Speaker at Graduation Exercises

Final plans for Commencement Exercises have been announced by the Faculty and the Senior-Week Committee, with the approval of the Faculty Committee on Graduation, at a recent meeting. As previously announced, there will be no selling of tickets to the Commencement Exercises at Symphony Hall, where the exercises will be held, but tickets will be issued only to those who have paid all bills. The committee is now ready to turn in their bills to the Faculty Office. No other names will be accepted on the list after May 10, so that their bills may be readjusted. Beyond this they will not be issued. Those who have not paid their bills will be refused admission at the door on extra ticket per person.

The Commencement Committee has made plans to present a program of the Faculty Committee on Graduation, with a selection of songs, a speech, and a few little stories that will be read. The program will be announced in full after the Commencement exercises, which will take place on Monday, May 22, at 3:00 P.M., in the Main Building. All those who have been invited to the exercises will receive an invitation from the office of the President.

John Stevens

Colonel John Stevens is presented by Mr. Turner as one of the greatest figures in American engineering history—a genius who was a master ahead of his time. The author describes in the historical pages the authoritative of Colonel Stevens claims to distinction by a complete array of letters, papers, report drafts, documents, and charts dating back to 1913, filed at his disposal by the Stevens family. There is little historical biography, but the work is rich in detail.

In the little public recognition Colonel Stevens received, he stands to-day as the foremost contributor to the transmission of the American way of living.

John Stevens brought light to the fight for the first time, revealed the following achievements that he invented the multitelephone, the power-propeller which is used in steamships operating on the Hudson, and was the man who had the idea of a tunnel and later a bridge. He planned a vehicular tunnel under the Hudson, but the first attempt—"swimming"—was made on rails in America (1833).

To the Editor of THE TECH:

You are to be complimented on your editorial of last Friday in questioning the relationships of Technology and the Power Trust. Domination by private interests of the educational systems in this country has created a pernicious influence for many years. It has largely accounted for the lethargy of the vast majority of our educated citizens toward questions of social welfare—expressed keenly by Mark Twain when he said, "The American people possess three great blessings—the right of free speech, the right of free press, and the good sense not to use either." As a result of it our schools annually grind out American people possess three great blessings-

Blindfolded... in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

"I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded," was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an Old Gold. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris... they are surprisingly free from any trace of direct irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke... To clear the air, coffee was served before each cigarette... Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during the test. After smoking the last cigarette, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to deduce by number her choice... The immediate reply was, "Number 3... which was Old Gold."

Why can you pick them in the dark?

Because they're made from the heart-leaf of the tobacco plant.

Professor Tucker has also stressed the importance of each Senior's ordering his cap and gown before May 29, as this is the last day that orders will be taken. Seniors are required to wear the Cap and Gown at the Graduation Exercises, the Commencement, and the Class Day exercises. The Faculty Committee has also pointed out that all men receiving their degrees at Commencement must be on the Second Floor of Symphony Hall at 16:44 on the morning of June 5, and that each man must keep his position in the procession, or else lose his own diploma. Incidentally, ly the Corporation is awarding the diplomas, and no man is expected to wear them. However, no Senior who fails to wear his own Cap and Gown has paid all of his bills to the Senior.
