TECH SHOW ORCHESTRA WILL GIVE CONCERT

Interesting Program for Concert Tonight at Franklin Square House.

This evening, at 8:00, the Tech Show Orchestra will give a concert at the Franklin Square House on East Newton Street. At 8:00, there will be the usual Tuesday rehearsal, which will be unusually important today in view of the concert later on, and at 7:30, the members of the Orchestra will be ready to leave for the concert.

The Franklin Square House is the only hotel in Boston that is exclusively for women. It accommodates about 350 persons, and its list of guests is made up mainly of the better class of employed women and girls who are attending school in Boston. It is certain that there will be a large attendance at the concert this evening, and it should be made up at least equal to that of any similar event.

It is hoped by the management of the hotel that in the future more events will come to play in the Orchestra. At present there are about thirty members belonging to the Orchestra, and it is hoped that more will be present for the next concert.

The information that Mr. Freeman, the president of the Club, has received will enable the orchestra to select one of their own members for the concert.

The program for the concert is as follows:

1. March—"Through War to Victory," by John B. Stone
3. "Waves of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
4. "Songs of the Soul"—by S. H. B. and the Singers
5. "Wave of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
6. "Waves of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
7. "Wave of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
8. "Waves of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
9. "Waves of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers
10. "Waves of the Pacific"—by A. C. K. and the Singers

First Exercise Held Yesterday—Professor Bates to Conduct Recitations.

The first meeting of the English class for the Tech was held yesterday at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging the class. The members of the class were present, almost all of whom were present, and the course was begun.

The course is in charge of Professor Bates. Professor Bates began his remarks by telling the members that the course will last for the next two years, and that he will be responsible for the entire course.

Inasmuch as the feeling among the students is that the course will be given in a dignified and scholarly manner,Professor Bates explained the differences between journalistic English and classical English. He said that the former is usually written by persons who have not had much experience in writing, while the latter is usually written by persons who have had much experience in writing.

Professor Bates also explained the differences between the two kinds of writing, and said that the former is usually written in a hurry, while the latter is usually written with great care.

It becomes, then, the task of the students to make their own articles interesting, and to write them in such a way that they will be read.

There will be a meeting of the Progressive College Club next Friday at 1:30 o'clock, where the majority of the students will be present. It is desired that all Progressive Club members will be present, and that a member of the faculty will be present.

The theme for the next meeting is to be chosen from a list of suggestions submitted by the students.

The Progressive College Club is a group of students who are interested in the progress of society, and who are interested in the advancement of knowledge.

The objects of the club are to foster the spirit of inquiry, and to encourage critical thinking.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of THE TECH.

The House Committee requests the publication of the following conditions.

In order that the House Committee may secure the cooperation of the student body who patronize the Union in their efforts to establish and maintain an air of a well-conducted men's club, the following simple and practical regulations have been drawn up:

House Rules.

1. The Union shall be open daily for the use of students from 8 A.M. to 11 P.M., Sundays, 10 A.M. to 9 P.M., under such rules and regulations as the House Committee may provide.

2. The House Committee reserves the right to admit any or all of the rooms to such institute activities as may apply for their use. And all rules and most formal application for said rooms shall be made at the Cage at least 24 hours in advance of proposed occupancy.

3. The playing of cards or other games is to be confined to the living room.

4. The furniture of the various rooms shall be interchanged only upon written request from prominent assistants.

5. The books of the Library shall be borrowed only from the Cage.

6. Any destruction of or injury to property of the Union shall be paid for by the person or persons so charged, and the amount to be paid shall be determined by the House Committee.

7. The present Union is an experiment in itself. It has been made a reading room, and men wishing to play cards or other games will find the north room, with its tables, as they are in the Cage. The committee feels that it will be supported by the majority of those who patronize the Union in its views. That the present Union is to be the Walker Memorial, and consequently should be checked. To this end it has re-established the custom which existed four years ago of consigning all cord playing to the room proper.

During the past two months there have been many complaints of the Union in this late evening hours of a spirit of disorder and rough-housing among certain portions of the student body. This has resulted in the injury or destruction of heavy and expensive pieces of furniture. In appreciation of the fact that such things exist and are responsible for them, the House Committee has compiled a list of conditions to be present every evening, giving him police powers and the right to report at least intervals to the committee as to conditions. The House Committee will make disappearances and attempted disappearances may be fairly proven to be intentional offenses.

NOVEL T. C. A. TALK

NEXT THURSDAY

State Prison Chaplain to Speak on "Why Men Come to Prison."" Rev. Herbert W. Siebling, chaplain of the State prison in Charlestown, in the next T. C. A. speaker for the following Thursday. He will speak on "Why Men Come to Prison," and his talk will undoubtedly prove an interesting and as well received as the one he gave in the Union last year.

Rev. Mr. Siebling's talk will probably be on his experiences during his career as chaplain of the prison. Last time he spoke to the student body he spoke on "The Building of Character Behind Prison Bars," and these words express most adequately the life in which he is engaged. For Rev. Mr. Siebling does not see in the criminal a hopeless case, but rather an opportunity to lend a helping hand to make a man and put something into life. As chaplain he has constantly brought this policy, and a trip through the prison or the relation of some of his varied experiences will be convincing that he has not favored in vain.

The State prison in itself is a most educating institution, and it has revealed the whole of it are evidences of Mr. Siebling's upright work. The institution that is sentenced to imprisonment in the State prison to offer opportunities which he should be proud of, for he is given another chance to start life anew and to make good. The prison is, in fact, an educational institution—little has been able to help the Sieblings' endeavor to make it work. Every possible thing is done to teach the criminal so that he is dismissed finally with a trade, enabling him to make a new start.

In the prisons are to be found very complete libraries, containing books on all subjects which are read by the inmates; religious services are the closed in science, in manual training, and in the arts and trades. The prison once published a monthly magazine in addition to the regular daily paper. When a criminal is discharged he is in a position to lead a new life, one which, it is hoped, will not eventually bring him back to prison.

During his career as chaplain the Rev. Siebling has worked with the men of "writing, and educating the criminal, and in his years of experience he has met with such cases of failure of men in practically every walk of life that he is well qualified to address and advise young college men just starting out.

"Why Men Come to Prison" and "The Building of Character Behind Prison Bars" are questions that have been asked of Mr. Siebling by the students of the Tech. He will answer these questions in his talk on Thursday night.
