FRESHMAN OFFICE SEEKERS PRESENT THEIR PLATFORMS

Applause Interrupts Constructive Candidates Bid For Presidency

Contrary to all precedent, freshmen and Sophomores held pre-election mass meetings yesterday afternoon. At the '35 gathering, candidates for class presidency, vice-presidency, and Institute Committee representatives either spoke themselves, or were represented by their campaign managers. Nominees for secretary, treasurer, and Executive Committee were presented to the audience at the end of the meeting.

At the opening of the meeting, D. B. Gilman '32 urged everyone to vote on the electioneering amendment that will appear at the bottom of the ballots. If two-thirds of the voters put an (X) in the "NO" square after this amendment, all forms of electioneering will be allowed everywhere except at the polls.

Candidates Announce Platforms
Most of the would-be presidents merely stated that they would fulfill their offices in a worthy manner and that they would do their best. There were, however, a few outstanding speeches which are worthy of mention.

The present presidential incumbent, E. J. Collins, cumulative rating 2.62, did not appear in person, but was represented by his campaign manager. S. T. Orton, Jr., cumulative rating 2.52, was also represented by a manager, who stressed his candidate's participation in activities during his previous year at Princeton. M.

CATHOLIC CLUB TO HOLD JOINT DANCE

Marking the first successful attempt to bring together the Catholic Clubs of Technology and Harvard, a formal dance, given under the auspices of both organizations, will be held in the Main Hall of Walker Memorial on Friday evening, May 6. In spite of the proximity of the two institutions, previous efforts to arrange joint affairs have met with failure owing to the Technology club's membership in the Federation of College Catholic Clubs and the desire of the Harvard Club to retain its individuality by refusing to join the Federation.

Through the efforts of John B. Wilson, president of the St. Paul's Club at Harvard, and John A. Finnerty '32, president of the Technology Catholic Club, arrangements agreeable to both organizations were completed and resulted in the joint dance to be held next week.

Ranny Weeks to Sing

Ranny Weeks, popular singer and conductor, has been engaged with Sammy Lincer's first orchestra. Dancing will continue from 9.00 to 2.00 o'clock, with an intermission at midnight, when refreshments will be served. Tickets, at $2.00 per couple, will be on sale in the Main Lobby during the week preceding the dance. Because of the warm weather which has prevailed recently, the committee has decided to make the dance an optional summer formal affair if the weather warrants such a plan.

The committee at Technology is headed by Robert E. Shea '33, and the chaplains are Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius F. Spillane, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Walsh, Professor Matthew R. Copithorne, of Technology, and Professor J. D. M. Ford of Harvard.

Meeting Brings Solution of Locker Room Mystery

Though it may have failed in its main purpose, the Sophomore class mass meeting held yesterday was not a total loss, as it led to the solution of a mystery which has puzzled the freshmen for some time. The mystery was, "Who put the stink-bomb in the freshman locker room." Until yesterday that question had never been answered, but while setting forth the qualities of one of the nominees at the Sophomore mass meeting, a speaker claimed that honor for his candidate. Thus another mystery is solved.

Junior Nominees Will Be Presented At Mass Meeting

Fossert, Bell, And Hapgood Are Presidential Candidates

The following men have been nominated for president of the Junior Class and will speak at the Junior mass meeting to be held in Room 10-250 at 5 o'clock this afternoon:

SPRING CONCERT AND DANCE WILL BE LAST OF YEAR

Seating Arrangement Imitates Night Clubs In Use Of Tables

GIVE NEW SELECTIONS

The last big social event of the school year, in the form of the Annual Spring Concert and Dance, will be given by the Combined Musical Clubs on Friday, April 29, in the Main Hall of Walker Memorial. Foremost among many features will be a novel seating arrangement in which the guests will be seated at tables after the fashion used in night clubs.

Refreshments will be served at these tables throughout the Concert, which is scheduled to begin at 8.30 o'clock, and tea will be served during the intermission. It is expected that the dancing will begin about 10.30 o'clock and that it will continue until 3 o'clock in the morning. The Tectonians will play for the dancing, which will include the old-fashioned square dances that proved so popular at the recent Wheelock Concert and Dance. Refreshments will again be served during the dancing. The admission price of $4.00 per couple will include all refreshments.

