THE OPEN FORUM

CO-EDUCATION: TO THE EDITOR:

I am an undergraduate student at your university and I would like to provide a follow-up on my previous letter to the editor regarding the recent changes to the co-education policy. I have noticed that there have been some additional modifications to the guidelines, which I believe are necessary to ensure a more inclusive and respectful environment for all students.

I would like to emphasize the importance of continued dialogue and collaboration among students, faculty, and administration in order to address any concerns or issues that may arise. It is crucial to maintain an open and transparent communication channel to foster a positive and supportive atmosphere for all community members.

I am looking forward to further discussions and updates on the co-education policy in the future. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

THE FRACTIONS

STELLA DALLAS

When "mother" is advertised as the basis for a literary or dramatic treatment, it is usually accompanied by a certain amount of high-minded enthusiasm. However, in the case of "Stella Dallas," the Lounger is forced to admit that the advertisement was slightly overdone. The movie is not without its merits, but it falls far short of the expectations raised by the publicity.

"Stella Dallas" is a story of a woman who, in an effort to maintain her family's dignity, sacrifices her own happiness and well-being. The film is directed by Victor Fleming and stars Barbara Stanwyck in the title role.

Though the acting is generally competent, the script is weak and the story is overly sentimental. The ending is particularly disappointing, as it seems to lack any real resolution to the conflicts presented earlier in the film.

In summary, "Stella Dallas" is not the grand dramatic achievement it is often marketed as. While it may have some redeeming qualities, it is ultimately a disappointing film that fails to live up to its宣传.

BATTLE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Coach McCarthy's Men

Greatly Improved Game

Looked For

DANCING FOLLOWS GAME

For the second time this week, Coach McCarthy's Cardinal and Gray team proved that it is a team to be reckoned with when it meets the Terriers, and it is not only with the Terriers but with any team in the league.

McCarthy is sure that the team will give us good account of itself against Harvard. The Terriers are good but in my estimation the Crimson is the team on top of all others. The Harvard starters were not as good as those who made the wholesale changes made by the Institute.

Terriers Become

Desperate

Rushing and toiling as if their lives depended on it, the Terriers gave everything they had. They were not the same team that was at their best at its. Their defense was improved and they did not give the Terriers the chance to score.

McCarthy's penalty time was up, 'aid a defender to stop them. However, just as the period was starting, Crandall's penalty time was up, and skating back from the boards, he smashed a quarter ice drive by a defender. The disk was juggled back and forth one at Silverberg, who deftly turned it inside the goal. The Terriers were down.

In the final period the Terriers became desperate and toiled as if their lives depended on it. They were not the same team that was at their best at its. Their defense was improved and they did not give the Terriers the chance to score.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY HEARS ALUMNUS

Bradley Dewey '09 Advises Men "To Cater To And Flatter Your Employer"

Professor J. W. M. Bunker of the Department of Biology and Bradley Chemical Company were the speakers at the last Chemical So- ciety meeting of the year Wednesday night in North Hall, Wicker. Pro- fessor Bunker spoke on his experiences in the oil business and the Wicker. Pro- fessor Bunker spoke on his experiences in the oil business and the World of Paper' were exhibited.

Mr. Dewey’s discourse was on "You work toward your job and your employer toward your work." He stated that the employer is a service and that all require a service from the employer.

Dewey advised the following, "Be fair and honest in your work and your employer will be fair and honest in his work." He went on to say that if you want to succeed in business, you must be honest in all your dealings.

He further stated that you must be able to take time to reason out your own problems and be able to make a judgment.

"Your viewpoint toward your job and your employer toward your work are the keys to success in business," said Professor Bunker.

OPEN HOUSE NIGHT TO HAVE NO GUIDES

At a meeting of the Combined Pro- fessional Societies last night, at which plans for a Open House Night in February were discussed, it was decided that there would be no guides. The plan is to have the students show the visitors around the college and answer any questions they may have.

ADVICE ON CONDUCT OFFERED AT LECTURE

"It really doesn't make any differ- ence what country the meat comes from, as long as you go through the one that you like, in good shape," said C. L. Norton, yesterday at the Freshman Dinner, who advised the following, "Be fair and honest in your work and your employer toward your work are the keys to success in business," said Professor Bunker.

The idea was brought out that the training at Technology was not so as to give the necessary fundamentals for the student to do in the work that they could satisfactorily occupy executive positions.
