The FORENSIC FORAY

"Oh, East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet." This saying by Rudyard Kipling expresses the sentiment of many people. It is a sentiment that is shared by many students at this university.

It is indeed a great privilege to obtain an idea of the western attitude toward the cultural ambitions of the East. It is a privilege to observe the activities of the English and American societies and to hear the speeches of the students who take part in them. It is a privilege to see the growth of the public libraries and the growing interest in reading in the country.

For the engineer, the desire to be able to express himself clearly is a necessity. He requires a knowledge of the principles of grammar and style in order to be able to communicate his ideas effectively. He requires a knowledge of the literature of his country in order to be able to understand and appreciate the works of other men. He requires a knowledge of the history of his country in order to be able to understand the development of its institutions and its culture.

Penn Relay Entries Will Be Announced After Meet

Now that the dates of the Intercollegiates are fast approaching and the Saturdays when the big meets are not far off," Ots Hedlund and his track protges will hold the first real handicap meet of the season on the cinders tomorrow afternoon.

Saturday's meet will comprise both running and field events. This is really the formal opening track meet that has received its spring treatment and all bodies well for a big meeting in every sense of the word.

Coached with a customary disdain in the life of a college coach, Hedlund has been doubly busy during the past week. He has been on the quarter mile oval, there has been no running allowed on the track, and hence Ots and Maek have had to act as policemen all of this week. Now that the cinder is a forbidden path, a great many of the men will find their place off and away, especially those who made the Varsity squad.

Unpredictable for the sake of sportsmanship, the individual events are also to take place. The cinders this season the tourney Saturday will determine the winner of the Intercollegiate championship in the individual events.

VETERAN MATTEM WILL BE LOST TO TEAM THIS JUNE

Team Experiences Fair Season As Defeats Outnumber the Victories

Although the outcomes of a championship wrestling team were very bright a year ago and even with nearly an intact squad, which the team had the previous season, the team could not break even in the standings. Thedoi of this season's varsity was one of the class in 1921 with the exception of Soph heavyweight, who, although he had earned the next to the champion, scored and elected a vote at the end of the season a graduate from Tufts, who was the first of the engineers to score and was still on the floor.

Since being the first meet of the season, the opening match of this year's season will be held in the track house where the cinders will be in full sight. The cinders have now deep in the work of preparing for the Intercollegiate championship which will be held. The team has gone through a fairly stiff schedule, but they are firm in the opinion that they are in excellent condition.

FROS I BALL TEAM SLOW IN PRACTICE

Men Who Substituted for PF Are Running at Daily Workout

Freshmen are slow in coming out for the class interball team this season, and although the regular intercollegiate meets are not far off many Coach Hedlund hopes that the men who are going to be in the next to the champion, will put in enough work during the season to be ready for the action of the year. The first meeting was reported at the regular practice yesterday afternoon.

At the beginning of the term the freshmen who put up for the 48 and 45 freshmen signed up for the event and the captains were assigned to the teams of the season. The first meet will be held by the Intercollegiate championship by a good margin and it was hoped that the class of 1926 would win it.

Numbered among the many freshmen who have signed up for the class interball team are many who have shown up well while in prep school. Material was particularly promising on the ground and in the infield and the coach reports that there will be some very good players working in all the outdoor sports.

TRACK MEN TO HOLD MEET TOMORROW

WILL BE HELD IN THE TRACK HOUSE WHERE THE CINDERS WILL BE IN FULL SIGHT.

The freshmen R. O. T. C. rifle team closed the season on March 29, with matches fired against other teams from various parts of the United States, and including the best groups of the National Rifle Association.

During the season the team fired at its first meeting at its training center, winning two-thirds of them with creditable results. The majority of the members were against teams from other R. O. T. C. groups, in other classes and, of the M. I. T. freshmen feel that their trophies had there were more than hundred cent value.

From a record of 887 men shot, it was gradually reduced to a total of thirteen snipers who completed the season. Of those, one of the "first team," R. E. T. C. group, had fired all the rounds just before the end of the season in an unusually heavy academic schedule. Of the remaining fourteen, none, other than one fall to the gun of the Athletic Association. The ten eng- ing with the highest score for the entire season have been awarded silver rifle badges by the Athletics Department in recognition of the part the team played in the matches with other schools. These medals were shown in the Friday night review of the freshman battalion when all rifles and drill medals are also to be presented.

Results of the interfraternityidal rifle meets played yesterday are as follows:

While the opening of the indoor court in the Hangar Gym, the tennis equipment at the Institute has at last a place to put a little practice. The lighting effects are better than last year, but still it is possible to unbalance tennis muscles until outdoor courts are in condition. Every day finds a group of men on the court, getting a little pre- season training.

The men that are almost certain of making the varsity of course practicing on the Covered Court at Long Branch, Hicken or Peak getting into shape for the approaching season. The first match of the year in with Boston University on April 29. The way looks at the present time, these four men should have little difficulty in winning this match.

A spring practice against each other is different. The members of Longbranch have brought them around into excellent form. Hicken, since the close of the basketball season has been getting in some strength- ing practice and is almost ready. His understudy has graduated this year but he is now taking the ball in fine style.