All New Selections

STUDENT INTEREST CENTERS ON TOMORROW'S ELECTIONS

Election Results

By special arrangement with the Elections Committee, THE TECH will make an unofficial announcement of the class elections results at 1 o'clock Thursday morning. A bulletin containing the results will be posted in front of the News Room at that time. The results will also be given to anyone calling the office by telephone.

SPEAKERS CHEERED BY SOPHOMORES AT ELECTION MEETING

Qualifications Of Candidates Presented By Campaign Managers

A group of enthusiastic Sophomores attended the first class pre-election mass meeting in 10-250 yesterday and listened with much applause to campaign managers extoll their candidates for the class offices which will be chosen tomorrow.

BIG STUDENT VOTE EXPECTED AT POLLS IN SPRING ELECTION

Electioneering Issue As Well As Class Officers Are On Tomorrow's Ballots

RESULTS ARE IN DOUBT

Annual spring elections at which new class officers for all classes will be chosen will be held tomorrow in the Main Lobby from 9 to 5 o'clock. An unusual amount of interest has been evinced by a record number of candidates, and a large number are expected to go to the polls.

The decision as to whether or not electioneering should be allowed at elections in the future will also be decided by the voters tomorrow. The motion is worded so that those in favor of electioneering will have to vote "No" on the question. The motion reads:

"On Monday, April 11, the Institute Committee voted unanimously against the following motion: That Article IV, Section 17, of the Constitution of the elections committee which reads 'All forms of electioneering at the polls and any attempts to form voting blocks et cetera shall be prohibited' be amended to read: 'All forms of electioneering at the polls shall be prohibited.' Do you favor the decision of the Institute Committee? To this question the voters must answer yes or no."

Defeat of Referendum Expected

It is expected that it will be defeated without difficulty since a previous solicitation of undergraduate opinion by THE (Continued on page four)

ONE-RUN VICTORIES FEATURE BASEBALL

Two more games in the interclass schedule were played over the past weekend, and strangely enough, each was won by only one run. Last Friday, the Juniors defeated the freshmen 11-10 in six innings, and this Monday they went down before the Sophomores by 17-6 count. All three games in the league so far have been decided by a single tally, the Seniors having beaten the Sophomores in the opening encounter.

Last Friday's game was one featured by much long hitting and rather ineffective pitching. Everett Coon started for the Juniors, but was forced to retire after three innings with the verdict 8-7 against him. George Newman took the hill subsequently and held the freshmen comparatively safe for the remainder of the contest. Bob Blankenburg hurled a nice game for the yearlings, but was the victim of indifferent support and bad breaks. The slugging highlights were furnished by Sam Wall of the winners, who hit home runs his first two times at bat, and by Morgan and Peterson of the freshmen, who also contributed circuit clouts, the last-named getting his with the bases populated. Each team made but six hits.

Sophomores Get To Newman

Newman, the winning pitcher of Friday's contest, did not fare so well against the Sophomores yesterday. When rain terminated the game in the seventh inning, they had clubbed him for seven runs, just enough to carry off the honors. Jamieson was on the hill for the second-year men, and gave a creditable performance.

Before we go any farther and the weather gets worse, the Lounger would like to acknowledge the prompt action of the Institute Committee in securing that nice balmy weather he requested for the vacation and the Sigma Chi dance. Marvelous thing, student government.

And what was that horrible travesty on humor and the English language the Lounger observed in the last issue of that insipid conglomeration of pththush and pththah which appears monthly under the name of Voo Doo, which bore the title, "The Sponger?" Could it just be possible that there was some gentle note of sarcasm reflecting a disparaging note on the efforts of The Lounger? Oh horrors! To which we might add the exclamation of Brother Spellman of Brown, who would say with emphasis, saaj paaj beecoutchitch!

There is also a very nasty little aspersion which comes fresh from the Shi Kippa Phagma's cockle-eyed gazozlum whisperer (of Whitville) to the effect that the better editorial was not written by any erudite member of the present staff, but by a measly ex-board member. Did I hear someone murmur, ex-G.M.? Oh, Mr. Harper, oh, Mr. Harper—

However, in editorial capacity, we do hope for the day (Backward, backward, O time in thy flight), when the Voo Dooists will produce some derogatory comment that will lead one to suspect that there might possibly be some inkling of subtleness or humor hidden deep down within its innermost innards.

Deserting the arid field of school politics without even mentioning Little Benny's speech supporting a platform against "all forms of underhanded political action," and the soggy campaign cigar the Editor passed on to your humble correspondent, The Lounger goes to more fecund territory for the gossip of the day, and the following concerns Wellesley.

