MECH. ENG. SOCIETY BANQUET TONIGHT

Dinner at the Boston City Club to Be Addressed by Many Prominent Speakers.

Tonight, at 6.30 o'clock, the Mechanical Engineering Society will hold a banquet at the Boston City Club, No. 6 Beacon street. The speakers for the evening are among the best obtainable. Professor E. F. Miller, head of the Mechanical Engineering Department; Professor Havens, also of that department; Mr. Henry Bartlett, chairman of the local branch of the A. S. M. E., and Mr. W. A. Snow will be the principal speakers.

The results of the recent election of officers will be announced. Only the ballots which have been submitted before 6 o'clock will be considered. The trip which the Juniors are to take in the afternoon to South Framingham will not interfere with their preparations for the banquet as the train on which they will return is due at the Trinity Place Station at 5.36 o'clock.

The tickets, at $1.00 each, may be obtained either at the Cage or from any Senior in 24 Eng. B.

BROTHERHOOD SUPPER.

Talk by Mr. A. B. Parsons and Dinner Last Night.

The Technology Chapter of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew gave a supper last evening at the Trinity House, 22 St. James avenue. A large number of Episcopalian Tech men were present, and they thoroughly enjoyed the dinner, and the excellent talk given by Mr. A. B. Parsons after the supper. Mr. Parsons has until recently been a leading Congregationalist minister, and of late he became interested in the work of the Episcopalian. He finally joined the Episcopal Church, and in his talk last evening he chose for his topic, "Why I Joined the Episcopal Church," telling in a very impersonal and heart to heart manner just his reasons for taking that step. At present he is working as a layman on the staff of Saint Paul's Cathedral, in this city, preparatory to being ordained into the ministry.

Mr. Parsons has a very pleasing personality, and the unusual manner in which he spoke to the men present made his talk a most enjoyable one. He is a very enthusiastic speaker, and at no time did he fail to hold the attention and interest of the gathering. After the talk the men entered upon an informal discussion of various topics, allied, for the most part, to the substance of Mr. Parsons' talk. The remainder of the evening was spent in this manner and in a general smoke talk.

SENIOR PAPERS.

The English Department of the Institute has in its possession a number of papers written by members of the present Senior Class. The authors may obtain these papers by calling at 16 Rogers.

The tennis courts at Jarvis Field are now in fine condition, and were visited by many Tech fellows Saturday.

Holders of Sign-Up Slips Must Obtain Copies Before Monday Noon.

The Technique, 1914, sign-up slips are valid for only four more days, till 1 o'clock on Monday noon. At that time the remaining copies will be sold to the first comers. Preference will, of course, be given to those men on the waiting list. In order to make certain the procuring of a Technique, holders of sign-up slips must appear for their books before the time specified next Monday. Those men who are too late will have to forfeit their deposit of seventy-five cents, and go without the much coveted Technique.

This year's Technique Board had occasion to warn the student body of the necessity for action at the time of the sign-up campaign. It was then stated that there was great danger that the number of sign-ups available would become exhausted, and that every man who wanted to make sure of a book should sign up at once. This prediction came true, and many who desired books were disappointed. In view of this fact the board's present warning should carry great weight with those to whom a word to the wise is sufficient.

The Technique Board wishes to emphasize particularly the fact that the time limit is quickly drawing to a close, and that the men in question will have to act immediately before it is too late. Only till 1 o'clock next Monday is allowed to pay the balance due and to procure the year-book.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL.

Team to Play Boston Latin High This Afternoon.

The Freshman baseball team will meet the Boston Latin nine at the Field this afternoon. This is the first game of the season for the Freshmen and will give them an opportunity to demonstrate what benefit they have derived from their weeks of practice. Boston Latin School has a good nine this season and has won the majority of its games. Boles, the schoolboy star, is captain of the team, and has been showing up with his usual good form this season.

Captain Murphy wishes all the men to be at the Field as early as possible this afternoon. He will give as many men as possible a chance to get into the game. The lineup for the start of the game is as follows: Smart, p.; Murphy, c.; Drake, 1b.; Morse, 2b.; Tapley, ss.; Petit, 3b.; Krigger, rf.; Rossman, cf., and Connelly, lf.

