IMPORTANT INSTITUTE COMMITTEE MEETING

Radical Steps Taken to Secure Better Attendance at Meetings.

At a meeting of the Institute Committee, which was held yesterday afternoon, the reports of the Tech Show Advisory Council and the Constitution and By-Laws Committee, and the question of compelling attendance at meetings of the committee were considered.

The Tech Show Advisory Council reported a list of candidates for the positions of assistants to the Show management. The following men were named: First Assistant Business Managers, S. T. Woodbridge, '15, and A. W. Mack, '15. Second Assistants, C. C. Carpenter, '16; C. P. Wallis, '16, and C. S. Makepeace, '16. Assistant Treasurer, A. T. Munyan, '15; First Assistant Stage Managers, D. M. Hughes, '15, and A. E. B. Hall, '15; Second Assistants, C. R. Lord, '15, and C. A. Coleman, '16; Assistant Publicity Managers, P. H. Taylor, '15, and E. W. C. Lucas, '16. The committee ratified the choice of the Advisory Council.

Ernest Kerr, the president of the Co-operative Society, gave the committee what light he could on the formation of a more efficient Co-operative Society. He said that the money derived from the sale of tickets and old books amounted to $12,000 last year. This amount was turned over for the general scholarship fund. The committee has decided to take action on this subject in response to a request which appeared in a recent communication in THE TECH. This communication asked for action towards the enlargement of the scope of the society so that the students could purchase their supplies at a more reasonable price. The committee voted to have a committee appointed to look into the matter.

The discussion of the proposed by-laws for the Institute Committee were (Continued to Page 3, Col. 1.)

JUNIOR BASEBALL.

1914 Meets Belmont High This Afternoon.

This afternoon the Junior baseball team will open its season with a game with Belmont High, in Belmont. Although the team lacks practice, most of the men played on last year's team and are used to each other's style of playing. Morrison will probably start in the box for this afternoon's game, and Collins will work behind the bat. The following lineup was used in practice Wednesday, and will start the game today if the men are in as good condition as during the practice: Hardy, 1st; Comber, 2nd; Manager Gardiner, s.s.; Bryant, 3d; Williams, c.f.; Dunn, r. f., and Mackentape, i. f. The batting order has not been given out as yet. The 1914 team had a successful season last year, and should put up a good game this afternoon. A week from today a game is scheduled with Cambridge High, at Cambridge.

The team will assemble in the Union at 1.15 today.

SHOW MANAGEMENT TO GIVE DINNER TONIGHT

All Connected With Tech Show Invited—Good Time Promised.

Tech Show, 1913, will close the work of this year by its annual dinner to all of the men connected with the Show, to be given in the Union this evening at 7 o'clock. This dinner has always been one of the biggest features of the Show work, and it is expected that the attendance will be large.

Everybody who has had any connection with "Money in Sight" is invited to be present. This includes the members of the cast and chorus, the orchestra, the light men, the writers of all of the music and lyrics, the authors, the Alumni Council and the management. Members of former shows are likewise invited, and it is hoped that any such at present in the Institute will come around and join in the festivities of the occasion.

The dinner is to be one of the best that has ever been tendered to the men in the Show. A special dinner at a price higher than that which usually has been the rule has been arranged (Continued to Page 2, Col. 2.)

NEW STUDENT WORK.

The T. C. A. Asks For Men to Help Incoming Freshmen.

The New Student Work Committee of the Technology Christian Association met last Wednesday and made plans for next year's Freshmen. Last summer the T. C. A. did very extensive work for the new men just entering. Many men, then Juniors or Seniors in the Institute, answered the call for volunteers, or were asked by officers of the association to write letters to prospective and incoming students, offering them aid and making arrangements to help them register at the opening of school.

This year the T. C. A. again asks for men who are capable to act in this capacity to do similar work this summer. The men desired for this work are Juniors and Sophomores only, and this year an innovation will be made. Dean Burton is going to supplement the work and letters written by the upperclassmen by a letter himself. This letter will make the students officials advisors of the Freshmen, sanctioned by the Dean. The opportunities in this valuable field will be further increased by the increased powers given to these ad- (Continued to Page 4, Col. 1.)

ELECT PHOTO. EDITORS.

