WANT LESS ROMANCE IN TECH SHOW 1928

Prof. Rogers and Coach Scranton Address Book Writers

Less romance and more humor will be the keynote of next year's Tech Show, it was decided at a meeting of Show Book writers on Monday.

Professor Robert E. Rogers and Coach Carl Scranton were present and addressed the prospective dramatists. They pointed out what was expected from the men who plan to write next year's play.

More youthful characters, less love scenes, more humor, and more men in the cast were called for. It is thought that a burlesque may be presented next year.

All books must be presented by September 1, 1927, and this year a prize of $50 will be presented to the author of the successful book. Those who did not attend the meeting may obtain information about this competition at the Tech Show office.

Make Activity Plaques In Walker Up-to-Date

All the activity plaques in Walker have been made strictly up-to-date as a result of the orders given yesterday by Bursar Horace S. Ford to add the names of the 1927 heads of Institute activities. The plaques, which are at present in the East and West Lounge of Walker, contain the names of the General Managers of THE TECH, Technique, Voo Doo, Tech Engineering News, Tech Show, and the Combined Musical Clubs, the presidents of the Senior class and the M. I. T. A. A., and the Chairman of the Walker Memorial Committee.

Pennell N. Aborn Will Make Effort to Reduce

Students seeking employment will now be saved a long walk over to Walker in quest of information with the assigning of a bulletin board in the educational buildings to the Undergraduate Employment Bureau of the T. C. A. It is located at the entrance to Building 10 leading to the automobile parking spaces, near the cashier's office. Notices pertaining to positions open will be posted on the board, and names of men wanted will be emblazoned with chalk on a blackboard in the middle of it. Mr. Pennell N. Aborn, T. C. A. secretary in charge of the bureau, announces that he himself will walk over with notices in an attempt to reduce.

Freshman Cadets Will Compete For Military Awards

Best Trained Individual and Company Will be Chosen
This Afternoon

Proficiency in military drill will be rewarded this afternoon with the selection of the best freshman cadet company, the most proficient individual cadet and the best Sophomore non-commissioned officer. The competition will be conducted by Maj. Drollinger, Capt. Funk and Capt. Brockway of the Boston University R. O. T. C., and is open to all freshmen taking MS12 and all Sophomore N. C. O.'s.

Competition for the freshman individual proficiency awards will begin at 3 o'clock, and freshmen desiring to enter the competition will be excused from their classes at this hour. The awards, a gold, a silver and a bronze medal, will be made with a view to excellence in School of the Soldier and School of the Squad work. The three best freshmen will be selected by the process of elimination. Choice of the best drilled company will be made during the usual drill period from four to five o'clock, and the company selected will carry the new guidon, recently presented to the Battalion by the Reserve Officers' Association, at the general review a week from tomorrow.

Major-General Preston Brown and Dr. Samuel W. Stratton will review the battalion at the annual general military review, which will be held Wednesday, May 25, on the campus between Walker and Building 2. All awards will be made at this time, and music will be furnished by a thirty-piece regular army band from Fort Banks. This will be the final freshman drill of the year.

Calls are now being sent out for delegates from Technology to attend the annual Northfield Student Conference, which is being held this year at East Northfield, Massachusetts, June 15 to 23.

According to the program which has been announced, there will be platform addresses by outstanding men in different fields, forums on ten subjects of interest, life work vespers every evening at sunset, bible study classes, and athletics for the afternoon.

Among the speakers will be Henry H. Tweedy, Kirby Page, Henry P. Van Dusen, Henry Sloane Coffin, Kirtley F. Mather, Richard Roberts, Rev. Sidney Lovett, and others. Expenses will be $20 for board and room, $5.76 for carfare, and $7 registration fee, except for foreign students, who do not have to pay anything to register. The T. C. A. will pay up to half the expenses of anyone who wants to go. Application should be made to Waldo M. Powers '29, chairman of the Institute delegation, or to Mr. Wallace M. Ross, of the T. C. A.

MASS MEETING FOR SPORTS IS FRIDAY

All Technology Students Will Assemble in Great Court
At 11:50 O'clock

All students who are studying for examination will be given an opportunity to cut some time from their classes to attend a Sports Mass Meeting which will be held in the Great Court of the Institute on Friday at 11:50. Permission to do this has been given by President Samuel W. Stratton together with sanction to cut five minutes off the following hour.

