200 Men Lose $1 Each By Procrastination

300 men in the institute are out one dollar apiece, since their 'short-hands' are 300. Technical Society signups became void at 5 minutes past noon on March 21. The redemption price, which was made optional, has not been met. Such loss might have been avoided if the 300 men had met their deadline on time instead of procrastinating.

AS WE SEE THE MOVIES

The TECH

STATE

Jules Verne's old classic, "Michael Strogoff," is now weekly featured at Loew's State. The production is definitely European being produced by a French company with an entire European cast. The theme of "Michael Strogoff" is the great reply that the French people are giving out like a command of God and obedience only awaited by Michael Strogoff. The Cee's cooler is called a villainous man who must deliver a very important message to hisAYSST. The production must be raised as a higher tone and has come to stay for some time. The Griffin Twins make up a very fine stage act with their unique dance. The Egyptian dance is equally commendable. Sika Yilmaz's band is also at the State presenting a new daily act.

MAGDA

Powerful, rugged, and the least bit of old-fashioned is the nature of the romantic Gertrude Suggs substituted "Maggie" at the Plymouth Theatre for this week. It is an attempt to develop the heart of a woman who has been exiled from home for ten years. The show is heightened by the marriage and then continuing to contemplate her marriage in so that this responsibility may be maintained. It begins in both the state of thirty.

As We Like It

At the St. James Theater this week we find the stock company presenting "As You Like It." The former comedy which is quite witty throughout. Much has been done in the old story of common people trying to act civilized. The production contains a French company with an entire French cast. Main parts in the play are represented by a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Shallout, portrayed by Mr. Benson, and Mrs.

INFORMAL GAME WITH JUMBOBS OPENS SEASON

Tomorrow afternoon's practice game will mark the opening of the Beaver Baseball Schedule when the team travels to Medford Hill side to meet Tufts at 3:30 o'clock. Although no lineup has been issued a majority of the squad will make the trip in order to furnish a good opportunity to test out the new and unseasoned material.

Coach Eire is convinced of a good showing and feels that the pitching will be all that could be desired. He points out that although the mood has not yet received an instantaneous amount of training many prospective hitters are among the group.

Note good Hurling Staff

Four good pitchers will be on hand to take the mound and all may get a chance to show their ability. Deskins, Farrell, Ethelbert and Richards have had experience and have been hurling on a regular basis so that their combined pitching will be all that could be desired.

First Handicap
Meet of Spring Season Saturday

Coach Hedlund Plans Special Meet for Ineligibles Early in May

After practising constantly for the last three weeks the track team of the Cardinal and Grey will get a chance to display its wares on Saturday when the first handicap meet of the Spring season is held. The track team of the Institute is making a decided push towards a fast and close-finished meet.

Practically every one of the regular events will be held and every student at the Institute will be eligible to compete. A scarcity of candidates for the few unoccupied events will probably result in the absence of a few entries.

Coach Oscar Hedlund is creating an impression of the track team in the form of arrangements for a special meet that will be far more than a workout. As yet no data has been announced but it is expected that it will come late in April or the first week of May. There are about twenty students entered to date in the various events and the schedule has started to take part in Varsity meets. By May afternoon the track quota will be up to the mark of the Institute and if possible will not be changed again.
