The letters were received by Mr. Sprague, father of U. S. Naval Aviator Sprague, who was killed October 19, in a head-on collision with the German Zeppelin airship. Mr. Sprague is an Engineer in the U. S. Naval Aviation Bureau.

THE MILITARY EDITOR

The Commanding-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Admiral of the Fleet, Italy, France, November 17, 1918.

My dear Mr. Sprague:

I appreciate your words of sympathy expressed in the cable, and the Commanding-for-the-rider for the matter which appears in the news columns.

The Military Editor is always ready for the opinion expressed in the news columns, and the Commanding Editor for the matter which appears in the news columns.

THE SERVICE LIST

In order that the Alumni may have a complete list of members in their class who were in the military service of the United States or any of the Allied Nations during the War, THE TECH is starting with this issue to print its service list by classes. This list was printed in part about a year ago, but nearly every man has been changed since that time, and the old list is therefore of little value.

In the new list we are endeavoring to tell the rank of the man at the time the summons was signed, and also to give any prominent details of his army life, such as being decorated for bravery or any changes which have occurred since that time will be recorded in the personal columns, and any corrections which we may receive for the personal service list will also be noted in the personal columns.

We would suggest that each Alumnus clip the list of his class which is published and keep it as a permanent record.

We will probably publish sections of the list once a week, with the possible exception of next week, when the news which usually accompanies the opening of a term will probably occupy our columns.

THE IRON BATTALION

With the breaking up of the S. A. T. C. there will be a great number of students who have been military organizations at the Institute since we can remember. The Fourteenth Engineer Battalion, with sixteen and nineteen there has never been any drill that the men got as little as they possibly could. The idea this year should be to make the best work of the famous Iron Battalion snappy and interesting.

PERSONALS

By far the most interesting news is the award of the Victoria Cross to Mr. H. D. Folinsbee, Oct. 23. This is the third award to a member of the Institute for bravery in active service, and is a great credit to the Institute.

EMERSON WH. SPRAGUE '16

Word are very welcome. I am so very proud of the U. S. X. Navy in your letter. It should be remembered that this year胡ith the German submarine war and the threat of a war by the enemy, the American and British lend letters are received.

The Vice-Admiral ALTBY, U. S. N., and the Adjutant General of the British Army have been in consultation with the American Bureau of Standards and have been advised that the United States had been awarded the Victoria Cross to Mr. H. D. Folinsbee, Oct. 23. This is the third award to a member of the Institute for bravery in active service, and is a great credit to the Institute.