In view of the coming crew races with Penn and Harvard on Saturday and the intercollegiate track meet, this meeting is being called to rouse up an extraordinary interest in the student body so that the sports will receive full support. The assembly is being organized by the Calumet Club and will be presided over by Homer A. Burnell, Jr., '28.

As the feature of the meeting, Technology's Varsity crew will be on hand, and Bill Haines, coach of crew, will give the crowd an informal talk. He will be followed by other speakers on athletics. Those in charge of the affair hope that both the Harvard and Penn crews will be able to be present together with their coaches so that more interest may be aroused, but definite arrangements have not been completed with either of these groups.

t. e. n. GETS SECOND BURIAL ON FRIDAY

Staff in Deadly Fear Makes Out Its Last Will and Testament

Miracles will never cease! Not satisfied with being rushed, yea absolutely smothered under the deluge of runs scored on them by the invincible cohorts of THE TECH, t. e. n. makes the impossible claim that she has come to life again, and now awaits a second burial.

This time, though, with an amount of sense uncommon to such animals, the t. e. n. staff is preparing for the coming event with much diligence. Yesterday an official announcement was made from the mud hole of the pseudo-scientists that every urchin in the place had made out his last will and testament. Here THE TECH can only deign to print the contents of the will of their chief, Joan Muddleton, prominent Kappa Beta Phi man, who has willed (his? her?) entire personal property, one plugged nickel and a hairpin, to the Mississippi Flood Fund. THE TECH congratulates him on his generosity.

Knowing that they have only a week more to live the t. e. n. mongrels are taking every precaution so that their lives will not be further shortened. Yesterday afternoon they could be seen trooping in a pack around the basement of Walker holding to the scant hope that in numbers there is strength.

It has been suggested that in Friday's burial, which will begin at 5 o'clock, THE TECH baseball nine use rubber bats because the noise of the unrelenting succession of cracks which they rung out last Wednesday caused injuries to the ears of several of the mongrels out in the field. Since ear injuries do not affect burial it is expected that the matter will be overlooked.

FRESHMAN LEADERS' MEETING IS TODAY

Section leaders of the freshman class will meet today in room 10-275 today at 5 o'clock so that all tickets and money from the class dance which was given last Friday may be turned in. A brief, approximate report on the financial outcome of the class function will be given.

In addition, details of what the class is going to do in the coming sports mass meeting will be explained. Following that, plans will be started for the organization of the class next year when it will no longer be possible to have section leaders. It is important that every section leader attend the meeting today.

Bigelow Injured In Automobile Accident

According to reports yesterday afternoon Robert M. Bigelow '27, former Chairman of the Budget Committee, who was injured Monday afternoon in an automobile accident near the Fensgate Hotel will suffer no injurious effects from the mishap other than the disfigurement of carrying several stitches in his leg until the wound is healed. Bigelow was riding in the rear seat of a Ford touring car driven by Henry Janes '27 which upon coming out of a side street near the Fensgate swerved into a truck. The collision stove in the side of the car next to Bigelow with the result that a very deep cut was made in his leg. He was rushed immediately to the clinic where several stitches were taken and later was taken to his home in Natick.

Drive To Redeem Senior Sign-ups Ends Today at 2

'Third' Superheater Announces
Time to Reserve Tables
For the Prom

All signups for Senior Week which are not redeemed by two o'clock today will be worthless, since at that time the Committee is closing its redemption campaign. After that there will be no blanket tickets sold, but orders for tickets to individual events may be placed either with John B. Drisko '27 or at the Information Office.

Tabloid-like papers appearing at numerous points throughout the buildings on Monday, were none other than copies of the "Third" stage of the Senior Superheater, which announced this week's signup redemption campaign to the graduating class. In addition it contained an announcement that reservations of Prom tables would be made in the Main Lobby tomorrow and Friday from 11 till 2 o'clock.

Other articles included the news and programs of Class Day and Commencement, a story on the coming Alumni Convention, and several columns of nonsense. A notice stated that the second stage for which Seniors have looked in vain and had been censored, but it is doubtful whether the censors or any one else had much to do.

