SUMMER CAMPERs
TO HOLD UNION
Meeting Of Students Who Were At East Machias Camp
This Summer.

The 1915 Summer Camp Reunion will be held in the main room of the Union on next Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock. The committee in charge has arranged a varied program for the event and all the professors who were at Technology,
Maine, this season will be present to give the local atmosphere. Dean Barton and Professors Breed and Russell are scheduled to give short talks.

The Union was filled last night with one of the largest crowds that ever attended a smoker at the Institute.
At a conservative estimate, there were perhaps 500 present. The event was the celebration of the birthday of the Institute's first president, Will-

About forty members of the Com-

gave their most successful concert of the season. The auditorium of the High School, which has a seating cacacity of fourteen hundred, was nearly filled and undoubtedly would have been packed had it not been election day. The concert, was under the auspices of the Class of 1912. The president of the concert was gratifying to the men on the clubs who have been working hard to reach their present state of perfection. Ev-tions in the last half of the year.

This will be next year more than ever because of the necessity of having everything settled before going across the river.

DRAMATIC RECITAL

The Technology Christian Association has secured Mr. Edward A. Mend of New York to give a dramatic recital of "Damaged Goods" on Monday, December 30th. This event will be held in 6 Lowell at 4:30 o'clock, admission being free. The play is a study of the great red plague and its bearing on marriage.

The power of vivid narration and dramatic action is too vital and important to be neglected by the school; it should be employed seriously and with a purpose other than that of ordinary entertainment, according to authorities. Mr. Mend is making a worthy and highly successful effort in this direction and it is gratifying to all workers for social betterment to see that he is seeking to give a hearty a response on the part of the public, the press and the pulpit.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

To Hold Smoker Tonight—Faculty Speakers Announced.

This evening at 8 p.m., the Cosmopolitan Club will hold a smoker in the Union. The speakers will be Professors F. J. Moore, L. J. Johnson and W. T. Hall of the Institute; they will speak on various phases of student life in German universities. Club members are welcome, as well as all foreign born students and those who have attended German schools.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Today at 1:15, a special car will leave Copley Square for Waterbury, where members of the Chemical Society are to visit the works of the Hub Rubber Company. Those who have obtained tickets from R. H. Miller should meet in the Union for the start at that time.

memoration was entirely fitting in every respect.

The principal speaker of the evening, Mr. James P. Munroe '82, secretary of the corporation, and a member of the alumni council, was introduced by T. D. Brophy '16, with a few appropriate remarks. Brophy spoke on behalf of the Interfraternity Council, under whose auspices the smoker was given.

Mr. Munroe stated that President Rogers was for many years the heart and soul of Technology. He had the advantages of being of Scotch-Irish descent, and of being educated by his father, who was a professor; all three of his brothers were world-famous. William Rogers was many years ahead of his time, and consequently had to fight for everything he brought about. In 1846 in co-operation with his brothers, he laid out the plans of the Institute on practically the same basis as they are at present. He was married in 1848, and came to Boston in 1849. In 1859 he began his work at the Institute, and for the next ten years, he practically lived at the State house in order to obtain the legislation which he sought.

In 1861 William Rogers succeeded in getting a charter, contingent upon the raising of $100,000 within two years. During the ensuing two years he devoted all his time in an effort to raise this amount, and finally, in 1863, Technology was opened with 15 students. Without funds in hand, the Rogers building was completed at a cost of $300,000, and the following year the Institute was moved into it. "Rogers building has been since that time the heart and soul of Technology."

President Rogers remained president until 1871, when he was forced to give up the position on account of sickness. In 1870, although still a very sick man, he felt he ought to resume the presidency, and after his return the Institute found a new lease of life. On May 30, 1882, at the graduation exercises, President Walter introduced ex-President Rogers in most eloquent language. Dr. Rogers feebly rose and began to speak, swayed and fell dead, still carrying on the work of Technology. A few days later he was buried from Huntington Hall.

Mr. Munroe said in closing: "Remember that he founded and made strong, made the absolute part of the 'Technology Spirit,' made up of loyalty to one another, made up of devotion to public service. Always have before you the glow of being of service to your fellow-man, that is the Spirit of Technology."

The evening's entertainment was further augmented by some very pleasing selections by the Glee Club, the "Bedouin Song" and "Kentucky Babe." Also, four professional musicians kept music constantly in the air.

be discussed to some extent, among them being the projected class gift. The gift committee will give a report and an open discussion on the matter invited.

Refreshments will be served and entertaining features introduced during the evening. "Bob" Gay has been induced to attempt to sing his famous "Oh Alice Brown" once again and it is reported that the boulder fight will be reproduced for the benefit of those who were unable to witness the spectacle this summer.

amount of electrical engineering of Harvard and Technology, and Mr. H. C. Gawler, the radio inspector of this district, will be present to address the society after the dinner; both of these men are well known to radio experimenters. In addition the committee in charge hopes to secure other speakers of equal interest.

HOCKEY NOTICE
There will be an important Hockey Team meeting, Saturday, December 11, in 36 Rogers, at 1 o'clock. Special information will be given out in regard to practice at the Arena and also some other important notices. It is desirable that everyone interested should be there.