The Photograph Editor and Assistant Photograph Editor of Technique, 1915, were elected by the Technique Electoral Committee in the persons of C. M. Runels, '15 and H. B. Pickering, '15, respectively. These men will have charge of the photographic end of the annual for next year and will assume their offices immediately.

The committee on the selection of the Assistant Art Editor desires to remind those competing for this position that drawings are due today at 5 o'clock.

SPRING TRACK MEET TO BE HELD TODAY

Men From the Different Classes to Contest For Supremacy At Field.

The Spring meet this year promises to be a brilliant success if the weather favors the contestants. Frank Kanaly promises the closest 100-yard dash that has been run for quite a few years, and at least as long as he has been connected with the Institute. The participants in this race are: Wilkins, Loomis, Adams and Crankshaw. The first is the well-known Junior and the three others are by no means unknown. The 220-yard dash is another race which should be closely contested. Wilson, Adams, Loomis, Crankshaw and Reed are the favorites. In the 440 it looks like Hervy Guething as the winner, but he will be hard pushed by Bylund, Lawrence Reed and Gagnon. The half-mile will probably go to either Dean or C. Guething. If Eddie Germain is in condition, however, there is no doubt about his being a winner. Wa'l, Pollard, Gray and Zepfler will fight it out in the mile. Benson and Germain will surely furnish a spectacular race if they are in condition. C. Wilkins, Nye, Hollway, Best, Cook and Graff are scheduled to grind out the two-mile run, the two first men having the best chance of winning.

The usual fight between Huff and Curtis in the high and low hurdles will be another feature. Foster, Fox, Clarkson and Munch are prominent candidates for the other two places. McKinnon will probably take honors in the high jump, with Hall and Teeson close on his heels, and Garito or Ober for the remaining place. The broad jump and discus will be closely contested by Alt and McLeod, O'Brien, Thomas, Fox and Ahern are also among the men to be considered. The weight events will undoubtedly go to Conway, but he will have to look out for McLeod, O'Brien, MacNeill and McEwen. Laurason will take the pole vault, with Mangan, O'Brien and Claussen as close seconds.

The 474 will be given to first place winners as usual, and the class numeral with all other places. Besides this the three cups offered this year insure some of the best races ever witnessed at the Field.

INSTITUTE BUTTONS.

Bursar Rand still has in his possession a few of the official Technology buttons which he would like to dispose of. These buttons are the familiar little round knots of gray and cardinal ribbon which were adopted as standard last year. They may be obtained at the Bursar's window in Rogers corridor for fifteen cents each.

FRESHMEN VS. TUFTS.

The game scheduled between the Freshman and the Tufts Dental baseball teams has been postponed indefinitely. It is thought that it may be possible to arrange another game, but, because of the Freshman schedule being well filled, not many hopes are held out.

Cheer up! It may not be true!

SENIOR CLASS DAY SIGN-UPS NOW OUT

Committee Wishes All Members of Class to Sign Up Immediately.

Sign-up books have been issued by the Senior Class Day Committee, and the slips may be obtained today. All the members of the Committee, as well as several other members of the Senior class, have the books.

These sign-up slips are agreements to subscribe toward the expenses of the Class Day festivities. The price, six dollars, admits the subscriber to the Senior dinner, the Senior reception and dance, and the Class Day exercises. Needless to say, the committee hopes that every Senior will sign up, as the success of its work depends on the support of the class. It is especially important that all who intend to sign up should do so at once, so that the committee will be able to estimate the amount of money at its disposal.

SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1913

To a casual observer the class spirit around the Institute might seem to be a negative quantity. It is true it is manifested for the most part in the criticism of class officers and speculations as to what sort of a scheme the class treasurer will evolve next to facilitate the collection of dues. This is all very well, provided the criticism is constructive rather than destructive, but there is a far better way to manifest class spirit, namely, get out to the Field this afternoon and cheer your fellow classmates, who are doing all in their power to uphold the honor of the class.

This matter of supporting athletic teams is one in which the students of the Institute are sadly deficient, and one which should be developed, not only because of the advertising it gives Technology, but also because of the salutary effect on the members of a class in unifying them and enabling them to act as a single, united body, rather than an incoherent mass of humanity.