Recommendations have been made by the Senior Week Committee that parties of five couples who wish to sit together at the Prom supper be formed before Thursday. The tables which will be arranged around the outside of the ballroom and foyer will each accommodate five couples. Seating preference will be given in order of application, and all those who do not make arrangements to sit with their friends will be given an arbitrary table assignment which will be impossible to change.

COMMITTEE WILL MEET AT PRESIDENT'S HOME

Members Will Be Installed and Officers Elected

President Samuel W. Stratton will be host to the Institute Committee at their final meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon. The meeting which features the installation of the new committee members will be followed by a dinner.

Elections to the Executive Committee of a Vice-President, Secretary, and Member-at-Large will be made at this meeting. The other members of the Executive Committee are the President of the Senior Class, Chairman of the Budget Committee, and Chairman of the Walker Memorial Committee all of whom have been elected. Among the matters of business which will come up at the meeting will be the report of the committee on constitution revision.

BEAVERS TO GNAW INTO CONNECTICUT AGGIE NINE TODAY

Game Will Be Played at North
Diamond, Starting at 3 O'clock

ENGINEERS ARE FAVORED

Line-up Will Be Same as in Last Saturday's Game
With Trinity

Tomorrow the Beavers will have another opportunity to prove their batting ability when they meet the Conn. Aggies on North Field at 3 o'clock. After the Engineer's demonstration against the powerful Trinity aggregation on last Saturday the Cambridge hopes have been considerably bettered. Another victory for them looks imminent and certain it is that the scoring will be heavy. Whether such will be the case for both sides is yet a question.

Connecticut Agricultural School has lost several games but these by only close margins and so enters the contest not at all an underdog. The Beavers were unable to practice last Monday as usual because of a tardy April deluge, and have since that time had to devote a large part of the time to infield drill. This will find the batting perhaps a little handicapped but this division of the game can best of any be slighted by the Beavers. The batteries have not as yet rounded in to form and in the last game were lacking in control.

Coach Silva will continue his policy of alternating pitchers, which has worked out so well, but is undecided who will start on the mound in the coming game. Duphin has proved himself the most reliable, but is being hard pressed by Farwell and Richards. The latter is the most natural twirler but is erratic. Farwell did unusually well against Trinity.

No change is at present contemplated in the Engineer line-up from that which started the game in Hartford but since the game is to be played here it is probable that more men will be replaced during the course of the contest.

T. E. N. FOR MAY IS EXPECTED ON FRIDAY

Issue Will Be of New Enlarged
Size With Special Cover

As the last number of this term, the May issue of the Tech Engineering News will appear tomorrow and will remain on sale over Friday, it was announced last night. The issue will be of the new enlarged size with special cover design, but it will not feature any special subject as has been the policy recently.

Six important articles form the main body of the number, while there is also a large departmental notes section and the customary pictorial section.

"Motor Fuels of the Future" by A. C. Fieldman, chief of the United States Bureau of Mines, is a thorough and efficient treatment in detail of a problem which is now attracting universal interest. He gives complete statistics on the gasoline supply left in present producing regions, on the probable amount in undiscovered districts, and on the extra amount available by perfection of present processes. He also discusses synthetic gasoline, mentioning two processes recently discovered in Europe which may prove economical, and the possibility of finding substitutes for gasoline is considered.

Automatic control of high temperatures is the topic discussed by Mr. M. B. Hall of the Foxboro Company in his paper on "High Temperature Control." Another paper on "Aluminum" (Continued on Page 4)

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES

TECHNOLOGY has held for many years its position as one of the foremost scientific and engineering schools in the country.

At present the plan seems to be to add new courses to the curriculum, to teach new subjects, and to enlarge the Faculty.

The chief requisite of a first class school is that it have first class professors and instructors; teachers who have been successful and are experts in their own lines.

It is a question whether the making of a bigger and more impressive catalogue will have a more beneficial effect than the same amount of money and work put into the courses which already have made a name for themselves.

BLADE BY BLADE

LONG the possessor of the most enviable group of buildings any American technical school can boast of, the Institute at last shows promise of acquiring a campus to match.