True to his Sunday afternoon form, The Lounger was calling on a certain young lady who attends that austere (?) cathedral of learning, and while conversing, a largish bevy of classmates trooped in to have a smoke, and thereby occupied all the seats, I mean chairs.

In the midst of the hubbub ensuing, another seat, I mean girl, trooped in, also to hubbub, thereby causing old Sir Walter himself to rise and offer his seat, I mean chair.

"Oh, no thank you," she said, "I'd rather stand up."

"Well, all right," conceded The Lounger, "but that's hard on the feet."

"Oh well," replied the fair damsel nonchalantly, "I'd rather have big feet—Oh, look, girls, he's blushing. Don't you just love people who blush?"—the brazen hussy. Perhaps we'd better revert to the election speeches.

Pursuant to which, The Lounger would like to have the best office of all, which is Institute Committee gaboon cleaner, so he could get some good dirt. They also serve who only stand and collect.

In order to save time in the "Hector Hecht" movement, the higher mucky-mucks have decided to have one typewriter with every key saying "Heck." When Benny leaves school, we are going to have it changed to "Institute Committee."

NOTED DOCTER TO ADDRESSES FACULTY

Dr. Arlie V. Bock, Physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and Associate Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, will speak on "Diagnosis of Wear and Tear" at the Faculty Club luncheon meeting today. He will show the results of mental and physical fatigue and give their remedies.

As We See the MOVIES

R.K.O.-KEITH'S "Girl Crazy"

With a sufficiently large amount of tuneful Gershwin melodies, with the team of Wheeler and Woolsey, and with the usual amount of insanity inherent in their pictures, "Girl Crazy" proves to be good entertainment. It happens to be another musical comedy of the uncouth West.

A young man is sent to his father's ranch to recover from his hankering for girls; but he fools the old man. He transforms the ranch to one of the dude variety and calls girls, entertainers, and gamblers from New York to heighten the joys of living there. And so the story goes on and on until the end, where the implication is that everyone is going to live happily ever after.

Besides the feature there is a short comedy somewhat above the average; but do not forget how low that average is. A cartoon film, a very humorous "Curiosities" picture, and a Pathe News Reel sum up the rest of the show.

D. H.

FINE ARTS "Zwei Menschen"

It is not often that this reviewer has the pleasure of wholeheartedly praising a film, but this is the case with the production now being shown at the Fine Arts Theatre, "Zwei Menschen." The theme concerns a youth of noble family whom family tradition and his mother's vow force into monastic life, preventing the consummation of his childhood love.

The most striking feature of the production is the restrained and subtle acting of the two chief figures in the plot, portrayed by Charlotte Susa and Gustav Froelich. Certain American producers would do well to see this play and perhaps realize that restrained simplicity can be far more effective than histrionic melodramatics and violent gesture.

P. C.

LOEW'S STATE "The Wet Parade"

A fairly powerful and convincing performance adapted from the story by Upton Sinclair, which abstained from the gangster's machine guns and actually attempted to show the bad points both of Prohibition and No Prohibition, although the net result was just a shade pro-Wet.

Although the advertisements promised a show of double length, in the form of a sort of duology, the actual picture fell short of this by better than an hour and a half. However, some very powerful character portrayal by Lewis Stone, as the old Southern gentleman who kills himself through drink, and Walter Huston, the Northern blowhard with a grand manner, who kills his wife through drink. It was the work of these two, combined with the excellent performance of Jimmy Durante of "So I ups to him" fame, who finally died for a pal, which pulled the production above the level of just fair.

As We Like It

WILBUR

"The Good Fairy"

"The Good Fairy," a comedy by Molnar, starring Helen Hayes.

Every so often, there comes to Boston a play that is really of the first rank. It is a pleasure not only to see such a production, but also to praise it; such a play is this.

It is laid in Vienna, or some such place, and concerns a somewhat eccentric young movie usher who masquerades as the wife of a lawyer; when pressed for the name of her husband, she picks a name from the telephone book. Miss Hayes is superlative in the part, which really defies description. Walter Connolly also gives an excellent portrayal as the middle-aged lawyer whose name was chosen, and the rest of the cast is no less capable.

Lest this praise seem too fulsome, let it be said that the ending is not too satisfactory, and is a bit too pathetic. Also, as an experiment, a short epilogue, showing the characters ten years after, was inserted, and did not add anything; it was, in fact, more or less of a let-down, and will probably not be continued.

