MUSINGS OF FRESH

I ask

A low-brow friend

to show

Last night

And we eat

On the front row and during

The intermission

The orchestra played

The Little Brown Jug

And the low brow

Thought it

Was a national anthem

And stood up

And so did I

And everybody

Laughed

Threw it.

LECTURE ON MACHINE-GUNS TO BE GIVEN ADVANCE BATTALION

A lecture on machine-guns will be given to Companies A and B of the Advance Battalion today, and to Com-paixies C and D on Wednesday, December 13, 1917.

Tomorrow afternoon N. F. Putnam, 31 will give a lecture on signalling to Com-paixies A, C and D. He described briefly the uses of Winging, Sniffer, Arduino, Semaphore, and Buzzer signalling, and was a more extended discussion of Radio signalling, speaking of the codes in use, and describing certain parts of the wireless apparatus.

HARD PRACTICE PLANNED FOR TRACK CANDIDATES

Last Monday the winter track season opened in earnest. The board track has been put up at the north end of the track house and all men must practice at least four times a week and more if possible. Hard practice is the planned

FOR TRACK CANDIDATES

Tomorrow members of the—Battalion will take on orientation on Infantry Drill Regulations and on Lieutenant maneuvers.

For all of these events the Battalion will fall in on the Athletic Field as usual.

Tentative arrangements have been made for a freshman meet with Lowell High School on February 23. This year friends

freshmen will be eligible for varsity meets and this means that the team will be strengthened considerably.

Maneuvering of Wings

Battalion practice today included the maneuvers of the wings and the high wire.

So sometimes does wisdom. How wealit it.
