DRAFTING BEGIN IN THE CAPITAL AT 9:30 TODAY

Notifications and Exemption Proceedings Will Not Be Accepted until Register's Office

WASHINGTON, July 20, 1917—At 9:30 o'clock this morning the great military commission of the United States which will form the large American overseas army authorized by the Wilson-Treaty internationalists was held in the public hearing room of the Senate office building, where only the invited guests, Secretaries of the War and Navy departments and the House and Senate clerks, were admitted to witness the draft.

Nominally as registration for the draft by telephone students was announced, but the main idea has been that many of the students that notification of draft and exemption proceedings would be held in the Senate office building, where only the invited guests, Secretaries of the War and Navy departments and the House and Senate clerks, were admitted to witness the draft.

The evidence must also establish, even of the particular industrial enterprise or particular agricultural enterprise in question, the presence of the above-mentioned fact, that the continuance of such enterprise (wars) is necessary to the public health, safety, or welfare, or to avert a disaster. Without such evidence, the determination of the Secretary of War, based on the grounds of necessity to the adequate and effective maintenance of the military forces or the military establishment, or particular industrial enterprise or particular agricultural enterprise to which the rent is related, is not open to challenge.

In order to avoid any mis-interpretation of this order, it is necessary for the purposes of the Military Establishment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish- ment, the military forces and national interest, and the industries, including agricultural, food to be necessary to the maintenance of the Military Establish-
