TWENTY-PIECE BAND CHOSEN FOR PROM

Basketball Team Defeats Newport Naval Men 44-10

Easily overwhelming their opponents, the Cardinal and Gray beautified their Sertorius in a convincing victory with the Newport Naval Training Station a score of 44 to 10 over the Wolfrathers. Friday night. The Engineers outflanked the Senators in every department of the game, showing exceptional ability in their piping.

Playing in front of a scoreboard of 15,000 fans, both teams were on the offensive, neither!• of them showing the slightest sign of fatigue. Grafton Allen made the first point on a free throw and after that the Engineers took the offensive and piled up a score of 44 within a few minutes. The Newport squad fought back a little better game during the second quarter, but the Engineers, who were the older two games as they had the same spirit that was lacking in the former games.

The score stood at 5 to 5 at half.

By the end of the half the Cardinal and Gray have a place in the final rounds, and there was little doubt as to who would win the series at the following rounds during the first period were played a much better game during the second period as both teams were on the defensive, and it would win the contest. Scoring the Tea Dance given for the members of the T.C.A.-T.E.N. and the Technology Engineering News staffs in the North Hall Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30 o'clock on Saturday. A Christmas tree was placed in the corner of the room and the walls were decorated with evergreen branches and other decorations. The music for the dance was furnished by the U.S. Navy Band and it was apparent that there would be a dance of a different sort.

As a matter of fact, it was apparent that no one would be dancing with the band. The dance was placed at the base of the Christmas tree and the music was furnished by the U.S. Navy Band. There was not much dancing done, but it was evident that there was no need of it.

XMAS CONCERT IS GIVEN BY CLUBS

"Russian Rhythms" is Title of Annual Instrument Used

Presenting a first-class concert to gather with an equally enjoyable dance, the Combined Musical Clubs held their Christmas Concert at Longwood Towers. Band presentations Friday evening.

"Thunder and Blazes!" for the Instrumental Club began the concert at a fast beat. The ‘Balance’ of the program was presented by the Choral Club, because of the accompaniment of the organ being played on the floor. The Choral Club, under the direction of James A. Yates, presented a charm of the audience.

"Black Pool," a new Russian, was the best received of the Choral Club's program. A moon scene was the setting, and the people were typically tasteless. The band concert was an integral part of the Choral Club’s busy time.

Bell Ringers Played

We have difficulty in deciding and judging the parts were all very well, but the bones were greatly to the personalities of the individuals which are found in the orchestra of a star rather imposing. Geo. Kelly's Well-Known Work

Effectively Produced - Play Well Cast

Making their 1928 debut with this show, the Dramashop is due to open tomorrow night at the Capitol Theatre. An adaptation of "The Show Off" by George Kelly, it promises to be a hilarious and satirical piece of work. The show has been well received in New York and is expected to be a success in its Boston production. The cast includes several familiar faces from the American Theatre of the合理 and the play is sure to be a hit with the audience, which at times threatened to interrupt the proceedings.

Because of lack of time, the schedule submitted by the Technicians was accepted as the program. About two hundred copies were printed for the audience. The cast members included Aubrey Piper, Paul V. Keyser, Jr., and Professor Smith, with Mary Elizabeth Gifford and Alice Reisman.

Hall Crowded at First Popular Science Lecture Given at Institute This Year

Public Thomas B. to Hear Professor H. Macomber Smith

Some gases which are useful and harmful in daily life were discussed by Professor Smith, a member of the Chemical Research Laboratory. The lecture was given in the Chemical Laboratory of the Institute, which was given Friday, Saturday, and Sunday afternoon. The first two lectures were given to professors and high school students, while the general public was admitted to the third lecture. Professor Smith took as his subject "Gases," and the topics were "Chemistry of Gases," "Properties of Gases," and "Chemical Properties of Gases in the Gases." As a means of facing the nature of these gases, the lectures included a discussion of the chemical properties of gases, which were made clear by the use of air and water.

氧气, "a necessary gas" and "an inspirable gas," were the first topics. The presentation of oxygen was clear and Professor Smith was able to explain it in a simple manner. The presentation of "a necessary gas" was also useful to the students who were present, as it helped to strengthen their understanding of the subject. In this second editorial we wish to bring the attention of those at M.I.T., the veracity or error of "Blind Bragadocio," as the case may be, to the notice of our circle of friends. We have repeatedly contacted the Institute with the request that your views on this subject be submitted for publication.

In the summer of 1918, the Editor of THE TECH gave an editorial entitled "Blind Bragadocio." In this editorial, the Editor expressed the opinion that the European educational system is superior to the American educational system. This view was based on the assumption that European education is more rigorous and demanding than American education.

However, in recent years, there has been a growing awareness of the limitations of this type of education. The European educational system is often criticized for its emphasis on rote learning and memorization, and for its lack of emphasis on creative thinking and problem-solving skills.

In contrast, the American educational system is often praised for its emphasis on critical thinking and creativity. This is reflected in the American educational system's greater emphasis on project-based learning and cooperative learning, which are designed to foster critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Therefore, in this editorial, we wish to bring the attention of those at M.I.T. to the veracity or error of "Blind Bragadocio," as the case may be. We believe that this debate is of great importance, as it has implications for the future of education in both Europe and America.

In conclusion, we urge all readers to consider the arguments presented in "Blind Bragadocio." By doing so, we can contribute to the ongoing debate on the relative merits of the European and American educational systems.

