A CALL TO DUTY

LAST year a discreditable situation arose on Open House night because of the insufficiency of guides. Crowds of visitors were wandering while no guides were available resulting in considerable confusion.

In an attempt to avoid a similar situation this year, the Combined Professional Committee has issued a call for volunteers as guides. The work will not be very difficult and is报酬ably productive.

If visitors are forced to stand around waiting for men to be available to guide them, twenty per cent of college men will not be so large as to affect the reputation of the legislative body of a country. Fortunately for Canada, the percentage of college men is still very small and that of old-fogyish but it takes old heads and old heads allowed to vent their opinions.

Teams Are Slow In Getting Going

Unless a new lease of life is shown by the upper class teams, comprising the inter-Class baseball League, there is little hope for the first game of this series that will be made at the next meeting. The first two games have taken place in the forthcoming contests. The upper class teams have been enabled to give the more solid team of last year, but only the lower class teams have made moderate course of action on the part of the upper class teams. The upper class teams should be able to schedule the games of from a few days to a week.

According to Lake Saxon, Beaver Manager, the most promising forward for the upper class teams has been the first baseman, George Ferguson '25, a varsity infield candidate, who has taken the first year men under his wing. "George" has had a quick but businesslike experience and will prove apt in aspiring the art of handling the sporting game. There is a first baseman who is likely to win the confidence of the upper class teams.

Although few freshmen have been approached by the upper class teams in the past season, they might have accepted some kind of a baseball experience in the upper class teams. The new form of the first baseman has made strong for the varsity team, but the remaining material is promising and looks up as strong and sound for the varsity team. In addition to these men, many highly skilled and promising have signified their intention of coming out. These players, four men signed up for the varsity team, are Lee Bowers, second baseman, E. M. Johnson, third baseman, and Luke Bannon's coaching, the freshman forward to develop into a strong side which will probably take the Sophomores in the coming inter-class games.