The men who are entered in the various events are showing the spirit which we would like to see pervade the whole Institute. They, at least, have sufficient regard for the honor of their class to get out and do their best. We do not recommend that every man of the class should get out and endeavor to win points by personal work on the Field. That would be too good to be true, and would leave no one on the bleachers to root.

It is well to remember that the winning or losing of a game or meet is often as dependent on the cheering on the side-lines as on the work in the field. Men will not do their best if they have no one back of them and mentally running with them heart and soul. Fellows, if you want your class to get high honors today, get out on those bleachers and root for all you are worth. Manifest your class spirit and incidentally let Boston people see that the good old Institute isn't a dead place so far as athletics are concerned after all.

In another place in this issue appears a call for volunteers from the present Sophomores and Juniors to write letters to the new students who intend to enter the Institute next fall. This is a work with which THE TECH is heartily in sympathy, as by it many Freshmen are spared a large proportion of the trials and tribulations which ordinarily fall to their lot. A letter from an upperclassman at

DR. PENDER TALKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Many Interesting Facts Told About Freight Handling in Boston.

Last night, in 6 Lowell, a representative audience of the Boston Section of Electrical Engineers, the Boston Section of the American Section of Mechanical Engineers, and the Boston Society of Civil Engineers met and discussed the efficiency of the present system of freight handling at the Boston Freight Terminals. F. P. Valentine, President of the Boston Section of Electrical Engineers, and chairman of the evening, introduced Dr. Harold Pender of the Institute after a few brief remarks of welcome.

Dr. Pender presented the paper, "The Delivery and Handling of Freight at the Boston Freight Terminal," which was especially prepared for this occasion by three members of the Electrical Engineering Department, Dr. Harold Pender, H. F. Thomson and C. P. Eldred. The paper contained many noted and striking facts relating to the congested conditions in the inward and outward freight houses. From the thorough research work made by those three men Dr. Pender was able to show wherein the present delays in handling freight in the yards by the "master teamsters" can be reduced. In the paper he pointed out that the motor vehicles are by far superior to the horse teams for the quickness of handling the freight.

After the reading the audience was given the opportunity to ask questions and to discuss the question of freight handling from their own point of view.

SHOW DINNER.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) by the Union management, and the menu which is to be offered is one which will contain many of the greatest delicacies of the season. Moreover, there are to be several innovations in the way of surprises for the Show men that would in themselves be highly appreciated.

There are to be several speakers, who are sure to prove of interest, and who will informally discuss the work that has been done this year in trying to make the Show an interesting and effective entertainment for the audiences and at the same time arranging matters so that as great a sum as possible can be turned over to the Athletic Association this spring. No formal list of speakers has been arranged as yet, and all that have anything to say will be called on extemporaneously.

After this dinner, as has been the custom for years, the men will adjourn upstairs to the reading room of the Union and there will hold a burlesque of "Money in Sight," the men interchanging parts and having a rousing good time generally.

WELLESLEY GAME.

This afternoon the Sophomores will play the Wellesley High School baseball team on the latter's ground, at Wellesley. The lineup for the game is: Morse, 1.f.; Bauer, Place, Spencer, 1.b.; Franks, 2.b.; Caffrey (captain), s.s.; Langdon, 3.b.; McIntyre, c.f.; Pikes, Parsons, or Sears, p.; Thomas, r.f.; Hall, c. Hollway is also requested to report.

All these men are asked to meet in the Union at 1.20 sharp, as the train leaves Trinity Place for Wellesley at 1.26.

Technology does much to dispel the feelings of doubt and apprehension with which the ordinary new student views his entrance into the unknown field of college. We hope that many men will respond to this call and offer their services in this good cause.

MECHANICALS HEAR INTERESTING TALK

Mr. J. W. F. Macdonald Describes Manufacture of Modern Boilers.

At 4.15 P. M., yesterday afternoon, the Mechanical Engineering Society held a meeting in 11 Eng. B, and were addressed by Mr. J. W. F. Macdonald of the International Engineering Company of South Framingham. The subject of Mr. Macdonald's talk was "Modern Boiler Making Practice," and it was excellently illustrated with slides made from photographs taken at the works in Framingham.

Mr. Macdonald began his address by first showing the slides of the factories themselves, and then those showing the entire process of manufacturing the boilers. Boiler works, said the speaker, are not necessarily scrap heaps and need not present the appearance of a dump. The lack of neatness in the plants is entirely due to the owners and does not tend to produce efficiency. The International Boiler Works were designed expressly for the manufacture of boilers, and the entire plant is made up of steel structures, reinforced with concrete.

