REVAMPED VARSITY CREW: AUTHENTIC BEAVERS PROSPECTS

Mowatt and Lucke Come Up from Jayvees, To Round Out Heavier Boat

LAWRENCE LEADS JAYVEES

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, the varsity heavies. These races will start first of four crews will swing into place on the water. Since the last week's race, the varsity boat has undergone some radical changes, which in the opinion of all the men, and the coach, will make a great difference in its power and strength, standing and reputation.

Cook Scrutiny Varsity

Cook will swing eight, having been moved from No. 6 position, which he rowed last Saturday. He stroked his way through the bow, Ted Ruthoff, No. 2, Leo, No. 3, Vincent, No. 4. Having rowed at varsity 150-lb. crew, and the freshman crews. Following are the lineups of the crews.

Complete lineup will be Pleasants in stroke, Selliman fourth seat, placing them in their near seats, and in a working up until the men are now secure in their positions. Glenn, No. 7, and Cook, stroke.

ELECT GILMAN, FOSSETT, ASCH, COLLINS AS CLASS PRESIDENTS

THREE OUT OF FOUR PREVIOUS PRESIDENTS RETURN TO POSITION

AMENDMENT ON ELECTIONEERING FAILS TO PASS

503 To 450 Vote Does Not Give Required Two-Thirds Majority

'34 CHANGES PRESIDENT

To the accompaniment of one of the largest turnovers in recent years, the students of the Institute voted to return three out of four of the incumbents to their respective positions in the elections last week. Returning recognition. Donald B. Gilman, was named permanent president of the Class of 1932. Richard L. Fossett, who has held the presidency of the Junior Class since February, becomes president of the Junior Class next year. Edward J. Asch becomes president of the Sophomore Class and Edward J. Collins, who entered in office as the president of the freshman class last year.

Voting on the referendum question, which was put before the college as the result of a petition of the student body, was very close. In the final count the faculty of the Institute Committee in refusing to change the present by-law on controlling electioneering was upheld. The actual vote on this question was reported by the Elections Committee and by the Institute Committee as 503 in support of the Institute Committee and 450 against. The president of the college, which was signed by the petitioning members of the referendum, was there present for the first time among the many votes, cast for both for and against, that were actually intended to be counters for the other side of the argument.

GILMAN PRESIDENT TWO YEARS

COMMITTEE WILL PAY SHOW LOSS FROM FUND

Names of those elected to class officers at the elections held Wednesday were announced at the Institute Committee meeting Thursday night at 5 o'clock. In addition to the announcements, which are elsewhere these announcements, which are elsewhere pointed out on this page, several other releases were made, among them were the delaying of the general meeting of Duesman. These elections were for the presidency, the office is now open to anyone in dramatics in the Junior Class, and the last call for Walker Memorial in the Junior Class for the fourth year of Course IV.

To cover the deficit incurred by the Tech Show it was announced that the deficit amounts to $1,259.11, which is to be held by the Institute, and would be there for a special resolution from the reserve fund of the Institute Committee.

Robert Eberhardt '34 and John B. Dun-cing '34 were elected to membership in the "Altaque," the honorary dramatic society. Where formerly only the general meeting of Duesman was eligible for the presidency, the office is now open to anyone in dramatics in the Junior Class for the fourth year of Course IV.

HOLD SPRING DANCE CONCERT TONIGHT

Closing their season at Winter Memphis, the Combined Musical Clubs will give their last formal function tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the reads and Dance Studio. The Concert will last until 10 o'clock, and dancing will follow, continuing until 1 o'clock. Matrons for the dace are Mrs. James R. Rodd, Mrs. William T. Hall, and Mrs. Lanatar E. Hamilton.

Dr. Davis Presents Trend of Arguments On Modern Science

"Trend of Arguments On Modern Science." In answer to George Ginnings' statement, "I hate and fear science," because of my arguments that, if man is not forever, it will be the remorseless enemy of man," Dr. T. Y. Day of the Department of Science of The Techology Review contributes a refutation. He points out that the controversies on the interpretations of Confucius, applying "to know what is first and what is next," are not what is taught in the "Great Learning." "In 'The Questions to the Prince of Lish' is the title of Mr. Davis' article, and it, he presents all (the arguments against the earlier views) and clearly shows the difference between the time-matured thoughts of the philosopher Confucius, and draws his own conclusions carefully.

UNOFFICIAL BALL TEAM IS FORMED

"Alligators" Will Face Several College Squad List Posted Today

After four years of inactivity, an unofficial football team will once more take to the diamond. Under the name of the Alligators, a group of under-graduates will face several of the local college teams in the next few weeks. It was announced last night by William B. Schneider, '32, manager of the present Interclass baseball tournament.

Arrange Schedule
Several enthusiastic of the national game, headed by Schneider, met earlier last week to organize such a squad. A tentative schedule, including games with Tufts and Boston University, has been arranged, with the first contest due to come in about a week. Today a list of the prospective squad, picked from the various interclass teams, will be posted on the bulletin board opposite the Cashier's Office, or to get in touch with one of the two above-mentioned men.

TRACK MEN FACE STRONG BOWDOIN TEAM TOMORROW

Maine Team Is Slight Favorite; Bell Expected to Win Both Dashes

FRESHMEN MEET ANDOVER

Coach Oscar Hedlund's track squad will open their season officially tomorrow afternoon when they face Bowdoin's well-trained and experienced team on the local track. The first event is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock sharp. Due to the fact that Bowdoin finished in second place in the New England Intercollegiates one year ago, most experts have rated them as the favorites for this meet.

Coach Hedlund feels that if a few of his runners can climb just one place higher in their events the Institute team will have a good chance of coming out victorious. Bowdoin's squad has been strengthened by the addition of some outstanding freshmen, freshmen at this school being permitted to engage in varsity athletics after their first semester.

First Bowdoin Meet in Years

This is Technology's first meet with Bowdoin in several years. The reason for this long gap is that Waterhouse Stadium was hard to come by about a year ago. Two teams are now using this field in regular practice, so it was impossible to get a space.

For rent, summer season 1932. A fur- nished cottage situated opposite the Cashier's Office, or to get in touch with one of the two above-mentioned men.
