COMPANY F WINS ANNUAL PRIZE DRILL

Sergeant Kelly and Corporal Fitch Win Individual Competition.

The annual Prize Drill of the M. I. T. Cadet Corps was held last Friday evening before an audience of over two thousand. The Lower Office. The competition the regiment was reviewed by President Mead and Major Colk.

The competitive company drill was won by F Company commanded by Captain Joseph W. Barker ’16 and the gold and silver medals for individual drill, in which twenty-six men were entered, went to Corporal H. W. Fitch of B Company and Color Sergeant T. F. Kelly. Barker is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and the First Corps of Cadets. His home is in Rockford, Ill., and Fitch and Kelly come from Hartford, Conn., and Jamaica Plain.

Lieutenant J. R. McGinness of the Sixth United States Infantry, who judged both competitions in last year’s Prize Drill, acted in a similar capacity this year. When asked after the drill he stated that the winning company drilled better than any he had ever seen outside of the regular army. In response to the question of the day, Captain Barker refused to say anything about the second man he mentioned that the last on the floor, Company D, commanded by (Continued on Page 4)

NEW ENGLANDS COME FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

New Tech Field Will Be Scene Of Action For The Big Meet.

The second greatest track meet of the East will commence next Friday at Tech Field when the gun announces the start of the preliminary trials for the 1916 Track and Field Championships of the New England Intercolligate Athletic Association. The heats will be completed on that day and the finals will be staged on the following afternoon. The track management has arranged for a special exhibition for all Technology followers and hopes to obtain much better support on the part of the student body than was afforded the team at the dual meet with Bowdoin a week ago last Saturday.

The track has successfully passed the censorship of Coach "Jack" Monckley of Cornell who stated that he "had never seen a better one in all his life," and with the help of the weather it is expected that several records will go by the board.

Dartmouth appears to be the strongest of the seventeen colleges which are members of the Association and its probability will not be pushed very hard by the other teams.

Tickets in the special reserved section for Technology men may be obtained any day this week at the Track Manager's office at the Union.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

Small Number Attending Fail To Constitue Quorum.

At the 1916 Class Meeting last Friday, the proposed amendments to the class constitution were voted upon and accepted by those attending. However, since there was not a quorum present, the amendments are not, as yet, officially accepted by the Class.

Due action will be taken by the Governing Board after the meetings of the other classes have been held. It was practically decided to combine next year’s Portfolio with Technique 1917, although the details have not been settled.

NEWS MEETING

The last regular News Meeting of the year for The Tech will be held tomorrow at 5.00 o'clock in the Lower Office.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

An important meeting of the Senior Class will be held in Huntington Hall, Thursday, May 20, at 1.00 o'clock. The matter of a Chaser Gift to the Institute will be taken up at that time.

FINIAL MEETING OF FINANCE COMMITTEE

Estimated Season’s Profits Of Institute Activities Submitted.

The Finance Committee held their final meeting of the season in the Union last Thursday. It was voted that uniform order blanks be printed for the four classes, to be used exclusively in making purchases. This is to prevent the purchase of goods by unauthorized persons, a source of trouble in the past.

Graphs were submitted by the treasurers of the school activities which showed the income, expense and profit for the past year, as well as other statistics. This affords the Finance Committee valuable aid, showing at once the condition of the activities’ treasuries. The graph sub- (Continued on Page 4)

JUNE MONTHLY ON SALE WEDNESDAY

Sixty-four Pages And Twenty-Five Illustrations In First Issue Of Season.

The predominating feature of the June number of the Magazine will be the unusual number of illustrations and diags which have necessitated a substantial increase in the size of the magazine.

The chief cause of the increase is the reproduction of interior layouts of various buildings at the New Site. The plans give the student a definite idea of the interior arrangements of departments. That the plans are authoritative and up to date in all respects is assured by the fact that they have been obtained directly from the working drawings used in the construction.

Some half dozen illustrations of Summer Military Camps accompany an article written by an undergraduate officer in the M. I. T. Cadet Corps on “The Part a Technology Graduate Would Play in Time of War.” Two full-page diags are presented in connection with Engineer Formulae, in which the writer has prepared and explains tables by means of which various (Continued on Page 4)

To the Editor of The Tech:

I was very much disappointed to notice the small attendance at the Bowdoin Meet.

There has always been a protest on the part of undergraduates as to dual meets being held mostly away from home, not only in track and field sports but in hockey and other games, and although strenuous efforts had been made on the part of the track and field management to obtain a good attendance, yet there was a want of Technology men and there was not a single Technology cheer the entire afternoon except for Bowdoin at the close.

It has been said up to last year that if the field was more convenient (than Bowdoin) the fellows would come out not only to see the games, but athletically as well. The experience this year has shown this has not eventuated, although the field, for instance, from any Fraternity house on Newbury Street or in fact from Coppely Square, is only about fifteen to twenty minutes by the subway or via Massachusetts Avenue.

Jack Moskley, the famous coach of the Cornell team, called at the field on Saturday morning and said that the finest one he had ever seen and sought to stimulate athletes at the Institute.

Now, all connected with athletics feel much disappointed at the results of the last season, and I hope the undergraduates will show their appreciation of the men and the work that has been put in by all concerned, by coming out to the Intercollegiate games in full force on May 21st and 22nd, and I think Mr. Webster would arrange to have a Technology section in the reserved seats and reserve a place for Tech men in the bleachers, if he knew how many were coming.

F. H. BRIGGS.

MAY 17, 1915.

The majority of Technology men attending were officials and the total number in the grandstand and on the field hardly equaled the number of Bowdoin men in the grandstand, such a circumstance is so eloquent that it does not need amplification.

Next Friday and Saturday, for the first time in five years, the New England towns are to hold at Technology’s field. The best field in the country—and we have the word of an expert that the Tech Field is the best that he has ever seen—cannot, however, produce results if there is "Niemand zu Hause" in the cheering section. The Track Management, we are confident, would be only too glad to reserve a Technology cheering section if there were the slightest assurance that such a section would not be a fiasco. And we do not see how it could be if every student would stop to consider the impression that will go abroad among the New England colleges if there proves to be utter silence in the quarter where the loudest cheers would ordinarily be expected.

The pitiful experience at the Bowdoin Meet demands a hearty cheer from the grandstand by every man in the Institute who is not utterly devoid of all feeling of loyalty to his Alma Mater.
