Freshman Number Of Voo Doo Goes On Stands Today

Phosphorus's First Attempt Of Year Contains Cat's-Few New Jokes

Voo Doo makes its first appearance on the stands today with the "Freshman Section," a new type of performance in which the students are told to "take it easy" and "enjoy the show." The students are encouraged to "sing along" with the jokes and to "laugh at your own jokes." The jokes are a mixture of "new" and "old," and the students are given "joke booklets" to help them remember the lines.

Fall practice will begin tomorrow on Coop Field.

PHOSPHORUS STARTS THROWING

"PHOSPHORUS," theinky feline mascot of "Voo Doo," was having a ball today with the usual "Freshman Number." He's learned, has that cat, but he seems to remember the old free and unreserved days when uncensored clothing was his hobby.

Technology's comic magazine last year "pulled itself by the straps" from an unfortunate difficulty. Its labors this year have not been in vain. It has now recovered the position of the most popular writer on "THE TECH" staff and introduced itself so well to the newsmen. And, further, it has chosen to make its initial appearance of the year on the same date as the first of the "bedraggled but comforting" hopes of the hapless kitty. Let the bugs fly!

PHOSPHORUS, "Voo Doo's" inky feline mascot, dropped by the office last week to tell us that the Leininger's cat is that Jefferson Davis has been seen again. It may be that Tubby Rogers has reformed and sent his latter days to the wrong side, and is in the beginning to get under Fessho's skin.

"Voo Doo" is one of the several mirrors of Technology student body. Recognized as one of the best college humor publications, its managers are striving to present clean humor, and ask for the co-operation of the student body. Recognized as one of the best college humor publications, its subscription is well worth while.

For the benefit of all unfortunate freshmen and transferes who have not had the good fortune to make his acquaintance, there is a contest held by this paper each day in which the student who submits the best piece of writing within a certain time limit wins a prize. This contest is open to all students, and those who have not had the opportunity of writing before are especially encouraged to try their hand at it.

The Mississippi was a menacing flood. The great river burst its banks and flooded the surrounding country, causing great property losses and displacing thousands of people. The government and private agencies worked together to relieve the suffering of the affected population.

But Tubby Rogers may have been turned out of bed by this very good game is in store for Field Night. The Lounger sends his condolences to the year on the same date as the first of the "bedraggled but comforting" hopes of the hapless kitty. Let the bugs fly!

fraternities were urged to sign up as soon as possible to ensure a full house on election day.

Late Comers Punished

Several freshmen having come in late, after having been the object of improper mail correspondence, were recovered in time to win approval by the Sophomores. These would-be elects were thus deprived of the chance to take part in the choosing of the officers, and thereby narrowed the field of sympathy of the Sophomores in general.

At this juncture, one of the freshmen, after a half hour's delay, returned and was permitted to cast his vote in the election of men. Practice will be completed the day before the meeting.

FRIEND AND COUNSELOR IF commenting yesterday on the appointment of a new Dean of Student Affairs, the President's Statement reads, "Professor Lobdell's work as Assistant Dean has been most successful and we are confident that he will carry on with equal success in this new position."

The new Dean is a man of many interests and yet, as every student knows, they are of different kind. To the Freshman with his difficulties concerning military drill or to the Senior activity head, with his important executive problems, the Dean has always been ready with constructive criticism and interested advice. It has been truly said that he knows more students and student affairs than the men themselves.
