Shippoly, 79, played the part of the "Professional tea-sipper" to perfection.

The Dance from "Carmen" by J. P. Gardner, 17, and J. E. Wallis, 12, along with the "Tango" by C. J. Faust, 15, and W. S. Frazier, 18, showed that the talent at the terpsichorean art is of no mean excellence. H. C. Williamson, 19, impressed the audience very favorably with his rendering of "Somewhere I A Voice I Calling," and R. E. Col- nel, 37, at the piano furnished several selections through the evening. L. F. Van Velzen, 76, repre- sented an artist trying out for the union at 6.30 o'clock. The cornm-

Socialism Compared with Fraternity

Rev. Floyd Carr Tells Of Another Way To Improve The Working Man's Condition

Yesterday noon, Rev. Floyd Carr, pastor of the Roxborough Baptist church, spoke at the Union on "Fraternity versus Socialism." Mr. Carr stated that the fundamental difference between these two movements was their interpretations of life. Fraternalsists and Socialists both recognize the ever widening gulf between the employer and the employee, especially in the case of large corporations where, as he believed, was treated like so much stock.

However, the movements differ, as the speaker showed, in their treatment of the evil. The Socialists advocate government control of the factories, railroads, mines, and other important industries of the country. They believe social conditions can be regulated by legislation. In brief, their doctrine is, "What's yours is mine." Under such conditions, he claimed, the average man would lose ambition and, although legislatures would fail and change, a man, they could not put heart or ambition in his soul.

As opposed to this, stands the doctrine of Fraternity. "What's mine is yours," the aim of these advocates being to effect a social change by natural channels. In the development of these principles, the speaker commented on the activity of Henry Ford, who has not done something to help others, toward the betterment of humanity. An analysis in the spirit of a man who has what is hoped for. In these times of short working days, many who do not know how to employ their time to advantage, fall into bad habits because they do not have the right spirit. This is just awakening to the appreciation of its opportunities for service in the advancement of the doctrine of Fraternity. The Socialist party, said Mr. Carr in conclusion, demands the first action to effect the change, but this change must be gradual and accordingly more lasting. "Give it time."

HISTORICAL EXHIBIT
AT NEW TECHNOLOGY
Summary Of Institute's Advance
To Be Shown In Series
Of Pictures

"Fifty Years of Technology" is the name given to a spectacular historical exhibit, which will be held in the new buildings during Dedication Week. This exhibit, arranged under the direction of Mr. J. F. Monroe, will be a summation of Technology's achievement during the half-century of its service, showing advancements in art and science and the connections of Technology men with this progress. One room of the exhibition will show the advancement and development of the Institute itself, giving evidence of the great changes of the internal life and workings since 1864. This exhibit will not only deal with the scholastic life of Technology, but with all the activities of the student body.

Another room will show by picturesque methods the connections of Technology man with industrial development. Early models of the telephone, telegraph, and other important inventions will be shown, and with each will be given a description of the part played by Institute graduates in the achievement of their modern perfection.

The last exhibit will show the relation of Technology to the development of the fine arts. This room will contain examples of the work of our artists, sculptors, and architects. There will also be an enumeration of the valuable volumes published by Technology men.

In the words of the Technology Review, "The entire exhibition looks up to a great architectural vision of the changes that will remain, both done in art and science. It is consistent to have a painted frieze representing the Pilgrim's Progress of Technology, and these pictures will be of such a nature that they can be used for a permanent exhibition."