BIOLOGICALS TO MEET.

The Biological Society will hold a meeting next Friday afternoon at 4.30. The officers have secured Mr. Andrew Kerr to speak at this meeting, which will be held in Room 11, Engineering B. Mr. Kerr will speak to the members of the society on a subject of interest to students of Biology, "The Culture of Clams." He has had considerable experience, both in the theoretical and the practical growing of clams, and in his talk will undoubtedly be able to give the members some interesting facts and data.

THE CHESS CLUB TIES WITH COLBY

Final Score Depends Upon Outcome of Match This Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon the Technology Chess Club began its match with the chess team representing Colby College of Maine. It was at first the general opinion that the three Tech men on the Institute team would have no difficulty in cleaning up an easy victory. The Maine ivory pushers, however, put up a staunch fight, and allowed the Tech team to do no better than to tie the score with them. The Colby men were defeated by the Chess team of Harvard last Monday, and since the chess players here at the Institute easily proved themselves superior to Harvard some time ago, it was thought that yesterday's match would be an easy one for the Institute men. The score was 2½ to 2½.

The playing was good throughout the entire game, and several exciting plays were made by both sides. R. C. Young, of the Colby team, defeated H. T. Chandler, '14, in one game, but in the next he was not enabled to repeat his performance. Chandler held his own, and held the Colby player down to a draw.

In the next set J. H. Foster found no great difficulty in defeating D. E. Woodbridge of the Tech team, in spite of the clever playing on the part of the latter. The feature of the whole match was the game played between Theodore Fieldbrave, of the Colby team and C. E. Norwood, of the Institute. Fieldbrave won the first game from Norwood. In the second game, however, neither man succeeded in gaining much upon the other. The playing was as clever as it was careful, and as a result the game had to be given up as a tie. Up to this point the score was already a tie, and the final score depended entirely upon the match between these two men.

The deciding match between Fieldbrave and Norwood will be played to day at 2 o'clock, in the Union. This match will undoubtedly be extremely interesting, not only for the reason that the final score is dependent upon its outcome, but also for the reason that both men will play to their utmost ability.

ECONOMICS SOCIETY.

Tech Club to Bring Socialist Speakers Before Students.

The Economics Club of Technology held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which important business was transacted. The chief action taken at the meeting was the affiliation with the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, which has headquarters in New York. This society furnishes speakers for the Socialist clubs in the various colleges, and by this means the Institute club hopes to bring the study of Socialism before the Student body here. The purpose is to broaden the scope of the present club and to make it not only of service to its own members, but of interest to non-members. The Economics Club is a progressive one and is constantly growing. Many new members were present at the meeting yesterday.

Four weeks from Wednesday the finals start.

SCHOLASTIC DRILL THIS AFTERNOON

Nine Teams Will Compete For Prizes—M. I. T. Regiment Will Parade.

The annual Interscholastic Prize Drill given by the M. I. T. Regiment for high schools, will be held in the Armory at 3 P. M. today. Teams from seven schools in the vicinity of Boston will compete, and besides these there will be two independent teams. The latter are composed of cadets from Boston high schools, but are not allowed to represent their schools officially.

This contest does not take the place of the regular Freshman drill, but is really a part of it. The Regiment will give an exhibition drill, both before and after the prize drill, so all the M. I. T. cadets are required to be present in full uniform.

Prizes are to be awarded on the basis of individual proficiency in the manual of arms. The men will first be drilled together by Captain P. Keller of the M. I. T. Regiment. From this squad the best men will be picked to form a second squad, which will have a further test under the direction of Captain H. T. Brent, M. I. T. The men who still show the greatest proficiency will be picked for a third squad, which will be given a final drill to pick the winner. Major L. T. Hamilton, M. I. T., will have charge of the last drill. The cadets are to be rated on a scale of points, the winner 8 points, the second man 7, the third 6 etc. The first and second men receive gold and silver medals, and a shield will be awarded to the school whose team scores the greatest number of points.

The judges are: Lieutenant T. I. Steere, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. Army; Lieut.-Col. A. J. Pastene, M. I. T. Cadet Corps, and Major Samuel Breck, Jr., M. I. T. Cadet Corps. Major E. T. Cole, U. S. Army, will present the prizes.