To the tendency of board walks to decay after the repeated soaking and drying of ten years of New England Weather may be attributed this sudden disrupting of the lower court, for had it not been for the rotting of one of the cross walks, it is doubtful whether action would have started for another decade or so.

It is with this higher court that much future discussion will be concerned. If any sort of small-tree or shrubby effects are to be introduced, they will necessitate having good soil to a depth of quite a few feet, which will involve considerable expense.

THE TECH BOOK LIST

YOUNG MEN IN LOVE

YOUNG MEN IN LOVE, by Michael Arlen, George H. Doran Co. New York, $2.50.

Michael Arlen has by far exceeded himself in the most recent of his novels dealing with English society life. The book is more on the order of an essay than a novel.

His characters will not last, for nothing very large or significant rattles in the heads of ladies, and not much more in the heads of the young men who are supposedly "in love".

Ysabel, the American, has "all the American woman's capacity for hiding a fierce sensuality behind a puritanical rejection of the word sex."

The other characters, the rich afflicted Jew; Vardon, the morally delinquent father of Venetia, Raphael Sass, who tries to seduce women with his Jewish father's money, and the others, who are victims of Arlen's posterizing process all go to make a well written novel of no permanent value.

Michael has presented us with a fanciful image of the social set, but he himself takes them very philosophically. They are not much different from those of the elder school who are seeking power and love without the means to attain it.

As We Like It

SOME GIRL

A female impersonator makes "some girl" in the musical comedy which is running this week at the St. James.

As a whole the play and its acting would do credit to a regular producer of musical comedies. The story has to do with a family whose mother is anxious for the marriage of her daughter with a nobleman.

However, the plot is but a framework to build a delightful series of amusing situations and humor of every sort. Although the dancing is not exceptional, the music is quite good and is well sung as several of the cast have unusually good voices for a stock company.

AS WE SEE THE MOVIES

STATE

Lon Chaney as "Mr. Wu" featured at the State under that title, has produced a picture that will long be remembered as a marvelous character study, capable of being played only by a master of makeup as himself, Renee Adoree, who takes the part of "Mr. Wu's" daughter under the name of Nang Ping, plays a minor role in the hot love scenes of the picture.

"Mr. Wu," written expressly to feature Lon Chaney's singular powers of facial expression, does not possess a complicated plot. Nang Ping, who has grown up in the mandarin's garden, into a pretty girl, falls in love with a handsome young American and is seduced.

Perhaps "in love" is too much; I do not think his characters are capable of love. Their minds seem to be distorted with passionate frenzy.

VENETIA, "whose eyes are glorious events like the birth of Plato, the defeat of Attila, the coronation of Queen Victoria and Alice in Wonderland," in the opinion of Savile the novelist, strives not to forget to be lonesome, for therein lies her charm.

Ysabel, the American, has "all the American woman's capacity for hiding a fierce sensuality behind a puritanical rejection of the word sex."

ends the "house of Mr. Wu" when she stabs the mandarin. The stage attraction include a male quintet, sizzling oriental jazz by seven Chinese syncopators and a sensuous dance by an oriental girl.

A co-ed motorist headed a line of twenty University of Minnesota students that filed into traffic court to pay $1 fines for parking violations.

Said Lieutenant George Torman to the young woman: "What would your instructor say if he knew you were down in police headquarters, paying a fine for violating an ordinance?"

And the co-ed replied: "I guess he wouldn't say a thing. He's standing in line right back of me with a tag himself."

CREWS BATTLE FOR RICHARDS CUP TODAY

Coach Hedlund wishes to call attention to the meeting of all cross-country candidates for next year's team in the Hangar at five o'clock this afternoon. Important announcements will be made at that time, and valuable pointers on keeping in training over the summer vacation will be given by the coach.

The editor of the Lynchburg College paper shed tears over that fact that the college is becoming an exponent of effeminacy. The faculty has recently issued an edict that all students must turn in their revolvers.

CLASS EIGHTS TO VIE FOR HONORS IN ANNUAL RACE

This afternoon at quarter to six the Annual Richards Cup race will be held over the mile course on the Charles River Basin. Bill Haines will act as both referee and starter for the two competing shells, the 150-pound freshman and the Sophomore boat. Ordinarily the four classes enter representative crews in this event, but due to the exceptionally fine showing of the above two, the Juniors and Seniors have deemed it unwise and useless to organize contending eights.