But let there be no mistake that the play is really one of the good ones, and that the cast does it full justice; there was pretty steady laughter from a full house, until nearly the end. Even those always seeking to read deeper meanings into plays intended as entertainment will probably be able to find some.

PARADOXICAL VOTES

TOMORROW the men of Technology are called upon to express an opinion regarding the desirability of electioneering for undergraduate offices. The movement for a change in the present ruling was initiated by a few men, but it soon received active support of some and found favor in the eyes of many. A considerable number of men interested in campus activities and working for the welfare of Technology expressed themselves as favoring any move which will make for greater student interest in elections. The reasons for the proposed change in the Undergraduate Association Constitution have been recited. Chief of these is that such a chance will arouse men from their lethargy and draw a larger vote of more interested students.

Undergraduate interest in elections has been deplorably lacking for several years; a third, and perhaps in big years, a half of the qualified voters may have cast ballots. To some extent this condition has arisen because of the stringent enforcement of a "no electioneering" rule, which has effectively stifled any attempt to arouse interest.

A liberal section relating to the conduct of undergraduate elections is needed. Paradoxical as it may seem, to vote for electioneering and the benefits to be derived from it, one must mark his ballot in the "no" space tomorrow. If a two-thirds majority vote so, electioneering will be a fact; if not, the present system will continue. The men of Technology hold the decision in their hands, as they vote, so shall we be regulated and so shall our interest in class elections be limited. Vote No!

WHY CHOOSE GOOD MEN

AS has been the custom in years past, it seems likely that in some cases the man now holding an office of class president will continue to do so after tomorrow's election. Where a man has successfully directed the affairs of a class, it is the part of wisdom to let him continue, but no one man should monopolize class offices. If a man has shown that he can do the work, he surely has an acquaintance with it which merits consideration when it is proposed to put in a new man.

Those chosen tomorrow will lead their classes for a year and the character of the classes will in a large measure be determined by the men directing its activity. The greatest care must be taken to see that the proper men are selected. Every undergraduate should cast his ballot after carefully deciding on those whom he considers best fitted for the positions and whose character will express that of the class.

ALL QUIET

WHEN the agitation concerning Compulsory Military Science was at its height earlier in the academic year, the Student-Faculty Curriculum Committee considered the matter and referred it to a sub-committee composed of both Faculty and student members. This sub-committee has not yet reported, but while it has been gathering information, student interest has declined to the point where almost no one is interested.

This anti-militarist discussion is apparently a seasonal thing, something like the spring fever so epidemic at present. A disgruntled freshman, or perhaps a sincere pacifist, writes a letter to the paper denouncing compulsory drill. An ardent advocate of preparedness answers him. Petitions are circulated; the air becomes thick with words; but it all quiets down in a couple of weeks, more or less.

So perhaps it was to be expected that little or nothing would be heard of the committee report, which we understand is to be presented to the Faculty at its May meeting. Interest seems to have died; and no keen observer seriously expects the Corporation will dispense with the required R.O.T.C. because of a temporary student clamor. It is well, then, that we let sleeping dogs lie, perhaps until next winter, when the air may again be filled with words of preparedness and peace.

FRESHMAN CREWS WIN FROM BROWN NICHOLS SATURDAY

Varsity, Jayvee, 150-Pound Boats Trail Eli Crews In Three Races At Derby

HARVARD NEXT OPPONENT

Positions Still Open In Upper Class Crews For Richards Cup Race

Five Engineer crews opened the season Saturday afternoon when the freshmen easily headed the Brown & Nichols heavy and 150-lb. crews, and three varsity boats were forced to trail Eli shells across the finish line.

On the Charles the freshman heavies nosed out the Brown & Nichols eight by half a length over the Henley distance of a mile and five-sixteenths, while the 150-lb. crew outclassed the opposing second boat by five lengths. At the start of the heavy race, Brown & Nichols took a lead of a length and a half in the first quarter-mile, but Stroke Ernie Johnson of the yearlings kept the beat low, and slowly wore them down. After two false starts, the 150-lb. race got under way and the Engineers coasted home to an easy victory. Never rowing above a 26, and for the most part keeping down to 22, the lightweights sailed into their substantial lead.

In none of the varsity races was there much question as to the winner after the first half of the course had been covered, but the Engineer crews turned in some hard rowing before they were headed. Yale started out with a rush for the first minute, stroking 38 to the minute, but Valentine in the Tech boat, went them one better to hit 39. After the sprint at the start both coxs settled down to 33 and the boats fought it out almost bow to bow to the half-way mark.

