CALL MEETING TODAY

FRESHMAN RULES CREATE
EXCITEMENT IN MEETING OF INSTITUTE COMMITTEE

Every one of these rules that the Freshman Class who were appointed as special deputies for the enforcement of the Freshman Rules is called to attend a meeting which will be held in Room 11-27 this afternoon at 4:30.

No doubt the Freshmen are regarding the adolescent shrieks of the Freshman Rules as a jolly game. They stand up and say: "What Rules?"

But the time has come when the men of the Institute Committee must be brought into the open; and the time is never more appropriate than now to let all the students know the rules and their meaning.

The Freshmen are quick to learn; and although they may not actually know the rules, they are more than willing to learn them. The committee is in the position of being able to enforce the Freshman Rules; and the Freshmen are in the position of being able to resist them.

STUDENT liberties seem to be on the downswing, judging by the numerous examples in the past year of official bias and restrictions put into effect in many colleges throughout the country. This trend has been illustrated in a variety of ways, most of which has been the ban on the use of automobiles by students.

The faculty has often cited the standards of scholarship as few instances seem to be taken by those who favor the measure as sufficient justification for its existence. They evidently care little by such action they are "admitting" themselves to a degree of "higher learning," and the students perhaps have a justifiable cause for such deficiencies of higher learning," as Charles Maxwell McConaughy, Dean of Lehigh University, recently expressed it. And what is still more apparent is the steady growth of student anxiety to confer degrees on men who, left to their own initiatives, would spend their time driving about in automobiles to the detriment of their scholastic standings. It is rather surprising that colleges should resort to such methods when there are so many prospective students clinging for admission.

As disinterested observers of this ever-increasing evil, we can not but feel grateful for the almost absolute freedom from faculty interference which we enjoy in our activities outside of the classroom. It is appreciated only fairly by contrast with the prevailing conditions elsewhere.

It is true, of course, that a large percentage of our annual failures might, by constant prodding in the form of faculty restrictions of the students' personal liberties, obtain a sleepier and less mindless education. This would be an admission of graduation. The student here is placed on his own responsibility and initiative. But it is a step too small to see that the Technology policy of faculty non-interference.

OR PURGATORY?

The critical alumnus very indelicately places two and two together, tempers the result with a little theological thought, and heeps the concaved tides upon the heads of the students. The Alcels who infect the balls of his delusions, Alcels. The Reverend R. Elliot Marshall '30 is particularly incensed over the editorial independence of "The Dartmouth," for which it has won high regard everywhere.

And why not? Conditions and thoughts today are very different from those of the past. The country has been smouldering for many years, and the "devilsich philosophy" which enrages the clergy with its ungodliness is perhaps more reasonable to many thinkers than the dogmas of the various religions. Such philosophies may be "unclean sum" to some generation, but one must remember that many former revolutionary ideas were severely censured by the older people while the new-fangled notions were still in their infancy.

Engineer Hockey Teams Will Meet Brown Tomorrow

Institute Varsity and Freshman Puck Chasers Have Long Vacation

After a long vacation the Varsity and freshman hockey teams will get back into action tomorrow evening when they journey to Providence to tackle Brown. About twenty men will have a box tomorrow afternoon for the trip over the road.

Brown is not represented by a strong Varsity team this year and in its last start was overwhelmed by Boston University by the score of 8 to 0. If the Brunonians have not been as cool as they have been cool is that they have played the three events in that class in previous every meet this season.

Stoor and Rohans will provide a good deal of action in the 115 and 135 pound classes and they have a good chance of winning the championships of the events. They have won all of their bouts in these classes this year and ought to have no difficulty in winning the championships.

In the (145 pound class) Brown has someone to strengthen the team's chances. He is only a newcomer in the class and has fought but two bouts of which he won one.

Pennsylvania, Technology, and Army Are All on a Par

Pennsylvania, West Point and Tech

nnage will oppose each other in a high meet at West Point tomorrow in the next to last meet of the season for the Engineers. After this comes the intercollegiates which will be held at Technology this year.

Princeton defeated the Army 19-18 while the Nvy beat Penn 37-37. As long as the Navy and Princeton defeated the Engineers by practically the same score the meet is pretty sure to be very close. David Wells, Norman Dolton, and Captain Paul Stephenson have all improved their series considerably and promise to take a large number of points. On Wednesday the West Point men will be in action in all of their events and expect to take a large number of points.

The Best for Spring
In Young Men’s Dress

Many young men get dissatisfied with ready-to-wear clothes because they have not paid enough to get the best. It’s poor policy to “save” ten or fifteen dollars on the price and then obtain the difference in dissatisfaction.

Spring colors and cuts as favored by prep schools and universities abroad and our own great institutions of learning at home.

Suits $45, $50 and $55—Topcoats $45, $50, $65 and $75

Herbert Hoover, should both be nominated for the Presidency.

Although not “motivated by curiosity,” the editor of the Senior annual publication of the Colleges of the City of New York has included a number of very personal questions. In one case none was answered. Where the test asked for the freshman class in 1896, all answered.

Theodore Roosevelt, who was brought before the committee to take the wrong attitude but at least to agree to a resolution in favor of the freshman Rules.

Joseph Donovan ’28, chairman of the Incomplete Committee upon the same factors which will determine the term of office.

The policy, of course, may be continued after the graduation of all of the freshman class members of the freshman class.

Professor Jope then stated that the supervisors would be selected on the basis of their ability to keep the freshmen from the rise of the College of the City of New York.