In any modern boiler plant the question of storage must be especially attended to. At Framingham the rivets are stored in five separate bins, and the sizes are designated on the outside of the bins. All plates are stored in racks made for the purpose, and they are all tested by the State inspectors before being put in the racks.

The first and most important step in the manufacture of boilers is that of the laying out. All the plates and heads are first brought to the laying out benches after being taken from the stock rooms, and then are laid out very carefully so that all parts will fit after being finished in the various departments. When the plates are all marked out they are passed to the splitting shears, and here they are trimmed up exactly to size. They are next brought to the punching shears, and here all the holes are punched. All holes punched must be smaller than the finished size in order that they can be reamed to give a tight fit.

All steps in the manufacture were carefully outlined and several tests were described showing the advantages and disadvantages of certain types of boilers. A large number of slides were shown of modern boilers being installed in the different parts of the country by the International Boiler Works.

then taken up. In connection with this the following motion was passed: If a representative of any class, society or activity is absent from two consecutive meetings of the Institute Committee, the represented activity shall immediately lose all representation on the committee; which activity shall not be reinstated until the Institute Committee shall have received from the executive of the activity in question a formal petition for reinstatement; the committee to pass upon the same in conjunction with the requirements for admission to the Institute Committee as stated in the Constitution.

This motion is to be interpreted to mean that if one of the representatives of the classes is absent from two consecutive meetings the class will lose its representation.

There will be a special meeting of the committee next Friday to further discuss the By-Laws.

The following men were absent: C. T. Guething, T. C. Jewett, Constable, Hsi and Albee.

MEETING OF CHINESE CLUB THIS AFTERNOON

Six Members to Participate in Debate on Timely Subject.

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the Chinese Club will hold an important meeting in the Union. After the regular business has been attended to a debate, given in English, will take place between six of the members of the society. The subject to be discussed is one of timely interest to all Chinese men and will probably be debated with a great show of interest by the participants. It is: Resolved, That the provisional governors in China should be appointed by the central government. The argument on the affirmative will be put forward by C. C. Tseng, T. K. Yuan and P. Y. Loo; the negative side will be upheld by M. C. Hou, C. C. Chu and H. Wu. The judges are to be appointed at the meeting from the audience.

The subject for the next debate will be decided upon, and other necessary business considered. Light refreshments will be served, and on account of the nature of the subject an enjoyable time is promised by the officers to all who attend the meeting.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Entries to Be Handed in at Cage — Team Plays Harvard and Tufts.

The annual Spring tennis tournament will begin as soon as a sufficient list of entries is received by President Beale of the Tennis Association. All men desiring to enter the tournament are requested by him to leave their names and fees at the Cage. The entry fee will be fifty cents for each man in the singles, and seventy-five cents a team in the doubles. The drawings for the tournament will be posted on the bulletin board in Rogers some time next week. The officers of the Association desire every one who wishes to participate in the tournament to enter at once, as a delay in starting the matches is apt to cause the tournament to remain unfinished at the end of the year. This has spoiled many of the previous tournaments, and they are anxious to avoid any such result this Spring. Cups will be awarded to the winners in both doubles and singles.

Two intercollegiate matches have been scheduled for the tennis team, namely, with Harvard, on May 8, and with Tufts on May 17. Among the most prominent candidates for the team will probably be H. R. Stewart, the winner of the singles in the Fall tournament, and a member of the Amherst team last year; K. W. Roy and H. V. Fay, winners of the doubles in the Fall tournament; G. W. Blakeley, T. C. Fisher and G. M. Keith. This leaves room on the team for new men, and the success of the team depends upon getting more good men out. The Tech courts at the Field are not in very good condition, but the courts at Jarvis Field are used by the majority of the Technology tennis enthusiasts. Men desiring to try for the team should hand in their names to J. M. Beale.

Norwood, '14, the winners of the semi-finals, which were concluded just before vacation, were the contestants. From start to finish the game proved very exciting, the players being surrounded by a large crowd of interested spectators. After two hours and a half of close playing Woodbridge proved victorious. The next game in the finals will probably be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.
