Those who are Senior I. T. 28, was countered with the reply that the Quadrangle Club on their arrival at the Institute would make arrangements around the buildings by members of that organization. The program will be opened at 3 o'clock with an address by Professor J. T. T. Johnson, of Tufts, and Dr. Elihu Thomson, all of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The address will be given by the president of the Institute this afternoon.

Tonight's annual Tech-Sargent concert will be without a comparison. It is to be noted that their new-programmed concert will be a great success. The program began with the opening number, in which there were two parts. The principal part of the concert was the dance which included several orchestras. The second part of the concert included the performance of the Tech-Sargent Combined Clubs in make-up, and was a great success. The song which made the concert a success was the song "The World's Fair." This song was sung by the chorus, which was accompanied by the Tech-Sargent Combined Clubs. The song was received with great enthusiasm by the audience.

Runkle Acquires New Musical (7) Instrument

Peaceful conditions in Runkle Gymnasium between the two musical teams, Frank Sinatra and Frankie Laine, were interrupted last Wednesday, when an ear-splitting battle between the two teams was started. MODERN TURBINE TO REPLACE OLD MODEL

New Two-Stage Curtis Put at Works

One of the highlights around the Institute is the great reduction in the Institute's cost of operation. One of the most significant reductions has been the replacement of the old Curtis turbine with a new Curtis turbine. This new Curtis turbine is to be installed in the Institute's coal plant. The Institute has been able to reduce its cost of operation by using the new Curtis turbine, and this has been very significant for the Institute.

CRIMSON MATMEN NEARLY BLANK ENGINEERS' TEAM

BEAVER SWIMMERS OPPOSE WESLEYAN

Both Teams Defeated Amherst As Well as Leeing to Army and Brown

Harvard swamped Technology 15 to 1 1/2 in a wrestling meet at the Harvard Gymnasium on Wednesday night, revealing the Engineers from winning any bout. Cahill opened the Cambridge contest with a hard-fought decision over Contrino. The next bout produced the only Tech score of the meet as Frazer defeated Caplan. Jimmy Callan grappled his way through two passes and a pin in the 135 pound class for a decision. Captain Howe of Harvard went down to his blues in the 135 pound class by earning a decision. The Crimson wrestler came to his advantage in the extra session. Corson's greater endurance and speed produced the only Tech score of the meet to save a fall from Lifrak, the present Tech champion. Technology's Varsity boxers left the field with their heads held high.

One hundred and thirty-five pounds was much too light for his opponent in the 135 pound class and Solomon of Harvard won by a fall in less than five minutes. In the 175 pound class Stone of M.I.T. held even with his opponent for the first five minutes, the Crimson man lost one point in the sixth. Captain Howe of Harvard swamped Technology's Varsity boxers left the field with their heads held high.

Fuelless Motor Is Impractical States Jackson
Relieves That Cost Would Be Too Great For Large Production

According to a recent announcement, Lee C. Johnson, of West Atlantic, Paris, has developed a new fuelless motor. The principle of the invention is that of the motor's being driven from the energy which is developed in the engine and which is not derived from the earth or the air.

It is the belief of the professors of the University of Technology that this idea is possible and could only be obtained by means of a series of experiments. The cost of the motor is not great enough to be practical. The invention is composed of a series of experiments which can only be obtained by the most careful calculation of the results.
