Showing Against Harvard

By ear a in the last minutes of play the Crimson booters tied a hard fight with the Engineers in the first quarter, and on a brief delay after an extra time period in the second quarter, the game was ended in a 1-1 tie. Due to the slippery field, the game was played in a field treacherous to some extent, particularly in the second quarter. The booters did not score in the first quarter, but a Harvard goal was scored in the second quarter, and the game was ended in a tie. As We Like It

"CARRY ON"—THE SHUBERT
Jack Donahue and Lily Damita, both stars of the first magnitude, perform with consummate skill, in "Carry On," the musical comedy which opened at the Shubert Theatre Monday night for a two weeks' stay. Jack Donahue is a native of Boston and is well known for his songwriting and his ability as a comic actor. Lily Damita was recently imported from Europe for the marquis, where she has already scored in "The Covered Wagon." A denim production from start to finish, this play has been written by Charles Lameau and the impressario Otto, who has brought a genuine background for the story, a large company, which includes the Albertine Rasch girls in a singing and dancing assembly of over a hundred, offers splendid support. Jack Donahue at the start of the play, accompanied with an orchestra, is to be seen every evening. He is forced into war and serves in France as a buck private. While ill near the line he meets a pretty little French girl who says, the rest except for the ill, the story starts with this. The girl is where he falls in love. As a soldier is he pretty handsome, but she manages to put him out of one or two scrapes, and the Steve is most effective. The book by the star and Fred Flaherty, doors clear, at the box office. Both pictures of the war, and current events of the day, are here done to really impressive. M. P. B.

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY

Washington and Lee University has recently acquired the chateau of Chateaubriand, the home that became famous in the career of Lord Byron. It was used during the Napoleonic Wars. It has been placed on exhibition there in the coming together with the basket which Lee used in the War, a clock which hangs in the kitchen of General Custis Lee.

A forging hammer kept idle, waiting for the furnace, costs money; not only in itself, but by stalling production all along the line. Gas heat keeps the workers busy . . . keeps the production line moving every minute. Whatever the process, if it's done with heat, you can do it better with gas.

Nothing was said about the Harvard-Princeton clash, but it was the subject of discussion among many of the guests present. The Harvard-Princeton game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Hanover Armory, and new coach of the Crimson, Coach Rickles, was expected to have an interesting talk on the subject. Coach Rickles took the chance to make a few suggestions to the Harvard football team, but he was also hopeful that the team would do well in the coming season.

HALL STILL UNDECIDED

February 21 has been selected by the Prem Committee as the day on which the last meeting will be held. At the meeting, Coach Rickles was also able to get a few words in on the subject of the meeting, and he was able to make a few suggestions to the Harvard football team.
