BANQUET AT AMERICAN HOUSE TO INAUGURATE THE TECH VOL. XXXV

Mayor J. M. Curley, and Mr. J. T. Williams, Jr., Editor of The Transcript and Mr. I. W. Litchfield Will Speak.

Men Prominent in Technology Affairs as Guests.

In the history of The Tech there has never been an event that promises to be more noteworthy than the final banquet of Volume XXXIV. The evening was held at the American House which marks the passing of the old volume and the coming in of the new.

The speakers who will address the banqueters are Boston's leading men in the particular fields within which they represent.

Mayor Curley is well known to Tech men through the stand he has taken for better and more efficient government since he has been Boston's chief executive. He will devote a part of his speech to the subject of "The Technically Trained Man in Municipal Service."

Mr. James T. Williams, Jr., the editor of The Boston Transcript, occupies an important position in journalism as the editor of a newspaper which is put out in its influence. He will take his subject "The Transcript and Mr. H. L. Gleason was elected captain of the 1918 baseball team. The majority of only one vote. Malley then moved that Gleason be unanimously elected. Practice will be held Thursday and Friday at the Columbia Avenue grounds; and candidates who come out three times a week are excused from gym. The first game is to be played with Minne Technical School next Saturday on Russell Field.

THE MAKE-UP

"But, hurrah! A sound is standing on my ear—
A soft and silver sound—I know it well.
Its whisper tells me that a time is near.
Precious to me—it is the Dinner Bell."

-C. B. Calverley.

"Seeking the food he eats,
And pleased with what he gets."

-Shakespeare.

"Now for a more humble feast, or an ordinary proportion which any good man may keep in his family, for the entertainment of his crew and worthy friends, it must be the dinner of his life, one for all and all for one."

-Gervase Markham.

COMMUNICATIONS.
To the Editor of The Tech:
The only thing that "Dissatisfied" omitted in his communication concerning the Physics Department was the course in Precision Measurements. This seems to me to be the clown in the three-ring circus.

PROFESSOR X.

FACULTY NOTICES.
Students connected with The Tech will be excused from all final examinations in June. Their high scholastic standing in the statistics compiled by the Registrar seems to warrant giving all the men on the paper straight "C" reports without the formality of a previous examination.

The recent communication in The Tech, in which such serious charges were brought against the Department of Physics, Professor Cross has decided to suspend his lectures for an indefinite period, beginning April 1.