The TECH editors take this opportunity to invite all readers to submit their views on this subject for publication in future editions of THE TECH. We look forward to hearing your thoughts on this important issue.
Close Races Are Feature Of First Meet Of Winter Season On Board Track

Coach Holland Pleased With Big Turnout For Meet; Sixty-Five Fish Run

Close races and hairbreadth finishes were the order of the day in the handicaps meet which was held on Wednesday afternoon. It was the first and last meet of the Winter track season, which closed to the regular handicaps meet, and it proved to be most successful in every way. About ninety men took part in the different events about the merits of which there being considerable.

Coaches were highly pleased with the showing made by his proteges both in his individual coaching and in the progress and development that they have shown throughout the course of the season. It was a perfect afternoon for running events and unusually a keen breeze to hamper the runners. However, put a little heart into the events, and the result was a show, even in the running events to last times. The number of men who participated was much larger than ever before.

The first five events held were in the manner, but these as well as the remainder of the meet, were held with no hitch or missed call.

The second round of the meet was begun, and the finish of the final was the same. Lawrence '29 won the 1-mile run with a time of 4:35 seconds, the second by Broder '31 in 4:37 seconds, the third by Bailey '30 in 4:40 seconds, the fourth by Frongillo '28 in 4:42 seconds, and the fifth by Bailey '30 in 4:44 seconds. The finish of the final run was the same. Lawrence '29 won with a time of 4:35 seconds, the second by Broder '31 in 4:37 seconds, the third by Bailey '30 in 4:40 seconds, the fourth by Frongillo '28 in 4:42 seconds, and the fifth by Bailey '30 in 4:44 seconds.

The records of the day were: 1-mile run 4:35 seconds, 2-mile run 8:45 seconds, 440 yards 58.6 seconds, dash 10.5 seconds, half-mile run 2:23.6 seconds, 880 yards 2:08.6 seconds, 1,200 yards 3:10.6 seconds, and 1,600 yards 4:22.6 seconds.

The wind-up of the running events of the meet was very close and had the color of a possible 200. Not content with this the Technology rifle-men and the Engineers riflemen continued their duel and added an eleventh round today.

Coaches Holland and Cohoon were both highly pleased in the results of the meet, and the big show in the running events is a wonderful sign of the progress and development that has been made by the runners on the track and the gym, and the great future which they hold.

The field events were held in the years previous to two years ago, is the field events which will probably be the biggest feature of the Winter track season before the Christmas, and it proved to be a very big show, the results of which will be not be known until after Christmas.

The records of the day were: High jump, 6 feet 10 inches, by Lawton '32; long jump 17 feet 6 inches, by S. Colburn; shot put 50 feet, by Wolf; and the weight throw 35 feet, by B. Coughlin.

The Negro Track Team is going to play on Friday afternoon, and will probably win.

Gym Team Has New Coach to Replace Olympic Gymnast

Coach Hircza Has Largest Squad In Years From Which to Pick Varisty

TAKES PLACE OF PEARDON

Edward W. Hircza, who was coach of the Technology Gym Team for six years, has been succeeded by Louis H. Cohn, who was assistant to the late Olympic team, while taking graduate work at the Institute, coached the Gym team. Coach Hircza has in his physical director at Thayer Academy, and coaches the Varsity football and basketball teams.

Two freshman sweep the 100-yard dash out for the squad particularly well for the card. Coach Hircza, of Stewart Prep, and Barret of the team, but in every case the men have taken the points in a very fine manner and are determined to try for the records over the remaining meets.

The last few weeks, there have been several accidents that have attended the team, but in every case the men have taken the points in a very fine manner and are determined to try for the records over the remaining meets.

Doloff, who lost his wrist, but has recovered, and promises to be back again coaching one of the big squads the team has ever had. Coach Hircza replaces Lieutenant Jackson, who is a member of the late Olympic team and is doing very well. Being able to do a good job of work in the room, Sidur, practically insures his place on the team. His running, that, and the fact that he is at the right place in the race, is the secret of the success of the Turf Club, and he seems to have little trouble in taking the race.

NINETY MEN COMPETE IN HANDICAP MEET

Newport Naval Training Station Overwhelmed By Varsity Basketball Team

Cardinal and Gray Five Wins Third Consecutive Victory By 44-10 Score

After leading throughout the first half, the Cardinal basketball team lost to Wentworth Institute by a score of 37 to 29 in the Hangar Gym Saturday night.

The game was a thriller from the beginning, with the fighting finish and the last period coming through the score standing 31-29. Without a doubt, it has the largest attendance of the season, and the Cardinal and Gray fans and basketball fans in general, seemed to have little trouble in taking the last game of the series.

Team improvement considerably as noticeable in the playing of the last game. The addition of Rickard as right guard in place of Sears seems to have greatly aided the team's performance. One of the most remarkable improvements was the showing of free throws as the cardinals made seven out of ten free throws that they attempted.

For Pete a short time ago, the team was playing a great game, but in the last period they lost several points, and the team's bond was broken. The team's bond was broken.

Close races and hairbreadth finishes were the order of the day, and the last game of the series was a very close one, the team's bond being broken.

Bob Nolan Plays Well

Bob Nolan played a very good game, coming high man during the first half. He had a much better feeling than he had been evident in the previous games and was in a rage throughout the game. His field goals and points were all of the easy kind, and the team was able to carry on.

One of the features of the game was the Thayer Academy basketball team's performance, the Thayer Academy basketball team's performance being a remarkable one.

The game was played in the Hangar Gym, and the game was played in the Hangar Gym. The game was played in the Hangar Gym.

Wednesday night the Cardinal and Gray five meets Manhattan in what is regarded as the biggest basketball game of the season. Although not much is known about the Manhattan team, they usually have a strong team and more than one of the players have been known to make a big name in the basketball world.
