apologetically. "You see, we're an archaeological society and we thought 'Helium' was a new way of spelling 'Illum.' We expected to hear you speak on ancient Troy."

TUG-OF-WAR.

had made the ground soggy, which aided the sliding, and soon the excellent form and weight of the Sophomores had them well toward the finish. Here the Freshmen took on strength and steadied the movement for a while. However, the result came a moment later, when the Freshmen's ribbon passed the 1915 flag.

The teams started for the house but were intercepted by the hilarious Sophs. They had won Field Day in less than a minute, for the time was 11 seconds.

FOOTBALL GAME.

to imbue the Sophomore team with the fighting spirit, and after the kick-off by the Freshmen the former literally walked down the field carrying the Freshmen off their feet. Morse ran twenty-five yards through a broken field for another touchdown. O'Brien kicked the goal and the enthusiasm among the rooters was unbounded. After this the Sophomores were heavily penalized for rough tactics, but they made up for it by two twenty-five-yard runs by O'Brien and Morse.

At this point Murphy, the Freshman quarterback, was carried out in a frightful condition. His head was bathed in blood, his clothes were torn and he was so weak that he had to be carried off the field by his sympathizing teammates.

The fourth period commenced with the ball on the 47-yard line and in the possession of the Sophomores. This period was all Sophomore although only one touchdown was made. The Freshmen's defence weakened considerably, and Morse and O'Brien plunged through the line for big gains, and after a march down the field he scored the third touchdown. The angle was difficult and O'Brien failed to kick the goal.

The game was characterized by the general attempt to revert to the old style of football, and the forward pass was used rather infrequently. The speed of the Sophomores accounted for the defeat of the Freshmen. The latter had the better line, but the better team won.
