Coaches I. I., and X. To Hear M. E. Society Speaker Today In 11 Engineering B.

This afternoon Mr. J. R. Worcester, of the J. R. Worcester Company, Consulting Engineers, will give a talk on "Heavy Foundations and Pier Work" in 11 Engineering B. at 4 p.m. The speaker has been preceded by the Mechanical Engineering Society, and his talk will be of especial interest to all men in Courses I, II, and X.

Mr. Worcester is among the foremost civil engineers in the country. His specialty is bridges and structural work. He designed the viaduct across the Charles River used by the Boston Elevated Railway. One of his biggest pieces of work is the foundations and pier work of the South Street train station at South Station. It is a one-and-a-quarter-mile bridge with a suspended road, and is the largest of its kind in the country.

The Engineering Commissions of our largest cities, many times engineering societies, and some of their larger engineering problems. He has been president of the Society of Civil Engineers in Boston.

It will be decided at this meeting, whether first term Sophomores are to be admitted into the Society. This was to have been decided at the last meeting, but the meeting had to be postponed.

Mr. Edwin Mulready To Speak This Noon

"Social Activities In A Tech Man's Life" Subject Of Temperance Worker's Talk.

The T. C. A. will have one of the foremost and most active temperance workers in New England for the speaker this noon in the Union. Mr. Edwin Mulready of the Massachusetts Commission on Prohibition, will speak on "Social Activities In A Tech Man's Life." Mr. Mulready is not entirely unknown to Tech men, for last year he was one of the T. C. A. speakers, and had for his subject 'The Other Fellow.'

Mr. Mulready has recently returned from Milan, Italy, where he attended the International Congress on Alcoholism as one of the thirteen official delegates of the United States. He was chosen by President Wilson, and was the only New England representative. At this Congress there were over two thousand delegates representing thirty-two governments. Mr. Mulready is secretary of the National Temperance Union of America, and president of the Brockton Temperance Society. He has held many important positions in one of the most active temperance organizations in New England. The talk will without doubt be of considerable interest, especially since he recently attended the conference abroad. The T. C. A. expects to see a large number of men in the union this noon at 1:30 to hear Mr. Mulready.

Boston Opera

The programs for Friday and Saturday of the current week at the Boston Opera House have been rearranged in order to include the return appearances of Anna Pavlova and her company that were demanded by their success last October. The bill for Friday night, Dec. 19, is: "La Traviata," with Mme. Tetrazzini and the same cast that was announced for Saturday afternoon. The Saturday matinee will begin with "Il Pagliacci," with Alice Nielsen, Edoardo Ferranti-Fontana and Mario Ancona in the cast. The second part of the program will consist of a ballet and a number of divertissements by Pavlova and her associates. In the evening, "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be given, with Elizabeth Amsden and the same cast previously announced; followed by the Russian ballet.

The fifth week of the opera season will coincide with the Christmas holidays; and it is to be celebrated by a series of performances that will take their fitting place in the festivities of the week.

On Monday evening, "La Tosca" will be repeated with Louise Edvina in the title role. Mme. Edvina's interpretation will be commensurate with, as she has been heard only once in the part here. The Scarpia will be the familiar and admirable impersonation of Vanni Marcoux. Leon Laffitte will be a new figure in the part of Cavaradossi. Mr. Moranzoni will conduct.

Wednesday evening will be the occasion of the appearance of Mme. Tetrazzini in the brilliant and popular role of Lucia. The Edgardo at this performance of "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be Vincenzo Tanonzo, who has already had satisfying success in the part at a Saturday night production. Elsewhere in the cast will be M. Ferrari-Fontana, Giuseppa, and Mardones. Mr. Moranzoni will conduct.

"Samson et Dalila" will be repeated on Friday night, and is certain to be a notable event, as the same cast will be heard which sang it at its initial presentation of the season. That occasion was a veritable triumph for Mme. D'Alvarez, and indeed, no more fitting Dalila could be imagined, either vocally or histrionically. The whole cast is a brilliant one, including Mr. Ferrari-Fontana as Samson, Mr. Rogers as the High Priest, and Mr. Lodikar as the Old Hebrew. Mr. Andre Caplet will conduct.

At the Saturday matinee, "Haensel and Gretel" will be presented for the first time this year. This opera is particularly appropriate for the holiday season, when even children of middle age are kindly disposed to fall into the spirit of the occasion was a veritable triumph for Mme. D'Alvarez, and indeed, no more fitting Dalila could be imagined, either vocally or histrionically. The whole cast is a brilliant one, including Mr. Ferrari-Fontana as Samson, Mr. Rogers as the High Priest, and Mr. Lodikar as the Old Hebrew. Mr. Andre Caplet will conduct.

The Saturday evening performance will be another in the series of remarkable bills that are being offered at popular prices. "Il Trovatore" will be presented with a cast that would more than do credit to a subscription presentation. Margarita D'Alverez will sing Azucena, a role in which she has been unusually successful abroad, and Leon Laffitte and Ramon Blan- chard will sing the roles of Murtagh and Lulu, respectively.
