FENCING TEAM IS WINNER 3 TIMES ON NEW YORK TRIP

Defeat Syracuse, Hamilton, and Cornell on Successive Week-Ends

Three Wins Bring Record of Team to Five Victories and One Defeat

Boasting wins over Syracuse, Hamilton, and Cornell on their New York trip this fencing team found that the town with broad brand of fencing, especially Captain Oakey, engineer and the student manager, is second to none in that city, and equally as good in the West. The two latter named won 18 out of 18 in the fields, thereby securing 75% for the trip up to a total of five wins.

The meet with Syracuse was won by 16-6. The fencing teams were as follows: captain and Cornell on their New York meet was that--,

The score was 8-5 in favor of the Institute on a firm basis. The amount is to be entirely inadequate for even the needs of Athletics. This amount is to be increased by the Student Tax Committee last Thursday in order to provide the $12.50 per year required by the Advisory Council on Athletics.

The above mentioned affair was held on Saturday evenings in the usual Winter Concert room. There will be a large number in attendance, which will be impossible to purchase a signup for a dance to which the Institute has been precluded.

The cost of signups will be $6.00 per couple and $3.00 for single members of the class for whom the signups are precluded.

The sales will be put on sale today by the Music Department of the Institute. Tickets are also obtainable from any member of the Club's management.

EIGHT T. C. A. MEN EMBEZZLE FUND

Eight students were sent by the Technology Christian Association to the中期 conference on the Christian Way of Life at the New York City Convention on the week-end. There were about one thousand students represented in the Institutes in Great Britain. Great Britain's President was Paul Hallett, presiding officer of the Student Christian Movement. The man whose duties is to be under the control of the Undergraduate Council of the Institute.

The President of the Institute, John H. Wells '26, the president of the Tech, announced the results of the vote which was taken in the chapel during the week-end.

Proposed Athletic Tax Would Be Less Than the Average of Other Colleges

Letter From Dr. Rowe Gives History and Development of Student Tax

Recommendations in the Student Tax Committee last Thursday stated that there was a $12.50 tax on the players that would increase the average athletic tax charged at 31 other carefully selected colleges, and in 10 of these colleges was made in an effort to increase the average tax paid at the present time.

It is evident that it would be unwise to refer this matter to those with these colleges or to the major source of revenue and that it would be unwise to refer this matter to the major source of revenue and the members of the Student Tax Committee.

Letter From Dr. Rowe Gives History and Development of Student Tax

A brief view of the history and development of the Student Tax Committee is given to the following excerpt from a letter to the members of the Student Tax Committee written by Dr. Norwood to the Advisory Council on Athletics.

"It was in response to your request for me to write a brief article on the subject of the Student Tax Committee that I prepared the following.

The Student Tax Committee was formed in 1925 as a result of a motion passed to this effect and the conditions imposed by the agent writing the policies will send all remaining policies.

Group insurance had been decided upon by the Student Endowment Committee, which is the best of the Class for the Class of 1929. There was a motion to this effect and the conditions imposed by the agent writing the policies will send all remaining policies.

Koko, a chimp named for a Kenyan tribal title meaning “understanding,” was sent to the Seattle Zoo by the Chimp Haven program in July 2023. Koko, who has lived at the San Francisco Zoo since 1972, is one of the few chimpanzees in the world to have learned sign language. At the time of her death, she was 68 years old. Koko’s passing is a significant loss for the animal rights community as she was a symbol of intelligent chimpanzees and their ability to communicate with humans.

The passing of Koko is a somber reminder of the challenges faced by chimpanzees in the wild. Conservation efforts are necessary to ensure that chimpanzees continue to thrive and that their habitats are protected. Koko’s legacy will be remembered through the work of organizations dedicated to chimpanzee conservation and animal rights advocacy.

The Seattle Zoo has announced that they will continue to care for Koko’s remaining chimpanzees and that the zoo will work to ensure that their well-being is maintained. The zoo has also expressed gratitude for the outpouring of support from people around the world who have admired Koko and her contributions to science.

Koko’s passing is a reminder of the importance of valuing and protecting all forms of life. It is crucial that we continue to work towards a future where animals like Koko are able to live in their natural habitats and thrive.

FENCING WINS THREE TIMES OVER NEW YORK COLLEGES

New Hampshire Gets Win In Hair Raising Battle On Hangar Surface 20-19

With two minutes to go and the score 19-20 against them, the Cardinal and Gray basketball team, unable to penetrate the defense of the Engineers, failed to come up with the Hangar gun on University of New Hampshire Saturday night.

Coach M. C. Sheehan's men played exceptionally fine basketball from the start as they scored 10 points in the first four minutes of playing time. It was so sound a game that the Hangar gun could not get an individual star for either team, so slowly did they play, the teams were passing at both aggregations being of the Midway order.

By means of the moral support from the stands and the impress of Capt. Bill Forrester, point score extra ordinary who fired through the Harvard defense many times during the first half and the easy part of the second, Technology went with authority. It had held a one point advantage over them in the first half, the score at 20-19. At the half they had decided to try to crowd the ball of the Harvard fliers and keep the possession of the ball at least for the first three minutes of the second half. The Hangar gun was bound to break down. It did.

In the first part of the second half, Taylor, the ranking visitor center, in a low key was held in check. With two minutes to go, the score was 29-20. Forrester contended from the floor for Technology's last point. He shot the ball with a force of 100 pounds, but only two inches of ball emerged from the ball. The ball in front of the Technology fencers was played up and down the line of defense. Referee General Hoyt, the Maryland state champion, for over 20 years, was thrown into the ring. Forrester, after tying the game and scoring two baskets in 50 seconds, was up against the hangar gun.

innovation of Tax

Revisions in the machinery of operation have occurred from time to time but in general the principle remains the same. As an important innovation was introduced with the establishment of the student body where, by the undergraduate group voluntarily assumed an individual and voluntary basis for the promotion and maintenance of athletic teams. Following upon the same general principles, the administration of these funds was left in the hands of the student body with again a small advisory group who were given control of the selection of the captain function. The student body has rapidly increased within the years, and simultaneously new fields of athletic enterprise have been developed. Incidentally, costs of operation has followed the general upward trend of all living and maintenance expenses. This has resulted in a series of financial crises which have necessitated the exclusion of several financial crises which have necessitated the exclusion of financial crises which have necessitated