The school's reputation have the reputation of producing very good drillers, so a good exhibition is expected, and the contest will probably be close. As an added entertainment for the visitors and spectators the

WEDNESDAY, APRIL, 30, 1913

It seems a pity that certain individuals are unable, upon becoming Tech men, to leave behind them the instincts of childhood. Take for instance the condition of the small bulletins in the Union. Hardly one has escaped defacement by the additions or alterations of would-be humorists. It gives a poor impression of Tech spirit to find the Union bulletin board—the clearing-house of the Institute—fairly plastered with such humorous efforts as, for instance, allusions to the centipedal qualities of the man who wears seven and one-quarter shoes.

A similar tendency is that which prompts men to decorate conspicuous places, desks, etc., with initials and class numerals. Of course we realize that it is a very small minority that is afflicted with these symptoms of vulgarity, but nevertheless it is important because the results are so conspicuous, to outsiders as well as to ourselves.

It is a well known fact that the chief object of an education is to teach a man to think. A real education does not consist of the acquiring of a collection of facts unrelated to each other, or to any one thing. The facts are necessary, it is true, but the applying of the knowledge acquired is the main object. For this reason one should not be too ready to criticize the professor who does not explain each process which he comments upon to the smallest detail, but lets the student work out the minor points for himself. This instructor is really doing more educational work than is the man who goes into every minute detail of each process he mentions.

We take this opportunity to remind the students of this fact, because of late we have heard of criticisms of several professors in the Institute who are lecturing along the truly educational lines outlined above.

Every one has a chance in that handicap meet. Are you going out?

Very little has been heard as yet of that Freshman baseball team.

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT CAMBRIDGE ALL-STARS

Baseball Team Succeeds in Winning Game in Last Inning.

The Sophomores sent the Cambridge Latin High All-Stars down to defeat to the tune of 14 to 11 yesterday afternoon. It was possible to play only an eight-inning game because of the early coming of darkness. The last half of the game proved the more interesting, as it was not until then that the 1915 team began to really play ball. Errors were frequent up to the sixth inning, and the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of the All-Stars. In the last two innings the Sophomores rallied and succeeded in bringing in three runs in each inning, while holding the All-Stars down to their score at the end of the sixth.

The game, as a whole, was not particularly well played on either side, although some beautiful long passes were made. The fielding was, on the whole, good, and Bauer distinguished himself by raking in a number of flies.

Morse showed good speed on bases and managed to steal five. The heavy hitter of the game was Murphy, of the All-Stars, who binged out two three-baggers and a single. The lineup of both teams was as follows:

CREW PRACTICE.

Three and One-Half Mile Row Taken in Rough Water.

The crew was out on the Charles River yesterday afternoon and had a good workout. A three and one-half mile row was taken in a heavy sea, and the men showed a marked improvement in form. The following men have been assigned places in the shell: Wellington, bow; Duff, 2; Sifton and Jewett, 3; Mumford and Tyler, 4; Bousquet, 5; Calver, 6; Affel, 7; Burkhardt, stroke; Forsythe, coxswain.

A number of other men also reported and were given a thorough workout. They were Berkowitz, Chapman, Hall, Stocking, Ayer, Kleinhert, Macey and Horbakowsky.

The M. I. T. crew will practice today at 4.15, and the Freshman crew will practice at 5.15.

REV. A. A. STOCKDALE TO SPEAK THURSDAY

Some Good Questions Submitted For Boston Pastor to Answer.

Questions for Rev. Mr. Allan A. Stockdale's "Question Box" have been coming in rather slowly, but those questions which have already been sent into the officers of the T. C. A. are particularly good, in spite of their small number. As has been already announced, this talk will be not only the last one of the year, but also the last one of the series of talks originated by the Association's secretary, Mr. L. R. Talbot, who concludes his duties with the T. C. A. at the end of this scholastic year. The officers of the Association hope that the largest crowd yet will be present to give their support to the last T. C. A. talk of the year.

Rev. Mr. Stockdale is well known to Institute men. He is pastor of the Union Congregational Church of this city, and he spoke in the Union last year, answering a variety of questions of interest to Tech men. This year some questions of vital importance and interest to the student body have been turned in. A few of them are given below.

