Dr. Vannevar Bush, Dean of Engineering and Vice-President of the Institute, will provide an open forum on student policies and elections to be held by the Technology under the auspices of the Debating Society Thursday, February 27, at 7:00 p.m. in Room 6-120.

Walter B. Stockmayer, President of the Senior Class, will present the question, "Shall the present rule of the Institute Committee regarding elections be changed?" To speak on the question the following have been elected:

Dr. R. B. President, of the Interfraternity Conference; H. W. B., Chairman of the Freshmen Estates Committee; M. L. S., President of the Dramashop, and F. G. S., Chairman of the Combined Music Committee.

Open Forum Open To All

Following the speech, which will be limited to approximately thirty-five minutes, the meeting will be thrown open to general discussion.

Interest in the organization of "Technology Union" was renewed recently through Theodore Smith, instructor of English, who has obtained permission of the Executive Committee to elaborate the organization of such an organization and proposed that it be administered not unlike the Oxford and Cambridge Unions. In the words of Mr. Smith, "the forum should maintain a non-partisan spirit and would give everyone a chance to be heard."

In this first meeting of the "Technology Union," a subject that was chosen, it is hoped, will attract a large audience. An effort is being made to have members present in all, in addition to the customary and fraternity students.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, of the Institute, will provide a similar question at the special meeting. The question, "Shall the present rule of the Institute Committee regarding elections be changed?" to speak on the question the following have been elected:

THE BLIND ALLEY

ELECTROENIGering

It is perhaps unkind to take delight in seeing that august body, the Institute Committee, strike with its own justice, for a peculiar pet peeve is largely of its own making, there is no special need for representing the "I told you so".

The Executive Committee of the Institute Committee, after diligent search, has failed to find the original organizers of that appeal to the necessity for a change in the personnel of the Tech. An attempt to evade this has been frustrated by the revelation that a violation of the laws as any that has received official recognition. The present situation is merely an example of the need for a thorough discussion of the given problem, and the solution is bound to happen after the existing law of electroengineering. Although the Institute Committee does not go out of its way to discover violations, too often for its peace of mind, evidence is rudely thrust upon it, and it must make a decision.

The ruling that another election be held is the only solution available under the present constitution but merely furthers another responsibility for some ambitious soul to thumb his nose again at the Institute Committee, although he is time not in writing. The ill did not remedied.

As The Tech has advocated for years, the only way out of this gambit in a changed setup, is to allow electioneering subject to the regulation of a responsible body, presumably the Institute Committee. Furthermore, The Tech holds that electioneering is only one of the ill's that beset the Technology student government. The primary cause of irritation is the lack of duties placed on the elected officers, with the exception of those from the Senior Class.

That the Committee has recognized the weakness of the status quo can be seen from the tinkering with the number of sponsors who must sign each candidate's nominating blank, and the reduction in the number of elected officers which occurred last year.

This paper states again, that if there is any reason at all for electioneering, then electioneering must be allowed. If matters of importance are to be decided by these men (of which we are not certain) then their qualifications must be thoroughly thrashed-out for the benefit of the student voters, even if it leads to publication of their ratings and discussion of their character as in national politics when the candidate's supporters discuss his virtues, and his opponents demonstrate his vices.

OPEN FORUM

In opening its columns to letters addressed to the Editor, THE TECH does not guarantee publication nor does it necessarily express the opinions expressed. Only signed commu nications will be considered. However, the writer so desires, only the initials will be published. All communications must be typed and will be confirmed.

The Cambridge Union

To the Editor of the Tech:

It was with much interest that I read Mr. Smith's letter concerning the formation of a Technology Union Society, in the November issue of the Tech. In this letter he mentioned the Cambridge Union Society, of Cambridge University, England. A few facts dealing with the antecedents of this union may be of interest, coming from an actual member.

The Union at Cambridge has its own building now, but in 1851 when it was formed it only boasted a meeting room in which members met to discuss current events; later when it became more popular among the students, it decided, I believe, that the first of which was called "This Society shall be called THE CAMBRIDGE UNION SOCIETY" and "The objects of the society shall be to hold dinners. To maintain a Library, Reading and Writing Room." It was to be of interest to such a character as in national politics when the candidate's supporters discuss his virtues, and his opponents demonstrate his vices.

and her for flange sparks and beggars. Vote for 85, against 87, showing a total attendance of 460.

Thursday, May 30, 1933

"This House prefers Fascism to Bolshevism." Votes for 218, against 335, showing a total of 553 votes registered.

The main point of the Union, as its Smith correctness states, is the failure it affords the student for speaking before large audiences and also in knowledge he gains concerning events both equally by speaking on them and hearing the views expressed by fellow members in the course of the debates.

Here we meet the Cambridge Union in action, and being convinced of its utility to the average student, I daresay we hope that the success of its Union's appeal will be sufficiently overwhelming to silence its decided inactivity to disprove the project.

EDWARD KENT, 36—GEOLOGY STUDENT.
Edward Kent knows the value of a full sense of natural, vibrant energy. And that's one of the reasons why he sticks to his studies.
In his own words: "It takes a lot of hard work to acquire any thorough knowledge of geology—and a lot of energy. It's doing at times, but the more of the course I finish, I have found that smoking a Camel keeps me up—something to be held near me that 'sill in revivified sleepness and physical well-being which I need and forces me to go on working with renewed energy."

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:
"Camel is made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other cigarette.
