Model of Indian Mauzoleum to Be Exhibited in Technology Library

Miniature Model of One of the World's Great Monuments

By: B. G. Parks '27

If satisfactory arrangements can be completed a miniature specimen of the world's great monuments will be placed on exhibition in the Technology Library.

The model is an exact replica of the Taj Mahal in Agra, India. The Taj Mahal is one of the world's great monuments and is a symbol of the Mogul culture of India. The model is being constructed by Mr. H. Parks of the Technology Library.

Mr. Parks, owner of the model, received it from his uncle in India, who had been attending the University of Edinburgh, and the miniature model was presented to Mr. Parks by his uncle.

The original marble monument was erected by an emir of the Mogul Empire, Shah Jahan. Shah Jahan was the fifth emperor of the Mogul Empire and was the son of the great Emperor Akbar. The Taj Mahal was completed in 1632 and was used as a mausoleum for the last seven years of Shah Jahan's life. The monument is a symbol of the Mogul culture of India and is one of the world's great monuments.

A NEW ADVANCE TO THE UNDERTAKER

To the Purveyors of the Upright Casket.

Who would have thought that we would be writing to you to tell you of a new advancement in the art of the undertaker?! It is true! We have learned of a new technique in the craft of preserving the deceased. This new method involves the use of a special chemical that not only preserves the body but also enhances its appearance, making it look as if the person has just passed into the afterlife.

william when the Interfraternity Conference realizes that a reciprocating rushing program is impossible of enforcement at the present time, we expect that the rush will play a far more effective role in solving the problem, no matter how many high-minded compromises and guarantees are entered into.

The Institute has established a new tradition, which will be a source of satisfaction to the alumni and a valuable benefit to the current membership. It is a tradition that will ensure the continued success and growth of the Institute.

THE OPEN FORUM

To the Editors:

We are writing to express our concern regarding the current state of affairs at Tech. We believe that the University should be more involved in the social and cultural activities of the students, and that the administration should take a more active role in promoting these activities.

Sincerely yours,

THE REAL VALUE OF ENGLISH

This is a common refrain among English teachers. While it is true that the English and History courses are valuable, there is a need for a technical education as well.

It is important for students to have a strong technical background, as well as a good knowledge of English. This will enable them to be better prepared for their future careers.

FOOTBALL TEAMS IN FINAL STAGE OF PREPARATION

Sophs Record in Past Games is More Favorable Than Freshmen's

With only one more night of practice ago, the Sophomores and Brown football teams have finished their training for the annual contest against Harvard. There is little doubt that both teams are well prepared for the encounter, which will be decided until Field Day. The Sophomores have shown a powerful attack and speed, but on the other hand, the Frosh have a good punter on their side.

The Sophomore team has a good chance to win the game, but the Frosh are considered to have a better chance of winning the championship for this year. The Sophomores have shown rapid improvement on both the offense and defense, while the Frosh have not had to face any real opposition. Their experience has been limited to practice games, but they are expected to show their best stuff in the real game.

The game is scheduled for next Saturday at Franklin Field. Both teams will be well prepared and the outcome of the game will be closely watched by football fans.

W. P. EATON TO TALK IN 4270 TOMORROW

LECTURERS ON THEATRICAL TOPICS. His introduction is very characteristic and is considerable of a Yankee. The point which he makes by way of contrast is mostly illustrated by the latest New York movers. He has been one of the chief influences in the past fifteen years for the native American theatre and to the position which it now holds.

Mr. Eaton will have a talk at the Institute in connection with the opening of the drama at the Billiken. His talk on the "Rivals." This years Eaton will have his talk on the Alhambra production of "The School for Scandal" which is coming to the shortly.

Mr. Eaton is one of the authors of the chronicle play, "Queens Victoria," which was published two years ago in New York; author of "The American Stage" and "The New Thea-trist" and more recently "The Art of Acting" as well as a good deal of popular work.

Several colleges in Boston or this region have been fortunate in engaging Mr. Eaton, and it is hoped that Technology students and instructors will come out and give him the audience which he deserves when he comes here to the Institute.