Due to their long experience together, the freshmen are favored over the Sophomore boat. They received valuable experience in their races with Brown-Nichols and the 150-pound Harvard freshman crews, both of which they trimmed. However, the Sophomores will force them to the limit as the older boat is likewise made up of well tried men, the winners of the last Field Day regatta.

Saturday, the last of the Boston Crew races will be held, and that to be the largest. Three Varsity and the one freshman boats will meet the corresponding shells of Harvard and Pennsylvania in a triangular regatta, a duplicate of one last year. The Philadelphians arrive tomorrow and will row from Newell Boat House at Harvard. They will bring their own shells with them and are scheduled to reside at the new University Club. The Blue and Red has this year lost to the Navy, Yale and Columbia. Harvard and Technology also lost to the Navy but not by so large a margin. The Engineers have won from Princeton and so rank with Harvard as the two most likely winners.

The next engagement of the track season is the New England ICAA to be held at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, next Friday and Saturday. Twenty-one schools will be represented at the meet. Coach Hedlund is taking eighteen men with him tomorrow, and hopes to bring home the cup.

WENTWORTH WHIPS FROSH—SCORE 8 TO 1

Pit Strength Against Boston College Frosh Tomorrow

Yesterday the freshman baseball team played the Wentworth Institute nine on the Wentworth field, losing the game with a score of 8 to 1. The Wentworth team showed better organization than the Beaver frosh and had better individual stars in the game. O'Connor pitched the first seven innings and then played first base while Riley pitched.

Tomorrow the frosh will play their sixth game of the season when they meet the powerful Boston College nine at University Heights. After the victory over the Terrier nine last Saturday the frosh are confident of a sure victory over the Eagle freshmen. The B. C. nine is one of the strongest freshman teams in this locality and although they will offer a stubborn fight, the superior team work of the Beaver frosh should assure the final outcome.

O'Connor will probably pitch the game. He has passed a lot of men lately but his control is improving and he should keep the Eagle hits at a minimum. Botzow will be in the outfield and is one of the best fielders the freshman have. Riley will hold first base and can be counted on to bring in the runs. Lucey, the heavy hitter of the team, ought to bring in some runs, if he hits the ball. Spahr and McHugh are good on the defence.

The tentative line-up is: O'Connor, p; Burke, c; Riley, 1b; Smith, 2b; Lapointe, 3b; Spahr, lf; Lucey, cf; Botzow, rf; and McHugh, ss.

FROSH TO MEET NEW HAMPSHIRE ON TRACK

On Saturday afternoon the freshman track team will journey to Durham for a meet with the New Hampshire University yearlings. In spite of their defeat at the hands of the Holy Cross team the frosh are hopeful of winning this meet.

The Institute team has shown consistent improvement in every meet since the opening of the outdoor season and the fact that they have been on the short end of the score in two of their three meets does not discourage them any. They have been pitted against some of the strongest teams in the state.

Steele sprung a surprise last Saturday by winning the high jump. He can be counted on to add some points to the Technology score at New Hampshire. Failure of the dash men to capture any of the scoring positions in last Saturday's meet was only to be expected considering the strength of the invaders in these events and the remarkable performances they have been turning in all season. Against ordinary opposition the Cardinal and Gray sprinters are usually found up among the leaders.

The first Canadian debating team ever to go to England will invade Britain this summer when three picked debaters of McGill University make a tour of the mother country. Debates have been arranged with Oxford, Cambridge, London, Edinburgh and Bristol.

The director of the General Art Department at Pratt Institute recently refused to allow students to make a gift to the school on the grounds that the college is one of the best equipped in the country.

Many new types of vacuum tubes are described by Mr. Robinson of the General Electric Company in his article on this subject. He deals with radio tubes, power tubes, X-ray tubes, cathode ray tubes, the new Coolidge tubes, Kenotrons, and the photo-electric cell, which, according to him, should be considered as a vacuum tube.

The farewell banquet of the T. E. N. staff will take place at the Ole Plantation, St. James Avenue, at 7:00 this evening. It will be an informal affair for the purpose of discussing the work of the past year.