One man submits this question, whose answer by the clergyman will attract considerable attention among the men who will gather in the Union Thursday noon. His question is as follows: "On various occasions, particularly at the All-Technology dinners, beer has been served to the students. Do you think that it is proper for such a practice to be carried out in an institution like Technology and thus encourage the use of liquor among young men?"

Another man asks this novel question: "What do you think of a man who goes to church regularly, calls himself a Christian, prays 'thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven,' and then, on election day, doesn't take enough interest in politics even to vote?"

The following question, which was among the first to be handed in, pertains especially to Tech men and to Tech conditions. Many men will undoubtedly be interested in what Mr. Stockdale will have to say regarding it. The question is as follows: "Can a man be a Christian without going to church? Supposing he really wants to go to church regularly, but finds that he can not spare the time if he is to keep up his studies properly, what should he do?"

Rev. Mr. Stockdale's answers to these questions will probably constitute the most interesting and unique talk ever given under the auspices of the T. C. A., and undoubtedly a very large number of men will turn out to hear him.

PRIZE DRILL.

M. I. T. Regiment will give an exhibition drill and parade. The committee in charge of the drill depends upon the sale of tickets for the necessary funds, hence they are anxious that as many as possible be present. Tickets are on sale at the Union, at 25 cents each.

Major Cole hopes that the Regiment will make a good showing before the high school cadets, and asks that every member co-operate to give a good drill. It is especially important that each man should be in complete uniform with clean white gloves. No excuse will be accepted for unpolished shoes, even if the weather is rainy.

The crowd at the Field Saturday was some larger than at the indoor meets, but there is still room for improvement.

DISCUSSION ON NEW TECH CO-OP. SOCIETY
 Report on Investigations Made by Students to Be Submitted Friday.

All of the men at the Institute who are interested in a more efficient co-operative society than the present one are asked to attend a meeting to be held in the Union at 7.30 on Friday of this week. At this time a report on the present M. I. T. Co-operative Society, which has been prepared by T. F. Comber, A. S. Hammond, K. T. King and H. C. Sampson, will be read. This report is the result of much study, both of the Institute society and the one at Harvard. It contains many interesting comparisons between the prices of the same articles at Tech, Harvard and at various downtown stores. One of these is the price of the box-wood architect's scale which is used in the drawing rooms. The price of that article is higher at Tech than it is at Harvard, although the article as catalogued allows a discount of almost fifty per cent. Professor Pearson, who has arranged for this meeting, would like to see a large number of men present. There has been much criticism of the Co-operative Society in communications which have appeared in THE TECH, as well as from the men at large. He thinks that if the men are interested, as they seem to be, that they now have an excellent opportunity to do something towards bettering the conditions which they have been complaining about. In his opinion, the results which will probably come from this report and from the committee which has been appointed by the Institute Committee to look into the matter, should aid materially in forming a more efficient Co-operative Society.

ABANDON PLAN FOR NAVY SUMMER WORK
 Sec. Daniels Decides Against the Employment of Students.

The action of Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department in abandoning the scheme of having college men spend the coming summer working in the navy has been the cause of considerable disappointment among the various Institute men who were intending to take the naval course thus offered by the government. These men were to have been assigned to different ships of the Atlantic fleet, and became interested in the scheme only recently when a naval officer visited the Institute and gave a talk on the proposed summer work. About forty men were planning to spend the vacation in this way, and on account of the change made by the naval department they will have to abandon their plans and make other provision for summer work.

The Institute men who intended to work in the navy this summer are men from the various engineering courses, and their number does not include any men from the Naval Architectural Course.

At Harvard, apparently, no disappointment in the change of plans is felt. President Lowell made a statement yesterday to the effect that the matter would be dropped, probably to be taken up again next year. Just how many Harvard men were planning upon the naval work could not be ascertained.

We can give the best expression to the joy felt at this season, in clothes, in which every stitch and seam and weave make for happiness. Our prices are not so low as to be absurd, nor are they "fancy" ones. We cater to real men, who want real style, real woolen fabrics and real values in every detail.
