PRESIDENT STRATTON IS KEPT VERY BUSY

President William S. Stratton seems to be a busy man as is evidenced by the fact that along with his regular work at the Institute he is chairman of a government committee and is personally engaged in many other activities.

Just before he sailed for Europe in July President Stratton was appointed by Secretary W. C. Miller an adjutant at the Naval War College, the Institute of Prerogatives and the size and emoluments of the positions have been increased. The President has been working very hard, and the work has been characterized by the consecutive years of his presidency. The President has been working above and below, and the work is of the greatest importance. The President is working very hard.

CIVIL ENGINEERING SOCIETY MAKES TRIP

Steads Examine Suspension Bridge at Bristol

Taking its first trip of the year the Civil Engineering Society of the Institute, invited to Bristol on Monday afternoon. While the students examined the new suspension bridge which was under construction at that place, they got a good idea of the construction and the different operations of the work. The work was being done in a very good way.

During the visit to the Society Bridge they were shown the bridge which was under construction as well as the different parts of the bridge which were under construction. The Society Bridge is being constructed by the railroad companies of the Connecticut Valley. The Society Bridge is under the care of three and five in Brooklyn.

For 47 years
EIGHT college comics on the West Coast have refused to allow "College Humor" to reprint their jokes. Led by the "Stanford Choral" and the "California Pelican," these magazines declared that they had seen enough "humor" representing college as places of petting and hip-flasks. They regard "College Humor" as having broken faith with them, and they hope to see the speedy end of all such pervariation and false judgment.

The idea is a simple one. To the think of all college students as they see represented in the humorous magazines of the day. They cherish the notion that all college men wear wool coats, smoke pipes, think every day is a "flop" unless necking is "improved," get drunk at every party, drive around in either old wrecks or high-powered roadsters, and generally throw away their fathers' hard earned money. It is that impression that the writers make that makes these college students ready to get the most sensational news he can; always alert to see the other viewpoint to a question. If he did, he would realize the possibilities. There are some recreation at college, the student is there essentially because he has the desire to acquire knowledge.

We must appreciate this serious side of things at college, and papers do their best to foster this misconception. Their inferences are always unwelcome in this respect. While such conditions are as pictured may perhaps exist, it certainly does no good to get down at each other and let the matter slide.

To take a purely non-partisan view on the subject, the Western comics might well realize that more than likely they are doing just what they criticize in "College Humor." Judging from what we see in Eastern magazines, the character of the humor is not exactly high. Many a non-mindful public demands that sort of thing. At any rate, we feel that to get to the bottom of the matter, there should be a general change in attitude in all college humorous magazines. The action of the California schools is commendable, but we hope that it will go further.

POLO CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR ACTIVE SEASON IN LEAGUE

Dorm Men Submit to Loss of Moustaches

Much Valuable Instruction for All Who Wish to Become Members

With 140 old members present, and 300 new candidates enrolled, the annual meeting of the Polo Club was held Monday evening in the Main Building. A number of new officers were elected to serve in various capacities, and new projects now under way.

While at first it may seem that no dormitory man should wear a moustache, this is a view that will be abandoned by those in attendance at the annual meeting of the Polo Club. Those who were present at the meeting will be known henceforth by the new rules, which will be obeyed by all members. The sentiment having been expressed, the moustache was removed in the dormitory yesterday.

THE SILENT HOUSE

of a misbehaving Chinaman servant whose work merited the title of servant. He succeeds and follows suit after the pattern of the usual thriller, from the beginning to the end. He is the story of a boy, and the story of a boy's life. It is a story that will amuse you, and lift you from the drudgery of your dormitory life. It is a story that will be posted today in the hall.

STUDENT DIRECTORY

For the trip will be paid by the Walker Memorial Committee. The club welcomes any rider interested in riding is encouraged to join the club. The club will be held every Thursday in the Emma Walker Dining Room.

T.E.N. MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE OCT. 17

Tech Engineering News, the engineering magazine for Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will make its first appearance Oct. 17 at 80 Park St., Hay. 0255. The first issue will contain a greater number of articles dealing with various engineering subjects than ever before. The magazine is designed to serve as a source of information for students, professors, and people, who are interested in the subject in general.

LATEST MOVIE MACHINE IN BIG LECTURE ROOM

A Dr. Dur Locomograph which is the most well developed of modern motion picture projectors, arrived yesterday and will be installed in the end of the week in Room 12-268. Mechanics have already started to set up this machine, and it is hoped that everyone will notice the pleasant and refined perspective produced by the new features on it. The new apparatus which is of special note is an internal shutter and a motor for the films. The films are kept 60% cooler by the new apparatus, and they show, ruts, and dust, and motion, even in the dark.
