SMOKING JOURNALISTS

IN line with its policy of "Every freshman in some activity," THE TECH is inviting the interested members of the Class of 1933 as its guests at a Smoker this evening at five o'clock. This is the first of the functions sponsored by the various organizations. The meeting will be wholly informal, its prime purpose being to foster mutual friendship between the staff members and the new men.

To the man, entering Technology either as a freshman or a transfer, THE TECH offers an admirable means towards his complete acclimatization. To revert to vulgar usage, he learns "what it's all about" in the shortest possible time. His assignments immediately lead him to faculty members, leaders in the new men.

Here he encounters business men, and finds that "ad" soliciting, interviews immediately mean to the new men, it means Technology's hearty welcome. This is the first of the functions sponsored by the various organizations.

TECHNOLOGY'S "DUNN AND BRADSTREET"

A S the result of much work and no small amount of thought and planning, the "Financial Report of the Undergraduate Activities" is now available. Therein are contained the balance sheets of practically all activities, Technique and The Musical Clubs being the only organizations whose financial statements were not available.

To E. Ralph Rowne '30, Treasurer of the Institute Committee, and Biurier Horace H. Ford goes the credit for this enlightening volume. Conceived last spring and suggested by a similar publication at Purdue University, the bulletin contains, in easily accessible form, information which should be of much interest to every Technology student, and which will be of great use to succeeding managers of activities.

Although a pioneering effort, the report is most complete, carefully arranged, and attractively bound; in short, it fills a definite need of the Institute. To the men concerned with its publication, Technology is very grateful.

TRADITIONAL WELCOME

To every entering freshman or transfer next Friday, October 11th, has particular significance. To the former students at the Institute that night means a reunion and another good time—to the new men, it means Technology's hearty welcome.

If the man enters Technology either as a freshman or a transfer, he is able to speak of the affairs at the Institute with assurance of one who knows. He is able to speak of the affairs at the Institute with assurance of one who knows. If the man enters the business department, he will find that the executive experience he gains is of equally great value.

Tennis Entrants Must Sign Up Immediately

All men who wish to enter the Fall Tennis Tournament are reminded that they must sign up on the sheet which will be found posted on the Bulletin Board opposite the entrance to the Hall. Entries will not be accepted after meet Wednesday, October 9.

The Tournament will be run as it has been in the past, according to the rules set down by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. A large chart will be posted on the Bulletin Board, where the daily play-up will be indicated. It is highly desirable that the entire schedule be completed in the first two weeks of November, as the weather after that time will not be especially favorable for tennis.

Sports Desk

Although Technology does not hold out promises in the athletic world, it has always been noted for its Simon-pure type of sportsmanship that it sponsors. Men at the Institute who take an active part in athletics usually do so at a sacrifice of time which they might be tempted to devote to their own amusement. The Technology spirit is built up on the basis of Loyalty and pride. Men realize the benefits of play and recreation and then join them in an experience that you cannot afford to overlook.

Many Stars Revealed

Outstanding among the semester activities was Samuel Wall of Homer- ville High, who took first place in both the dash and the broad jump. C. C. Cox of Madisonville High School proved to be the best man in the high jump. R. H. Pierce and A. A. Martin proved to be the best men on the discus throw. Pierce also earned in the broad jump and the shot put.

First to the shot put was W. C. Crouse, a graduate of Lemasters High School. R. S. Bellier, Worces- ter Academy boy, took the first place honors in the long jump. E. M. Pierce and R. A. Marden proved to be the best man in the high jump and an aid to a more efficient condition of the prescribed course of the Institute. As a complement to the academic program its value cannot be overlooked. Cours on, for instance and opportunities as well, to talk to the men who have entered athletics and caught the sporting spirit, and then join them in an experience that you cannot afford to overlook.

This year crew seems to be attract- ing its usual large quota, especially from the freshman class. Last year's believers are back this year, including veterans, including many other contestants, including many new names.

Tennis and Play are Strenuous Activities.

Among the fall activities, besides the games, were sailing and cross-country running. The former were stimulating or fun. The latter, however, required great physical effort and commitment. The autumn season was characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm and participation.
