A powerful, smooth-working Princeton crew swept to an easy win, giving the Tigers a chance to win the East Coast title. Princeton, which had already clinched the Ivy League title, was led by freshman goalie Mark W. Johnson, who made 13 saves. Tech, which had finished second in the Ivy League, was led by junior goalie William J. Roth and senior goalie Lawrence W. O'Donnell, who combined for 24 saves. Tech's second-half attack was led by Tech's star, senior forward Michael J. Donovan, who scored two goals and added an assist. The Tigers won 11-4, giving them a 3-0 record in Ivy League play. The win secured Princeton its second-straight NCAA Tournament bid and a spot in the Ivy League title game against Harvard.

EXAMS, GLOOM, AND PRESCRIPTIONS

SPEAKING DEFINITELY HERE, STUDENTS ARE GROWING DIETRICAL IN CLASS, TENNIS BALLS AND SOFT SOFT SOFT BALLS ARE BEING DEFLECTED OFF THE TEMPLES, BUT SOMETHING HAS TO SPOIL IT ALL. JUST ONE LITTLE WORD IN ANY CONVERSATION ABOUT THE "DO'S" AND "DON'TS".

FOR THOSE WHO PREFER TO CONCENTRATE THEIR WORRIES INTO THE SHORTEST TIME, THERE IS ONE PRESCRIPTION THAT IS PROOFED TO BE EFFECTIVE. THAT IS TO LET THE DAYS SLIP BY, CONTINUE TO YAWN IN CLASS, AND ALLOW ALL THE ASSIGNMENTS THE FEMALE WEEK DISCOVER THAT CONCENTRATED CREAMING IS IN ORDER. THE RESULT IS GENERALLY STUPID INTELLECT.

ONE CAN'T FACE A LITTLE REVIVAL WITH THE SAME CUMBER or комиссиозный of FORFEITING THE HOURS THEY SPEND IN THE HALLROOMS WITH THE SAME DISTINGUISHMENT THAT THEY RECEIVE THE HOURS THEY SPEND OUTSIDE. FOR THOSE WHO PREFER TO GAIN A MAXIMUM OF RETURN ON THEIR EFFORTS BETWEEN NOW AND THE LAST EXAM, THERE IS ANOTHER POPULAR MEANS OF PREPARATION, WHICH, UNFORTUNATELY, IS NOT OVERLOOKED.

FROM THE EXAMINATION ROOMS THAT HAVE ORIGINATED THE NOTION THAT EVERY EFFECTIVE STUDENT MUST WORK, IT IS THE EXAMPLE FROM WHICH MUST BE TAKEN THAT A TAKING ACCOUNT OF STOCK, A LINING UP OF THINGS, THAT IS TO LET A FRESHMAN ANTICS. THE CURRICULUM IS THE SOLUTION TO THE STUDENT'S ATTITUDE TO WHAT IS BEING TAUGHT.

WHAT YOU CAN'T DO TODAY

WITH THE AMERICAN COLLEGE EDITOR

Professors, in general, have been raked over the proverbial coals since the beginning of time for their short-comeings, whether they be excusable or not. The student paper at the University of Pennsylvania, in separate, made a survey of the campus and then nominated for its Hall of Fame, professors who:

- Can find facts, mentioning as they may, in their clauses without putting them to sleep.
- Gain student interest by plunging their classes into spirited discussions of the League of Nations, touching the relative merits of Shakespeare and Johnson, or any other subject which they are studying.
- Wear polo-dot bow ties on Tuesdays and Thursdays and knit ties on the other three days.
- Find it unnecessary to take roll because they make their classes too interesting and valuable to write.
- Stimulate thinking instead of grade remonstrating.

Tell jokes no older than the latest Mac West page. Give lists instead of two or three times a quarter. Have read something in their subject since 1858.

Realize spring with its canoe-days has arrived without reading about it in the weather reports. Illustrate their lectures with incidents which happened (1) in states other than their home state; (2) in children other than their own; and (3) sometime after 1910.

Speaking for the professors, we would nominate to the Hall of Fame students who:

- Can stay awake and show at least a slight interest in their courses, even if they do not intend to use them in their life's work.
- Are well enough read in current events and practical economics to carry on a conversation of average intelligence.
- Do not buy something besides diry sweatshirts and cords and shave and comb their hair at least once a day.
- Sell their good ideas to the professor and do not depend on others for their assignments.
- Realize that even though spring is here, they must yet in at least a reasonable amount of work.
- Contributing something to the course besides what is written in the textbook.

CHANCE TO PLAN ON A MARKeted plan.

Schedule courses because they wish to learn about the subjects, rather than because the courses are required.

Art given up.

"PARADE" TO OPEN AT COLONIAL

The act of Henry Long, Pasha Coughlin and the rest of the figures of contemporary history will supply the makings for the Thespians' Guild's new revue "Parade" which is sched

ed to open at the Colonial Theatre on May 9.

The new satirical revue, which will remain for two weeks before moving directly to New York, was written by George Eliot and Paul Peters, authors of the new James "Rainbow", seen by more than 250,000 persons during its long run in the Big City.

Jimmy Savo, master of pantomints, is one of the principals, while Jenne Moreo, a newcomer, has written the musical score. The play is a satirical caricature of all the phases of the New Deal.

SYMPHONY HALL

Ted Shawn and his dancers will give one performance only on Fri., May 5. Of the 12 dances, all but two are new, presented for the first time this season. This unusual gala features ballet dancing in which there are no feminine players. There are dances based on the origin of dance, religious motifs, dance as labor and play, and finally the dance as art.

The second half of the program includes the first with the plays of the dance with music by Previn. Play is the famous dance of the Cretan priest beginning in which two are new, presented for the first time this season. The play is a satirical musical score. The play is a satirical musical score.

Fourth Starts Behind Technology Nine At Finish Line

The Experts were inclined to predict that Tech would not finish second in the Harvard race. They felt that Harvard was a stronger team, but that their tactics would be more effective. The experts were also inclined to predict that the Crimson would win the intercollegiate championship in the fall, but that their chances of winning the national championship would be slim.

Although the Crimson crew got off to an extremely fast start, it was not able to maintain its lead and was eventually overtaken by Brown. Brown's No. 1 man, Bob Forster, was the best stroke in the race, and he was able to pull his crew away from the Crimson. Brown's No. 2 man, Dick Smith, was also a strong stroke, and he was able to contribute to his team's success.

At the finish line, Brown had a lead of about four yards. Harvard's No. 1 man, Bob Forster, was able to hold his own up to the finish, but he was unable to match the speed of Brown's No. 2 man, Dick Smith. Harvard's No. 2 man, Jack Silverman, was able to get within a few yards of Brown's No. 1 man, but he was unable to overtake him.

The other three crews will have to show a great improvement if they are to overcome either of their powerful opponents. New York town or Harvard.

Langmuir Will Speak On Oil Film Research

The expert will be Dr. Irving Langmuir, who will give a lecture on "Films Forming Over Films" at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. Langmuir will describe recent research concerning oil films and their lubricating properties on glass. He will also discuss their optical properties concerning oil films.
