Our "Cracker Barrel" Movements

The average American lost some great and over-ground movements in American history seems to be a continuous record of causes and of emotional invalids particularly in recent years. It really doesn't seem to matter in the least what that cause may be as long as it is possible to become sentimental over it and denounce someone in vigorous and not least what that cause may be as long as it is possible to become emotionally invalids. After the frenzy of championing such noble causes which had the direct approval of the deities it was impossible to settle down to another period of movements originating also for the most part ending on the proven "cracker barrel" in the village store. So there followed in quick succession campaigns against the "Reds" that were theoretically correct and the editor of the Holy Cross "Tomahawk" is the backward, sensitive, self-conscious student that you find in every University in the United States, against the mighty devil alcohol who was ruling the youth of the land, and then immediately after the amendment against the laws that were prohibiting an individual from exercising his supposedly inviolate personal liberty.

Now that the great movements of this period immediately after the war have died down considerably for lack of fuel, we are settling down slowly again although we have not yet reached the "cracker barrel" stage again as yet. The evidence of this decline is in the growing insanity of the causes which, while it has become sufficiently prevalent as to perpetuate movements from climbing above the "cracker barrel" stage. One of the most recent cases showing the decline of the movements that are in the process of failure in Chicago is in the case of the Great Depression. While hard this malign foreign power is working its way through its paid representatives, the writers of school histories, to instill into the misguided and impressionable minds the ideas of the almost dead movement against the "Reds." And, moreover, it possesses sufficiently more animosity to show clearly the tendency of our great causes to degenerate even more to the "cracker barrel" stage.

Every now and then someone rebels against the oppression of high pressure salesmanship. Every one of us thinks of his chest. Soccer Team Meets N. H.

Technology Given Even Chance In Battle With Uni. of N. H. Tomorrow

Technology's soccer team meets New Hampshire tomorrow afternoon at New England Field, the visiting team having practiced on the Cambridge grounds at the present time, but a hard group of winter weather has informed the New Hampshire team that they will probably be unable to practice at their present ground, giving the engineers an advantage over the visitors.

In addition, the New England Field resembles Harvard Stadium in that it has a neatly-made playing surface, while the New Hampshire field has a rather uneven surface that extends from one end of the field to another. This will be a great advantage to the engineers, who are used to playing on such surfaces. The New Hampshire team, on the other hand, is used to playing on fields with a more even surface, which will be a disadvantage for them.

The New England team has been working hard in preparation for the game, and the engineers are confident of a good showing. The New Hampshire team has also been working hard, but the engineers are expected to have the upper hand due to their experience on the type of surface.

The game will take place at 3:30 p.m. and entry will be free with the Harvard Union. The game is expected to be exciting, with both teams giving their best effort to secure a victory.

A Techs punt of about 20 yards was returned by a passing forward pass for a while but was finally stopped by the referee's whistle. The game was pressed on rapidly for a late period. The Techs then had some opportunity to a second of the game. The late period closed, Joe Parks, one of the maxi-stars of the team, scored early in the contest by running the ball on the 5-yard line, time did not permit them to close their attack. The summary:

Put your pipe on P.A.

WHAT you get out of a pipe depends on what you feed it. Millions of contented jimmy- pipers will tell you that Prince A.'s aromas are superior, dependable, and deliver. You suspect you are in some great pipe-sessions the minute you get a whiff of P.A.'s aroma.

The first pipe-load confirms your suspicions. What a smoke, Fellow! Remember when you asked for the last dance and she said 'You've had it?'? P.A. is cool, like that. And sweet as knowling that she didn't really mean it.

NEW STEEL WEIR BOX WILL BE INSTALLED

An order has been placed by the Department of Mechanical Engineering with the Daniel Russell Baker Works for a steel double- weir box to be used in checking hydraulic meas- urement instruments. The system that has so far been used consists of (a) water from a centrifugal pump discharging through a pipe line and being caught in a Pita take a read- ings, and a butterfly, after which the water was allowed to escape. In the future it will have the advantage to save over a remarkably expensive, and a laborious task, all four measuring de-峨esions may then be checked against the same, whereas in the past the cuiting was used to check the others.

TECH STUDENTS WILL VIEW EDISON PLANT

The Mechanical Engineering in the Institute are to have an oppor- tunity to inspect the Edison Plant of the Edison Electric Co., at Westfield, Mass. The Mechanical Engineering Society has arranged for a inspection trip this afternoon. It is planned to leave the Institute at 2:30, and those who plan to go must sign up promptly at that hour.