Starting the Jayvee race with a hard 39 beat, the Engineer boat jumped into a lead which they held until the last mile marker. Yale gradually caught up and ploughed across the line with a 2 1-2 length margin. The Engineer 150-lb. boat trailed a smooth and impressive Eli outfit by 5 1-2 lengths.

Richards Cup Boats Incomplete

There are still vacancies in the upper-class crews which are to row for the Richards Cup on May 4. This provides a fine opening for those who are interested in rowing for a short period, and all candidates for these boats are asked to report as soon as possible, so that the crews may row together for at least a week before the race.

Three other prominent sportsmen will also be present to relate incidents from their career in sports. They are Smoky Kelliher, basketball referee, and two National League umpires, "Dolly" Stark and Bill Klem.

All members of the Faculty who are interested in sports will be invited to attend this smoker.

NOMINEES ADDRESS FRESHMAN MEETING

Hecht, Jr., cumulative rating 3.26, announced that he purposely spoke for himself, because he believed that mass meetings were valueless unless the voters could become personally acquainted with their prospective leaders. Hecht also stated that he would let his classmates know what was going on while he was in office, and severely deprecated underhand political action.

Address Commuters

Several of the presidential candidates upheld commuters, showing that, contrary to general opinion, they have taken a prominent part in undergraduate activities. Among those who mentioned commuters were J. P. Mather, cumulative rating 3.00, and M. Hecht. Mather also included in his platform a desire to secure for the Institute an outdoor hockey rink.

Other presidential candidates who spoke were C. Nichols, cumulative rating 3.29, G. P. Grant, cumulative rating 3.52, and H. W. Holmes, cumulative rating 2.67. Several of the candidates were not present at the meeting. These were: D. B. Wood, cumulative rating 2.06, G. R. Grosser, not in school last term, and W. H. Marshall, cumulative rating 4.33.

As a group, the potential Institute Committeemen were conscientious and hoped that the best man would obtain the office. D. E. Francisco said that he would attend all meetings if elected, implying that the present incumbents had not done so during a recent notorious investigation.

at 49th and Lexington NEW YORK

When the Shelton opened (7 years ago) we began catering to college men and women. Gradually their patronage has increased; we feel safe in asserting that more students make the Shelton their New York home than at any club or other hotel. One reason for this is the free recreational features plus a desire to serve on the part of Shelton employees. Room rates have been greatly reduced. Rates from $50 per month upward. A room from $2.50 daily.

Club features (free to guests) are as follows: Swimming pool; completely equipped gymnasium; game rooms for bridge and backgammon; roof garden and solarium. Restaurant and cafeteria service at reasonable prices.

Varsity Stickmen Bow to Wildcats

Lose Heartbreaking 2-1 Game To New Hampshire For Fourth Defeat

Technology's varsity lacrosse team came through with a great improvement in play last Saturday, but went down to a heartbreaking 2-1 defeat before a well-trained New Hampshire squad. The game, which was played at Coop Field, was a thriller from start to finish, with the teams seeming to be about evenly matched.

For nineteen minutes of the first period the game went without a score. Then Martineau, substitute center for the Wildcats, succeeded in caging the first goal. Just before the half ended, Adam Sysko, playing at inside-home for the Engineers, evened the count with his team's only point.

In the second canto, S. Chalonger, of the visitors, scored what proved to be the winning counter after about three minutes of play. Though the play was fast and furious for the rest of the encounter, neither team was able to tally again. It was Technology's fourth straight defeat.

Play Tufts Tomorrow

As New Hampshire is quite a newcomer to the ranks of the sport, the Beavers were slight favorites before the contest; therefore, the defeat was a rather disheartening one. But, although the stickmen still showed that the weather has played havoc with their practice, the general improvement was easily noticeable. This Wednesday the team travels to Medford to do battle with a veteran Tufts combination.

