Flickering Lights EXPLAINED AT LAST

Power Plant Invaded by Course II Men for Testing Purposes.

No doubt many readers of THE TECH have noticed the annoying flickering of the electric lights, which has been a common occurrence in the last few weeks. The flickering has been made worse by the recent repairs to the power plant, which have caused the lights to flicker even more violently.

The flickering is caused by the fact that the power plant is not operating at its maximum capacity. When the power plant is running at full capacity, the lights flicker much less, but when the plant is running at a lower capacity, the flickering becomes more pronounced.

HARVARD UNION.
Professional Vaudeville Entertainment Given.

Last evening, in the Harvard Union, a brand of entertainment entirely new to the University in recent years, was presented in the living room. The entertainment took the form of a vaudeville show, similar in its presentation and performances which used to be exceeded popularly several years ago. The program consisted of acts presented by professional talent from various vaudeville circuits, and was made up of the following numbers:

The Troubadour Four, colored entertainers.

Frank Fuegel, the king of story tellers.

Little Jerry McCarthy, the original Red Box Marquart, in popular songs.

S. Wilson Darby, prestidigitator.

Mr. Lowe, piano accompanist.

The attendance was gratifyingly large and the performance was highly successful in every respect.

There are subjects upon which it is easier to draw out the thread of verborosity than the staple of argument.

Not so with

Velvet

Velvet furnishes its own best argument. You draw it out of a pipe in great cool delightful puffs—so temptingly smooth and satisfying that it leaves no chance for dispute.