Summary of Saturday's game:

New Hampshire—Doloff, goal; Batchelder and Ferrini, points; Greenwood, Dallinger, Prisham, defense; Morrissey, Martineau, center; Sullivan, R. Chalonger, Vaughan, attack; S. Chalonger, Penley, home.
M. I. T.—Borger, goal; Se-neck, Orr, point; Geil, Duncan, Coffey, defense; Hale, center; Wilson, Keskula, Asch, attack; Stafford, Sysko, home.
Score—New Hampshire 2, M. I. T. 1. Goals—Martineau, Sysko, S. Chalonger. Time—Two 30-minute periods.

representative were allowed speeches, all the candidates were introduced to the gathering. The spell-binding eloquence which is usually a feature of any political meeting was conspicuous by its absence, and the gathering bore a strong resemblance to a class in public speaking.

Announcement on Electioneering

After a brief announcement regarding the referendum on electioneering, which will appear on the ballot tomorrow, the meeting was opened to the representatives of nominees for the office of president. Speeches were limited to three minutes, but no speaker used all the time allotted to him.

Speeches for candidates for the Institute Committee were then called, following which the remaining nominees were introduced to the audience; but these men did not speak. Following is a list of the candidates for the office of president of the Class of 1934 and their qualifications.

TRACK TEAM RUNS HANDICAP EVENTS

Jack Kearns Wins Two-Mile Run Dick Bell Runs Hundred In 9 4-5 Seconds

Although last week's warm weather was not in evidence on Saturday afternoon, the track squad turned out one hundred per cent strong for the second handicap meet of the season. Jack Kearns and Dick Bell were the outstanding performers of the meet. Aided by a light wind, Bell ran his trial heat in the 100-yard dash in 9 4-5 seconds, and then walked off with the final heat in 10 seconds flat.

Kearns, running from scratch, finished a full quarter-mile ahead of his nearest rival, in the two-mile run. Bob Mann, the promising Sophomore miler, overtook the entire field to take first place in that event.

Jewett Trims Bell With Handicap
Captain Johnny Jewett, with a five-yard handicap over Dick Bell, captured first in the 220-yard dash. His time was 21 3-5 seconds. Horton won the "440" in one of the closest races of the day. His handicap was ten yards.

Johnny Barrett, next year's cross-country captain, led the pack home in the 880-yard run. He was followed by Mulliken and Smith. All three of these men started from scratch.

Crosby Makes Another High Score
High scorer for the meet was Crosby, who did a nice job on the high jump, with a handicap, followed it with a win in the high hurdles, and then gathered in two seconds, one in the 220-low-hurdles, and another in the discus.

After the week of extremely warm weather, the breeze on Saturday afternoon held back many of the men by tying them up, and preventing a proper warming-up process. This difficulty was compensated for, in the case of the short hurdles and the short dash, for they were run with the wind behind the men's backs. Weather like this cannot help holding up the training of the men, but it looks as though the coming week will put the men in much better shape for the meets next Saturday, here with Bowdoin, for the varsity, and Andover, at Andover, for the freshmen.

- 100-yard dash: 1 Bell, scratch; 2 Hill, 5 yards; 3 Ball, 5 yards. Time: 10 seconds.

- 220-yard low hurdles: 1 Hill, 2 Crosby, 3 Colby. Time: 26 seconds.
- 220-yard dash: 1 Jewett (Capt.), 5 yards; 2 Ball, 10 yards; 3 Rimbach, 12 yards. Time: 21 3-5 seconds.
- 440-yard run: 1 Horton, 10 yards; 2 Walsh, 15 yards; 3 Steensland, 25 yards. Time: 52 3-5 seconds.
- 880-yard run: 1 Barrett, scratch; 2 Mulliken, scratch; 3 Smith, scratch. Time: 2 minutes, 7 3-5 seconds.

Student Interest In Polls Runs High As Elections Draw Near

Large Vote Expected Because Of Mass Meetings Held Yesterday

TECH has shown that student leaders believe the present form of elections too dull and favor various types of electioneering. Although the present motion sets no limit on campaigning, the sponsors of the move have stated that the decision as to the degree of electioneering could be arranged safely to the good taste of the candidates.

Although a two-thirds vote is necessary to pass the motion, it is felt that the recent interest in the subject is a fair indication that the matter will be settled once and for all. THE TECH has editorially backed the movement since its conception.

The voting will be by the preferential system as given in the Undergraduate Association constitution. By this method the weaker candidates are withdrawn and the second choice votes are apportioned among the remaining nominees.

GRADUATE STUDENT WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Announcement has been made of the award of a Fontainebleau scholarship to John A. The prize entitles the winner to a summer of study at the Academy of Fine Arts in Fontainebleau, France, under the direction of Professor Jacques Carlu of the department of Architecture at Technology, and other distinguished teachers.
